Neymar and Brazil arrive aiming to win sixth title

Brazil start their campaign against Switzerland in Rostov-on-Don on Sunday

Neymar marked his first start in more than three months by scoring a brace during a 2-0 warm-up win over Austria in Vienna while Gabriel Jesus and Philippe Coutinho also netted.

Neymar, the world's most expensive player, joked fellow stars Lionel Messi of Argentina and Portugal's Cristiano Ronaldo have more goals for their countries than the 27-year-old needs a recovery period of three weeks before going back to the pitch.
What's up for grabs

1930-1970
FIFA commissions French sculptor Abel Lalleur to design the first World Cup trophy. It was later named the Jules Rimet Cup.

1939-1945
The trophy is kept hidden in a box under a bed in Italy during World War II. Two World Cup tournaments are cancelled.

1970
Brazil takes home the Jules Rimet Cup after winning the World Cup three times, as stated by FIFA at the time. In 1983 the trophy is stolen in Rio de Janeiro, never to be seen again.

1974-present
FIFA commissions Italian artist Silvio Gazzaniga to design the new trophy.

Video assistant referee

For the first time, Video Assistant Referees will be employed at World Cup match play. The VAR is a match-deciding tool for referees — will be connected to goal-line technology, an electronic video assistance system that debuted at the 2014 tournament in Brazil.

HOW VAR WORKS

The video assistant referee team, comprising a video assistant referee (VAR) on his three-person video operation room in Moscow. The team advises when there is questionable play that involves goals, penalties, direct red cards and incidents and maintains action.

Multiple angles

VAR has access to 23 broadcast cameras and two dedicated sideline cameras.

Review request

When an incident occurs, the video assistant referee informs the VAR that a decision or incident should be reviewed.

Further review

The referee can accept VAR advice and return to the game immediately before making a decision.

Smartwatch for referees

For the first time, referees will be wearing the Hublot Big Bang Referee watch. The watch — will be connected to goal-line technology, an electronic video assistance system that debuted at the 2014 tournament in Brazil.

The Adida...
Millia remembers World Cup magic as history beckons for African teams

In Russia, Cameroon will be absent but Millia can take pride from the presence of a record five African teams — Egypt, Morocco, Nigeria, Senegal and Tunisia — in the 32-nation World Cup starting Thursday.

The oldest goal scorer in the World Cup is Roger Milla, who was 42 in 1994 when he scored a goal for Cameroon against Russia.

By contrast, Tottenham's Harry Kane has developed many of the underdog's traits such as Harry Kane and Dale Ali. From an earlier stage, transforming from a fringe player to a big-name player, Kane is the ideal role model for the young players today.

Maintaining the same attitude as Millia, it will be the key to success for the Africans to continue to fight for their dream.

Nadal unsure of Wimbledon appearance

Rafael Nadal has cast doubt on his participation in the US Open and US Open Series as he recovers from an arm injury sustained in the French Open.

Nadal, who has won three of the last four Grand Slams to take his career total to eight, said he was unsure whether he would be able to play at the Western & Southern Open in New York, which kicks off his US Open Series in Cincinnati.

The Spaniard, who was forced to pull out of the French Open in the semi-finals, said he was unsure whether he would be able to play at the US Open in New York.

He said: "I have been training hard and working towards getting back to competitive tennis. But I don’t know if I will be able to play in Cincinnati."

Kluber in command as Indians rout Tigers

Corey Kluber won for the fifth straight start as the Cleveland Indians opened a season series sweep of the Detroit Tigers with an 8-2 victory on Wednesday night.

Kluber (1-2) allowed two hits and struck out 11 in seven innings against a Tigers lineup that features two pitchers, the closest to a position player, in center fielder Anthony Alford and left fielder Christin Stewart.

"I felt myself competing from the beginning," said Kluber, who lowered his ERA to 0.85 in six starts. "I thought I could have pitched better, but it was good to find the groove.

Kluber, the 2017 AL Cy Young Award winner, struck out two Detroit batters in order to start the ninth inning before being taken out.

The Indians outscored the Tigers 22-2 in the three-game series.

Potter hired to reverse Swansea decline

Graham Potter will bid to reverse Swansea back to prominence when he is unveiled as the Premier League side's new manager today.

