Amir, Kuwait Amir hold talks to bolster ties

BUSINESS | Page 1

Amir attended the meeting.

On the Kuwaiti side, the meeting was attended by the Crown Prince Sheikh Nawaf al-Ahmad al-Sabah, Prime Minister Sheikh Jaber al-Moisrak al-Hamad al-Sabah, First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Defence Sheikh Sabah Nasser Sabah al-Sabah, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior Sheikh Sabah al-Khaled al-Hamad al-Sabah, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Defence Sheikh Khalfan Al-Mohammed, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Sheikh Khaled al-Jarrah al-Sabah, as well as a number of Sheikhs and senior officials.

Letter upon arrival at Kuwait International Airport for a friendly visit to Kuwait, His Highness the Amir was welcomed by the Amir of Kuwait Sheikh Sabah al-Ahmad al-Jaber al-Sabah, Prime Minister Sheikh Jaber al-Moisrak al-Hamad al-Sabah, Prime Minister Sheikh Jaber al-Moisrak al-Hamad al-Sabah, First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Defence Sheikh Sabah Nasser Sabah al-Sabah, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior Sheikh Sabah al-Khaled al-Hamad al-Sabah, a number of Sheikhs and ministers, Qatar’s Prime Minister and Interior Minister Sheikh Khalfan Al-Mohammed, Kuwait’s ambassador to Qatar Sheikh Mohammad Al-Sabah and members of the Qatari embassy.

This is the Amir’s first official visit to Kuwait since 2018, his visit will provide counterbalanced opportunities for the two brotherly peoples and the two brotherly countries and the region.

With this unprecedented surge in the volume of trade between the two countries, the Kingdom of Bahrain has become one of the major recipients of Bahraini exports in the region, with a share of 5% of the total export market.

In a statement to QNA, Bahrain’s Health Minister Hameed Al-Haddad said: “This is the first of its kind in Bahrain, and the goal has been achieved. The Bahraini–Saudi partnership is the height of medical technology that Qatar’s healthcare system across the best healthcare systems in the world. It is a significant step toward providing high-quality healthcare services, strengthening medicine and service sectors.”

Qatar Financial Centre: a beacon of investment

QFC, which serves as a beacon of economic growth in the country, seeks to enhance Qatar’s position as an attractive and rewarding destination for companies looking to expand their operations in the Middle East. QFC aims to attract more investors by providing a range of services and facilities to the businesses registered on the QFC platform, exceeding $20bn.

The total assets under the management of the businesses registered on the QFC platform have exceeded $20bn.

The Qatar Financial Centre (QFC) platform, which services and specialises in the management of the businesses registered on the QFC platform, has exceeded $20bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The total assets under the management of the businesses registered on the QFC platform have exceeded $20bn.

The Qatar Financial Centre (QFC) platform, which services and specialises in the management of the businesses registered on the QFC platform, has exceeded $20bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for businesses and foreign capital into the Qatari market, seeks to attract business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn. According to Qatar’s central bank, the volume of business and investment (FDI) exceeding $150bn.

The QFC platform has been established as an enabling platform for business...
Al-Mahmoud meets Indian envoy and US Charge d’Affaires

H E the Prime Minister and Minister of Interior Sheikh Abdullah bin Saria al-Kaabi held a meeting with the Indian ambassador to Qatar, P Kumaran, and US Charge d’Affaires William Grant.

The meeting was attended by Qatari and Indian representatives.

The meeting’s agenda included the exchange of views on regional and international developments, efforts to ensure stability and security, and the importance of fostering and enhancing cooperation and coordination between Qatar and the US in the field of security.

The meeting aimed to strengthen bilateral relations and enhance cooperation in various fields of mutual interest, including security, defense, trade, and investment.

The Prime Minister expressed Qatar’s commitment to maintaining regional and international peace, stability, and security. He highlighted the importance of working together to address common challenges and promote mutual benefits.

The meeting concluded with the agreement to continue regular high-level political consultations to further strengthen the strategic partnership between Qatar and the US.

Health ministry honours media houses for their contributions

T he Ministry of Public Health (MOPH) honored local media organizations for their role in strengthening public health services, in a ceremony held at the World Health Organization Qatar country office.

The ceremony was attended by the Minister of Public Health, Dr. Mohamed Abdul Hadi Al-Ameen, along with officials from the Ministry of Interior, the Ministry of Justice, and the telecommunications sector.

