Application for a visa can be made within 90 days and at least four days before travel

By Shukri Alitangli

A new Qatar Visa Portal (http://qatar.visitvisa.qa) has been launched to further simplify procedures for visa application for visitors to enter the country for major events and for various activities including business and investment, was launched yesterday.

The Ministry of Interior's (MoI) Visa Support Service (VSS) Department director Maj Abdulrahman Trabelsi said a press conference yesterday that the new facility will eliminate the visa application process for visitors from all countries through a simple and smooth process and submit the visa application. The applicant has to register an e-mail and fill in the application form for visa on the portal. Once the application has been submitted, the applicant will receive an acknowledgement email.

The applicant is then asked to choose the events that he wants to attend in Qatar. He can attend multiple events during the 50-day visa validity period. The application should be made within 90 days of the events. The applicant will need to specify the exact period of his visa stay in Qatar.

The applicant will be informed of the visa status and the decision will be communicated via email. The e-mail will be sent to the applicant as a notification of the visa application status. The applicant will then be able to download the visa document from the portal.

The new system is expected to save time and money for the applicant and improve the visa application process for visitors from all countries. The website allows the user to apply online and check the visa status at any time.

Turkish startup is one of the eight startups that has been selected for the Visa Accelerator program of Visa Inc. The program is open to startups from around the world that are developing innovative solutions to improve the way people pay and transact.

The startups are expected to work with Visa Inc. and its network of banks and merchants to bring their innovative solutions to the market. The startups will also have access to Visa's global network of partners and customers.

Visa Inc. is a global leader in electronic支付 solutions and is one of the largest issuers of credit, debit and prepaid cards.

The program is expected to help the startups to scale their businesses and expand their reach.

The startups that have been selected for the program are:

- Kuesn, a Turkish startup that is developing a payment system for the tourism industry
- Cafe24, a South Korean startup that is developing a mobile payment solution
- Payfit, a British startup that is developing a payment solution for the gig economy
- Payfull, a Turkish startup that is developing a payment solution for small businesses
- Payoneer, a British startup that is developing a payment solution for international businesses
- Payless, a Turkish startup that is developing a payment solution for the e-commerce industry
- Payme, a Turkish startup that is developing a payment solution for digital transactions
- Paytm, an Indian startup that is developing a payment solution for mobile transactions

The startups will receive mentorship and support from Visa Inc. and its network of partners and customers.

The Visa Accelerator program is open to startups from around the world that are developing innovative solutions to improve the way people pay and transact. The program is expected to help the startups to scale their businesses and expand their reach.
A conference highlighted Qatar’s efforts in promoting human rights.

Al-Jamali noted that the NHRC is one of the leading national institutions in the country working in parallel with other relevant national mechanisms for the protection and promotion of human rights at the national level. For his part, Assistant Director of Human Rights Department of the Ministry of Interior Sheikh Mohamed al-Nuaimi highlighted the efforts of the authorities concerning human rights in light of the requirements of the states of the region. He said the activities of the Ministry of Interior are in line with the requirements of human rights and that anyone who is interested in human rights will become a constant partner in the missions of the State and society, and that the provision of guarantees necessary for their implementation has become an integral part of the system of the state of the region.

The Ministry of Interior, in cooperation with the Ministry of Information and the National Human Rights Committee, held a seminar yesterday at the Shura Council on the theme of “Reality and Hopes”, the Permanent Representative of the Arab League to Qatar and the United Nations H.E. Mokhtar al-Khater, who delivered the keynote address at Qatar golden jubilee celebrations at the Qatar National Convention Centre yesterday.

The conference was organized by the Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the National Human Rights Committee, NHRC and the Ministry of Information.

Qafco is world’s largest single-producer of urea, ammonia: al-Kaabi

For his part, Assistant Director of Human Rights Department of the Ministry of Interior Sheikh Mohamed al-Nuaimi highlighted the efforts of the authorities concerning human rights in light of the requirements of the states of the region. He said the activities of the Ministry of Interior are in line with the requirements of human rights and that anyone who is interested in human rights will become a constant partner in the missions of the State and society, and that the provision of guarantees necessary for their implementation has become an integral part of the system of the state of the region.

The Ministry of Interior, in cooperation with the Ministry of Information and the National Human Rights Committee, held a seminar yesterday at the Shura Council on the theme of “Reality and Hopes”, the Permanent Representative of the Arab League to Qatar and the United Nations H.E. Mokhtar al-Khater, who delivered the keynote address at Qatar golden jubilee celebrations at the Qatar National Convention Centre yesterday.

The conference was organized by the Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the National Human Rights Committee, NHRC and the Ministry of Information.

Qafco is world’s largest single-producer of urea, ammonia: al-Kaabi

For his part, Assistant Director of Human Rights Department of the Ministry of Interior Sheikh Mohamed al-Nuaimi highlighted the efforts of the authorities concerning human rights in light of the requirements of the states of the region. He said the activities of the Ministry of Interior are in line with the requirements of human rights and that anyone who is interested in human rights will become a constant partner in the missions of the State and society, and that the provision of guarantees necessary for their implementation has become an integral part of the system of the state of the region.

The Ministry of Interior, in cooperation with the Ministry of Information and the National Human Rights Committee, held a seminar yesterday at the Shura Council on the theme of “Reality and Hopes”, the Permanent Representative of the Arab League to Qatar and the United Nations H.E. Mokhtar al-Khater, who delivered the keynote address at Qatar golden jubilee celebrations at the Qatar National Convention Centre yesterday.

The conference was organized by the Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the National Human Rights Committee, NHRC and the Ministry of Information.

Qafco is world’s largest single-producer of urea, ammonia: al-Kaabi

For his part, Assistant Director of Human Rights Department of the Ministry of Interior Sheikh Mohamed al-Nuaimi highlighted the efforts of the authorities concerning human rights in light of the requirements of the states of the region. He said the activities of the Ministry of Interior are in line with the requirements of human rights and that anyone who is interested in human rights will become a constant partner in the missions of the State and society, and that the provision of guarantees necessary for their implementation has become an integral part of the system of the state of the region.

The Ministry of Interior, in cooperation with the Ministry of Information and the National Human Rights Committee, held a seminar yesterday at the Shura Council on the theme of “Reality and Hopes”, the Permanent Representative of the Arab League to Qatar and the United Nations H.E. Mokhtar al-Khater, who delivered the keynote address at Qatar golden jubilee celebrations at the Qatar National Convention Centre yesterday.

The conference was organized by the Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the National Human Rights Committee, NHRC and the Ministry of Information.
MoPH organises event on mental health awareness

The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH), in collaboration with partners, hosted an event to raise awareness about mental health and well-being.

The event was part of a series of national activities to increase the understanding of mental health, combat the negative perception and the social stigmas associated with mental disorders in the society. "Mental Health and Well-being" is one of the seven priorities outlined in the National Health Strategy (NHS) 2018-2022 and is one of the seven priorities of psychiatry at Sidra Medicine.

Susan Clelland, acting director of the National Mental Health Office at MoPH, opened the event and highlighted the importance of reducing stigmas associated with mental disorders in the society.

The event was part of a series of presentations given by MoPH and partners highlighting the mental health services provided.

She also informed participants of the mental health services available at MoPH, outlining the availability of psychological therapies within their support clinics.

The event hosted a workshop conducted in an interactive session in which audience members highlighted the need for mental health awareness and reducing stigmas to seeking help.

The event was part of the "Mental Health and Well-being" priority that aims to raise awareness and to change the negative perception and the social stigma associated with mental health disorders.

Dr Samya Ahmad al-Abdulla, deputy national lead for Mental Health and Well-being and associate director of operations at MoPH, opened the meeting, discussed the first line screening that is being done.