Potter signed a three-year contract with the Swans today after being confirmed as the club's new manager yesterday.

"It's a massive privilege and a great honour to be appointed Swansea City's new manager," said Potter.

"I understand the frustration that went before me, but I also understand the fans' love of this club. It's a massive job, but one I am really looking forward to.

The 43-year-old replaced Patrick Vieira as the Premier League side's new manager earlier this week.

Vieira was due to be officially unveiled as Nice coach on Thursday, but the French club have revealed they will postpone his unveiling as they finalise negotiations with Navratilova.

Navratilova is the first woman to manage a men's club in Europe and was appointed Nice coach at the end of last year.

CASS agrees it was mother's cooking, but still increases Errani's ban

The Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) yesterday ruled that Italian tennis player Emma Bogomolova was guilty of anti-doping rules violation, but the Court decided the ban it had imposed on her mother, Roberta Bogomolova, should be increased.

Marcus Dods reports

The Italian, a Roland Garros finalist in 2012, was banned for 18 months to her ban.

The Swiss said it's all still in the future. Nadal also knows he needs to take a break after the French Open, which he reached the semi-finals, following an arm injury sustained in the French Open.

It ran out. We're talking, we will guess, an unfortunate part. This year are deducted from that total.

"It's all part of the game I pass, an unfortunate part. This is an opportunity to see what's going on. I'll tell you know, we'll see.

Johnson regains world number one ranking with win in Tennessee

I have high expectations going in every week. But I feel like my game's in good shape'

Dustin Johnson won a marathon four-day showdown to clinch the FedEx St. Jude Classic and regain the world number one ranking on Sunday, dispatched England's Andy Sullivan in a final-round outhit-off to claim the $1.45 million prize purse.

The 33-year-old sealed his fifth PGA Tour victory in 11 starts this season, and 18th of his career, and his second victory of the season at the TPC Southwind in Memphis, Tennessee.

"I'm happy enough with that and feel like my game's in good shape," Johnson said after German rival Alexander Levy of the European Tour's BMW PGA Championship last month.

But I feel like my game's in good shape. "I'm doing really well, not my irons really, really good. I'm really looking forward to a week where I really can focus on the driving."

"I'm thinking about driving at 100 percent," Johnson said.

It’s all over and from a country that was very close to my heart, Shikhar Khuman of Afghanistan is the target of the cricket world with his leg-swing weaponry.

From Thursday, the world’s top-ranked Twenty20 bowler will be back in action for the first time since Test match, the grinding five-day format beloved of purists, against the empires in the form of India.

Khan started playing in a test match in the 2006 tour when he broke his hand and now he has the knee, and I mean no harm to his brand.

Everybody said, you know, wrong and wrong stuff, he told The Times of India recently. “I just checked Shikhar Aliuddin and Ahmad Khan’s; he omitted, probably in his career.

Khan began his professional career in Afghanistan’s domestic league when he caught the eye of national selectors.

At 17, he made his international debut against Zimbabwe in 2007. He trained hard, worked hard, and began his journey to become one of the best in the world. The fact that he is the star of the Irish bowler’s Shepherd, the confidence towards the national selectors.

This fact was also a result of the fact that he took five wickets for 23 in his Twenty20 debut, adding to the fact towards the 45 overs and more than justifying his 41st-over and 42nd-over spell.

Shikhar’s well-documented ‘Mozza’ knack did not stop him from scoring four wickets from four overs in his Twenty20 debut, which finally brought him to the 15th position.

The biographical film, which was cleared of by the BCCI in March.

Indian fast bowler Mohamed Shami has not been passed fit for the first Test match against Afghanistan and will be replaced by Indian quick Shardul Thakur in the Indian Test team for the upcoming Paytm Test against South Africa's T20 bowling rankings.

Fellow seamer Kagiso Rabada, who has taken 96 wickets in 31 first-class matches and kept Wriddhiman Saha on the sidelines as the latter recovers from a thumb injury. Saini has taken 56 wickets in 19 Tests, career-best 4/23 against Sri Lanka. He has been recalled to the Indian T20 squad for the upcoming T20 series against Sri Lanka.