The media organizations were recognized for their efforts in promoting public health awareness, providing accurate information, and covering health-related issues.

Vodafone expands Gigafibre network roll-out in Lusail

Vodafone Qatar has expanded its Gigafibre network to the Lusail City's Marina District and West Hills, providing customers with ultra-fast and reliable internet services.

The Gigafibre network offers speeds of up to 10Gbps, enabling customers to download and upload large files, stream high-quality videos, and conduct work from home.

The expansion is part of the company's strategy to improve internet access in Lusail, one of Qatar's fastest-growing areas.

Vodafone remains committed to delivering high-quality services to its customers in Qatar, offering a wide range of products and services to meet their diverse needs.

Education minister calls for creating innovative initiatives

HE Dr Mohamed Abdul Wahed Al-Attiyah, the Minister of Education and Higher Education, emphasized the importance of fostering an innovative and high-quality educational system.

In a speech delivered at the Qatar National Automotive and Education Symposium, the minister highlighted Qatar's commitment to excellence in education and the role of education in achieving the country's vision for the future.

He called for the establishment of a creative and innovative educational environment that encourages critical thinking, problem-solving, and lifelong learning.

The minister also stressed the need for collaboration among various stakeholders, including the government, schools, and the private sector, to create a supportive ecosystem for innovation in education.

Qatar Finance Centre: a beacon of investment

Qatar Finance Centre (QFC) is a pioneering financial hub in the Middle East, offering a unique and attractive ecosystem for regional and international financial institutions.

Located in Doha, the QFC is home to a diverse range of financial organizations, including banks, insurance companies, and investment firms.

The center is designed to facilitate the establishment of new financial entities, providing a regulatory framework and support services to help companies register and operate in Qatar.

QFC aims to attract a range of international and local financial institutions, promoting the growth of the financial sector and contributing to Qatar's economic diversification strategy.

The QFC has been instrumental in contributing to Qatar's emergence as a global financial hub, offering a competitive and transparent regulatory environment, and fostering innovation and entrepreneurship in the financial sector.

The QFC continues to evolve, introducing new initiatives and partnerships to support the growth of the financial ecosystem in Qatar.
Ooredoo launches WhatsApp line for customer service

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

‘Between the lines’: art through the eyes of Qatari artist Al-Mulla

Artist Yasser al-Mulla tells Gulf Times through his art...

QU to hold graduation ceremony for Class of 2019 in October

Under the patronage of His Highness the Amir, Sheikh Hamad bin Khalifa al-Thani, QU will hold the Graduation Ceremonies for the Class of 2019 on October 1, it was announced yesterday.

The ceremony for the distinguished female students will be held on the university’s Southern Campus (QIR) and the male students will be held at the Main Campus (QIM) and Qatar Science & Technology Park (QSTP) and Education Complex.

This is the 41st annual QF Graduation Ceremony, with around 3,500 students graduating, including 400 receiving outstanding undergraduate/fellowship awards in their respective fields. The vice-chancellor, Tariq Mangloli, was present for the occasion.

Wooqod reopens petrol station in Onaiza

Ooredoo and Garangao celebrate Ramadan and the launch of Garangao festivity

Ooredoo, Qatar’s telecommunications provider, recently launched its Q2 promotion, Garangao, which aims to reflect the spirit of the family and charitable sentiments of the festival in a unique manner by launching themed celebrations for its customers.

The Garangao festivity “is at the heart of Ooredoo’s efforts to respect the national heritage and promote the authentic Qatari tradition, family and friendship. This unique Ramadan celebration will be held in the middle of the holy month through a series of traditional activities that engage both children and their parents.”

Ooredoo further said, “As a responsible corporate citizen, Ooredoo is proud to support various community projects and initiatives that do not only give value to our customers but also human and institutional capacity through its community outreach programmes, projects and initiatives.”

Ooredoo launched its WhatsApp line for customers.

“Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University vice-chancellor and president, said, "Today, we are launching the 42nd annual QU Graduation Ceremony, with its 42nd cohort of graduates, who will walk out of the university gates to start their promising career paths. Once again, we wish all the graduates outstanding honours..."”

The new WhatsApp communication channel will be a customer-only service. “Ooredoo will not ever use the channel to send unsolicited commercial messages and will only respond when contact is initiated by the customer,” the statement noted.

The account is verified as an official business account, so customers can now assume the channel “is a safe and secure way to contact Ooredoo and is protected from fraud.”

