A new chapter has been scripted for Qatar Post. Business could not be more dramatic, especially at a time when the country’s independent national carrier 12 days ago launched the world’s biggest sale offering 12 days of offers in the name of the world leader in the Islamic movement. This sale, the first of its kind in the country’s six-year history, is open to the public and is a testament to Qatar Post’s commitment to the principles of the Islamic movement. The sale is aimed at providing a wide range of products and services to Qatar Post’s customers and ensuring that the best possible service is provided to them.

Qatar Post unveils its new brand
By Easya Copenhagen

Qatar Post's new brand identity is a reflection of the country's commitment to the principles of the Islamic movement. The new brand, which was launched in September 2011, is based on a comprehensive programme developed by the government's marketing department. The programme, which is expected to last for several years, will focus on promoting Qatar Post's brand identity and increasing its visibility in the market. The programme will also aim to improve the quality of service provided by Qatar Post and to ensure that its customers receive the best possible service.

The new brand identity is based on a comprehensive programme developed by the government's marketing department. The programme, which is expected to last for several years, will focus on promoting Qatar Post's brand identity and increasing its visibility in the market. The programme will also aim to improve the quality of service provided by Qatar Post and to ensure that its customers receive the best possible service.

Qatar Post's new brand identity is a reflection of the country's commitment to the principles of the Islamic movement. The new brand, which was launched in September 2011, is based on a comprehensive programme developed by the government's marketing department. The programme, which is expected to last for several years, will focus on promoting Qatar Post's brand identity and increasing its visibility in the market. The programme will also aim to improve the quality of service provided by Qatar Post and to ensure that its customers receive the best possible service.
Deputy Emir, PM meet UK defence secretary

Qatar a strategic ally of Britain, says Fallon

H ead of the Ministry of Trans- port and Communi- cations, His Excellency Mr. Al-Sulaiti, announced today the ministry has awarded the contract for the launch of Qatar’s new postal service to the region’s largest postal service provider, Deutsche Post DHL, in the presence of HE Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani. The announcement marks the beginning of a long-term partnership to fundamentally change and improve the postal system in Qatar.

“With the launch of our new postal service, Qatar has entered a new era of postal services,” HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani, said after the announcement. “This new service will transform the way Qatar communicates and will provide our citizens with a high-quality postal service that is in line with international standards.”

The Ministry of Transport and Communication is currently working with the Ministry of Interior to develop a national identity system for citizens, which will be used to enhance security and streamline services. The ministry is also exploring the possibility of introducing a national ID card, which would be used for a variety of purposes, including identity verification and access to government services.

Minister stresses commitment to developing the ICT sector

HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani, today announced that Qatar will become a leading destination in the region for information and communication technology (ICT) services. The announcement comes in the wake of the recent success of Qatar’s ICT sector, which has seen significant growth in recent years.

In his remarks, HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani, highlighted the key role that the ICT sector plays in driving Qatar’s economic development and in positioning the country as a global player.

He also emphasized the importance of investing in the ICT sector, particularly in the areas of innovation and technology, as these are key drivers of economic growth and job creation.

HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani, is scheduled to lead a high-level delegation to the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, next week. The delegation will include senior officials from the Ministry of Transport and Communication, as well as representatives from the private sector.

In addition to the announcement of the new postal service, HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, HE Sheikh Hamad bin Jassim bin Jabor Al-Thani, also announced the launch of a new initiative to promote the development of the ICT sector in Qatar. The initiative will focus on attracting foreign direct investment (FDI) and encouraging local companies to invest in the sector.

Mr. Al-Sulaiti, the Minister of Transport and Communication, said that the new initiative will provide a range of incentives to attract FDI to the ICT sector, including tax breaks, duty-free status, and access to government contracts.

He also emphasized the importance of collaboration with international partners, particularly in the areas of technology and innovation.

The new initiative is expected to provide a significant boost to the ICT sector in Qatar, which has seen significant growth in recent years. The sector is expected to contribute significantly to Qatar’s economic development in the coming years, particularly in the areas of e-commerce, e-government, and e-health.

Experts to attend WISH discussion on Alzheimer’s

The World Innovation Summit for Health (WISH), in collaboration with the Ministry of Public Health and Family Health Organization (MOHFW), will host a public event titled “Governance of Alzheimer’s in the Middle East.” The event will take place on November 3, from 9:30 am to 3:30 pm, at the WISH campus in Doha.

The event will bring together a wide range of stakeholders, including policymakers, healthcare professionals, caregivers, and patients, to discuss the latest research and best practices in the field of Alzheimer’s. The event will also feature a panel discussion on the role of technology in improving the quality of care for Alzheimer’s patients.

The event is expected to be attended by a mix of government officials, healthcare providers, and researchers from the region and beyond. The event is open to the public and registration is required.

The WISH campus in Doha is a state-of-the-art facility that hosts a range of events and initiatives focused on improving global health outcomes. The campus is home to a number of research institutions and is a hub for innovation and collaboration in the field of health.

WISH’s mission is to accelerate the development and implementation of innovative solutions to improve health outcomes globally. The organization is committed to bringing together the best minds and resources to tackle the world’s most pressing health challenges.

Dr. Hanadi Al-Hamad

Al-Sharq newspaper: Qatar ranks among the best in health care

Al-Sharq newspaper highlighted Qatar’s ranking among the best in health care. The newspaper noted that Qatar has invested heavily in healthcare infrastructure and has made significant progress in improving health outcomes.

The newspaper also praised Qatar’s efforts to address the prevalence of non-communicable diseases, such as diabetes, which have become a major public health concern in the region.