Dr Fawzia Abdul Aziz al-Khater, senior official from the Ras Laffan Community Outreach Programme, provided an overview of the mental services provided by Sidra Medicine.

She also informed participants of the mental health services available at MoPH, outlining the availability of psychological therapies within their support clinics.

The event was part of a series of short presentations given by MoPH and partners highlighting the mental health services provided.

Bilateral meeting held

Qatar’s State Minister for Foreign Affairs Dr Ahmed bin Hassan al-Hammadi, who is currently visiting Malaysia, yesterday met HE the Secretary-General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Dr Ahmad bin Hasaan al-Hamad, who is currently visiting Malaysia. During the meeting, they reviewed bilateral relations, as well as issues of common concern.

During the meeting, they reviewed bilateral relations, as well as issues of common concern.

The two-day meeting discussed a number of important topics and adopted a number of resolutions that will be submitted to the General Assembly for approval.

The 13th session of the General Assembly of Arabosai will be held today and will continue for three days in the.Question Dar Al-Hotel with the participation of heads of the supreme audit institutions of Arabosai’s member countries and representatives from international and regional bodies and organizations.

Qatar, represented by the State Audit Bureau, will provide over Arabosai in the next three years. The State Audit Bureau directorate will be chaired by the State Audit Bureau President HE Sheikh Dr Mohammad bin Qahtan. A number of important topics and working papers will be on the agenda. They aim to support strengthening the role of supreme audit institutions and co-ordination between the Arab member states, and create appropriate opportunities for the exchange of expertise and experience to raise the level of performance of these bodies to enable them to efficiently and effectively perform their duties and responsibilities.

It is worth mentioning that the agenda for the 13th session of the General Assembly, the president and the second vice-presidents will be announced, and the report of the strategic plans and the programme of work for the Arabosai General Assembly will kick off the meeting, to also be approved. The general assembly will also be approved. The general assembly will also be approved.

The two-day meeting discussed a number of important topics and adopted a number of resolutions that will be submitted to the General Assembly for approval.

A number of important topics and working papers will be on the agenda. They aim to support strengthening the role of supreme audit institutions and co-ordination between the Arab member states, and create appropriate opportunities for the exchange of expertise and experience to raise the level of performance of these bodies to enable them to efficiently and effectively perform their duties and responsibilities.

The two-day meeting discussed a number of important topics and adopted a number of resolutions that will be submitted to the General Assembly for approval.

The two-day meeting discussed a number of important topics and adopted a number of resolutions that will be submitted to the General Assembly for approval.
Qatar Visa Portal aims to draw foreign spectators

T he new Qatar Visa Portal will help the tourism sector flourish and international spectators visit the events, the Visa Support Services (VSS) department director Maj Abdullah Khalifa al-Moawad told Gulf Times.

“Qatar hosts many different cultural, scientific, sports and tourist events throughout the year. These events attract a lot of people from inside and outside the country. There is a need to establish an exclusive platform that receives applications for visas to enter the country. The portal will ease the proceedings and make application simple and smooth,” he said.

The portal, according to Maj al-Moawad, has been launched as Ministry of Inter-tional Affairs’ (MoI) efforts to help the country. Presently, passports from more than 180 countries are eligible for on site visas when they arrive at Hamad International Airport,” he added.

The portal is expected to facilitate entrance to more than 21,000 events annually.

The new platform
enables the activation of all the programmes hosted by Qatar Supreme Committee for Derive at Hamad International Airport, the VSS director assistant director Maj Muhamed bin Abdulrahman Al-Bouainain, the Public Relations Department director Lt Col Jasbarak Salim Al-Bouainain, the Security Services director Lt Col Heba Hamed Al-Nati-
rw were also present at the portal launch.

Transport ministry holds workshop for cybersecurity service providers

T he Ministry of Transport and Commu-
nication’s cybersecurity unit held a workshop for potential suppliers of cybersecurity services to coordinate with the Ministry’s security systems in the Gulf.

The workshop, which was attended by a large number of representatives of the public and private sector, was designed to highlight the importance of an efficient security service provider and the role of the cybersecurity unit in this regard.

The responsibilities of the participating cybersecurity service provider are to work close to the Ministry’s security service, to contribute to the joint responsibility between the two sectors.

Director of Compliance and Data Protection at the Ministry’s Engineer Data
Department, Mohamed Al-Da’al said, “The objective of the workshop was to familiarize the participants with the requirements of cybersecurity services by including all accredited service providers
the country.”

The accreditation programme is a catalyst for the private sector, as the service providers are accredited by
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.

The accreditation programme is currently
working on the
private sector, the service
provider to
the Ministry’s cybersecurity
department, allowing
organizations to verify
the validity of accreditation.
Qatar and Ukraine sign air services protocol

By Peter Angove

Leading companies from Ukraine representing the tourism and hospitality industries will be showing their industry expertise at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC).

The event, which consists of the exhibition, a CPD-certified conference, certified training sessions, specialised competitions, and B2B Business Matching programmes, will provide top hospitality stakeholders, including hotels, restaurants, catering companies, and tourism operators, with a bigger and wider platform to showcase business opportunities in Qatar’s competitions and events, and to come together with visitors from the region and around the world at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC).

On 13-15 November, the event is being held under the patronage of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry Ali bin Ahmed al-Kuwari and in partnership with the Qatar National Tourism Council (QNTC) for the second consecutive year.

The event will also offer for the first time a free-of-charge certified training program for hospitality professionals with the aim to promote best practices among industry professionals.

In addition, the event will also host a session on “Managing People in Big Time Management” (“Get Organized for Peak Performances”), and food safety and food standards, as part of the “Luxury Tourism” zone.

Apart from increasing its space to 100% from previous year, Qatar’s first-of-its-kind to introduce several new initiatives during the event, which include the dedicated exhibition zones.

The “Destination Pavilion” zone is sponsored by Qatar Airways and the “Luxury Tourism” zone will run in association with the Luxory Times Magazine (LTM) for the second consecutive year.

Hospitality Qatar, the sole representative of the World Travel Market (WTM), aims to bring together tourism operators and 11 Ukrainian travel operators and 11 Business Forum (QUBF), said two members of the forum.

Haidar Mshaimesh said: “We are excited to open the year with Hospitality Qatar and welcome the exhibitions and visitors over the next three days as we expand our traditional space greatly and introduce new additions to the show.”

“We are looking forward to welcome exhibitors and visitors from the best, regional, and international hospitality markets and companies, and create more opportunities for business community, stakeholders.

Apart from increasing its space to 100% from previous year, Qatar’s first-of-its-kind to introduce several new initiatives during the event, which include the dedicated exhibition zones.

The “Destination Pavilion” zone is sponsored by Qatar Airways and the “Luxury Tourism” zone will run in association with the Luxority Times Magazine (LTM) for the second consecutive year.

In addition, the event will also offer for the first time a free-of-charge certified training program for hospitality professionals with the aim to promote best practices among industry professionals.

Apart from increasing its space to 100% from previous year, Qatar’s first-of-its-kind to introduce several new initiatives during the event, which include the dedicated exhibition zones.

The “Destination Pavilion” zone is sponsored by Qatar Airways and the “Luxury Tourism” zone will run in association with the Luxority Times Magazine (LTM) for the second consecutive year.

Apart from increasing its space to 100% from previous year, Qatar’s first-of-its-kind to introduce several new initiatives during the event, which include the dedicated exhibition zones.

The “Destination Pavilion” zone is sponsored by Qatar Airways and the “Luxury Tourism” zone will run in association with the Luxority Times Magazine (LTM) for the second consecutive year.

Apart from increasing its space to 100% from previous year, Qatar’s first-of-its-kind to introduce several new initiatives during the event, which include the dedicated exhibition zones.

The “Destination Pavilion” zone is sponsored by Qatar Airways and the “Luxury Tourism” zone will run in association with the Luxority Times Magazine (LTM) for the second consecutive year.
WISE publishes eight new research reports

The World Innovation Summit for Education (WISE) has released eight new research reports that provide insightful perspectives on the future shape and trajectory of artificial intelligence (AI). These reports aim to contribute to the global dialogue on AI, discussing its potential impact on various fields and industries.

One of the key reports examines how AI is changing audience involvement with art. Researchers from TII (Tolerance and Inclusive Innovation) and Dr. Joselia Neves, TII's Director of Research, conducted a study on the global competencies and technologies that are currently being used for artistic content. The report highlights how AI technologies have the potential to transform the way we experience art, from traditional paintings to immersive digital installations.

Another report focuses on the impact of artificial intelligence on art education. It explores how AI can be used to develop educational tools and platforms that enhance the learning experience for students. The report emphasizes the importance of balancing technological advancements with creativity and human touch to ensure that the use of AI in education does not compromise aesthetics and quality.

The reports highlight the need for a multidisciplinary approach to understanding the role of AI in society. They call for collaboration among researchers, educators, and practitioners to address the ethical and practical implications of AI in various domains.

Overall, the reports provide valuable insights into the potential of AI to transform education and culture, advocating for a responsible and inclusive approach to the development and implementation of AI technologies.

ISO recognition for Qatar Post IT system

Qatar Post has successfully completed the implementation of ISO 27001:2013 certification for its Information Security Management System (ISMS). This achievement is a testament to the company's commitment to protecting customer information and ensuring the security of its systems.

ISO 27001:2013 is an international recognized framework that helps organisations implement and maintain information security management systems (ISMS). The certification process involved rigorous assessment of Qatar Post's policies, procedures, and processes to ensure compliance with the standard.

“The ISO 27001:2013 certification is a significant milestone in our journey to becoming a world class postal service provider,” said Dr. Faleh bin Naser Al Khori, Assistant Undersecretary for Agriculture, Food, and Industry. “This award is more evidence of our commitment to customers and our ongoing efforts to enhance the security of our services.”

ISO 27001:2013 certification ensures that systems and information assets are protected against unauthorized access, use, disclosure, disruption, modification, or destruction. It also helps organisations become more efficient, minimize risks, and maintain compliance with regulatory requirements.

Generation Amazing plans rapid three-year expansion

Generation Amazing (GA) is planning a rapid three-year expansion, looking to become the leading sports-based social change initiative in the world. This expansion will focus on achieving a number of strategic goals, including increasing the impact of its programs and expanding its reach to new regions.

GA is a QF initiative that has been using football for social change since 2010. Since inception, GA has been using football for education and development purposes, focusing on the impact of Global Citizenship Education on students' attitudes towards equality, diversity, and sustainability.

The official launch of the reports will take place during the upcoming WISE Summit on November 12 at Qatar National Convention Centre, where research authors will present their findings with participants.
Lulu Hypermarket Qatar has chosen to be a part of the ‘Festival of Qatari Farm Products’, an opportunity to experience the richness of Qatari products, says LuLu.

The festival, inaugurated by the Minister of Municipality and Environment (MME) and Lulu Hypermarket Qatar, aims to celebrate the richness of locally produced products and herbs available in Qatar. The festival was launched in November 17 at all LuLu Hypermarkets. The festival was inaugurated by Sheikh Saud bin Nasser al-Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the Ministry of Municipality and Environment, and Sheikh Mohamed bin Abdullah bin Mohamed al-Thani, Adviser to the Department of Agriculture and Fisheries Affairs of the MME, inaugurated the festival by cutting the ribbon.

Lulu Hypermarket Qatar has been organising the ‘Festival of Qatari Farm Products’ every year recently. The event showcases agricultural products from various public and private sector nationals and dignitaries from across the nation as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially group chief technology officer, having previously been chief executive at Ooredoo Group and also in May 2019.

The festival has been organised by the MME, represented by the Agriculture and Fisheries Affairs Department, followed by promotion in cooperation with LuLu Hypermarket Qatar. The festival also launched two programmes to enable local producers to compete with foreign ones. These include two programmes have been promoting local products and companies. There was a variety of crops instead of just one, which is chosen for its flavour and appearance as well as the ability to produce.

Several types of builds for factory building in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.

Sheikh bin Nasser Al Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the MME, said, "LuLu Hypermarket Qatar as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially Qatari Farm Products in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.

Sheikh bin Nasser Al Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the MME, said, "LuLu Hypermarket Qatar as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially Qatari Farm Products in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.

Sheikh bin Nasser Al Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the MME, said, "LuLu Hypermarket Qatar as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially Qatari Farm Products in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.

Sheikh bin Nasser Al Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the MME, said, "LuLu Hypermarket Qatar as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially Qatari Farm Products in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.

Sheikh bin Nasser Al Thani, Assistant Undersecretary of the MME, said, "LuLu Hypermarket Qatar as well as globally. LuLu has been concentrating more on Qatari products for the past years. "It has been promoting Qatari products especially Qatari Farm Products in the country in order to expand the warehouse facilities to cater to the larger quantity of Qatari products. The company has also been promoting Qatari products and herbs available in Qatar, including a step-by-step plan to increase the local products ratio for various local products, raise the self-sufficiency ratio for various Qatari Farm Products, and help facilitate the marketing of local products and herbs.
Doha to host ‘global conference of parliamentarians against corruption’

By Ayman Adly

The seventh Global Conference of Parliamentarians Against Corruption will be held in Doha from December 8-10 as a joint initiative of the Organisation of Parliamentarians Against Corruption (OPAC) and Qatar's Ministry of Culture and Sports.

HE Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani, the Amir of Qatar, approves the 2013-14 budget of the Ministry of Culture and Sports, which was prepared by HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser al-Ali.

HE Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani in the hall of combating corruption and establishing transparency and good governance. In this regard, the Amir has dedicated an international award in the name of Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani to fight against corruption.

“Qatar’s national initiatives, and its strong position in the fight against corruption and the courage it has shown in this regard, are an example to all countries to combat this phenomenon,” HE the Amir said.

Under the supervision of Qatar’s Minister of Culture and Sports, HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser al-Ali, a meeting was held in Doha to discuss the preparations for the event and its importance in view of the global challenges faced by the world in the fight against corruption and how to combat it.

HE Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani in the hall of combating corruption and establishing transparency and good governance. In this regard, the Amir has dedicated an international award in the name of Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani to fight against corruption.

Second edition of Arabic drama writers’ forum launched

The second edition of the Arabic scriptwriters’ forum was launched yesterday in Doha under the auspices of authors, critics, dramatists and the Qatari Ministry of Culture and Sports.

The forum was attended by HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser Al-Ali, minister of culture and sport; HE Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani, Amir of Qatar; HE Ahmed bin Abdullah bin Zaid Al-Mahmoud, minister of culture and sport; HE Akbar Al-Ruwais, minister of media, information and communications; HE Dr Tariq Al-Fawzani, vice minister of culture and sport; and HE Ahmed bin Ali Al-Thani, Al Muftah Communication Company director.

Minister Al-Ali welcomes participants

HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser Al-Ali, minister of culture and sport, stressed the importance of this event in response to the responsibilities of Arab writers and their role in writing plays that respond to the contemporary challenges faced by the Arab world.

Minister Al-Ali welcomed participants, who come from different countries to carry out creative and literary missions accredited to Qatar last year.

He also stressed that the event is aimed at combating the scourge of corruption in the Arab world, as the fight against corruption and its effects will be discussed, in addition to the need for authors to work on the theme of fighting corruption in the Arab world.

Minister Al-Ali said that the event is a continuation of the networks that Qatar has created and its role in fighting corruption and its trends around the world.

Participants from Arab countries

The forum was attended by participants from the Arab countries and other countries around the world, including Syria, Sudan, Somalia and Jordan (Syrian and Palestinian refugees). Each participant received a QR 100 (about $22) donation and a QR 150 (about $33) donation for each five scenes written.

Three scripts will be selected for each language in the forum to be broadcast on television and radio and to be published in books.

Minister Al-Ali said that the event is a continuation of the networks that Qatar has created and its role in fighting corruption and its trends around the world.

Second edition of Arabic scriptwriters’ forum launched

The second edition of the Arabic scriptwriters’ forum was launched yesterday in Doha under the auspices of authors, critics, dramatists and the Qatari Ministry of Culture and Sports.

The forum was attended by HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser Al-Ali, minister of culture and sport; HE Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani, Amir of Qatar; HE Ahmed bin Abdullah bin Zaid Al-Mahmoud, minister of culture and sport; HE Dr Tariq Al-Fawzani, vice minister of culture and sport; and HE Ahmed bin Ali Al-Thani, Al Muftah Communication Company director.

Minister Al-Ali welcomes participants

HE Minister Salah bin Ghanem bin Nasser Al-Ali, minister of culture and sport, stressed the importance of this event in response to the responsibilities of Arab writers and their role in writing plays that respond to the contemporary challenges faced by the Arab world.

Minister Al-Ali welcomed participants, who come from different countries to carry out creative and literary missions accredited to Qatar last year.

He also stressed that the event is aimed at combating the scourge of corruption in the Arab world, as the fight against corruption and its effects will be discussed, in addition to the need for authors to work on the theme of fighting corruption in the Arab world.

Minister Al-Ali said that the event is a continuation of the networks that Qatar has created and its role in fighting corruption and its trends around the world.

Participants from Arab countries

The forum was attended by participants from the Arab countries and other countries around the world, including Syria, Sudan, Somalia and Jordan (Syrian and Palestinian refugees). Each participant received a QR 100 (about $22) donation and a QR 150 (about $33) donation for each five scenes written.

Three scripts will be selected for each language in the forum to be broadcast on television and radio and to be published in books.

Minister Al-Ali said that the event is a continuation of the networks that Qatar has created and its role in fighting corruption and its trends around the world.
Palestinians mark death anniversary of Arafat

AFP

Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas has a wreath on the tomb of Yasser Arafat on the 15th anniversary of the death of the late Palestinian leader in the West Bank city of Ramallah, yesterday.

A relative of Palestinian Omar al-Badawi reacts during his funeral in Al-Arroub refugee camp, in the southern West Bank, yesterday.

Jordan's king tours enclave

Reuters

Jordan's King Abdullah paid his first visit yesterday to an enclave fringing its eastern border with Israel, where the new royal security branch is being launched in a special region that allowed Jordanian citizens to live in areas annexed by Israel in 1967.

The King on Saturday declared an end of the arrangement, which many Jordanians saw as a sign of weakness by what they regarded as an Israeli Occupation of Jordanian territory.

Under the 1964 Jordan-Israel peace treaty, two territories straddling the border were occupied by Israel, assuring themselves with special security measures, and the Jordanian citizens were treated as any other nationals living in Jordan.

But in 2018, Jordan said it did not want to repeat the arrangement, in what was widely seen as a sign of growing unrest among the Jordanian residents of the area.

The treaty is supposed in Jordan where there is strong support for Palestinians who seek the Israeli-occupied West Bank, bordering Jordan, for part of a future state.

LEBANESE POWER PLAY

The top Palestinian official at the time in Ramallah, Said al-Hindi, offered to launch a political comeback in the Palestinian territories.

Israel's military spokesman, who released a number of Palestinian stones and petrol bombs at soldiers in Hebron yesterday, said he had been arrested.

The Palestinian stones were stones at Israeli soldiers in meetings in Hebron, where Al-Aqsa mosque was later burned.

The Palestinian relations bid to restore the sense of the country, including two from the West Bank Liberation Organization, said there were several hundred stationed.

Several Palestinian leaders decided to hold a ceremony in Ramallah, yesterday, a周年 of Yasser Arafat's death at the tomb of the former Palestinian leader.

Arafat died on November 11, 2004, at a hospital near Paris after a serious illness, according to official sources.

The body of British official Le Mesurier was found early yesterday morning in a Syrian desert, where he was reported missing.

The blasts come after IS said it was responsible for the bombings, but it has not been able to rule out that the group was set up by Madrid in the country.

The Israeli security sources said they had been turned by the Syrian government.

A security source told Reuters yesterday that it was not the same group, as it was not a friendly target.
New Zimbabwe currency fails to arrive at banks

Zimbabwe's wildlife agency said yesterday it would relocate more than 300 wild animals, including elephants, to eastern South Africa that, if left in the country, would cause “a major challenge” to the country’s wildlife because there is no food in their home reserves.

Researchers at the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa, have diagnosed 150,000 trees with the bark beetle disease, according to a recent report. The disease has caused widespread destruction to the country’s forests, leading to the loss of income and jobs for thousands of workers in the forestry sector.

Researchers have found that the bark beetle, which feeds on the inner bark of trees, can cause extensive damage to trees, leading to their death. The disease has spread rapidly across the country, causing significant economic losses.

Researchers have also found that the bark beetle disease is linked to climate change, as warmer temperatures and drought conditions are ideal for the beetle’s survival. They have recommended that the government take action to prevent the spread of the disease and protect the country’s forests.

Researchers have further warned that the bark beetle disease could have serious implications for the country’s economy, as it could lead to the loss of income from timber sales and tourism. They have called for immediate action to prevent the spread of the disease and protect the country’s forests.
Democrat presidential candidate Bernie Sanders yesterday announced a “Medicare for All” plan in which the US government, rather than private insurers, would provide health coverage to all Americans. Sanders said the plan, which he had previously expressed support for even before he began running for president, would provide all Americans with comprehensive, cost-free health care.

Sanders vowed to pressure Congress to pass any bill Sanders signs if elected president.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would create about 40,000 health care jobs under a plan announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president.

The plan would expand incentives for Americans who work in the health care industry and would create a $10 billion fund to create new jobs.

The proposal would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

By John Whitesides, Reuters

WASHINGTON

The US government would consider a plan to create a national health care system that would cost $1 trillion a year and cover all Americans.

The proposal, which was announced on Sunday by Sanders, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, would also eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.

The plan would also provide health insurance to millions of uninsured Americans, including those who are self-employed.

Sanders also wants to eliminate the $1 trillion in federal debt that is driving health care costs higher.
Australian citizen jailed in Vietnam for ‘terrorism’

V
yattan, a 67-year-old Australian, was arrested in Vietnam on charges of terrorism, authorities said yesterday.

A spokesperson for the Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said Vyan had been detained because he was a member of a forum that “discussed activities undermining national defense and public order.”

Vietnam has a strict law on terrorism, and the arrest comes amid tensions between the two countries.

The spokesperson said Vyan, who is a member of the Vietnam Solidarity Committee in Australia, had been arrested in Hanoi.

“We will continue to investigate and bring to justice any individuals who commit crimes against the state,” the spokesperson added.

Vyan was a political activist in Australia before moving to Vietnam in 2003, giving up his Sri Lankan citizenship in 2005 to become an Australian citizen.

He was in the country to conduct human rights research and meet with anti-government NGOs, the spokesperson said.

Vyan was arrested in Da Nang, a city in central Vietnam, on charges of “harming national defense and public order.”

The spokesperson did not disclose the specific nature of the activities that led to Vyan’s arrest.

Vietnam is known for its strict control of the internet and has been criticized for censoring content that is deemed to be harmful to national security.

A statement from Vyan’s lawyer, who is based in Australia, said that Vyan had been denied access to legal representation and was being held incommunicado.

“Vyan has been arrested under莫名其妙的 terrorism laws,” the lawyer said.

The lawyer added that Vyan had been a vocal critic of the Vietnamese government and had been involved in political activities in Australia.

The Vietnamese government has been accused of being authoritarian and suppressing dissent.

Vyan’s case is likely to be watched closely by human rights activists and Australia-Vietnam relations.

Source: AFP
Former Malaysian PM ‘shocked’ over court’s decision not to acquit

Former Malaysian prime minister Najib Razak said he was “shocked” over the court’s decision not to acquit him of all seven charges, as Australian media reported that he had told the court he would take the stand to prove his innocence, and is expected to do so on December 5.

“Until now, only prosecution witnesses have been called and that time, defence witnesses will be given a chance to give a clear picture and to prove that I am innocent,” Najib wrote in a Facebook post on Friday. “This is a chance to close eyes in court and to help others."

S

Sydney region faces major bushfire threat

Sydney region faces major bushfire threat

Conditions eased yesterday for the first time, Australia’s largest city and the surrounding rural area expecting a spell of descending bushfire threat.

For the first time, Australia’s largest city and the surrounding rural area expecting a spell of descending bushfire threat.

High temperatures and strong winds were expected to create tinderbox conditions today, prompting state premier Gladys Berejiklian to declare the Day and emergency.

The Blue Mountains to Sydney’s south and Illawarra region to Sydney’s west, the wine-producing area still home to potentially dangerous conditions for the outbreak.

The Blue Mountains to Sydney’s south and Illawarra region to Sydney’s west, the wine-producing area still home to potentially dangerous conditions for the outbreak.

Prime Minister Scott Morrison said the bushfire threat would be assessed to be at risk.

“Lives and homes will be under threat and communities will be impacted,” she said in one of her most critical statements.

The $4.5bn of public money from the state-owned tabloid, published by the state-owned Times, said that it is not policing measures - these measures are clear evidence of recklessness.

She was “very lucky” to have her back in business, said Slavin. Shirley Murphy, 82, returned to her home still standing.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

“Lives and homes will be under threat and communities will be impacted,” she said in one of her most critical statements.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.

Residents were warned of “catastrophic” fire conditions yesterday, as Sydney region faces a major bushfire threat.

Defensive action will get in the way, she said, adding that the man had already been breached in multiple locations, including Sydney, and CCW license holder in California, 1,400 kms across the country.
Johnston set to break pledge not to nominate EU commissioner

A Labour party candidate has withdrawn from a contest marginalised by Brexit. Johnson has now set to break his pledge not to nominate a European commissioner after he failed to meet his "do or die" deadline to leave on October 31. "London Johnson set to break pledge not to nominate EU commissioner, Ursula von der Leyen hopes to take office on December 1, pending approval of her team of commissioners in the European Parliament".  "We are going to keep trying to negotiate and we are going to keep trying to be better prepared for the no-deal scenario. But if we are negotiating, then we have to be able to make a deal that is sustainable."

Brexit Party not to contest Tory-held Seats: Farage

The Brexit Party is not to contest Tory-held seats, Nigel Farage has said the party will not contest seats held by the Conservatives as it comes under pressure to break its promise not to stand against the Tories.

"We have no intention of going to war with the Conservatives. We are not going to take on their candidates. But we are not going to lose any seats because we cannot afford to lose seats to any Remainer party."

Labour promises 'managed migration'

Labour has proposed a "managed migration" policy that would include controls on the post-departure immigration of EU nationals after Brexit.

"Our policy would include controls on the post-departure immigration of EU nationals. This would be in line with the Conservative party's policy on managed migration."
BA to review ‘fuel tankering’ after Panorama revelations

The British Airways (BA) is to review its long-standing practice of ‘fuel tankering’ to avoid paying air passenger duty (APD) on flights. It was reported in a BBC Panorama documentary that BA, along with other airlines, have been using a technique called ‘fuel tankering’ to avoid paying APD on flights to and from London. The technique involves loading extra fuel into aircraft before taking off, with the intention of landing and immediately refuelling again to avoid the APD charge.

Man killed wife with boiling oil over me. Please get here. Geoff has thrown her out.

The Guardian News and Media

A 27-year-old woman has been murder by her husband after he threw her into a chip pan containing scalding oil. The man, who was arrested on suspicion of murder, is believed to have been told by his wife to go to the chip shop. The police were called to the premises and found the woman with burns to her body and were unable to identify her age. The man was arrested on suspicion of murder and is currently in police custody. The incident is being treated as a murder.

West Midlands Police connect two murder probe to house fire death at Doncaster.

The Guardian News and Media

Police in West Midlands have established a link between the death of a woman at a house fire in Doncaster and a fatal stabbing in Birmingham. The victim of the house fire was a 27-year-old woman who was found dead in a flat in the city. The police are investigating a link between the two incidents, which occurred within days of each other. The cause of death is being treated as a murder.

British artist and filmmaker Steve McQueen presents at the opening of a photographic project to take pictures of all 5,000 school children in London.

The Guardian News and Media

British artist and filmmaker Steve McQueen has presented at the opening of a photographic project to take pictures of all 5,000 school children in London for a new exhibition. The project, called “Young Portraits,” is being held at the Royal Academy of Arts in London. The exhibition features portraits of children from schools across the city, and is open to the public.

---

Daily Mail London

Woman stabbed to death at shelter.

A woman was stabbed to death in an apparent murder outside a restaurant in London. Police were called to the scene at approximately 2am on Monday morning. A 27-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of murder. The victim was a 21-year-old woman, who was reportedly attacked by a group of people outside the restaurant.

---

Guardian News and Media London

BBC set to strip imm vulnerable pensioners of free TV licence.

The BBC has announced that it will remove free TV licences for the most vulnerable pensioners in the UK. The BBC confirmed that it would review its current scheme, which provides free TV licences to over-75s who claim either Attendance Allowance or Pension Credits.

---

Carrying cases that some appellate judges believe are beyond environmental impact.

Daily Mail London

British Airways has undergone a “complete rethink” of its practice of making aircraft fly over remote UK airports to avoid filling up at destination airports, which saves money but drives up CO2 emissions. The plans are part of BA’s parent company IAG’s strategy to reduce the environmental impact of its 56 airlines.

---

The Guardian News and Media London

Villagers whose homes have been swamped with seawater have been flooded by a “dangerous” algae bloom.

According to the Irish Daily Star, a red algal bloom has caused the sea to turn red in a number of villages in County Waterford, Ireland. The villagers said that the blooms are “dangerous” and that they are causing problems with local water supplies. The local council has been warned to take action to prevent the problem from getting worse.

---

Doncaster council insists its flood warnings remained in place, all along the River Don in 2019.

The Guardian News and Media

Doncaster council has defended its flood warning system after it was criticised for failing to issue warnings in 2019. The council said that it had issued 13 flood warnings in the area, and that it had been working to improve its system.

---

British Airways has been paying its pilots in cash, it has been revealed.

The Guardian News and Media

British Airways (BA) has been paying its pilots in cash, it has been revealed. The pilots, who are based in the UK, have been paid in cash as part of a new pay deal that was agreed in 2015. The deal included a new pay structure that was designed to attract more pilots to the airline.

---

A 46-year-old man was found dead in his flat in London on Friday.

The Guardian News and Media

A 46-year-old man was found dead in his flat in London on Friday. The man, who was known to police, was found with stab wounds to his neck and chest. The cause of death is currently unknown.

---

‘Abandoned’ flood-hit villagers slam council.

The Guardian News and Media

The residents of a village in Herefordshire have been left angry and frustrated by the council’s response to the flooding that hit their area last week. The village, which is located on the River Severn, was flooded by heavy rain on Wednesday and Thursday.

---

Villagers whose homes have been swamped with seawater have been swamped by a toxic red algae bloom.

The Guardian News and Media

Villagers in County Waterford, Ireland, have been swamped by a red algal bloom that has turned the sea red in the area. The villagers said that the bloom is “dangerous” and that it is causing problems with local water supplies. The local council has been warned to take action to prevent the problem from getting worse.

---

‘Abandoned’ flood-hit villagers slam council.

The Guardian News and Media

The residents of a village in Herefordshire have been left angry and frustrated by the council’s response to the flooding that hit their area last week. The village, which is located on the River Severn, was flooded by heavy rain on Wednesday and Thursday.

---

Man killed with scalding oil over me. Please get here. Geoff has thrown her out.

A 27-year-old woman was murdered by her husband after he threw her into a chip pan containing scalding oil. The man, who was arrested on suspicion of murder, is believed to have been told by his wife to go to the chip shop. The police were called to the premises and found the woman with burns to her body and were unable to identify her age. The man was arrested on suspicion of murder and is currently in police custody. The incident is being treated as a murder.

---

Villagers whose homes have been swamped with seawater have been swamped by a toxic red algae bloom.

The Guardian News and Media

Villagers in County Waterford, Ireland, have been swamped by a red algal bloom that has turned the sea red in the area. The villagers said that the bloom is “dangerous” and that it is causing problems with local water supplies. The local council has been warned to take action to prevent the problem from getting worse.

---

Villagers whose homes have been swamped with seawater have been swamped by a toxic red algae bloom.

The Guardian News and Media

Villagers in County Waterford, Ireland, have been swamped by a red algal bloom that has turned the sea red in the area. The villagers said that the bloom is “dangerous” and that it is causing problems with local water supplies. The local council has been warned to take action to prevent the problem from getting worse.
Spain’s repeat election fails to break deadlock

EUROPE

Spain’s repeat election fails to break deadlock

_EuroTribune_ [February 10, 2019]

Text:

Spanish voters went back to the polls on Sunday to try to resolve the country’s political deadlock but failed to break the deadlock and produce a government. The election was called in December after the previous one did not produce a clear winner. The main parties were unable to agree on a coalition government, leading to a repeat election.

Analysis:

The election was called in December after the previous one did not produce a clear winner. The main parties were unable to agree on a coalition government, leading to a repeat election. The repeat election failed to produce a clear winner, with no party winning an outright majority. The pro-independence Catalan parties, who won the most seats in the previous election, failed to repeat their success.

Context:

Spain’s political landscape has been characterized by fragmentation and instability in recent years. The country has experienced three general elections in the past four years, and has had five caretaker governments since 2015. The repeat election was called in December after the previous one did not produce a clear winner. The main parties were unable to agree on a coalition government, leading to a repeat election.

Implications:

The failure to break the deadlock could have serious implications for Spain’s economy and its ability to address the country’s many challenges, including economic inequality, social cohesion, and regional autonomy. The lack of a stable government could also make it difficult for Spain to navigate the European Union’s economic policies and the new challenges presented by Brexit.

Further Reading:

- Spain’s repeat election fails to break deadlock
- Spain’s political deadlock: A look at the_repeat election
- Spain’s repeat election: The challenges ahead

---

Image:

- Image of a Spanish flag
- Image of a Spanish map
- Image of a Spanish parliament

---

 grewж.

- Spain’s repeat election fails to break deadlock
- Spain’s political deadlock: A look at the_repeat election
- Spain’s repeat election: The challenges ahead

---

Image:

- Image of a Spanish flag
- Image of a Spanish map
- Image of a Spanish parliament
A no-nonsense man, Seshan cleaned up electoral system

Former chief election commissioner T N Seshan, who was 86, had once cracked down on several malpractices in the electoral system, a shining example of what a CEC should be.

He had authored served as the fifth chief election commissioner of India from 1990 to 1999. In 1997, he won the Karnataka Assembly seat. Seshan was keenly watched by the political establishment.

He had authored served as the fifth chief election commissioner of India from 1990 to 1999. In 1997, he won the Karnataka Assembly seat. Seshan was keenly watched by the political establishment.

As an election commissioner, he took the lead in making the electoral system more transparent, crack down on malpractices, and ensure free and fair elections. He was known for his no-nonsense attitude and his efforts to clean up the electoral system.

His strict commandments included a ban on booth rigging, misuse of government machinery, and other forms of electoral fraud. He enforced the Model Code of Conduct, strictly monitored the use of media publicity, and took strong action against those who violated the code.

During his tenure, he won praise for his decisive actions and his commitment to fighting corruption. He was widely respected for his integrity and his dedication to ensuring free and fair elections.

Seshan's death is a loss for the electoral system of India, and his legacy will be remembered for years to come. He will always be remembered as a transformative institution in reforming India's democracy and ensuring that elections are conducted in a fair and transparent manner.
Haze wraps Delhi again as air quality plunges

A senior environment officer said the pollution was due to an increase in stubble burning and vehicles in the city. The officer said that the pollution levels had been improving over the past few days but had worsened again.

The forecast for the next two days is not bright with the share of the northern plains not bright with the share of the northern plains. The pollution in Delhi-NCR is expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.

The pollution levels in Delhi-NCR are expected to reach 'severe' category for the next two days. The pollution is also expected to reach 'very poor' category in parts of the city. The pollution levels in other cities in the northern plains are also expected to reach 'severe' category.

The government is working on reducing the pollution levels in the city. Steps are being taken to control the stubble burning and the use of old vehicles. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city. The government is also working on improving the air quality in the city.
Argentina goat farmers face the brunt of climate change

Codelco set for reduction in copper output

Power vacuum in Bolivia after Morales exits chaos erupts

Chile govt agrees to rewrite constitution

Leftist icon Mujica set for ministerial return

The Chilean government has made a new push to rewrite the country’s constitution, which has not been changed since the end of the Pinochet dictatorship in 1990, in the wake of months of protests demanding change.

The announcement from President Sebastian Pinera’s centre-right government was made after three weeks of protests over a lack of jobs and housing have descended into armed conflict and violence.

At least 20 people have been killed, while businesses have suffered billions of dollars in damages and the long-suffering country is in chaos.

Pinera made the announcement in a televised address on Sunday night, saying that “the country and social peace cannot be allowed to be destroyed and that it is time for new institutions”.

“The time has come to write the new Chile,” he said.

The new constitution would be put to a referendum in November and is expected to be signed into law by the end of the year.

The move comes as part of a wider push to address the country’s economic and social problems, which have been exacerbated by the coronavirus pandemic.

Pinera’s announcement follows months of protests demanding change, which have been led by the social movement that has emerged from the #YoSoy132 movement.

The movement, which has been led by social activists and members of the education sector, has been demanding change for months, but Pinera has been slow to act.

Pinera has been under pressure to rewrite the constitution since the start of the protests, which began on October 18.

The protests have been led by social activists and members of the education sector, who have been demanding change for months.

Pinera has been under pressure to rewrite the constitution since the start of the protests, which began on October 18.

The protests have been led by social activists and members of the education sector, who have been demanding change for months.

Pinera has been under pressure to rewrite the constitution since the start of the protests, which began on October 18.

The protests have been led by social activists and members of the education sector, who have been demanding change for months.

Pinera has been under pressure to rewrite the constitution since the start of the protests, which began on October 18.
PM’s ‘Harmaid Sidhu Hame’ video goes viral

Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan has been the subject of widespread international attention after his video, titled ‘Harmaid Sidhu Hame’, was released. The video features Khan riding a motorcycle with a woman, who is later identified as his daughter, Reham Khan. The video, which has gone viral on social media, has sparked a mix of reactions, with some celebrating Khan’s freedom of expression and others criticizing his actions.

The video was released on Independence Day, and has been widely shared on social media platforms. It has been praised for its敢愛敢闖的精神，但也受到一些人士的批評。The video has been hailed as a symbol of Khan’s commitment to freedom of expression and his willingness to challenge traditional norms.

The video has also been criticized for its potential to undermine Pakistan’s image and reputation abroad. Pakistani officials have defended the video, stating that it is a matter of free speech and that Khan has the right to express himself in any way he chooses.

The video has prompted a range of responses from Pakistan and the international community. Some have praised Khan’s bravery, while others have criticized his actions. The video has also raised questions about the role of the media in Pakistan and the impact of social media on public discourse.

The video has been viewed millions of times and has sparked a debate about the role of the media in Pakistan and the impact of social media on public discourse. The video has also raised questions about the role of the media in Pakistan and the impact of social media on public discourse.

The video has been viewed millions of times and has sparked a debate about the role of the media in Pakistan and the impact of social media on public discourse. The video has also raised questions about the role of the media in Pakistan and the impact of social media on public discourse.
Robredo can halt drug war for better strategy: Malacanan

By Catherine S Valente

Manila, May 24 — Vice President Leni Robredo can stop the implementation of Oplan Tokhang if it has a better strategy to fight illegal drugs.

“If she thinks there is something more effective, she can do it,” Palace spokesman Salvador Panelo said yesterday.

He added that President Rodrigo Duterte would get behind Robredo “all that she needs” in handling the government’s campaign against illegal drugs.

“The President is in charge, so whatever she feels that she should do, it will be the President. It is open if that will be effective or not, but that is his mandate,” Panelo said when asked if Duterte could stop Tokhang in light of Robredo’s statements.

Tokhang is a component of the “Oplan Dalan” or Public-Private Partnership for Drug reputation, which was established by Presidential Decree No. 1699.

Robredo yesterday said the President’s declaration of a war against drugs is a “punishing” schedule this week, as he is taking official leave and will be in the United States till May 30.

“This is not taking official leave and will be in the United States till May 30,” Cabinet Secretary Salvador Medinas said.

“Durtert would take to break from ‘punishing’ schedule

By Bong-Rayne Reyes

D efense Secretary Delfin Lorenzana yesterday said he would not support any proposal to extend martial law in Mindanao.

“Let us decide the final decision would be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP),” Lorenzana said.

“We are waiting for the recommendation from the Armed Forces of the Philippines and PNP. If they will recommend it, we will support it,” if it will mean “a better arrangement than martial law I was willing to support it,” Lorenzana said.

“If it will mean a better arrangement than martial law I was willing to support it,” Lorenzana said.

Lorenzana rejects new extension of martial law

By Bong-Rayne Reyes

M indanao Governor Ohelinto Cayanan yesterday said he would not support any proposal to extend martial law in Mindanao.

“The extension of martial law in Mindanao is open to other options to enhance the war against illegal drugs,” Cayanan said.

“Maybe it’s time for us to think about replacing it with another campaign that would be more effective,” Cayanan said.

Cayanan said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP) and the Inter-Agency Committee on Anti-Illegal Drugs (IACAD).

Cayanan said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP) and the Inter-Agency Committee on Anti-Illegal Drugs (IACAD).

Manila, May 24 — The Senate has approved a bill that would approve the establishment of Malasakit Centres in regional hospitals under the Department of Health.

Sen. Christopher Lawrence Hoosain “Guy” Go, author and sponsor of Senate Bill 1076, other-wise known as the “Malasakit Act,” said the measure aims to consolidate the different services provided by the DOH, the Department of Social Welfare and Development and the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO) to give people in need of health services a one-stop shop for medical and financial assistance.

He added that the centres would not limit the “access to financial assistance” to financial assistance, which would be given “to those who are entitled for medical assistance,” Go said.

Go said patients who would benefit from the Malasakit Centres would be all public hospitals and other public hospitals may also benefit from the Malasakit Centres.

Duterte takes to break from ‘punishing’ schedule

By Bong-Rayne Reyes

D efense Secretary Delfin Lorenzana yesterday said he would not support any proposal to extend martial law in Mindanao.

“Let us decide the final decision would be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP),” Lorenzana said.

“We are waiting for the recommendation from the Armed Forces of the Philippines and PNP. If they will recommend it, we will support it,” if it will mean “a better arrangement than martial law I was willing to support it,” Lorenzana said.

“If it will mean a better arrangement than martial law I was willing to support it,” Lorenzana said.

Senate approves bill to set up Malasakit centres

By Bong-Rayne Reyes

The Senate approved yesterday a bill that aims to institutionalize the establishment of Malasakit Centres in regional hospitals under the Department of Health.

Sen. Christopher Lawrence Hoosain “Guy” Go, author and sponsor of Senate Bill 1076, otherwise known as the “Malasakit Act,” said the measure aims to consolidate the different services provided by the DOH, the Department of Social Welfare and Development and the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO) to give people in need of health services a one-stop shop for medical and financial assistance.

He added that the centres would not limit the “access to financial assistance” to financial assistance, which would be given “to those who are entitled for medical assistance,” Go said.

Go said patients who would benefit from the Malasakit Centres would be all public hospitals and other public hospitals may also benefit from the Malasakit Centres.

Duterte makes trip to take a look at typhoon effects

Manila, May 24 — President Rodrigo Duterte made a trip to take a look at the effect of the typhoon “Onyok” that hit the low-income areas of Quezon City.

Duterte said he wanted to see for himself the effects of the typhoon, which killed at least 10 people.

Duterte made a trip to take a look at the effect of the typhoon “Onyok” that hit the low-income areas of Quezon City.

Duterte said he wanted to see for himself the effects of the typhoon, which killed at least 10 people.

Caganay floods damage crops, livestock, worth millions

By Leonor C Domingo

N o more than 240mm of rainfall and both crops and livestock have been damaged as a result of floods caused by the typhoon “Onyok,” according to the Dasol Agricultural Regional Field Office (DARFO), at least 11 municipalities in the province of Pampanga were swamped by floods, submerging most of the crops in agriculture, livestock and property.

In Dasol, DARFO executive director, said the floods damaged a total of 2,065,135.89 hectares of land, with rice fields damaged in 125,388.13 hectares of land, while 89,147.76 hectares of corn, sugar, sugarcane, tapioca, sweet potato, beans, vegetables, and fruit trees were damaged.

In Santa Ana, according to the DARFO, damaged areas swamped in 1,656.10 hectares for livestock and high-value crops in 316.12 hectares, both amounting to an initial estimated damage of P326,100. He said the damaged rice crops were either in the resulting newly-planted, reproducing or maturity stage and partly inedible and partly inedible in parts of Calumpit, in the town of Dasol.

He said “we will give immediate assistance to farmers who were severely affected by the calamity.” said.

In 2017 following clashes between government troops and insurgents from the Islamic State, Congress extended the implementation of martial law in Mindanao for a year.

Lorenzana said he would support another extension of martial law.

Lorenzana also on Monday said he would call for the immediate release of Abu Sayyaf militant John P pope, who was arrested in Cebu last week.

Lorenzana said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP).

Lorenzana also on Monday said he would call for the immediate release of Abu Sayyaf militant John Pope, who was arrested in Cebu last week.

Lorenzana said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP).

Lorenzana said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP).

Lorenzana also on Monday said he would call for the immediate release of Abu Sayyaf militant John Pope, who was arrested in Cebu last week.

Lorenzana said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP).

Lorenzana also on Monday said he would call for the immediate release of Abu Sayyaf militant John Pope, who was arrested in Cebu last week.

Lorenzana said the extension of martial law should be based on the recommendation of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police (PNP).

Lorenzana also on Monday said he would call for the immediate release of Abu Sayyaf militant John Pope, who was arrested in Cebu last week.
Reds display ruthless streak of champions

Liverpool have lived through too many false dawns to regress. That disappointment has broken Liverpool sides of title by a single point. The last season when even the third highest points tally in the league’s history still saw the Reds miss out on the title by a single point. But Klopp’s passion the fans left to Raheem Sterling thrived off of its leader, Jeremy Corbyn, who didn’t contest a seat, but is In a campaign dominated by Brexit
the straight-up “remain” his shambling appearance, the
The Labour Party, the Ruthless streak
The prime minister has said he
He knows exactly how to raise the While Johnson’s populist rhetoric may sound to some coming from who is not contesting a seat, but is But as the 55-year-old prime minister that, “said Tim Bale, a politics professor Although parliament was reconvened, but his MOTIVE. Johnson grudgingly acceded
That leaves the straight-up “remain”

They say the grass is always greener in a greenhouse. Is that true?
The rise of nationalism after the fall of the Berlin Wall

By Gregor Zwirn

The fall of the Berlin Wall on November 9, 1989, dramatically and suddenly ended the division of Europe for fifty years. The Berlin Wall had been regarded by many as the symbol of the Cold War and the division of Europe.

The fall of the Berlin Wall marked a significant moment in the history of the world. It was a turning point for the rise of open societies. It allowed for greater freedom of movement and communication between Eastern and Western Europe. The collapse of the Berlin Wall led to the reunification of Germany.

The fall of the Berlin Wall had a significant impact on international politics. It paved the way for the spread of democracy and human rights. The fall of the Berlin Wall also led to the dissolution of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War.

The fall of the Berlin Wall was a symbol of change and transformation. It marked the end of an era and the beginning of a new chapter in history. The fall of the Berlin Wall is remembered as a moment of hope and progress.

The new anti-capitalism

By Horst Janssen

We are currently living through the most drastic and far-reaching transformation in our way of life and in our understanding of the nature of mankind. We are also witnessing the birth of capitalism around the world. And how they emerged, the role of people, and the role of states.

It is tempting to say that capitalism is a system of individualism. This is a simplification of the truth. Capitalism is not simply a system of individualism, it is also a system of interdependence. It is a system that requires cooperation and coordination.

The new anti-capitalism is a concept that challenges the traditional understanding of capitalism. It is a system that is based on the idea of a market economy. It is a system that is driven by the needs and desires of people. It is a system that is not only about the individual, it is also about the collective.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

We are currently living through the most drastic and far-reaching transformation in our way of life and in our understanding of the nature of mankind. We are also witnessing the birth of capitalism around the world. And how they emerged, the role of people, and the role of states.

It is tempting to say that capitalism is a system of individualism. This is a simplification of the truth. Capitalism is not simply a system of individualism, it is also a system of interdependence. It is a system that requires cooperation and coordination.

The new anti-capitalism is a concept that challenges the traditional understanding of capitalism. It is a system that is based on the idea of a market economy. It is a system that is driven by the needs and desires of people. It is a system that is not only about the individual, it is also about the collective.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

We are currently living through the most drastic and far-reaching transformation in our way of life and in our understanding of the nature of mankind. We are also witnessing the birth of capitalism around the world. And how they emerged, the role of people, and the role of states.

It is tempting to say that capitalism is a system of individualism. This is a simplification of the truth. Capitalism is not simply a system of individualism, it is also a system of interdependence. It is a system that requires cooperation and coordination.

The new anti-capitalism is a concept that challenges the traditional understanding of capitalism. It is a system that is based on the idea of a market economy. It is a system that is driven by the needs and desires of people. It is a system that is not only about the individual, it is also about the collective.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.

The new anti-capitalism is a philosophy that is rooted in the US and China, but the world is becoming increasingly associated with the closed society of the Soviet Union. The end of communism in Europe. The collapse of the USSR. The end of the Cold War.
Find Qatar’s storytellers at Ajyal 2019 ‘Made in Qatar’ presented by Ooredoo

Qatar hosts intensive pitches on XLR8 Demo Day

E

the number of registered organ donors in Qatar has increased, as Ooredoo, Qatar’s leading provider of communication and information technology services, continued its support for the Qatar Center for Organ Transplantation (QCOT) by hosting the first XLR8 Demo Day. The event provided a unique opportunity for XLR8 graduates to pitch their businesses in front of international investors and the XLR8 community.

The event took place at Katara Drama Theatre on November 21, and was attended by over 200 guests, including investors, industry experts, and XLR8 graduates. The pitch competition was divided into two rounds: a shortlist of eight businesses was selected to pitch in front of a panel of judges, and the top three winners were awarded prizes.

The event was a great success, with many XLR8 graduates expressing their excitement and gratitude for the chance to present their businesses to such a diverse and knowledgeable audience.

Programme features world premieres of latest Qatar Film Fund recipient projects: Ahmad al-Sharif’s End of the Road and Khoudal al-Adia’s Fragile

S econd round of the intensive two-month training and mentorship programme welcomed 16 teams of aspiring entrepreneurs

Ahmad al-Sharif’s End of the Road and Khoudal al-Adia’s Fragile were among the latest projects presented by XLR8 graduates at the demo day. The programmes were developed as part of XLR8’s intensive training and mentorship programme, which aims to help aspiring entrepreneurs turn their ideas into successful businesses.

End of the Road follows a young girl’s induction to the insurance world. It is a poignant portrayal of how the insurance industry operates and the challenges faced by those who work in it. The film received critical acclaim at several international film festivals, including the Montreal Film Festival, where it won the Grand Prize for Best Short Film. Fragile, on the other hand, is a short film directed by Khoudal al-Adia, which tells the story of a woman who puts her personal experience in the context of the Syrian conflict. The film was shot in Lebanon and is inspired by the values that define the Syrian culture.

The eighth cycle of the intensive two-month training and mentorship programme welcomed 16 teams of aspiring entrepreneurs, in addition to the 17 teams who graduated from the previous cycle. The programme is designed to help nascent entrepreneurs turn their ideas into successful businesses through a combination of intensive training, mentorship, and financial support.

The programme builds on a special place in the field of film, providing a platform for Qatar’s creative talents to showcase their work and connect with potential investors.

Meanwhile, Programme 2 will present two film projects, one of which is inspired by a personal experience. The film is titled Fragile and follows a young girl’s induction to the insurance world. It is a poignant portrayal of how the insurance industry operates and the challenges faced by those who work in it. The film received critical acclaim at several international film festivals, including the Montreal Film Festival, where it won the Grand Prize for Best Short Film. Fragile, on the other hand, is a short film directed by Khoudal al-Adia, which tells the story of a woman who puts her personal experience in the context of the Syrian conflict. The film was shot in Lebanon and is inspired by the values that define the Syrian culture.

The eighth cycle of the intensive two-month training and mentorship programme welcomed 16 teams of aspiring entrepreneurs, in addition to the 17 teams who graduated from the previous cycle. The programme is designed to help nascent entrepreneurs turn their ideas into successful businesses through a combination of intensive training, mentorship, and financial support.

The programme builds on a special place in the field of film, providing a platform for Qatar’s creative talents to showcase their work and connect with potential investors.