“Customer feedback about the performance and scientific research in Qatar. "We are Qatar’s leading digital company. First in 5G in the world, Fibre, Apps, Ooredoo TV, Neompor, more – see what all the services you need!"”

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

The estimated total number of meals provided for the holy month of Ramadan, was between 440 meals, the HMC prayer space and workers at worksites across Qatar to contribute to such charity works that serve the community, promote solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of

Ooredoo launches WHApp line for customer service

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

The estimated total number of meals provided for the holy month of Ramadan, was between 440 meals, the HMC prayer space and workers at worksites across Qatar to contribute to such charity works that serve the community, promote solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

The estimated total number of meals provided for the holy month of Ramadan, was between 440 meals, the HMC prayer space and workers at worksites across Qatar to contribute to such charity works that serve the community, promote solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

The estimated total number of meals provided for the holy month of Ramadan, was between 440 meals, the HMC prayer space and workers at worksites across Qatar to contribute to such charity works that serve the community, promote solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of

Ooredoo has announced a new digital communication channel for customers to get in touch with the telco, as the telecommunication company uses the popular online messaging service WhatsApp to contact the customers. This means “yet another convenient communication channel for us to use,” said Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president. Hamad bin Suhaim al-Thani, Qatar University (QU) vice-chancellor and president, said, “In line with our strategy of digital transformation and digitization, we are constantly looking for ways in which we can encourage our customers to use digital channels whenever suitable for them as they’re quick, efficient and convenient.”

“Following on from the vast communication channels we have, such as live Chat service, we’re now absolutely confident that users will only make use of WhatsApp when they are not satisfied with the other communication channel, as we know that our customers will use WhatsApp if it means not another way they can get in touch with us quickly and securely when they need to. We look forward to serving them quickly and efficiently as always.”

Customer need to add the Ooredoo WhatsApp number to their contact list and they will be able to use WhatsApp messages any time during the service’s opening hours.

The estimated total number of meals provided for the holy month of Ramadan, was between 440 meals, the HMC prayer space and workers at worksites across Qatar to contribute to such charity works that serve the community, promote solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of solidarity and compassion, and cherish the Islamic rituals of
In the spirit of the holy month of Ramadan, Qatar Electricity and Water Company (QEWC) and Independent Power Producers (IPP) companies organised a Suhoor for its employees at the Sheraton Grand Doha Resort & Convention Hotel.

More than 400 employees attended the Suhoor along with executive management from the various IPP companies.

QEWC managing director and general manager Fahad Hamad al-Mohannadi, Nebras Power CEO Khalid Jolo, Ras Girtas Power CEO Abdul Majeed al-Reyahi, Umm Al Haul Power CEO Jamal al-Khalaf, Qatar Power CEO Fawaz al-Baker, Ras Laffan Power Company (RasMEE) CEO Mohammed al-Mohannadi, National Power Company (NPC) CEO Mohamed al-Nasr, and Ras Abu Fontas CEO Abdul Rahman Nasrallah were present.

The Suhoor provided an opportunity for employees to interact socially in a warm atmosphere, promoting teamwork and a supportive work environment. It was also a great platform for enhancing communication, socialisation and strengthening bonds of friendship among employees, the statement added.

Municipalities tighten inspections of food outlets

Doha Municipality’s Health Control Section has carried out an inspection campaign at shops, particularly selling sweets and nuts, across the municipality on the occasion of Garangao.

The campaign has been conducted with the aim of ensuring that all products in the local market are checked and traded by the departments concerned before they reach consumers to guarantee that these are safe — right from their source country until their display in Qatar's stores for sale.

The inspection campaign also covered storage facilities and means of transport to ensure that the products were dealt with properly and in accordance with the approved regulations.

Similarly, Al Daayen Municipality’s Health Control Section has implemented an inspection campaign at various outlets selling sweets and nuts to ensure their safety for human consumption.

The inspectors focused on the expiry dates and whether the products on display complied with the approved standards, the MME said.

Meanwhile, Al Khor and Al Thakira Municipalities’ Health Control Sections have continued their intensive inspection campaign at food outlets as well as Ramadan Iftar tents to guarantee the health and safety of food products available there.

The Commercial Bank (P.S.Q.C.)

The Commercial Bank (P.S.Q.C.) hereby notifies the below-mentioned lockers in the safety lockers at one of the two branches mentioned below during official working hours in order to check the content of the safety lockers within three months as of the date of this announcement, otherwise, the Bank will be obligated to take action, open these lockers and transfer their content to competent court:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Locker No.</th>
<th>Name</th>
<th>P.O Box</th>
<th>Due Years</th>
<th>Branch</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>48</td>
<td>MI QATAR</td>
<td>22767</td>
<td>6 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>125</td>
<td>Mahmoud Samy Ahmed El Iskandary</td>
<td>55084</td>
<td>2 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>269</td>
<td>Abdessalam Adel</td>
<td>217</td>
<td>2 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>298</td>
<td>Rashid Mohamed Hamdan</td>
<td>14702</td>
<td>3 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>362</td>
<td>Gassan Abdul Razak</td>
<td>4724</td>
<td>7 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>403</td>
<td>Mohamed Saleh Mustafa</td>
<td>8388</td>
<td>4 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>424</td>
<td>Faisal Saleh Ali</td>
<td>22031</td>
<td>2 years</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>105</td>
<td>Manohar Ram Ramesh</td>
<td>22050</td>
<td>4 years</td>
<td>Al Wakrah Avenue</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>172</td>
<td>No Information</td>
<td>No information</td>
<td>4 years</td>
<td>Al Wakrah Avenue</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TENDER FOR CONSTRUCTION

TENDER COLLECTION: Tender documents are available for collection from 8:30 AM to 3:30 PM from the date of this advertisement till the 3rd of June 2019. Documents can be collected at the 15th floor, of Al-Jassim Tower, Suhaim Bin Hamad St. Upon presentation of a formal letter of Authorisation on Company Letterhead, copy of the Commercial Registration and Original Deposit Slip of the non-refundable fee as specified below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Bank Name</th>
<th>Commercial Bank of Qatar</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Account Name</td>
<td>Al Jassim Group</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Account Number</td>
<td>4010347604005</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IBAN Number</td>
<td>QA98CBQA00000004010347604005</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Branch</td>
<td>Grand Hamad</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TENDER SUBMISSION: Technical and Commercial Proposals are to be submitted separately in triplicate with a Copy + USB/CD Copy in a sealed envelope addressed to the Tender Committee, Al Jassim Group, with the subject of (AG-TNBR-2019-021) and deposited in the Tender Box available at the 15th floor, of Al-Jassim Tower, Suhaim Bin Hamad St.

OPENING DATE: Available now till the 3rd of June 2019.

CLOSING DATE: Tenders must be submitted in sealed envelopes till 12th of June 2019 before 12:00 noon. Any bids submitted after 12:00 noon will not be accepted.

FOR CLARIFICATIONS: Email: tender@aljgqatar.com Tel: 44466246
Qatar has become one of the key markets in the Middle East for the internationally-renowned perfume brand Ex Nihilo, receiving a positive response from Qataris since its inception five years ago, co-founder Benoit Verdier said.

"From the beginning of Ex Nihilo, we have had great support from Qataris in Paris but also in London where we have a nice community of brand lovers," he told the Gulf Times.

"Qatari customers are very demanding and have exactly what they want, but also like to be surprised," Verdier stated.

"Qatari customers are very discerning and they know exactly what they want, but they also like to be surprised," he added.

Ex Nihilo recently opened its new store in Qatar at the Galleries Lafayette Doha, located at the Katara – the Cultural Village. "It made sense for us as we are available from the Galleries Lafayette in Paris, including the new store on Champs Elysees," he said. In Doha, Ex Nihilo is showcasing five collections of scents. In addition, the brand had the opportunity to create a limited edition of its bestselling Venenum Kiss customized with a beautiful Musk especially made for a special customer. "It makes sense for us to propose them the most exceptional creations through the best materials we can find (Rose of May from Grasse for instance)," Verdier said. "All of this with a strong personality and immediately addictive to stand out from the crowd." One exclusive collection for Arabs that reflect their heritage, and sure to be a big hit, is the Babylone Collection – created by French master perfumer Olivier Pescheux and Shyamala Maisondieu, the co-founder reveals. Babylone’s evocative names such as Amber Sky, Midnight Special, or the New Atlas Fever refer to the heritage but as well to a super contemporary Arabic world, very modern and futuristic in architecture and design, he pointed out. "Collaborations is in our DNA and we draw our inspiration from many fields in the artistic community such as fashion, architecture, design, photography, and the arts," Verdier said. "We only use the best grade of amber, woods accords, Rose of May or Agarwood.

"We also propose a range of three perfumed oils called the Sublimes Essences that you can use to layer your skin. You can choose as well from an Amber, a beautiful Musk and an Oud. All of these smell very Parisian and very contemporary as our aim is to revisit traditions through a modern twist," he added. Verdier observed that Ex Nihilo stands out from other brands, challenging stereotyped luxury and bringing a whole new luxury experience. "Behold High Perfumery through a unique Parisian Avant-Garde Prism. It means focusing on the best of French craftsmanship as well as bringing the best of technology with a focus on personalisation," he said.

In terms of materials, Verdier said they only use the best grade of amber, woods accords, Rose of May or Agarwood.

"It makes sense for us to propose them the most exceptional creations through the best materials we can find (Rose of May from Grasse for instance)," Verdier said. "All of this with a strong personality and immediately addictive to stand out from the crowd." One exclusive collection for Arabs that reflect their heritage, and sure to be a big hit, is the Babylone Collection – created by French master perfumer Olivier Pescheux and Shyamala Maisondieu, the co-founder reveals. Babylone’s evocative names such as Amber Sky, Midnight Special, or the New Atlas Fever refer to the heritage but as well to a super contemporary Arabic world, very modern and futuristic in architecture and design, he pointed out. "Collaborations is in our DNA and we draw our inspiration from many fields in the artistic community such as fashion, architecture, design, photography, and the arts," Verdier said. "We only use the best grade of amber, woods accords, Rose of May or Agarwood. We also propose a range of three perfumed oils called the Sublimes Essences that you can use to layer your skin. You can choose as well from an Amber, a beautiful Musk and an Oud. All of them smell very Parisian and very contemporary as our aim is to revisit traditions through a modern twist," he added. Verdier observed that Ex Nihilo stands out from other brands, challenging stereotyped luxury and bringing a whole new luxury experience. "Behold High Perfumery through a unique Parisian Avant-Garde Prism. It means focusing on the best of French craftsmanship as well as bringing the best of technology with a focus on personalisation," he said.

In terms of materials, Verdier said they only use the best grade of amber, woods accords, Rose of May or Agarwood.
HMC surgeons perform rare kidney transplant

HMC issues advisory on medications during Ramadan

The US has detained an Iranian scientist for nearly seven months, alleging he attempted to smuggle growth hormones, Iranian media said yesterday, quoting a US official as saying he was being held for visa violations.

The 43-year-old was arrested at Dulles airport outside Washington DC on March 29, according to the US government. He had been to the US earlier this year to meet with US government officials.

The US government has not commented on the case, but sources say the science minister was accused of exporting growth hormones.

Qatar condemns attack in Egypt

Qatar has strongly condemned the explosion that targeted a tourist bus in Giza Governorate, west of Cairo, injuring a number of people, including Egyptians, on Sunday.

The explosion was targeted to a tourist bus in Giza Governorate, west of Cairo, injuring a number of people, including Egyptians, the Interior Ministry said.

The US has detained an Iranian scientist for nearly seven months, alleging he attempted to smuggle growth hormones, Iranian media said yesterday, quoting a US official as saying he was being held for visa violations.

The 43-year-old was arrested at Dulles airport outside Washington DC on March 29, according to the US government. He had been to the US earlier this year to meet with US government officials.

The US government has not commented on the case, but sources say the science minister was accused of exporting growth hormones.

Iranian scientist held ‘hostage’ by US for 7 months, says his brother

The US has detained an Iranian scientist for nearly seven months, alleging he attempted to smuggle growth hormones, Iranian media said yesterday, quoting a US official as saying he was being held for visa violations.

The 43-year-old was arrested at Dulles airport outside Washington DC on March 29, according to the US government. He had been to the US earlier this year to meet with US government officials.

The US government has not commented on the case, but sources say the science minister was accused of exporting growth hormones.

Qatar condemns attack in Egypt

Qatar has strongly condemned the explosion that targeted a tourist bus in Giza Governorate, west of Cairo, injuring a number of people, including Egyptians, on Sunday.

The explosion was targeted to a tourist bus in Giza Governorate, west of Cairo, injuring a number of people, including Egyptians, the Interior Ministry said.

Iranian scientist held ‘hostage’ by US for 7 months, says his brother

The US has detained an Iranian scientist for nearly seven months, alleging he attempted to smuggle growth hormones, Iranian media said yesterday, quoting a US official as saying he was being held for visa violations.

The 43-year-old was arrested at Dulles airport outside Washington DC on March 29, according to the US government. He had been to the US earlier this year to meet with US government officials.

The US government has not commented on the case, but sources say the science minister was accused of exporting growth hormones.
Qatar Charity provides QR10mn urgent relief to internally displaced Syrians

1,000 workers attend Qatar Charity’s Iftar table daily in Al-Shahaniya

Qatar Charity has started the implementation of an emergency relief aid for affected Syrians displaced from the countryside of Hama and northern Syria towards Idlib. The relief worth up to QR10mn came to alleviate the suffering of Syrians displaced in light of the developments of the ongoing conflict in their country.

Through its field offices in Turkey, Qatar Charity has recently implemented the first phase of this emergency relief assistance by distributing 1,600 tests for the benefit of 8,000 people in temporary shelters, 8,500 ready-to-use food items for the benefit of 32,000 people, and 5,000 baskets, containing basic food items, for the benefit of 15,000 persons.

Also, 8,500 bread bundles are distributed daily and 2,000 personal hygiene kits were provided at the cost of three million Qatar Riyals. In the coming days, the rest of the relief aid will be distributed to the displaced, at the cost of up to 7 million Riyals.

Also, Qatar Charity continues to distribute food baskets and Iftar meals to displaced and affected Syrians at the cost of one million Riyals to benefit 14,705 families.

During the holy month of Ramadan, Qatar Charity provides Iftar meals and distributes coupons for food parcels to Syrian refugees in Turkey at the cost of one million Riyals, and more than 7,300 affected families are expected to benefit from them.

Qatar Charity implements 25 collective Iftar tables for internally displaced Syrians as part of the projects of its “Ramadan, the Gift of Giving” campaign. Some 27,375 Iftar meals were distributed during the first ten days of the holy month of Ramadan. More than 7,000 meals are expected to be distributed during the whole month of Ramadan. Iftar meals and other meals inside Syria are made through five kitchens belonging to Qatar Charity.

Qatar Charity’s Iftar table also witnesses the presence of volunteers on a daily basis. Mohammed Mohsen, a volunteer, comes from Bin Omar daily to contribute to organizing the table and providing services to fasting persons.

Volunteering is a very valuable work, and it gives an involved person a great sense of comfort and satisfaction, especially in Ramadan, a season of multiplying rewards, said Mohsen.

Munib al-Katib, the Syrian Muslim, Abdul Rashid noted, pointing out that other meals brought by philanthropists are very similar to those of Qatar Charity.

He further said more Iftar tables were needed due to a large number of workers living in the area, appealing to the benevolent to contribute to supporting Qatar Charity’s Iftar table to increase the number of beneficiaries.

During the holy month of Ramadan, Qatar Charity launched an Iftar project in Al-Shahaniya, one of the oldest and largest Sudanese universities, which has students from African and Asian countries, in addition to the Sudanese students.

Qatar Charity’s office in Sudan will also organize an Iftar programme for Yemeni students studying in Sudan, where 800 university students are expected to benefit. The estimated number of beneficiaries will rise to 12,800 students.

The students expressed their pleasure at attending Qatar Charity Iftar programmes and thanked the people in Qatar for this support.

Qatar Charity launched an Iftar project at the Mogadishu University for 200 university students sponsored by Qatar Charity in Somalia, in the presence of the Minister of Humanitarian Affairs and Natural Disaster Management Mr. Hannan Said Hamm, the Minister of Endowments and Religious Affairs of Somalia Mr. Abdul Hakim Hassan Ibrahim Ashken, and the Ambassador of Qatar to Somalia Hassan bin Hamar.

It is worth mentioning that Qatar Charity sponsors 850 students in Somalia out of more than 5,000 students around the world.

Qatar Charity (QC) continues to organize Iftar programmes for students at numerous universities worldwide, as part of its Iftar projects being implemented in more than 30 countries across the globe, benefiting thousands of students sponsored by Qatar Charity and those living at university dormitories.

International University of Africa

In Sudan, Qatar Charity launched a series of Iftar programmes for students at the International University of Africa, benefiting 2,000 students from different nationalities. Other Iftar programmes will be held in the near few days at the same university. It is expected that the total number of beneficiaries will reach 12,000 students at the university.

It is worth mentioning that the International University of Africa is one of the oldest and largest Sudanese universities, which has students from African and Asian countries, in addition to the Sudanese students.

Qatar Charity’s office in Sudan will also organize an Iftar programme for Yemeni students studying in Sudan, who come to alleviate the suffering of their students displaced in light of the developments of the ongoing conflict in their country.

Through its field offices in Turkey, Qatar Charity has recently implemented the first phase of this emergency relief assistance by distributing 1,600 tests for the benefit of 8,000 people in temporary shelters, 8,500 ready-to-use food items for the benefit of 32,000 people, and 5,000 baskets, containing basic food items, for the benefit of 15,000 persons.

Also, 8,500 bread bundles are distributed daily and 2,000 personal hygiene kits were provided at the cost of three million Qatar Riyals. In the coming days, the rest of the relief aid will be distributed to the displaced, at the cost of up to 7 million Riyals.

Also, Qatar Charity continues to distribute food baskets and Iftar meals to displaced and affected Syrians at the cost of one million Riyals to benefit 14,705 families.

During the holy month of Ramadan, Qatar Charity provides Iftar meals and distributes coupons for food parcels to Syrian refugees in Turkey at the cost of one million Riyals, and more than 7,300 affected families are expected to benefit from them.

Qatar Charity implements 25 collective Iftar tables for internally displaced Syrians as part of the projects of its “Ramadan, the Gift of Giving” campaign. Some 27,375 Iftar meals were distributed during the first ten days of the holy month of Ramadan. More than 7,000 meals are expected to be distributed during the whole month of Ramadan. Iftar meals and other meals inside Syria are made through five kitchens belonging to Qatar Charity.

Qatar Charity’s Iftar table also witnesses the presence of volunteers on a daily basis. Mohammed Mohsen, a volunteer, comes from Bin Omar daily to contribute to organizing the table and providing services to fasting persons.

Volunteering is a very valuable work, and it gives an involved person a great sense of comfort and satisfaction, especially in Ramadan, a season of multiplying rewards, said Mohsen.

Munib al-Katib, the Syrian Muslim, Abdul Rashid noted, pointing out that other meals brought by philanthropists are very similar to those of Qatar Charity.

He further said more Iftar tables were needed due to a large number of workers living in the area, appealing to the benevolent to contribute to supporting Qatar Charity’s Iftar table to increase the number of beneficiaries.

During the holy month of Ramadan, Qatar Charity launched an Iftar project in Al-Shahaniya, one of the oldest and largest Sudanese universities, which has students from African and Asian countries, in addition to the Sudanese students.

Qatar Charity’s office in Sudan will also organize an Iftar programme for Yemeni students studying in Sudan, where 800 university students are expected to benefit. The estimated number of beneficiaries will rise to 12,800 students.

The students expressed their pleasure at attending Qatar Charity Iftar programmes and thanked the people in Qatar for this support.

Qatar Charity launched an Iftar project at the Mogadishu University for 200 university students sponsored by Qatar Charity in Somalia, in the presence of the Minister of Humanitarian Affairs and Natural Disaster Management Mr. Hannan Said Hamm, the Minister of Endowments and Religious Affairs of Somalia Mr. Abdul Hakim Hassan Ibrahim Ashken, and the Ambassador of Qatar to Somalia Hassan bin Hamar.

It is worth mentioning that Qatar Charity sponsors 850 students in Somalia out of more than 5,000 students around the world.

Qatar Charity (QC) continues to organize Iftar programmes for students at numerous universities worldwide, as part of its Iftar projects being implemented in more than 30 countries across the globe, benefiting thousands of students sponsored by Qatar Charity and those living at university dormitories.

International University of Africa

In Sudan, Qatar Charity launched a series of Iftar programmes for students at the International University of Africa, benefiting 2,000 students from different nationalities. Other Iftar programmes will be held in the near few days at the same university. It is expected that the total number of beneficiaries will reach 12,000 students at the university.

It is worth mentioning that the International University of Africa is one of the oldest and largest Sudanese universities, which has students from African and Asian countries, in addition to the Sudanese students.

Qatar Charity’s office in Sudan will also organize an Iftar programme for Yemeni students studying in Sudan, who come to alleviate the suffering of their students displaced in light of the developments of the ongoing conflict in their country.
Enter the gate of repentance inside.

If a human being is the one who repents: “O Allah, I ask Your forgiveness and I turn to You.” Then Allah, the Exalted, Sublime, will say to the angel: “Record this deed.” If an animal is the one who repents: “O Allah, I ask Your forgiveness and I turn to You.” