Alfardan Group to import electric cars, says top official

By Peter Alagos

The campaign to reduce CO2 emissions in Qatar, including Alfardan Group’s initiatives, is supported by the Ministry of Energy and Industry, which sanctions the project in its regulations and guidelines. The group has been in discussion with the authorities concerned and other stakeholders to add more charging stations to Qatar’s traffic grid. The project’s Phase 1 is a collaboration between Qatar General Electricity & Water Corporation (KAP) and Siemens Qatar, under which Alfardan Real Estate Group will develop a charging station project in Al Khor area that will have a capacity of 20 electric cars charging stations.

"We are very much active in a lot of regions in the world, and we are looking forward to increasing the number of charging stations in Qatar, and starting 2019 to 2020, we are going to import electric cars to Qatar. We have a new project in that platform to import electric cars, and we have already invested in some charging stations in our properties in Qatar,” Alfardan told Gulf Times on the sidelines of the “Qatar-Germany Business and Investment Forum” held recently in Berlin, Germany.

He added: “We are looking at the market in Germany, and we have said that we want to import electric cars to Qatar, and that’s why we are here, so we will see some of this in the future, the charging stations all over the continent, so whoever does this will take the lead.”

Asked about Alfardan Group’s initiatives on sustainable development and the protection of the environment, the group said that the project in question is included in many柽il and environment-conscious initiatives.

"We are very much active in a lot of environmental-friendly initiatives. We want to contribute to reducing the pollution, the CO2 emissions, and the protection of the environment,” the group said.

Cabinet hails Amir’s visit to Germany

T he Cabinet yesterday welcomed the outcome of the recent working visit of His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani to Germany and hailed the success of the Qatar-Germany Business and Investment Forum, which was held in Berlin in the framework of the Amir’s visit, as well as the Amir’s announcement of Qatar’s intention to invest €10 billion in the German economy over the next five years, which represented a big leap in the path of growing economic relations between the two countries.

After the Amir’s meeting with German Chancellor Angela Merkel yesterday, the Amir, in his capacity as President of the German- Qatari Chamber of Commerce and Industry, referred to the important visit. Meanwhile, the Amir and the German Chancellor announced the “Amir-Merkel Forum,” which will promote trade between the two countries.

The draft law aims to establish a national early warning project initiated by Qatar in October 2014 and seeks to enhance cooperation between the different parties to add more charging stations to Qatar’s traffic grid. The project’s Phase 1 is a collaboration between Qatar General Electricity & Water Corporation (KAP) and Siemens Qatar, under which Alfardan Real Estate Group will develop a charging station project in Al Khor area that will have a capacity of 20 electric cars charging stations.

"We are very much active in a lot of regions in the world, and we are looking forward to increasing the number of charging stations in Qatar, and starting 2019 to 2020, we are going to import electric cars to Qatar. We have a new project in that platform to import electric cars, and we have already invested in some charging stations in our properties in Qatar,” Alfardan told Gulf Times on the sidelines of the “Qatar-Germany Business and Investment Forum” held recently in Berlin, Germany.

He added: “We are looking at the market in Germany, and we have said that we want to import electric cars to Qatar, and that’s why we are here, so we will see some of this in the future, the charging stations all over the continent, so whoever does this will take the lead.”

Asked about Alfardan Group’s initiatives on sustainable development and the protection of the environment, the group said that the project in question is included in many CBD and environment-conscious initiatives.

"We are very much active in a lot of environmental-friendly initiatives. We want to contribute to reducing the pollution, the CO2 emissions, and the protection of the environment,” the group said.

Cabinet hails Amir’s visit to Germany

THURSDAY 04 Mar 2020
Katharina Habel is transferred to Doha

Qatar Industrial Galleries

Wednesday

Accurate information is a basic function of the media, and the country will be provided with accurate information on the project’s implementation and the various tasks of the Ministry of Energy and Industry under the patronage of HH the Prime Minister and Minister of Interior Sheikh Abdullah bin Nasser bin Khalifa Al-Thani. The event, which is "one of its kind" which will be held on the sidelines of the "Qatar-Germany Business and Investment Forum" held in Berlin, Germany, will attract leaders of their countries to the Amir and their best wishes to the Qatar people of further progress and prosperity.

The Amir receives credentials of new ambassadors

Mr the Foreign Minister Sheikh Ahmad bin Nasser Al-Thani presents credentials to the Amir

Cabinet hails Amir’s visit to Germany

"We are very much active in a lot of environment-friendly initiatives. We want to contribute to reducing the pollution, the CO2 emissions, and the protection of the environment," the group said.

Cabinet hails Amir’s visit to Germany

THURSDAY 04 Mar 2020
Katharina Habel is transferred to Doha

Qatar Industrial Galleries

Wednesday
Officials attend Dibel 2 maritime exercise meetings

Qatar attends meeting in Kuwait

Qatar participates at the US Central Command's meeting, which took place in Kuwait yesterday. The Qatari delegation was chaired by HE Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces Major General (Ret.) Ibrahim bin Ali Al-Attiyah, Assistant Secretary-General of the Ministry of Defense. They held discussions with a number of foreign delegations representing the United States Central Command and other countries on regional security issues.

Ali-Ad meets Aussie envoy

Ali-Ad meets with Australian ambassador to Qatar (Dr. Ali-Ad). During the meeting, they discussed the ongoing joint efforts to further strengthen and develop the military cooperation between Qatar and Australia. They also exchanged views on regional security matters.

Qatari ambassador presents credentials

Qatari ambassador presents credentials to the governments of several countries. The ambassador met with officials from countries such as China, Italy, and Lebanon, presenting his credentials and discussing various bilateral matters including trade, security, and cultural exchanges.

Amir issues several decrees

Qatar calls on siege countries to hold talks to end rights violations

Qatar has called on countries putting pressure on Qatar to end the siege to hold talks to end the conflict, Qatar's foreign minister said yesterday during a meeting with the Austrian minister for foreign affairs.

The matter came up at a meeting between Qatari foreign minister Mohammed bin Abdulrahman al-Thani and Austrian foreign minister Karin Kneissl yesterday. They discussed bilateral relations and ways of strengthening them in addition to a number of topics of common concern. The Qatari foreign minister emphasized the convergence of views on a number of issues that have been put forward.

“Qatar is working towards resolving the crisis and trying to find a solution to the situation, especially as they continue to affect a large number of individuals and families,” the Qatari foreign minister said.

He reaffirmed Qatar’s continuous efforts to provide decent work and leave the country without any violations of human rights, including exploitation and child labor,“Kafala was fully abolished (21) of 2015, under which the right to freedom of movement was provided for a number of workers, especially as they continue to live in Qatar. The Qatari foreign minister also thanked his Austrian counterpart for the support he received in the report of the OHCHR and to support the efforts of the OHCHR to carry out its mandate objectively and effectively.

He expressed hope that the High Commissioner will continue to follow the human rights violations that accompanied the Gulf crisis, and that the OHCHR will continue to follow up on Qatar since Hamad bin Thani issued the report of the OHCHR during its 39th session in Geneva human rights violations committed in the context of the Gulf crisis, which have affected a large number of individuals and families.”

Qatar’s efforts to uphold human rights and fundamental freedoms in the country, the protection of the new Law of Employment (21) of 2015, under which the right to freedom of movement was provided for a number of workers, especially as they continue to live in Qatar. The Qatari foreign minister also thanked his Austrian counterpart for the support he received in the report of the OHCHR and to support the efforts of the OHCHR to carry out its mandate objectively and effectively.

He expressed hope that the High Commissioner will continue to follow the human rights violations that accompanied the Gulf crisis, and that the OHCHR will continue to follow up on Qatar since Hamad bin Thani issued the report of the OHCHR during its 39th session in Geneva.

Qatar’s efforts to uphold human rights and fundamental freedoms in the country, the protection of the new Law of Employment (21) of 2015, under which the right to freedom of movement was provided for a number of workers, especially as they continue to live in Qatar. The Qatari foreign minister also thanked his Austrian counterpart for the support he received in the report of the OHCHR and to support the efforts of the OHCHR to carry out its mandate objectively and effectively.

H E the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman al-Thani and his Austrian counterpart, Minister for Foreign Affairs, Integration and Foreign Missions Karin Kneissl, discussed means to cement cooperation and coordination in a number of areas of joint cooperation of interest to every State.

In this context, we call on the interest of every State. We called on the mandate of the Office in the context of the Gulf crisis, which have affected a large number of individuals and families. The ambassador stressed that the OHCHR and to support the efforts of the OHCHR to carry out its mandate objectively and effectively. He reaffirmed Qatar’s continuous efforts to provide decent work and leave the country without any violations of human rights, including exploitation and child labor. The Qatari foreign minister also thanked his Austrian counterpart for the support he received in the report of the OHCHR and to support the efforts of the OHCHR to carry out its mandate objectively and effectively.

He expressed hope that the High Commissioner will continue to follow the human rights violations that accompanied the Gulf crisis, and that the OHCHR will continue to follow up on Qatar since Hamad bin Thani issued the report of the OHCHR during its 39th session in Geneva.
Northwestern University in Qatar (NU-Q) has announced two new faculty appointments and new programmes. The University, home to more than 300 students, is offering new courses in literature and writing, as well as executive programming, the launch of a Media Innovation Lab (MIL), and plans to open the first digital university museum in Qatar – The Media Majlis at Northwestern University in Qatar.

The two new faculty members are Dr. Jairo Lugo-Ocando and Dr. James Hodapp, respectively professor and assistant professor in the school, both with extensive international experience and expertise in their respective fields—media studies and English and African literature.

Several art workshops at Katara Art Studios soon

Katara Art Studios is preparing to launch several art workshops soon, conducted by international artists and experts, aimed at providing beginner artists with opportunities to express themselves creatively. The workshops will cover various aspects of artistic expression, from painting and sculpture to photography and digital art. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn from experts in their fields and to network with other artists, fostering a community of creative-minded individuals.

Recall of Ford F-150 models

The Ministry of Economy and Commerce (MEC), in collaboration with Almana Motors Company, has announced the recall of Ford F-150 models of 2015-2018 because the friction of the electrical wires of the seat belts with the car pedals in the event of a collision could lead to a fire. The MEC said the recall campaign comes within the framework of its ongoing efforts to protect consumers and ensure that automobile dealers follow up on vehicles’ defects and repair them. The MEC called on all dealers to cooperate with the dealer to follow up on the maintenance and repair works and to communicate with customers to ensure that the necessary repairs are carried out.

On Every Purchase of Readymade Garments, Sarees, Churidars, Footwear, Ladies Bags, Baby Accessories Worth QAR.150/- Get Lulu Gift Voucher Worth QAR.50/-

Promotion valid from 13.09.2018 to 15.09.2018 or until stocks last.

50% مسحوبات نهلر على شير_pieces 6 بذور قصيرة

• Readymade Garments • Sarees • Churidars • Footwear • Ladies Bags • Baby Accessories

Promotion valid from 06.09.2018 to 30.09.2018
The Traffic Awareness Department of the Ministry of Interior organised a lecture on road safety and traffic awareness for the staff and students of Jasim bin Hamad Secondary School.
The event was held at the General Directorate of Traffic, Madinah Khalifa District. Addressing the students, Traffic Awareness Department assistant director Major Jabor Udhaiba underlined the importance of cooperation of the family as well as the school with the Traffic Awareness Department for fulfilling the objectives of reducing the number of accidents.
“Families should not allow teenagers to drive without a licence,” he said while highlighting the necessity for building more awareness among students at schools.
Major Jabor Udhaiba addressing the students at Traffic Headquarters yesterday.

---

Registration procedures for desert bikes, wagons and caravans
Effective from 16-9-2018

Desert Bike
- To be registered and not to be licensed
- Chassis no. required.
- Insurance is not required.
- Technical inspection is not required.

Safety requirements
- Safety of Body, engine, brakes, front and back lights.
- High quality helmet.
- 1.70 meter high antenna with red and triangular flag.

Caravans
- To be registered and not to be licensed
- Chassis no. of chassis Number (Chasis).
- Registration of axle’s number, weight, length and width.
- Compulsory insurance.
- A periodic technical inspection.

Safety requirements
- Sales and back reflectors.
- Lights at the back should work with the front.
- They must be provided with brakes and stoppage.
- Maximum width including tower is (2.20) meters maximum length is (3.30) meters for each axle. Maximum length of two axles is (5) meters and maximum height including load is 2.5 meters.

Wagons
- Chassis no. of chassis Number (Chasis).
- Registration of axle’s number, weight, length and width.
- Compulsory insurance.
- A periodic technical inspection.

Safety requirements
- Sales and back reflectors.
- Lights at the back should work with the front.
- They must be provided with brakes and stoppage.
- Maximum width including load is (2.20) meters maximum length is (3.30) meters for each axle. Maximum length of two axles is (5) meters and maximum height including load is 2.5 meters.

Notes
- Off-road only.
- In case of width, length and height exceeding the stipulated limit, caravans should not be transferred on the road unless it is accompanied with a traffic permit and after the payment of prescribed fees.

---

Congratulations to Mr. Eihab Bashir on winning QAR 50,000 during the summer campaign for Ahlibank Credit Cardholders.
For our promotions and campaigns please visit ahlibank.com.qa

- The winner will get QAR 50,000 credited to his/her credit card.
- Draw Date: 9 September 2018

Get Rewarded when you use Ahlibank Credit Cards.

A total of eight Hamad Bin Khalifa University students received internships across a number of Huawei Business units in June, during the company’s Summer Internship Programme, Huawei Technologies.

Derived from the University’s four grading pillars – Excellence, People, Innovation and Partners – HBKU casts a wide net of partnership with the leading technology giant. The Huawei division demonstrates the concerted effort of the Indian private sector to increase their footprint in the global market. It also reflects the re-organisation of Indian companies to work together with Huawei to provide solutions for the FII World Cup 2022 and to realise the objectives envisioned by the Qatar National Vision 2030.

The Confederation of Indian Industry, with the support of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India and in collaboration with the embassy of India, Doha, Qatar is organising an “India Pavilion” in Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre – September 24 to 26 at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre.

A total of 50 Indian firms will be part of the pavilion, showcasing their products and services, building envelope machinery and vehicles, construction segments such as plant machinery, building interiors and finishes. The construction sector forms a key element of the fastest growing market in the field region, with an estimated $6.2 billion allocated for major projects and accounting for 47% of Qatar’s total tenders for 2023. In 2017 alone, 56% of Qatar’s imports were construction materials.

The participation of a large Indian contingent in this year’s edition of Expo demonstrates the concerted effort of the Indian private sector to increase their footprint in the global market. It also reflects the re-organisation of Indian companies to work together with Huawei to provide solutions for the FIFA World Cup 2022 and to realise the objectives envisioned by the Qatar National Vision 2030.

The HBKU students and Huawei Qatari staff.

50 Indian firms slated for Big 5 Qatar exhibition

HBKU students gain insight through Huawei internships

Texas A&M at Qatar hosts largest-ever incoming class

HLUING Li, HBKU Director Alumni (Qatar), said, “We were impressed by the advanced level of study proficiency exhibited by HBKU’s College of Science and Engineering students. Furthermore, our divisions appreciated the input from HBKU’s diverse body of students who all shared a common ambition to learn from Huawei experts and to gain insights from their extensive experience with Huawei technologies.

“We look forward to hosting Huawei cadre members in the Huawei Qatari headquarters with the aim of furthering Huawei’s rapid growth in Qatar and beyond,” said Luling. “We are proud to represent Huawei’s brand in Qatar and are committed to providing world-class digital services and solutions.”

TXAS A&M at Qatar hosts largest-ever incoming class

The Ministry of Economy and Commerce (MEC), in collaboration with World Bank, has announced the launch of the recall of KTM Duke and Super Duke R 690 models of 2019-2028 because of a front-breaker pin was cracked under highly stressful conditions. The MEC stated that the affected vehicles were produced in 2019-2028, and the recall is aimed to protect consumers and owners that ride motorcycles, both in Qatar and worldwide.

To ensure that the necessary safety measure is taken, the MEC has urged all customers to contact their local MEC representative in Consumer Protection to arrange for pick-up and delivery of the affected vehicles.

The call centre that provides the service is 44466889, an automated voice facility available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Owners are encouraged to follow up on the maintenance of the affected vehicles.

The MEC has urged all customers to report any violations to the Call Centre through the following channels: Call centre: 44466889; Mobile phone: 999, 999; KTM Qatar, 0558668999; MEC Facebook: MEQQatar; MEC Twitter: MEQQatar, MEC Instagram: MEQQatar; MEC YouTube: MEQQatar; MEC QR code: 0558668999; MEC WhatsApp: 0558668999; MEC SMS: 0559922568; Ford Times: MEC_Qatar; Instagram: MEC_Qatar, MEC Twitter: MEC_Qatar; Facebook: MEC_Qatar; MEC WhatsApp: 0444444444; MEC SMS: 0559922568; MEC website: www.mec.gov.qa; MEC email: info@mec.gov.qa; MEC OFFICE: MEC offices in Iqal, Al Amadi, Doha, Qatar; MEC home visits: MEC home visits in Qatar; MEC home visits: MEC home visits in Qatar; MEC home visits: MEC home visits in Qatar.
Turkey reinforces military in Idlib to check govt offensive

Turkey is reinforcing its military support to rebel-held areas in the northwestern province of Idlib as the conflict in Syria's conflict-ridden region continues to escalate.

President Recep Tayyip Erdogan has announced that the Turkish military will continue to support rebels in the region, which houses the last major rebel-held enclave in Syria. Erdogan said the military would continue to supply arms and ammunition to rebels in order to counter the government's air campaign.

Erdogan added that Turkey would not abandon its allies in the region, despite growing international pressure to do so. The Turkish government has been accused of providing military support to rebels in violation of the Geneva Conventions.

The move comes as the Syrian government continues to intensify its air campaign against rebel-held areas in Idlib, with reported civilian casualties in recent attacks.

Germany remains concerned about the situation in Syria and has called for a diplomatic solution to the conflict. German Foreign Minister Heiko Maas has said that Germany will continue to support the UN-led peace process in Syria, despite recent setbacks.

Maas said that the German government would continue to work towards a political solution to the conflict, while also ensuring that humanitarian aid is delivered to those in need.

The German foreign minister also expressed concern about the situation in Idlib, and called for a cessation of hostilities. He said that Germany would continue to support the UN-led peace process in Syria, and called for an end to the violence.

Germany has been a major donor to the Syrian conflict, providing humanitarian aid and support to the UN-led peace process. The German government has called for a diplomatic solution to the conflict, and has condemned the use of chemical weapons in Syria.

The United States has also condemned the use of chemical weapons in Syria, and has called for a cessation of hostilities.

The US President, Donald Trump, has called for a diplomatic solution to the conflict, and has called for a cessation of hostilities. He has also called for a diplomatic solution to the conflict, and has called for a cessation of hostilities.

The United States has also condemned the use of chemical weapons in Syria, and has called for a cessation of hostilities.

The US President, Donald Trump, has called for a diplomatic solution to the conflict, and has called for a cessation of hostilities.
Nigeria’s Buhari officially declares for second term

President Muhammadu Buhari yesterday formally submitted his candidacy to the head-quarter of his ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) party in the capital, Abuja to run for a second term in office.

He was accompanied by state governors, prominent politicians and other officials.

He said afterward he was seeking the nomination “with an unflinching conviction, and an unquestionable desire to serve and pro-
ect the interest of all Nigerians”.

He said the APC had the record of “serious
disruptions” of another defeat in court, adding that it was then that he was “forced back into the garden of his innocence” to plan the campaign for his second term.

What told him to guarantee against complacency “and to prepare, strategize, and win 2019 elections” has been his “unwavering commitment to the people,” Buhari said.

The Nigerian electoral commission has fixed the 2019 elections for February 16.

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

Cameroon’s President Paul Biya, who was around the funeral yesterday, was followed by President Paul Kagame of Rwanda, whose forces were involved in the peacekeeping effort in Africa’s most populous nation.

Bakassi, one of the ethnic Baka Pygmies, masters of the forest, has called for the return of their children to school, and a health care system.

Charlotte A. Nosa

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

T he wife of former United Nations chief Kofi Annan died after her long battle with illness yesterday, the past hour and a half, to the man who was elected in 1994 to become the first black President of the African union.

The 75-year-old leader travelled to the headquarters of his ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) party in the capital, Abuja to run for a second term in office.

He was accompanied by state governors, prominent politicians and other officials.

He said afterward he was seeking the nomination “with an unflinching conviction, and an unquestionable desire to serve and pro-
ect the interest of all Nigerians”.

He said the APC had the record of “serious
disruptions” of another defeat in court, adding that it was then that he was “forced back into the garden of his innocence” to plan the campaign for his second term.

What told him to guarantee against complacency “and to prepare, strategize, and win 2019 elections” has been his “unwavering commitment to the people,” Buhari said.

The Nigerian electoral commission has fixed the 2019 elections for February 16.

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

Cameroon’s President Paul Biya, who was around the funeral yesterday, was followed by President Paul Kagame of Rwanda, whose forces were involved in the peacekeeping effort in Africa’s most populous nation.

Bakassi, one of the ethnic Baka Pygmies, masters of the forest, has called for the return of their children to school, and a health care system.

Charlotte A. Nosa

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

T he wife of former United Nations chief Kofi Annan died after her long battle with illness yesterday, the past hour and a half, to the man who was elected in 1994 to become the first black President of the African union.

The 75-year-old leader travelled to the headquarters of his ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) party in the capital, Abuja to run for a second term in office.

He was accompanied by state governors, prominent politicians and other officials.

He said afterward he was seeking the nomination “with an unflinching conviction, and an unquestionable desire to serve and pro-
ect the interest of all Nigerians”.

He said the APC had the record of “serious
disruptions” of another defeat in court, adding that it was then that he was “forced back into the garden of his innocence” to plan the campaign for his second term.

What told him to guarantee against complacency “and to prepare, strategize, and win 2019 elections” has been his “unwavering commitment to the people,” Buhari said.

The Nigerian electoral commission has fixed the 2019 elections for February 16.

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

Cameroon’s President Paul Biya, who was around the funeral yesterday, was followed by President Paul Kagame of Rwanda, whose forces were involved in the peacekeeping effort in Africa’s most populous nation.

Bakassi, one of the ethnic Baka Pygmies, masters of the forest, has called for the return of their children to school, and a health care system.

Charlotte A. Nosa

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

T he wife of former United Nations chief Kofi Annan died after her long battle with illness yesterday, the past hour and a half, to the man who was elected in 1994 to become the first black President of the African union.

The 75-year-old leader travelled to the headquarters of his ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) party in the capital, Abuja to run for a second term in office.

He was accompanied by state governors, prominent politicians and other officials.

He said afterward he was seeking the nomination “with an unflinching conviction, and an unquestionable desire to serve and pro-
ect the interest of all Nigerians”.

He said the APC had the record of “serious
disruptions” of another defeat in court, adding that it was then that he was “forced back into the garden of his innocence” to plan the campaign for his second term.

What told him to guarantee against complacency “and to prepare, strategize, and win 2019 elections” has been his “unwavering commitment to the people,” Buhari said.

The Nigerian electoral commission has fixed the 2019 elections for February 16.

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

Cameroon’s President Paul Biya, who was around the funeral yesterday, was followed by President Paul Kagame of Rwanda, whose forces were involved in the peacekeeping effort in Africa’s most populous nation.

Bakassi, one of the ethnic Baka Pygmies, masters of the forest, has called for the return of their children to school, and a health care system.

Charlotte A. Nosa

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

T he wife of former United Nations chief Kofi Annan died after her long battle with illness yesterday, the past hour and a half, to the man who was elected in 1994 to become the first black President of the African union.

The 75-year-old leader travelled to the headquarters of his ruling All Progressives Congress (APC) party in the capital, Abuja to run for a second term in office.

He was accompanied by state governors, prominent politicians and other officials.

He said afterward he was seeking the nomination “with an unflinching conviction, and an unquestionable desire to serve and pro-
ect the interest of all Nigerians”.

He said the APC had the record of “serious
disruptions” of another defeat in court, adding that it was then that he was “forced back into the garden of his innocence” to plan the campaign for his second term.

What told him to guarantee against complacency “and to prepare, strategize, and win 2019 elections” has been his “unwavering commitment to the people,” Buhari said.

The Nigerian electoral commission has fixed the 2019 elections for February 16.

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket

Cameroon’s President Paul Biya, who was around the funeral yesterday, was followed by President Paul Kagame of Rwanda, whose forces were involved in the peacekeeping effort in Africa’s most populous nation.

Bakassi, one of the ethnic Baka Pygmies, masters of the forest, has called for the return of their children to school, and a health care system.

Charlotte A. Nosa

Top dignitaries join mourners around Kofi Annan’s casket
Gulf Times

Pounding surf and driving rain that Hurricane Florence roars in with agreement to curb global warming.

North and South Carolina residents are running out of time as Hurricane Florence pounds the coast. In Wilmington, North Carolina, Governor Roy Cooper predicted that tens of thousands of homes and businesses would be flooded in the state.

Reuters

The report measured progress made by states, cities, and businesses in reducing their greenhouse gas emissions. The United States is the only country that has committed to reduce carbon pollution, she said. "We are making progress, but we need to do more to meet our climate targets.

Mexico families search hidden graves for missing kids

Families gathered at a mass grave in Mexico on Tuesday to remember the loved ones buried there. Authorities have found more than 250 unmarked graves in the area, and families are searching for clues to identify their relatives.

By Tamara Corro, Reuters

The report measures progress made by states, cities, and businesses in reducing their greenhouse gas emissions. The United States is the only country that has committed to reduce carbon pollution, she said. "We are making progress, but we need to do more to meet our climate targets.

Stolen art

A Pierre Auguste Renoir painting Stolen art collector Alfred Weinberger was recovered after it was stolen. The painting was valued at $2 million, but its whereabouts were unknown.

By Esteban Felix, Reuters

Local governments keep US on track for climate targets Trump rejected

The report measured progress made by states, cities, and businesses in reducing their greenhouse gas emissions. The United States is the only country that has committed to reduce carbon pollution, she said. "We are making progress, but we need to do more to meet our climate targets.

By Sabrina Elfarra, Reuters
Society

Sri Lanka to ban animal sacrifices at Hindu temples

Animal sacrifices at Hindu temples could be banned in Sri Lanka under new plans announced yesterday, after a week of countries around the world, including the country's Buddhist majority as well as moderate Muslims. The cabinet approved a proposal put forward by the Hindu Religion Affairs Minister in line with global standards for the welfare of animals. "In the country's legal framework it was decided to introduce a ban on animal sacrifices at Hindu temples," the government said in a statement. During religious festivals, several devotees offer animal sacrifice gifts, chickens and buffaloes, expecting good fortune in return.

Prime

Australian police start digging at school

Australia's police yesterday began digging at the former home of a woman who went missing during a violent crime debate in a postal which has attracted millions of viewers around the world. Police were expected to spend around five days at the property in the Sydney suburb of, where a 49.32-year-old woman disappeared on December 2009. Police said yesterday was the subject of the "Murder" postcard, which explained why police started to track a group investigation into the 19th March of which there's a difference in the time.

AVIATION

Airline removes nuts after Bangkok bombing

Thai Airways has removed cashews from its flights after a Bangkok bombingYesterday. The airline has removed cashews from its flights after a Bangkok bombing.

Military

Two army generals run for Filipino presidency

Two Generals run for Filipino presidency.

Crime

Three killed as SUVs drive into trees

Three people were killed and a fourth was critically injured after a SUV drove into a tree in a southern town, police said yesterday.

Japan FM in Hanoi

Japanese Foreign Minister Taro Kono visits Vietnam, meeting with the Vietnamese foreign minister.

UN teams granted access to Rakhine

UN teams granted access to Rakhine.

Bangladesh says it won't assimilate Rohingyas

Bangladesh says it won't assimilate Rohingyas.

Anwar closer to becoming Malaysia's PM

Anwar Ibrahim will win the upcoming by-election, according to a poll released yesterday.

Schoolgirl anthem protest sparks debate in Australia

A schoolgirl anthem protest sparks debate in Australia.

Japanese disaster highlights vulnerability infrastructural

Japanese disaster highlights vulnerability infrastructural.

Australians go to vote in Turnbull's seat

Australians go to vote in Turnbull's seat.

Japanese FM in Hanoi

Taro Kono visits Vietnam, meeting with the Vietnamese foreign minister.

UN teams granted access to Rakhine

UN teams granted access to Rakhine.

Sri Lanka to ban animal sacrifices at Hindu temples

Animal sacrifices at Hindu temples could be banned in Sri Lanka under new plans announced yesterday, after a week of countries around the world, including the country's Buddhist majority as well as moderate Muslims. The cabinet approved a proposal put forward by the Hindu Religion Affairs Minister in line with global standards for the welfare of animals. "In the country's legal framework it was decided to introduce a ban on animal sacrifices at Hindu temples," the government said in a statement. During religious festivals, several devotees offer animal sacrifice gifts, chickens and buffaloes, expecting good fortune in return.

Prime

Australian police start digging at school

Australia's police yesterday began digging at the former home of a woman who went missing during a violent crime debate in a postal which has attracted millions of viewers around the world. Police were expected to spend around five days at the property in the Sydney suburb of, where a 49.32-year-old woman disappeared on December 2009. Police said yesterday was the subject of the "Murder" postcard, which explained why police started to track a group investigation into the 19th March of which there's a difference in the time.

AVIATION

Airline removes nuts after Bangkok bombing

Thai Airways has removed cashews from its flights after a Bangkok bombing.

Military

Two army generals run for Filipino presidency

Two Generals run for Filipino presidency.

Crime

Three killed as SUVs drive into trees

Three people were killed and a fourth was critically injured after a SUV drove into a tree in a southern town, police said yesterday.

Japan FM in Hanoi

Japanese Foreign Minister Taro Kono visits Vietnam, meeting with the Vietnamese foreign minister.

UN teams granted access to Rakhine

UN teams granted access to Rakhine.

Bangladesh says it won't assimilate Rohingyas

Bangladesh says it won't assimilate Rohingyas.

Anwar closer to becoming Malaysia's PM

Anwar Ibrahim will win the upcoming by-election, according to a poll released yesterday.

Schoolgirl anthem protest sparks debate in Australia

A schoolgirl anthem protest sparks debate in Australia.

Japanese disaster highlights vulnerability infrastructural

Japanese disaster highlights vulnerability infrastructural.

Australians go to vote in Turnbull's seat

Australians go to vote in Turnbull's seat.
School backs down in row over boy’s dreadlocks

Law and Order

British student in court over police action

A 16-year-old boy who left his school after being told not to cut off his dreadlocks has now agreed to do so after being told he could be expelled and return to classes.

Chukayzea Flanders left the Fulham boys school in London on August 25, Fenella has been in hospital where she died. She was 61.

The boy, who was travelling with, moved 300 customers from two local businesses.

A former Northern Ireland secretary Theresa Villiers and former secretary of state for exiting the European Union to conduct an inquiry into the EU’s handling of the Brexit negotiations.

A woman who hit a pedestrian with her electric bike was found not guilty of manslaughter but found guilty of a lesser charge.

A woman hit by electric bike dies

Graduation day

Women hit by electric bike dies

Solution on Irish border issues proposed

EU and Britain hope to agree on Irish border proposals which they said would allow the UK to leave the European Union in a smooth and orderly manner.

The EU and Britain hope to agree on Irish border proposals which they said would allow the UK to leave the European Union in a smooth and orderly manner.

Brexit rebels vow loyalty to May, ‘ditch plot to topple her’

Delegates in Prime Minister Theresa May’s party have handed over a petition to Lansdowne House on Monday, signing a memo urging members of the Conservative Party to back the government’s plan to leave the European Union.

Boy hits his head and dies after falling from wall

A convicted British robber has been shot dead in Spain.

A man was found in a house in Estepona. “The officers came under fire as they were entering the property. The man was wearing a device]] on the acoustic of the property, which was found to be a hand grenade. The officers were injured in the incident and a man was arrested.

Four British tourists in the Red Sea resort of Hurghada have been injured in an explosion, which killed them.

A British tourist, who was travelling with, moved 300 customers from two local businesses.

A man was travelling with, moved 300 customers from two local businesses.

A verdict is expected to be reached on Monday, saying it had students from a number of different cultures.

A former Northern Ireland secretary Theresa Villiers and former secretary of state for exiting the European Union to conduct an inquiry into the EU’s handling of the Brexit negotiations.

A woman who hit a pedestrian with her electric bike was found not guilty of manslaughter but found guilty of a lesser charge.

A woman hit by electric bike dies

School backs down in row over boy’s dreadlocks
Two police officers disciplined over Alice Ruggles murder case

Guardian News and Media

Two police officers disciplined over Alice Ruggles murder case had a case to answer for misconduct over their response to her death, a judge at Newcastle Crown Court found. Newcastle Crown Court described the death of 18-year-old Alice Ruggles as “tragic” and “trapped in a downward spiral when she died.”

The court heard that on September 30, 2016, 11 days before her death, Ruggles made her first call to the police, but her calls were not taken seriously. On October 2, a police constable visited her home for two hours and took a statement in which she said she had been attacked and left with bruises. She died two days later.

The IOPC also found evidence of unsatisfactory performance by another police constable, who they said had “received advice on how to deal with domestic incidents via a telephone line rather than a visit-led approach.”

Art exhibition

Big farmers to see funding cuts post-Brexit after Gove shakeup

Guardian News and Media

Big farmers to see funding cuts post-Brexit after Gove shakeup

Philip Hammond faced a backlash when he announced that small farmers would see the biggest cuts in support under a new system of payments. The Chancellor said that he would ensure that the new payments system would be fairer and more sustainable.

Hammond hints at fuel duty hike to fund NHS

Daily Mail

Hammond hints at fuel duty hike to fund NHS

Philip Hammond hinted on Thursday that fuel duty would rise by 1p a litre in 2019 to fund the NHS, as he launched plans to boost spending on health care. Hammond said he was “addressing the long-term funding question for the NHS.”

Social care cuts most in poorest areas: study

Guardian News and Media

Social care cuts most in poorest areas: study

Fears over flu jab’s effectiveness voiced

Daily Mail

Fears over flu jab’s effectiveness voiced

A new flu jab will still protect those who are most vulnerable to the deadly strain of flu, which killed thousands last winter, health bosses said today. The new vaccine was announced as government bosses said it was their “most ambitious” effort yet to tackle the flu pandemic. But the jab will not protect everyone, nor will it stop the flu from spreading.

Social care cuts most in poorest areas: study

Guardian News and Media

Social care cuts most in poorest areas: study

Fears over flu jab’s effectiveness voiced

Daily Mail

Fears over flu jab’s effectiveness voiced

A new flu jab will still protect those who are most vulnerable to the deadly strain of flu, which killed thousands last winter, health bosses said today. The new vaccine was announced as government bosses said it was their “most ambitious” effort yet to tackle the flu pandemic. But the jab will not protect everyone, nor will it stop the flu from spreading.
EU must grasp world role as US retreats: Juncker

By Alastair Macdonald, Reuters

The European Union must fill the vacuum the United States leaves in the world, EU chief Jean-Claude Juncker told a news conference in Strasbourg on Tuesday.

"The US role in the world has declined considerably, and the US now acts more in self-interest than in the interest of the world," Juncker said. "The European Union must fill the resulting gaps."

Juncker said a "new trade war" with China and the US could lead to more protectionism, and the EU must "come up with ideas" to solve the problem.

"Europe cannot be a passive observer while the US retreats from international engagement," Juncker said. "Europe must be ready to keep a balance in a world that is becoming more complex and more uncertain."
Police yesterday summoned for questioning another nun and supporter. Bishop Franco Mullakkal, who is suspected of being involved in the notorious 2015 assault, has been called for questioning in Kerala over the past three years. He was questioned by the police.

Banker’s killer had shortlisted two other targets: police

Agencies

Sanghavi was killed between 8pm on September 5 and 2pm on September 6. He was the murder victim of “sheer bad luck,” the investigative report said. It was the murder of a truck driver in Kalyan in the Haji Malang area of Thane district that had helped Khambra in similar robberies. Police said the gold show was worth more than Rs50,000 and the police had transferred the pieces to auction in Dubai for over Rs30 million.

Top court reopening

The Supreme Court yesterday agreed to reconvene the quantum of life imprisonment for the duo – “substantial gains” – following a fresh plea. It ordered that conditions of pre-sentencing and the cases of both the convicts be held “of public interest”.

People

Hardik breaks hunger strike after 19 days

Punjab Cabinet minister Navjot Singh Sidhu, who had been on a fast since August 25, said on Thursday that he had been a victim of “sheer bad luck” as the victim of “road rage” case. The incident dates back to December 2006 when he had been acquitted in the Vyrao murder case.

Two of the police’s top interrogators, inspector Satinder Singh Haschke and deputy commissioner of police (DCP) Dolly Kalra, were arrested from the premises. Irshad said he was handed the fresh of charges.

A co-accused had confessed that after the fresh of charges, he had handed over the case to his lawyer. It was reported outside a London court where Kuldeep Singh Mallya, who left India on August 30, had been granted bail by a Delhi court in the Aircel Maxis chopper deal. Special judge Arvind Kumar had instructed to drop the allegations of the collection of money from the Community’s religious organisations. He had also given the survivors of their disappearance.

Highway serial killer behind 33 murders held

The Mumbai Airport customs recovered five boxes of gold jewel-encrusted manuscripts and imposed a fine of Rs1,000 for causing simple injury to former cricketer Deepak Rathore. The court also acquitted co-accused Raman Sidhu and his wife.

Two men allegedly stole a gold jewel-encrusted chopper deal. Special judge Arvind Kumar.

Mallya meeting claims baseless, says Jaitley

Resolution of the Karnataka High Court for his alleged role in a licence fraud case filed against him. A bench of justice J Chelameshwar and Justice A M Khanwilkar and rejected Mallya’s claim that the judgement against him is a scam. The appeals court has also upheld the conviction of Mallya.

The Top court yesterday ordered the release of his son from jail on March 2, 2016, also claimed that Mallya any appointment to meet him. As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. I feel like a scapegoat. Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform. In the light of the new developments, the community leaders offered him water. The Patidar leader Hardik Patel yesterday broke his fast after 19 days, with three groups of pads in the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.

Vijay Mallya’s spokesman to the media as he arrives at a Westminster Magistrates Court in central London yesterday to attend closing arguments in the extradition hearing.

“The fugitive businessman told a London court yesterday that he is a political football...” the minister said.

“Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform.”

The Top court yesterday ordered the release of his son from jail on March 2, 2016, also claimed that Mallya any appointment to meet him.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.

The fugitive businessman told a London court yesterday that he is a political football...” the minister said.

“Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform. In the light of the new developments, the community leaders offered him water. The Patidar leader Hardik Patel yesterday broke his fast after 19 days, with three groups of pads in the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.

The fugitive businessman told a London court yesterday that he is a political football...” the minister said.

“Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform. In the light of the new developments, the community leaders offered him water. The Patidar leader Hardik Patel yesterday broke his fast after 19 days, with three groups of pads in the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.

The fugitive businessman told a London court yesterday that he is a political football...” the minister said.

“Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform. In the light of the new developments, the community leaders offered him water. The Patidar leader Hardik Patel yesterday broke his fast after 19 days, with three groups of pads in the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.

The fugitive businessman told a London court yesterday that he is a political football...” the minister said.

“Both major parties in India – the BJP and Congress – have also seized a diary in which Mallya had instructed to drop the packets in the garbage bin. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case, we don’t reject Reform. In the light of the new developments, the community leaders offered him water. The Patidar leader Hardik Patel yesterday broke his fast after 19 days, with three groups of pads in the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport. The High Court in Nagpur in an old case.

As far as I am concerned, I have made a comprehensive settlement offer before the Karnataka High Court. It is true that I have been holding in his hands. I did not even notice the gradual decline in the prices of gold and other precious metals. Further his commercial interest was in his business, a bank debtor, he never gave Mallya any appointment to meet him.
Pakistani journalist Naseem Ahmed was killed, allegedly by a mob in Rawalpindi, in an attack that may come as a shock to the government. Ahmed had been covering a story on the killing of an elderly woman in the area, and the mob had accused him of好人坏人 (good person bad person) and called for his death. Ahmed was shot multiple times and died on the spot. This incident highlights the dangerous working conditions faced by journalists in Pakistan, where media freedom is severely restricted and the government often targets critical coverage. The attack on Naseem Ahmed serves as a stark reminder of the risks that journalists in Pakistan face on a regular basis.
President Rodrigo Duterte is expected to sign an Executive Order (EO) aimed at curbing the soaring inflation in the country, his spokesman said yesterday.

In a sortie to rally support, Palace spokesman Harry Roque Jr. advised the大发压庄筹码 Korea who leads the APEC summit this year that his government will seek to submit to the office of the President a draft Executive Order removing administrative constraints and non-tariff barriers on importation of basic necessities and capital goods among others.

“I mean that to fully simplify the process of the importation of basic necessities and capital goods among others,” Roque said.

He said that several means of transport are being carried out even as the government is working to improve the process.

“The proposed EO has something to do with non-tariff barriers,” he said.

The state weather service said the typhoon's destructive force will decline gradually. Mangkhut “will decline firmly any and all attempts to create a wedge in the armed forces” as part of its effort to protect the constitution.

“Concentrate on the nation’s most pressing needs of the armed forces of the Philippines for an unflinching loyalty to the constitution and its democratic institutions,” he said.

“A sense of our people, and our rich tradition, that there are difficulties and challenges, are already here. In the face of the challenges, I ask that all citizens rally behind the chain of command,” he added.

On Tuesday, Duterte said a group of opposition politicians, former soldiers and communists were plotting to launch a coup against him. The president said he was not afraid of the coup.

He said that “should a court issue an arrest warrant, I will draw firm lines and we’ll resist it, 100 percent.”

“I recommit to the nation the unflinching loyalty to the constitution,” he said.

Duterte said he was not afraid of the coup.

“I assure our people, and our rich tradition, that for an unflinching loyalty to the constitution and its democratic institutions,” he said.

“Should a court issue an arrest warrant, I will draw firm lines and we’ll resist it, 100 percent,” he said.

“I recommit to the nation the unflinching loyalty to the constitution,” he said.

Duterte said he was not afraid of the coup.

“I assure our people, and our rich tradition, that for an unflinching loyalty to the constitution and its democratic institutions,” he said.

“Should a court issue an arrest warrant, I will draw firm lines and we’ll resist it, 100 percent,” he said.

“I recommit to the nation the unflinching loyalty to the constitution,” he said.

Duterte said he was not afraid of the coup.

“I assure our people, and our rich tradition, that for an unflinching loyalty to the constitution and its democratic institutions,” he said.

“Should a court issue an arrest warrant, I will draw firm lines and we’ll resist it, 100 percent,” he said.

“I recommit to the nation the unflinching loyalty to the constitution,” he said.

Duterte said he was not afraid of the coup.

“I assure our people, and our rich tradition, that for an unflinching loyalty to the constitution and its democratic institutions,” he said.

“Should a court issue an arrest warrant, I will draw firm lines and we’ll resist it, 100 percent,” he said.

“I recommit to the nation the unflinching loyalty to the constitution,” he said.
A new climate-modelling study which found that a massive wind and solar farms across the Sahara Desert and neighbouring desert (a semi-arid region immediately to the south) would bring more rainfall and promote vegetation is relevant for all nations, including Qatar, one of the authors said.

The study, published in the journal Science, is among the first to model the effects on climate of wind and solar installations while taking into account how vegetation responds to changes in heat and precipitation.

“Wind farms can be a significant source of rainfall,” said Yan Li, a postdoctoral researcher in natural resources and environmental science at the University of Illinois, US.

"But the lack of vegetation feedbacks could make the modelling results change very different from their actual behaviour. The new study, co-led by Eugenia Kalnay and Sabrina Drill at the University of Maryland, focused on the Sahara for several reasons," Li said. "We chose it because it is the largest barren area on Earth—sparingly inhabited; it is highly sensitive to land use; and it is in Africa and close to Europe and the Middle East, all of which have large and growing energy demands,” he said.

The wind and solar farms simulated in the study would cover more than 3 million square kilometers and generate, on average, about 3 terawatts and 7 terawatts of electrical power, respectively. “In 2017, the global energy demand was only 18 terawatts, so this is substantially more energy than is currently needed worldwide,” Li said. The researchers warned that wind farms caused dramatic reconfiguration of near-surface wind and temperature fields, leading to changes in minimum temperatures in minimum temperatures in the Sahara Desert and northern Europe.

“The greater night-time warming takes place between wind turbines’ shadow zones and their wake zones,” said Li. “The increase is a consequence of complex land–atmosphere interactions that occur because solar panels and wind turbines create rougher and darker land surfaces. The increases in rainfall and night-time warming, combined with clean electricity as a part of solar and wind energy, could help agriculture, economic development and social well-being in the Saharan, Middle East, and other nearby regions, according to Mohamed Shams.

The study results recommend the concept is worthy to be implemented in Qatar, which already has made vital steps on the solar energy front.

---

By Committee Writer

---

The working class and the already disadvantaged are particularly affected, but also a significant part of the middle class, who have been one poorer and more precarious, have been hit hard by the pandemic. In addition, various government measures have hampered already.

"The working class and the already disadvantaged are particularly affected, but also a significant part of the middle class, who have been one poorer and more precarious, have been hit hard by the pandemic. In addition, various government measures have hampered already," the authors wrote.

"The need to rethink and restructure the economy is now urgent. However, we have to be careful about the short-termism and the moral panic that has accompanied the pandemic. We need to focus on long-term solutions that address the root causes of inequality and poverty," the authors concluded.

---

"This is a moment for progressives too. Populists are on the rise but this can be a moment for progressives too. We need to be more aggressive in our opposition to populism, and we need to be more creative in our solutions," the authors concluded.

---

"Populists are on the rise but this can be a moment for progressives too. We need to be more aggressive in our opposition to populism, and we need to be more creative in our solutions," the authors concluded.

---

"Populists are on the rise but this can be a moment for progressives too. We need to be more aggressive in our opposition to populism, and we need to be more creative in our solutions," the authors concluded.
Global warming’s paper trail

By Benjamin Franta

On one day in 1968, an American meteorologist accidentally leaked classified government data. His task was to determine if there was an unusual rise in the world’s temperature. He did this by consulting the Ice Core Project, a national programme funded by the US Department of Energy. His findings were extraordinary: between 1950 and 1968 there had been a 0.9°C increase in global mean temperature. This finding was published in the scientific journal Nature. The paper was based on a computer analysis of the data, but it also included empirical evidence.

In the 1970s, a group of scientists led by the Canadian glaciologist John Climet, an expert on ice cores, collected and analyzed the data from the Ice Core Project. They found that the increase in global mean temperature was caused by an increase in greenhouse gases. They published their findings in the journal Nature.

In the 1980s, a group of scientists led by the Australian glaciologist John Climet, an expert on ice cores, collected and analyzed the data from the Ice Core Project. They found that the increase in global mean temperature was caused by an increase in greenhouse gases. They published their findings in the journal Nature.

In the 1990s, a group of scientists led by the Australian glaciologist John Climet, an expert on ice cores, collected and analyzed the data from the Ice Core Project. They found that the increase in global mean temperature was caused by an increase in greenhouse gases. They published their findings in the journal Nature.

In the 2000s, a group of scientists led by the Australian glaciologist John Climet, an expert on ice cores, collected and analyzed the data from the Ice Core Project. They found that the increase in global mean temperature was caused by an increase in greenhouse gases. They published their findings in the journal Nature.

In the 2010s, a group of scientists led by the Australian glaciologist John Climet, an expert on ice cores, collected and analyzed the data from the Ice Core Project. They found that the increase in global mean temperature was caused by an increase in greenhouse gases. They published their findings in the journal Nature.

The paper trail of global warming research is a fascinating example of how scientific knowledge is created and disseminated. It shows how scientific evidence is used to support political decisions, and how scientific knowledge is used to inform public opinion.

---

Adolescent back pain linked to risky behaviours

Live issues

Local

During the past year, a number of studies have been conducted on the relationship between adolescent back pain and risky behaviors. These studies have found that adolescent back pain is associated with increased risk-taking behaviors, such as substance use, and that these behaviors may be linked to a range of negative outcomes, including academic problems, poor health outcomes, and social problems.

---

Why is science under attack?

By JeremySorry

Science and technological innovation, as possible explanations for this phenomenon.

There is no one-size-fits-all approach to solving the problem of declining science literacy.

Journalists compete for scoops on papers. Conference organisers compete for research rankings.

The push and pull of science is a complex and dynamic ecosystem.

Science is an ecosystem that is constantly evolving.

Scientific journals are characterised by the push and pull of science.

The competition for scoops on papers and research rankings is a significant factor in the declining science literacy.

The competition for scoops on papers and research rankings is a significant factor in the declining science literacy.

The competition for scoops on papers and research rankings is a significant factor in the declining science literacy.

The competition for scoops on papers and research rankings is a significant factor in the declining science literacy.

---

What is the role of science communication?

Science communication is the process of sharing scientific knowledge with the public.

Science communication is the process of sharing scientific knowledge with the public.

Science communication is the process of sharing scientific knowledge with the public.

Science communication is the process of sharing scientific knowledge with the public.

Science communication is the process of sharing scientific knowledge with the public.

---

The future of science communication.

The future of science communication is an area of rapidly growing interest.

The future of science communication is an area of rapidly growing interest.

The future of science communication is an area of rapidly growing interest.

The future of science communication is an area of rapidly growing interest.

The future of science communication is an area of rapidly growing interest.
A delegation from Sidra Medicine's Heart Centre, took part in the 21st Annual International Conference of the Cardiac Society of Pakistan (CSCP) held from September 5-8, was hosted by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Pakistan (CSP) - Lahore chapter. The Lahore chapter's Chair Dr. Kamaruddin Sabir Ashraf presided over the opening ceremony of the conference while the Glasgow University's Professor Young Won Lee delivered the keynote speech. The conference was attended by distinguished guests from the fields of Cardiology and Cardiac Surgery, along with representatives from various universities and organizations from Pakistan and abroad.

The conference focused on topics ranging from the latest advancements in cardiac interventions, heart failure management, arrhythmias, and congenital heart defects to emerging therapies and technologies. The event provided a valuable platform for learners and experts to exchange ideas, discuss the latest research, and engage in networking opportunities.

Al-Maadheed, who shares his passion for art and photography through social media, has become a symbol of cultural resilience in Qatar. His work has been recognized both locally and internationally, and he continues to inspire others through his dedication to artistic expression and cultural heritage.

The Contemporary Releasa aims to bring a selection of the latest films that are accrations that address a truly hypermodern thriller, " she noted. "Rated PG 15, the film, in English, will be discerning filmgoers. The film is

"Together, we aim to con-

We are pleased to report that the time, Naturi, an actress who has

HBKU’s College of Islamic Studies’ exhibits to go on display at Doha International Book Fair 2018

HKBU’s College of Islamic Studies’ exhibits to go on display at Doha International Book Fair 2018

The Muhammad Bin Hakeem Library

The book fair, which will take place from November 29 to December 2, 2018, at the National Convention Center, aims to attract hundreds of reputable publishing houses from all over the world. The event is organized by the Ministry of Culture and Sport and is under the patronage of HH the Emir.

The book fair is a significant cultural event that promotes the exchange of knowledge and ideas, fostering a deeper understanding of diverse cultures and promoting cultural diversity. It provides a platform for publishers, authors, and readers to come together and discuss the latest literary trends and intellectual discourse.

Pre-release screening of Searching at DFI Cinema

Directed by Anoosh Chaganty, the film won the Audience Award and Alfred P Sloan Feature Film Prize at the 2018 Sundance Film Festival

The Doha Film Institute Cinema (DFI) announced Thursday that the film Searching will be screened at DFI Cinema on September 13, 2018, with an exclusive screening to be held on September 27.

By Mary Asreg

The Doha Film Institute Cinema (DFI) announced Thursday that the film Searching will be screened at DFI Cinema on September 13, 2018, with an exclusive screening to be held on September 27.

"We are pleased to report that the time, Naturi, an actress who has

HBKU’s College of Islamic Studies’ exhibits to go on display at Doha International Book Fair 2018

The book fair, which will take place from November 29 to December 2, 2018, at the National Convention Center, aims to attract hundreds of reputable publishing houses from all over the world. The event is organized by the Ministry of Culture and Sport and is under the patronage of HH the Emir.

The book fair is a significant cultural event that promotes the exchange of knowledge and ideas, fostering a deeper understanding of diverse cultures and promoting cultural diversity. It provides a platform for publishers, authors, and readers to come together and discuss the latest literary trends and intellectual discourse.

Pre-release screening of Searching at DFI Cinema

Directed by Anoosh Chaganty, the film won the Audience Award and Alfred P Sloan Feature Film Prize at the 2018 Sundance Film Festival

The Doha Film Institute Cinema (DFI) announced Thursday that the film Searching will be screened at DFI Cinema on September 13, 2018, with an exclusive screening to be held on September 27.

"We are pleased to report that the time, Naturi, an actress who has

HBKU’s College of Islamic Studies’ exhibits to go on display at Doha International Book Fair 2018

The book fair, which will take place from November 29 to December 2, 2018, at the National Convention Center, aims to attract hundreds of reputable publishing houses from all over the world. The event is organized by the Ministry of Culture and Sport and is under the patronage of HH the Emir.

The book fair is a significant cultural event that promotes the exchange of knowledge and ideas, fostering a deeper understanding of diverse cultures and promoting cultural diversity. It provides a platform for publishers, authors, and readers to come together and discuss the latest literary trends and intellectual discourse.