Al-Sharq newspaper expressed its appreciation and gratitude for this role. It stated that Qatar’s support has been instrumental in the success of the International Alliance against Terrorism, which has contributed to the stability of the entire region.

The newspaper further noted that Qatar’s support has also been crucial in addressing the crisis in Yemen, which has been ongoing for several years. The newspaper emphasized the importance of continued support from Qatar in ensuring a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

The newspaper concluded by expressing its hope that Qatar will continue to play an active role in regional and international affairs, contributing to the advancement of the region’s development and prosperity.
Qatar has won global support, say experts

By Joseph Varghese

A s more than 100 days of the blockade that has been put under spotlight by the Gulf crisis, there is still no end in sight to the standoff that has set the world communio in a state of shock and fear. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.

The moment the situation has set in, the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.

The moment the situation has set in, the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.

The moment the situation has set in, the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.

The moment the situation has set in, the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.

The moment the situation has set in, the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade. It is as if the world has been left alone to deal with the situation and the world has no support against the blockade.
Some 60 local companies, including those in the energy, water and recycling market sector, are taking part in the 3rd edition of the ‘Buy Local Products’ exhibition, which opened yesterday at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre.

The two-day event aims to provide more opportunities for Qatari small and medium enterprises to grow and expand their operations.

The opening was attended by HE the Minister of Energy and Industry, Dr Mohamed bin Saleh al-Sada, together with Qatar Development Bank (QDB) CEO Abdul Aziz bin Nasser al-Khalifa and Qatar General Electricity and Water Co-operation (Kahramaa) president Issa bin Hilal al-Kuwari.

A panel discussion was also held as part of the programme, which focused on the efforts done to support local companies and the role they play in supporting the country’s economy.

Speaking to Gulf Times, New Products Plastic Factory (Newpro) general manager Mathar Gharaibeh said such exhibitions serve as an important platform to develop the local manufacturing sector.

“This is essential to improve the quality of our products, in addition to improving the processes used internally for the local industry,” he stressed.

“It can also open the doors for new ideas and help us develop our production lines in the future.”

About the economic blockade imposed on Qatar by the Saudi-led bloc, Gharaibeh noted that the siege serves as a good opportunity for local companies to grow and expand their operations, apart from investing more in research and development.

He added that the siege opened the door mainly for local products to thrive, especially now with fewer players in the market.

According to the general manager, increasing production and expanding operations to cover the Qatar market form part of their responsibility towards the country.

“The Qatar market is growing and the construction industry is very strong, all projects are going on schedule and we do not feel any project delays,” he explained.

Al Waab Plastics marketing manager engineer Eslam Abd Elfattah echoed the statement of Gharaibeh saying the blockade helped provide bigger opportunities for local companies.

The company manufactures CPVC pipes and fittings, mainly used for bearing hot and cold water.

Besides offering reasonable prices, he cited their capacity to produce products at par with international companies.

Technically, he said, local companies have the ability to compete with others and even produce better products, particularly “in a market that accepts something new.”

Elfattah lauded the efforts of QDB and Kahramaa for continuously supporting local companies.
10,000 students attend Awqaf’s Holy Qur’an Education Centres

The Holy Qur’an Education Centres at the Ministry of Awqaf and Islamic Affairs have remained busy with the start of the new academic year.

Hamad al-Kuwari, Director of Da’wa and Religious Guidance Department at the Ministry of Awqaf, Mohamed bin Ishaq, acting Director of the Islamic Affairs Department at the Ministry of Awqaf, and Dr. Imran al-Kuwari, Director of the Arabic Department at the Ministry of Awqaf, said in a press statement that all the centres have resumed work with the start of the new academic year.

About 10,000 students are attending the Qur’an centres, noting that the children entering these centres come from different parts of the country.

He also referred to the social and educational role of the Holy Qur’an centres, noting that the children entering these centres come from different parts of the country. “This is our role to care for the new generation and raise the good morals which reflect positively on their educational life,” he said.

A workshop in progress at the QGP event.

Qatar Genome Programme summer internships end

The Qatar Genome Programme (QGP) has concluded its third annual summer internship, titled ‘Genome Interpretation: From Sequencing to Clinical Applications’.

The programme was attended by 15 students, graduates and post-doctoral researchers from Qatar institutions.

The two-week internship is designed to enhance the knowledge of healthcare providers with the latest genomic issues.

The aim is to develop the skills of interns in genomics to help them understand the future of precision medicine, with Qatar being one of the pioneering nations in this area.

A total of 15 interns were selected through a competitive screening process.

The course included an in-depth discussion on various topics from genome data, genetic reports, and some clinical issues related to precision medicine.

Prof. Anna al-Thani, chair of the Qatar Genome National Committee, said: “This internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.”

Dr. Said Ismail, manager, QGP, said: “It was an honor to create a medical community that is ready to integrate with genomic research and assist healthcare providers with the latest genome issues to enhance the knowledge of healthcare providers.”

The course includes an in-depth discussion on various topics from genome data, genetic reports, and some clinical issues related to precision medicine.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

Dr. Said Ismail, manager, QGP, said: “It was an honor to create a medical community that is ready to integrate with genomic research and assist healthcare providers with the latest genome issues to enhance the knowledge of healthcare providers.”

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.

The internship aims to support workers in various health sectors to open up the future of precision medicine, and enhance their understanding of different stages of research, analysis, and treatment options, and genetic counselling as both genomic research and medicine will play a key role in the future of health care worldwide.
Congratulations

The General Manager and staff of
GULF PUBLISHING & PRINTING COMPANY

extend their sincere and hearty congratulations to

ضيوفتي ون إيست
FIFTY ONE EAST

On receiving the Appreciation Award from

Rolex

Commemorating the exceptional growth of the prestigious brand in Qatar for the past 66 years

We wish them continued progress and success
Students learn real-life skills at WCM-Q healthcare workshop

A total of 116 students from four of Qatar’s leading educational institutions — the College of the North Atlantic—Qatar (CNA-Q), University of Calgary in Qatar (UCQ), and the University of Queensland College of Health and Medical Sciences (UQ-CPH) — gathered at WCM-Q for a day of inter-professional education (IPE) workshops designed to foster collaboration among teams of four different healthcare professionals.

The participants comprised trainee pharmacists, doctors, nurses and respiratory therapists from UCQ, CNA-Q, WCM-Q, University of Queensland College of Health and Medical Sciences (UQ-CPH), WCM-Q, QU-CPH, University of Calgary in Qatar (UCQ) and the College of the North Atlantic—Qatar (CNA-Q), respectively. The workshops, which focused on real case scenarios and the vital collaborative working skills to help them deliver co-ordinated care packages when they enter the healthcare profession after graduation.

This was the sixth IPE session to be held at WCM-Q. IPE activities are organized by the Inter-Professional Education Committee (IPEC), which comprises of QU and includes representatives from most of the healthcare colleges in Qatar. In the previous sessions, the students worked in groups to consider case scenarios in which an elderly female patient had been admitted to hospital following a stroke.

In each training scenario, the students worked in groups to consider case scenarios in which an elderly female patient had been admitted to hospital following a stroke. The students were presented with a patient having a severe allergic reaction to her medication. The students gained key knowledge in the training of healthcare profession after graduation.

The learning objectives and case-study scenarios for this IPE activity were developed collaboratively by faculty from each of the four colleges prior to the event, and delivered by 20 experienced faculty members who facilitated the activity.

Promotion launched for Toyota SUVs

A special promotion launched by AAB, sole agents for Toyota vehicles, has begun during the campaign period. The promotion offers very attractive terms and conditions apply.

During the campaign period, AAB is offering very attractive prices on their SUV range of vehicles when the EMF price can be how 48 month for the Toyota Land Cruiser, which has a competitive design, is available in 3.0, 4.0 and 4.6L engines. Toyota Prado, known for its rugged strength, is available in 2.7L and 4.0L engines. The entry-level Toyota FJ Cruiser has a powerful 4.0L engine.

Toyota Land Cruiser maintains its leadership with its 4WD capability and a host of advanced features to engage the toughest terrain. Land Cruiser is available in 4.0L, 4.6L & 5.7L engines. AAB has eight service centers with state-of-the-art service and a comprehensive network of official dealerships that include: Toyota Main service Station in Industrial area, Landmark Quick Service Centre, Al Hamala Quick Service Centre, Al Najaf Quick Service Centre, Al Wahda Quick Service Centre, Al Shabab Quick Service Centre, Al Naila Quick Service Centre, Al Khor Quick Service Centre and the newly opened Service Centre near to the Toyota Showroom (near to Mann Tandoor).

AAB, founded in 1984 by one of Qatar’s pioneering businessman, is the leading automobile distributor in Qatar. The company, during a short span of time, developing a great customer experience coupled with the world class quality and reliability of Toyota vehicles has enabled the company to enjoy the highest market share in the country.
Knowing the signs of sepsis can save lives: experts

H ealth Minister Dr Hanan Al Suwaidi has announced that the total number of deaths due to sepsis in Qatar during 2015 was 63,732, marking it as the fifth-most lethal cause of death worldwide.

Sepsis is a life-threatening condition that usually begins as an infection and can lead to sepsis. It is a serious illness that can cause rapid changes in the patient's condition, leading to septic shock.

Dr Ahmed Labib, senior consultant ECMO, ICM and anaesthesia, added: “Patients with sepsis have a better chance of recovery when their healthcare teams are well trained in providing specialised and prompt care.”

The full statement from HMC.

Dr Ahmed Labib, senior consultant ECMO, ICM and anaesthesia – will play an instrumental role in the care of patients with sepsis. He leads the ECMO team at the National Centre for Critical Care and Trauma, a part of the HMC programme for sepsis care, which was established in 2012 and is observed worldwide every year, many of which are preventable. According to the Global Sepsis Alliance, sepsis is the world’s number one illness and mortality.

Sepsis is a serious and life-threatening condition, which in the early stages is highly time-critical and requires immediate detection and treatment. Sepsis affects people of all ages, including babies, children, adults and seniors. The signs and symptoms of sepsis can include fever, chills, rapid heartbeat, change in mental status, and more.

Sepsis is an infection that causes your immune system to overreact and attack your own body, which can cause severe tissue damage and organ dysfunction. The most common types of infections that can cause sepsis are urinary tract infections, pneumonia, skin infections, and surgical site infections.

Sepsis is a life-threatening condition, and when left untreated, it can lead to septic shock, which can result in multiorgan failure and death. It is crucial to treat sepsis as early as possible, even before symptoms are evident.

Sepsis is a serious condition and can be deadly if not treated promptly. It is essential to recognize the signs and symptoms of sepsis early and seek medical attention immediately. Early detection and treatment can significantly improve outcomes and save lives.

Sepsis is a serious illness and a healthcare threat condition called septic shock. The condition is an extreme response triggered by an infection and if untreated can lead to death, or even shock.

Sepsis is one of the leading causes of death. Greater awareness among the general public as well as hospital staff is key to ensuring the fewest patients with sepsis die of the condition. Sepsis education among the general public is crucial to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of sepsis and to ensure better patient outcomes. This is why the Global Sepsis Alliance was established in 2012 and is observed worldwide every year, many of which are preventable.

Sepsis is a serious and life-threatening condition, which in the early stages is highly time-critical and requires immediate detection and treatment. Sepsis affects people of all ages, including babies, children, adults and seniors. The signs and symptoms of sepsis can include fever, chills, rapid heartbeat, change in mental status, and more. Sepsis is a life-threatening condition, and when left untreated, it can lead to septic shock, which can result in multiorgan failure and death. It is crucial to treat sepsis as early as possible, even before symptoms are evident.

Sepsis is a serious condition and can be deadly if not treated promptly. It is essential to recognize the signs and symptoms of sepsis early and seek medical attention immediately. Early detection and treatment can significantly improve outcomes and save lives.

Sepsis is a serious illness and a healthcare threat condition called septic shock. The condition is an extreme response triggered by an infection and if untreated can lead to death, or even shock.

Sepsis is one of the leading causes of death. Greater awareness among the general public as well as hospital staff is key to ensuring the fewest patients with sepsis die of the condition. Sepsis education among the general public is crucial to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of sepsis and to ensure better patient outcomes. This is why the Global Sepsis Alliance was established in 2012 and is observed worldwide every year, many of which are preventable.
Sidra appoints physician in paediatric pathology

Sidra Medical and Research Centre (Sidra) has appointed Prof Gordan Vujanic as senior attending physician in paediatric pathology. Prof Vujanic will be working closely with Dr Adrian Charles, chief, anatomical pathology and will be leading paediatric pathology services at Sidra. This includes fetal, perinatal and paediatric surgical pathology. Prof Vujanic is renowned for his work and international studies on paediatric renal tumours. In addition to his new role at Sidra, Prof Vujanic is the chair of two leading organisations dedicated to cancer research – the UK Children’s Cancer and Leukemia Group Pathology Panel as well as the International Society of Paediatric Oncology (SIOP) Pathology Panel.

“The diagnosis of many diseases is made exclusively by pathologists – this is the first and crucial step towards the appropriate treatment and care of our patients. It is especially the case for children with cancer, where our diagnosis is critical for determining the correct treatment and predicting the prognosis. Working closely with our clinicians and research team, we can use a range of modern methods and techniques within our pathology labs. This will play a key role in supporting the path towards providing personalized medicine, treatment and care at Sidra,” said Prof Vujanic. He will also be delivering training in the field as well as expanding on perinatal pathology services. This will help review the factors related to perinatal deaths to determine why they happened and provide important information for counseling. As chair of the UK and SIOP Pathology Panel, Prof Vujanic introduced, for the first time ever, a rapid central pathology review – which enabled children to be diagnosed and staged accurately, avoiding mistreatment. This was a drastic change from previous studies, where 20 to 25% of tumours were misdiagnosed or mis-staged. Prior to joining Sidra, Prof Vujanic was the professor of paediatric pathology at Cardiff University School of Medicine in Wales. During his tenure, he developed paediatric pathology services for Wales in one of the centres of excellence in the United Kingdom.
Concussion in sport takes spotlight at Aspetar seminar

Pereira collapsed on the field in Germany, Uruguay's Alvaro off the field, according to a press providers on Aspetar's protocol comprehensive training to healthcare concussion and offered comprehensive concussion monitoring and return-to-play post-concussion, as well as ethical and legal issues surrounding it. The workshop was organised by the Aspetar Sport Related Concussion Programme, a consensus document, the management and the Sport Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement. The workshop drew on the expertise of Aspetar's staff in the field of sports medicine to offer a range of concussion-related topics and implications on athletes in Qatar particularly and worldwide locally.

These included: introduction to concussion; neuropsychological assessments; and photophotographic tests and concussion; on-field recognition and removal steps; management of the acutely concussed athlete; and post-concussion, in addition to return-to-play concussion, as well as ethical and legal issues surrounding it.

The workshop was organised by the Aspetar Sport Related Concussion Programme, a consensus document, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.

Concussion is a traumatic brain injury following direct or indirect acceleration and deceleration of the brain that may result in a substantial disruption of normal neurological function. Such injuries could be caused by a direct blow or contact to the head. Concussion is a traumatic brain-sustained injury, particularly locally. Aspetar collaborates with the Gulf Concussion and Brain Injury Centre, other sports medicine hospitals, the National Concussion Multi-Disciplinary Team (SC-MDT) of the Concussion in Sport Group, the authors of the consensus statement.
Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

POLICY

Khamenei warns US against ‘wrong move’ on nuclear deal

President Hassan Rouhani of Iran said yesterday that US President Donald Trump’s move to re-impose sanctions against Iran was a “wrong move” and that Iran would not be bullied. "We won’t be bullied by any sanctions... we can easily face the pressure," Rouhani said. "The US can’t decide on our fate." The US President had announced re-imposing sanctions on Iran, which might lead to a change in the nuclear deal. Rouhani also said that Iran has no intention of starting a nuclear war.

CONDOLENCES

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

Hamas has agreed to dissolve the unity government that it shares with Fatah, and said yesterday that it would support the Palestinian leadership for discussions on the return of refugees from Lebanon. However, it added that it would not participate in the next round of talks.

Iranian President Hassan Rouhani said that if the US seeks a new round of talks with Iran, it would not be possible. Rouhani also said that the Islamic Republic will not be bullied by any sanctions. The Iranian leader has stated that the country will continue to produce nuclear fuels.

In the Gaza Strip, Hamas has agreed to withdraw from its government. It also said that it would work to form a new government that includes all factions. The agreement was reached after weeks of negotiations between Hamas and Fatah.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Kyrgyz president (Reuters)

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Kyrgyz president (Reuters)

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.

Mr. Denyi Tobun
AED Business Development Services

REGION/ARAB WORLD

Syrian army, allies close in on IS in Deir Ezzor

Syrian army and allied forces on Thursday captured the town of Al-Bukamal, leaving the Islamic State group with only the town of Al-Mayadin in its remaining holdout in the province of Deir Ezzor. The military said the ambushed the Islamic State group after an intense battle that lasted for three days.

The town, which is located on the Euphrates river, is the last significant territory controlled by the Islamic State group in eastern Syria. The capture of Al-Bukamal marks a significant blow to the group, which has lost most of its territory after a series of military setbacks.

The Syrian army and allied forces have made significant gains in recent months, capturing several key towns and cities from the Islamic State group.

Achraf Hamza, the spokesman for the US-led coalition, said that the capture of Al-Bukamal was a positive development that would help to stabilize the region.

Hamza also thanked the Syrian army and allied forces for their efforts in the fight against the Islamic State group.

Hamas ready to hand Gaza to a unity govt

The Hamas movement has agreed to hand over control of the Gaza Strip to a new unity government that includes members of the Fatah movement. The agreement was reached after months of talks between the two groups.

The new government will be led by Mohammad Shtayyeh, who currently serves as the prime minister of the Palestinian Authority. Shtayyeh will be joined by other members of both Hamas and Fatah.

The agreement is seen as a significant milestone in the efforts to unify the Palestinian leadership after years of division.
Solar grid keeps harvests high, hospitals lit in parched rural Zimbabwe

By Tomaszewski, Moscow

U ntil fairly recently, many of the people in southern Zimbabwe struggled to see the point of explain why their country was in the grip of a drought. The officially recognized border of the drought region that posed threats to their reno

As in most areas of rural Zimbabwe, rain-fed agriculture provides most of the town's income, with the townspeople making a living from subsistence farming. Only a small portion of the area's land is used for formal farming. But despite rains over the last decade, a rising problem associated with climate change, many have caused many harvests to fail, and left onto the country's struggling economy. Many in the area have grappled with the lack of electricity, which has led to a lack of economic growth. The lack of water and electricity has led many people to seek alternative sources of income, such as charcoal and honey production. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of education, as schools have been closed due to the lack of electricity. Many children have had to drop out of school due to the lack of electricity. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of access to healthcare, as hospitals and clinics have been closed due to the lack of electricity. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of access to communication, as many people have been disconnected from the internet due to the lack of electricity. Many have turned to alternative sources of income, such as charcoal and honey production. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of access to education, as schools have been closed due to the lack of electricity. Many children have had to drop out of school due to the lack of electricity. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of access to healthcare, as hospitals and clinics have been closed due to the lack of electricity. The lack of electricity has also led to a lack of access to communication, as many people have been disconnected from the internet due to the lack of electricity.

Local leaders say schools have become more productive and schools have received basic facilities. The $1.5 million mini-grid was installed by the European Union, the Open Plan for International Development and the Global Environment Facility. It is designed to provide access to electricity and to help to drive the economic growth in rural areas.

In construction was overseen by Power Africa Southern Africa, a development charity. The plan powers the Makushen and Shanglala camp, which have three schools and 32 classrooms. It is a solar energy system that will be used to provide electricity to the community.

A board of trustees headed by the community is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the mini-grid, and community members have been trained to maintain and operate it.

The mini-grid will be expanded to other nearby areas through the trust.

Thomas Mabula, a Mashaba councillor, says estimates 32,000 people are benefiting from the clean power grid. In its area, often affected by drought, “We depend on government relief food.”

For those who have access to the mini-grid, it has had a transformative effect on their lives. Many have been able to open small businesses, such as selling goods and services, which has led to an increase in income and livelihoods. Many have been able to access education, as schools have been able to operate, which has led to an increase in access to education. Many have been able to access healthcare, as hospitals and clinics have been able to operate, which has led to an increase in access to healthcare. Many have been able to access communication, as the internet has been able to operate, which has led to an increase in access to communication.

Mashaba community will be to the clinic to give birth are no than 400,000 Burundians have fled abroad. Among 90,000 are in UN camps. Many have been displaced from homes in the south-ern part of the country. The attack appeared to target a market and mosque in a neighborhood of the city of Asaba inhabited mainly by the Hausa and the Yoruba. The attack appeared to be a targeted attack on a specific group, the Islamic Movement of Nigeria, which has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government.

The Islamic Movement of Nigeria has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade.

The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade.

The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade. The group has been involved in a conflict with the Nigerian government for over a decade.
Fight over electoral boundaries heads to top court

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - A major legal battle over the drawing of electoral maps in Wisconsin one of the nine justices making the landmark Supreme Court decision has never curbed.

That could soon change, with the Supreme Court justices in a new family photo.

The justices must decide whether the state’s maps are unconstitutional.

Wisconsin’s redistricting plan was passed in 2011 by majorities for the Republican Party in both houses of the state legislature. The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities for Republicans in state legislative elections in every election since their adoption.

The case began in 2015 when Party voters sued state election officials claiming the redistricting plan violated the 14th Amendment guarantee of equal protection. The Democrats have been urging the justices to strike down the plan, saying it is a “gerrymander”.

The map, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.

The plan, drawn after the 2010 US census, enabled them to win majorities in state legislative districts. It appears to be a “gerrymander”, the justices hearing the case said.

The justices will hear arguments on October 2 in Wisconsin.

The Supreme Court for decades has been reluctant to interfere in redistricting cases, saying it is a political process. The justices will have to decide whether courts should have a say in such matters.

The Impasse Court for decades had been working to redraw state electoral maps on the grounds of racial discrimination.

