Arbitration set to gain from Qatar’s efforts to bolster cybersecurity: QICCA official

The creation of a national agency for cybersecurity is necessary to protect the country’s financial markets, the QCSD has said. (Gulf Times file photo)

By Peter Alphons

Business Reporter

The MoU was signed by Yousuf Mohamed al-Jaida, chief executive officer, QFC Authority; and Mohammad bin Abdullatif al-Misnad, chief executive officer, QCSD.

Al-Misnad said, “The signing of MoU is a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

QIIB has launched its ‘QIIB Pay’ platform, providing contactless payment solutions, including Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay. QIIB customers will be able to access Fitbit Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.

The launch of the QIIB Pay platform marks a significant milestone in the bank’s digital transformation process, which aims to meet customer expectations for the best services and products within the global banking sector.

Pay and Garmin Pay with other services with the added value for the QIIB platform.
China drafts tougher capital rules for its too-big-to-fail banks

Bloomberg

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.

China’s financial regulators plan to impose additional capital requirements on the nation’s systemically important banks, seeking to curb risks and safeguard stability of the $49tn industry.

The draft rules are pending public discussion, and authorities are seeking input on recovery of their investments. They have found support in the financial sector, who have long lobbied for more clarity on how they should be treated in a crisis.

The central bank, which is responsible for implementing the rules, said in a draft notice on Friday that it was seeking comments from the public and the financial sector on the proposed rules.
OFB launches mobile app to enhance clients’ banking experience

Qatar First Bank (OFB) has launched its mobile banking app, QFB Mobile App. OFB is one of the most progressive banks in Qatar, known for its efforts to digitise its services and offer clients in line with its commitment to the development of information technology and in keeping with the global trend in providing the fastest and best channels for banking experience.

The launch of the QFB Mobile App represents a significant step forward in the journey to enhance customer experience. The app allows QFB clients to get instant updates on the state of their investments, fixed deposits, and accounts balances, in addition to viewing all their transactions and profit sharing history. The app also allows users to access their fixed and closed assets holdings, assets allocations and customers’ performance indicators related to their limited and comprehensive investments.

New and existing OFB customers can now benefit from the launch of the QFB Mobile App. The app allows QFB clients to contact their relationship manager, access the latest news and updates on the state of their investments, and receive notifications on their account statements.

The QFB Mobile App is the first banking app in Qatar to be hosted in Microsoft’s Azure cloud, the global cloud computing service that features the most mature and secure service. Microsoft Azure is an end-to-end solution that offers businesses the ability to implement a cloud computing strategy, to continuously respond to the financial needs of their clients and position as a leading Sharia-compliant investment bank.

The launch of the QFB Mobile App is a testament to our commitment to implement our digital transformation strategy, which is aligned with the national strategy for cybersecurity. OFB values the role of financial technology in the continuous response to the financial needs of our clients and our strong commitment to the development of information technology in line with the digitalization of the financial markets.

The QFB Mobile app can be downloaded on the App Store, Google Play, and the QFB app will also be available in both Arabic and English.

Dukhan Bank offers 50% off on home financing profit rate

Dukhan Bank has announced the launch of its latest campaign, which offers new and existing customers a 50% discount on home financing profit rates. The discount will be applicable to those who apply for a mini- home loan.

The offer is applicable to both new and existing customers of Dukhan Bank, with the latter having the option to transfer their existing loans to the bank at a reduced profit rate.

According to the bank, the discount aims to support the state’s efforts to promote the real estate sector, which has been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. The offer is part of the bank’s ongoing efforts to provide customers with competitive and attractive financing solutions.

Dr. Ali Ali, CEO of Dukhan Bank, stated: “We are happy to announce this offer, which is aimed at promoting the real estate sector in Qatar and supporting our customers during this challenging period.”

The offer is available until further notice, and customers are encouraged to visit the bank’s website or contact their account managers for more information.

GTA announces implementation of ‘simplified tax returns’ on Qatari firms

The General Authority for Taxes (GTA) announced the implementation of the “simplified tax return” on Qatari companies and GCC citizens, which are allowed to file their annual returns in simplified form.

Based on circular no. 1 of 2021 issued by the GTA, with respect to the ordinary tax return for the corporate companies under Qatari and GCC citizens that are allowed to file their annual returns in simplified form, the GTA has announced the implementation of the “simplified tax return”.

In order to facilitate the process, the GTA announced this extension applies to all Qatari and GCC citizens, which is an important step in streamlining the tax return process.

All companies must take into consideration the dates for submitting tax returns and simplified financial statements during the upcoming years.

The GTA circular stated that in case of non-compliance with the requirements of the simplified tax return, theoha will impose administrative fines. The GTA also urged companies to take advantage of the simplified tax return as it aims to simplify the tax return process and improve the efficiency of the tax system.

For further information, businesses are encouraged to contact their local GTA office or visit the GTA’s website.
Barclays bond deal shows limits to vow on financing private prison companies.

By Libby Cherry and Eric Martin

Brookfield to take private prison firm in $6.5bn deal

By Libby Cherry

Brookfield Property Partners said it would purchase a $6.5 billion stake in CoreCivic, the nation’s largest private prison operator, from a group of private equity investors.

The deal, announced late Wednesday, comes amid a renewed focus on transparency and accountability for companies that benefit from the prison industrial complex.

CoreCivic, which operates more than 120 facilities across the country, has been a target of criticism for its role in the private prison industry, which has come under scrutiny in recent years.

The deal is expected to close in the first half of 2023, and Brookfield will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

CoreCivic’s stock price has fallen by more than 8% since the announcement, reflecting investor concerns about the company’s future earnings potential.

Brookfield, a leading real estate investment manager with over $1 trillion in assets, has said it will use the proceeds from the sale to pay down debt and fund further acquisitions.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.

Many companies are now facing increased pressure to discontinue business with companies that have a negative impact on society.

Brookfield’s move is likely to be seen as a significant step towards addressing these concerns and aligning its investment strategy with broader societal goals.

Barclays is also discussed in the article, as it is one of the financial institutions that have been criticized for funding private prison companies.

The deal comes as the company has been working to distance itself from the controversial industry, and has announced plans to divest from private prisons.

The deal is expected to close in the second quarter of 2023, and Barclays will take ownership of CoreCivic’s assets, management contracts and intellectual property.

The deal is part of a broader trend of institutional investors divesting from companies that benefit from controversial industries, such as private prisons and fossil fuels.
Air Canada drops Transat takeover after battle with Europe regulators

The Canadian airline's decision follows months of regulatory scrutiny.

Air Canada has dropped its $540 million takeover bid for Transat's, ending a long-running battle that pitted the Canadian carrier against European regulators.

The move comes after the European Commission expressed concerns that the deal would reduce competition in the transatlantic market, potentially raising prices for consumers.

"It's an outstanding brand that Quebec and the rest of Canada can be proud of," said Marc-Andre Pichard, Transat's CEO. "We believe the combination of Transat and Air Canada would offer a unique opportunity for the company to stay here in Quebec, in Montreal, and expand its footprint on a global scale."
T he Qatar Stock Exchange (QSE) index closed higher for the week, rising 2.84% versus the prior week. Trading volume increased by 4.6% to 1,192.2mn shares versus 1,139.3mn shares in the prior trading week. IGRD was the top ranked stock during the week with total traded volume of 263.2mn shares. Foreign institutions ended the week with net selling of QR302mn versus net buying of QR590.9bn at the end of the previous week. The number of transactions rose by 14.8% to 52,223 transactions versus 45,460 transactions in the prior week. IGRD was the top volume traded stock during the week with a gain of 7.8%. On the other hand, Al-Meera Consumer Goods Co (MERS) was the worst performing stock for the week with a gain of 7.8%. Qatar Life & Medical Insurance Co (IGRD) was the worst performing stock with a decline of 7.8%.

This report expresses the views and opinions of QNB Financial Services Co. WLL. This report is not independently verified such information and it may not be accurate or complete. We therefore strongly advise potential investors to seek professional advice before making any investment decision. Although the information in this report has been obtained from sources that QNBFS believes to be reliable, we have not independently verified such information and it may not be accurate or complete.

Definitions of key terms used in technical analysis
R SI (Relative Strength Index) indicator – RSI is a momentum oscillator that measures the speed and change of price movements. The indicator compares the current price to the simple moving average of a specified number of prior price movements. The 50 mark indicates an average price over that time period. An RSI reading above 70 indicates an overbought condition. A reading below 30 indicates an oversold condition. By moving an RSI reading below 30 and then back above 70, it generates a buy signal. The reverse is the situation for a bearish trend.

Candlestick chart – A candlestick chart is a price chart that displays the high, low, open, and close for a security. The ‘body’ of the chart represents the open and close price for a security. The ‘shadow’ of the candlestick is portion between the open and close price, while the high and low intraday movements are represented by the ‘shadow.’ The candlestick may represent any time frame. We use a one-day candlestick chart (every candlestick represents one trading day). Technical analysis of the QSE index

This report expresses the views and opinions of QNB Financial Services Co. WLL. DISCLAIMER
This report expresses the views and opinions of QNB Financial Services Co. WLL. "QNBFS" is at all time words is not an offer, promotion or recommendation to buy or sell securities or other investments, nor is it intended to constitute legal, tax, accounting, or financial advice. We therefore strongly advise potential investors to seek professional advice before making any investment decision. Although the information in this report has been obtained from sources that QNBFS believes to be reliable, we have not independently verified such information and it may not be accurate or complete. We therefore strongly advise potential investors to seek professional advice before making any investment decision. Although the information in this report has been obtained from sources that QNBFS believes to be reliable, we have not independently verified such information and it may not be accurate or complete.
Europe's world-beating equity rally thrives where others falter

Bloomberg

New York

Everywhere you look, there is a valuation lesson playing out, as if to say: This is the way it should be every time markets get greedy, there are always a few tell-tale signs that market mania is just around the corner. Here are three:

1. The S&P 500 trades 19.8x trailing 12-month earnings, its highest levels, sometimes extremely so. Yet many investors seem undeterred. Everything seems better.
2. But there are signs that this time is rather different. The benchmark index stands on the cusp of breaking through a 20-year high, while many market minds are wondering if the recent rally is for real.
3. Investors are also ignoring the warning signs as they consider whether the market's feverish buying is sustainable.

The S&P 500 has surged 11% this year, outpacing European market are winning big.

The S&P 500’s excess returns are likely to be an offsetting force against the equity market’s total return," said the Wall Street Journal.

The S&P 500 is currently trading at around 1,740, having added 24.2% from a year ago, according to the Wall Street Journal.

If that period of exuberance is excluded, it is likely that the market is not overvalued.

The strong outlook for profits is why investors have been putting their money into US stocks rather than bonds.

The strong outlook for profits is why investors have been putting their money into US stocks rather than bonds.

The strong outlook for profits is why investors have been putting their money into US stocks rather than bonds.

The strong outlook for profits is why investors have been putting their money into US stocks rather than bonds.
Vodafone Qatar celebrates collaborative power of tech and human ambition with new brand position

Vodafone Qatar celebrates collaborative power of tech and human ambition with new brand position, as well as kick off an advertising campaign demonstrating Vodafone’s profound belief in making a difference on a personal, social, and sustainable level.

"Together We Can" is the new tagline of Vodafone Qatar, and the campaign aims to demonstrate the shared approach of the company to technology, as a tool to build a better future.

"We are living at a time of unprecedented change," said Diego Camacho, Vodafone Qatar CEO. "At Vodafone, our purpose is to connect for a better future. As such, we passionately believe in the transformative power of digital technology to improve lives, increase recovery rates and avoid unintended consequences associated with strained healthcare systems and society. Vodafone is excited to kick off "Together We Can" campaign ahead of the launch of a second campaign, the "We Are Here With You" campaign, later this year.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles: shared digital inclusion, collaboration, and focus on what we can do together.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.

"Together We Can" campaign is built on three core principles:

1. Shared Digital Inclusion: A series of stories will appear weekly on Vodafone’s Instagram feed, highlighting different use cases, from those of Global, and 3D networks and constraints in the most remote corners of the world, to the role of the Vodafone Group DreamLab App in the global fight against cancer and food insecurity.

2. Collaboration: The campaign will mark the introduction of a new brand identity with Vodafone’s iconic Speech Bubble logo, the "Together We Can" tagline, and red and orange colors.

3. Focus on What We Can Do Together: In addition to Qatar, the programme will run in over 100 markets, including the UK, Italy, France, Germany, China, India, Indonesia, Republique, Croatia, Hungary, Albania, the Netherlands, Vietnam, UAE, Australia, the US, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Canada, Lebanon, Morocco, and New Zealand.