The case, involving a split of 4-4, was among the last cases the court heard before Justice Antonin Scalia died on February 13.

The justices have never set a standard on which partisan gerrymandering claims can be measured.

Republican Party voters in Wisconsin are accused of abuses. Brennan Center said.

But they urged the justices to adhere to principles of executive and as a consequence to backfire on the party that gerrymandered.

None of today’s tilt is bigger, or has everything at stake, than Wisconsin’s redistricting plan.

Wisconsin’s Republicans in a lawsuit challenging the maps, the Brennan Center said.
"Last chance' for Suu Kyi to end Rohingya crisis: UN chief

U N chief Antonio Guterres said that Myanmar President Win Myint must seek a "last chance" to end the "horrific" Rohingya crisis in the west of the country.)

"The United Nations and Japan together claim they can shorten the conflict’s duration, and although the conflict has not ended, the United States and Japan have a joint strategy that they can take action on," said Guterres.

The United States and Japan have a joint strategy that they can take action on, but the United States has not been able to find a solution to the conflict.

Guterres said that "the United States and Japan together claim they can shorten the conflict’s duration, and although the conflict has not ended, the United States and Japan have a joint strategy that they can take action on."
Trump's threat to visit still on despite terror tweets: PM

Prime Minister Theresa May has indicated that a visit to the US by Donald Trump will go ahead as planned despite a diplomatic spat triggered by the US president's comments over a terror attack in London.

Speaking to BBC News from Downing Street in an interview due to be broadcast tonight and released to newspapers, Mrs May admitted that after yesterday's, the attack that London was to take on terror threats go global and Facebook about the US administration's tracking extremists using the web to plan attacks, as Facebook has acknowledged.

The president's comments had also raised doubts about the attacks.

Mrs May said on Friday that she "felt it would be in everybody's interest to speculate on the aftermath of the attack.

Trumps tentacles to an absolutist claim that he has "annihilated" the Islamic State will reach another attack in the British capital within days, and then raided a property in what he called a "calm" step and named a policy in the background of the planned referendum, Johnson also re-

The police have arrested a second man over the bombing of London's public transport system that has led to scores of people being injured.

The second man was detained under the Terrorism Act, police said, but was released without charge yesterday.

A police officer stands guard at a property being searched in connection with an explosion on a London Underground train on Friday in Tottenham on Thursday.

Johnson accused of Brexit 'backseat driving'

F eminist wrote Boris Johnson's text on Wednesday was already anticipated by the Conservative Party, according to a government source.

A source said it would "slightly accelerate the campaign" and that the government was "not alarmed" by the"we are no longer going to be governed by the government."

Meanwhile, Interior Minister Amber Rudd yesterday said the second arrest was intended to be a "precautionary" measure, not a "premeditated" attack.

The police are investigating after a truck hit a barrier in central London.

A police officer stands guard at a property being searched in connection with an explosion on a London Underground train on Friday in Tottenham on Thursday.
US tourists injured in France acid attack

M

Two American tourists were injured yesterday with burns to their arms and legs after being doused with acid by a man in the center of Paris. The attack occurred in the Eiffel Tower area, where tourists often gather after dark.

While the French police have not yet made any arrests, they are investigating the case as a hate crime.

Spain seeks to block Catalonia referendum

S

The Spanish government has launched a legal challenge to the Catalan referendum on independence, which is set to take place on October 1.

The referendum was called by the Catalan parliament in response to the growing separatist movement in the region.

Germany faces red line on eurozone budget

G

The German government is set to impose strict conditions on the next eurozone budget, which is due to be agreed by all member states.

The conditions are intended to ensure that countries in the eurozone are fiscally responsible and that the budget does not undermine the eurozone's stability.

Rejuvenated Berlusconi lays out election platform

B

Silvio Berlusconi, the Italian former prime minister, has launched his election campaign for the center-right bloc.

Berlusconi, who was recently acquitted of tax fraud, has said that he will stand as the candidate for the Forza Italia party.

But he faces a tough challenge from the center-left bloc, which is led by Matteo Renzi.

Berlusconi dismissed the chances of a center-right victory, saying that the bloc is divided and lacks a clear message.

But he has stressed his experience and his ability to unite the center-right parties.

Spokesperson for Berlusconi: "We have a clear plan for Italy. We are the only ones with a clear message. We will create jobs and growth."

The former premier also promised to reduce taxes and increase social benefits.

German Chancellor Angela Merkel holds a news conference at the Christian Democratic Union party campaign meeting center in Berlin.

Mercedes-Benz red line on eurozone budget

The German government is setting strict conditions on the next eurozone budget, which is due to be agreed by all member states.

The conditions are intended to ensure that countries in the eurozone are fiscally responsible and that the budget does not undermine the eurozone's stability.

The conditions include:

- No new debt for member states
- A balanced budget for all member states
- A strengthening of the eurozone's permanent bailout mechanism
- A more stable and resilient eurozone

The FDP have reinforced their stance on the eurozone, which is a red line for us," said Finance Minister Wolfgang Schäuble.

The FDP are fighting for third place in the election, and are polling around 8% to 10% in the latest polls.

The center-left SPD have often been criticized by the FDP, which has been described as "the party of the free market."
Tributes pour in for war hero Arjan Singh ahead of state funeral

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also released a song on Twitter, which would never forget inspira-
tive leadership of Marshal of the IAF Arjan Singh in 1965, when the IAF saw substantial actions.

The former chief of the defence staff, who retired at the age of 91, would be dressed in uniform. He would come on a wheelchair, but whenever he would see me, he would stand. He was a soldier, he never forgot his discipline.

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said: “India will never forget Arjan Singh’s contribution to country’s defence.”

The three service chiefs - Air Chief Marshal BS Dhanoa, Chief of Defence Staff Rawat and Air Chief Marshal B S Rawat - will travel to the capital for the state funeral.
UN launches food aid plan for Cubans in wake of Irma

Argentina predicts growth of 3.5% next year

Netflix scout for Narcos TV show shot dead

US denies teacher visa to attend awards event

Coffee producers face climate change threat

Argentine economy

A report from Reuters on Argentina's economic growth for next year.

The United Nations has barred a New York-based operation to bring food to a kingdom of tiny farms, where relief lines have been disrupted by Hurricane Maria, the US food agency said.

The bill proposes a 2018 primary deficit of 3.2% of GDP, as previously announced. But an official said it had already been cut to 4% from 4.2% previously.

"We will continue to reduce spending on the national public sector," said Nicolas Dujovne, in press conference to announce the 2018 budget.

The average exchange rate for 2018 had been set at 20.6 pesos per US dollar.

The government also revised the 2017 average expected exchange rate to 21 pesos per US dollar.

The budget balances the fiscal deficit, including interest payments, of 5.4% of GDP.

The average inflation expected in the 2018 budget melts a drop from the 26.9% expected in 2017, according to the bill.

The new budget projects a positive growth in the year ending inflation between 25% and 27%.

This year and between 15% and 18% next year.

The deficit would result in a reduction in the fiscal deficit to 5.4% of GDP.

The average inflation expected in the 2018 budget melts a drop from the 26.9% expected in 2017, according to the bill.

The new budget projects a positive growth in the year ending inflation between 25% and 27%.

This year and between 15% and 18% next year.

The deficit would result in a reduction in the fiscal deficit to 5.4% of GDP.

The average inflation expected in the 2018 budget melts a drop from the 26.9% expected in 2017, according to the bill.

The new budget projects a positive growth in the year ending inflation between 25% and 27%.

This year and between 15% and 18% next year.

The deficit would result in a reduction in the fiscal deficit to 5.4% of GDP.
Thousands vote in by-poll seen as test of support for Sharif

Pakistani Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif has won the seat of Mianwali-2 in the National Assembly. The other seat on offer in the province of Punjab went to the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N), so the prime minister has secured his 18th term in office. The by-election was triggered by the death of his mother, Prof. Zafra Carnoy, who had held the seat for 27 years. The PML-N's victory is seen as a strong endorsement of the prime minister's political leadership and a vote of confidence in his government's policy agenda. The result is also significant as it comes amidst an increasing political polarization and uncertainty in the country.
PHILIPPINES

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said post-battle footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.

---

Revilla, Reyes must also get bail: Enrile

Sen. Leila de Lima, who is also detained at the national women's correctional facility since May 2017, said the court thinks that Estrada is not a flight risk, “she added.

---

Army captures key IS base in besieged Marawi

The Philippine military said video footage it had gathered confirmed the center of the city had been retaken by government troops, after 10 days of fighting in the industrial town of Marawi, in the southern island of Mindanao.

De Lima says president in Estrada's release

De Lima says she is now introducing a new procedure and new doctrines so that the court would accommodate the whims of the president. She said not a single of the court members would control the other two branches—government and the judiciary—lest we imperil the future of the Philippines.

Child abuse charges sought against cops in Manila

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) are set to file charges against 29 Police Regional Command South Central Visayas (PNP-SCV) personnel for the alleged sexual abuse of minors.
We are slaming them from the rooftops where many of them live. It was a very sad sight, said Reena, an eyewitness for Cox’s Bazar in Bangladesh.

Mohd said all grass and shrubs on the side of the road to the relocation site had been burnt down to bring down the number of people and create confusion.

She added, “We have been working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything. It is a very sad sight.”

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she said, adding that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

All the numbers, police said, are unofficial estimates.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.

The state’s police department said it had not been possible to do so.

We are working in this place for 20 years and we are not able to do anything, it is a very sad sight, she said.

The road has been blocked with grass and shrubs, she added, saying that the locals have been trying to remove the obstacles.
It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.

The Lancet. The GBD is the only annual, comprehensive, peer-reviewed assessment of global trends in health, mortality, and disability. It is a matter of concern that non-communicable diseases caused nearly 40% of all deaths worldwide in 2016, an increase of 31.1% since 2006. In high-income countries where the leading cause was lower tobacco-related illnesses in 2016.
A striking turnaround for Trump

T he London-based Centre for Research on Immigration Socioeconomic Deprivation (Cris) has found an anti-
Qatar London conference fails to arouse interest

Dr. Angela Davis, who was deported from the United States illegally as a child, has come out in support of Dreamers and has called on the government to reinstate DACA. Davis is a renowned activist and scholar who has been a vocal advocate for immigrant rights. She argues that Dreamers are contributing members of society and should be allowed to remain in the US.

The recent travel ban has caused significant disruption to families and businesses, with many immigrants facing uncertainty about their future. While some countries have welcomed immigrants, others have imposed strict restrictions on who is allowed to enter.

The US government has been criticized for its deportation policies, and there have been calls for reform. Some have argued for a pathway to citizenship for undocumented immigrants, while others advocate for stricter border controls.

There is ongoing debate about the impact of immigration on the economy and society. Some studies suggest that immigrants contribute to economic growth, while others argue that they take jobs and resources away from native born citizens.

As the debate continues, it remains to be seen how the government will proceed with its policies. The issue of immigration is likely to remain a热点 in the upcoming elections.
His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani attended the opening of the US-Islamic World Forum at Conrad Hotel in New York City yesterday. The opening was attended by Swedish State Secretary for Foreign Affairs Annika Soder, Somalia Minister for Foreign Affairs Yusuf Garaad Omar, and High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the Forum Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr, along with a host of senior officials and experts, parliamentarians, academics, businessmen, economists and media personnel from the United States and the Muslim world. The US-Islamic World Forum will explore opportunities to strengthen cooperation between the Islamic world and the United States.

Martin Sean Indyk, executive vice-president of the Brookings Institution, addresses the audience at the US-Islamic World Forum.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani meets High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the Forum Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr.

Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr, High Representative for the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the US-Islamic World Forum, said that Arab and Muslim societies are witnessing increasing injustice and intolerance against them. Speaking at the US-Islamic World Forum, organised by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in New York, al-Nasr said that many people have been caught in the trap of distortion of facts through the acts of terrorist and extremist groups, such as ISIS (Daesh), through despicable and humiliating deeds...These people forget that Muslims themselves are the first and main victims of these acts, he noted. He said that the UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres had asked him to represent the Alliance of Civilizations at the forum as he attaches great importance to the promotion of constructive and positive dialogue as a means of promoting mutual understanding. "We wish you fruitful discussions and positive results," al-Nasr added. Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr said that the main objectives of the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations is to promote dialogue and understanding as a means of combating terrorism and extremism. He pointed out that one of the objectives of the Alliance of Civilizations is to use a comprehensive and multi-polar approach to study the state of relations between modern societies, their worldviews and the mutual understanding which constitutes these relations. He wished success for the forum, which discusses many important and contemporary issues.

Qatar rejects ‘all forms of fanaticism, extremism’: FM

Qatar rejects ‘all forms of fanaticism, extremism’, says al-Nasr

No one can silence peaceful voices of humanity, says Sheikh Mohamed

Sheikh Mohamed Bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE Armed Forces, spoke to a conference yesterday about the future of the Middle East and the need to work together against extremism and terrorism.

Sheikh Mohamed said the desire to achieve peace “represents the aspirations of all peoples of the world.” Citing the issues besieging Palestine and other conflicts in the Middle East, the foreign minister said “the distinguished relations between the US and the Islamic world is confronted with challenges like the continued failure to achieve peace because of selective policies in the implementation of international legitimacy resolutions and double standards.” Under the administration of US President Donald Trump, the minister expressed hope that “peace would be achieved in the Middle East.” He also praised the US for its efforts to resume “serious negotiations” to settle the war in Palestine.

From Page 1

Sheikh Mohamed also said the demand to achieve peace “represents the aspirations of all peoples of the world.” Citing the issues besieging Palestine and other conflicts in the Middle East, the foreign minister said “the distinguished relations between the US and the Islamic world is confronted with challenges like the continued failure to achieve peace because of selective policies in the implementation of international legitimacy resolutions and double standards.” Under the administration of US President Donald Trump, the foreign minister expressed hope that “peace would be achieved in the Middle East.” He also praised the US for its efforts to resume “serious negotiations” to settle the war in Palestine.

Arab and Muslim societies face increasing injustice and intolerance, says al-Nasr

Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr, High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the US-Islamic World Forum, said that Arab and Muslim societies are witnessing increasing injustice and intolerance against them. Speaking at the US-Islamic World Forum, organised by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in New York, al-Nasr said that many people have been caught in the trap of distortion of facts through the acts of terrorist and extremist groups, such as ISIS (Daesh), through despicable and humiliating deeds...These people forget that Muslims themselves are the first and main victims of these acts, he noted. He said that the UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres had asked him to represent the Alliance of Civilizations at the forum as he attaches great importance to the promotion of constructive and positive dialogue as a means of promoting mutual understanding. "We wish you fruitful discussions and positive results," al-Nasr added. Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr said that the main objectives of the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations is to promote dialogue and understanding as a means of combating terrorism and extremism. He pointed out that one of the objectives of the Alliance of Civilizations is to use a comprehensive and multi-polar approach to study the state of relations between modern societies, their worldviews and the mutual understanding which constitutes these relations. He wished success for the forum, which discusses many important and contemporary issues.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Al-Thani meets High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General in the Forum Nasser bin Abdulaziz Al-Nasr.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Al-Thani meets Swedish State Secretary for Foreign Affairs Annika Soder.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Al-Thani meets Somalia Minister for Foreign Affairs Yusuf Garaad Omar.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Al-Thani meets a delegate at the forum.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Al-Thani meets Martin Sean Indyk, executive vice-president of the Brookings Institution, which addresses the audience at the US-Islamic World Forum.

Qatar renews commitment to UN Alliance of Civilizations

Qatar is renewing its commitment to the UN Alliance of Civilizations (AUC) as it takes a leading role in the organization’s activities, the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani said yesterday.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani attended the opening of the US-Islamic World Forum at Conrad Hotel in New York City yesterday. The opening was attended by Swedish State Secretary for Foreign Affairs Annika Soder, Somalia Minister for Foreign Affairs Yusuf Garaad Omar, and High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the Forum Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr, along with a host of senior officials and experts, parliamentarians, academics, businessmen, economists and media personnel from the United States and the Muslim world. The US-Islamic World Forum will explore opportunities to strengthen cooperation between the Islamic world and the United States.

Martin Sean Indyk, executive vice-president of the Brookings Institution, addresses the audience at the US-Islamic World Forum.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani meets High Representative of the UN Alliance of Civilizations and Representative of the UN Secretary-General to the Forum Nasser bin Abdulaziz al-Nasr.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani meets Swedish State Secretary for Foreign Affairs Annika Soder.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani meets Somalia Minister for Foreign Affairs Yusuf Garaad Omar.

His Highness the Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani meets a delegate at the forum.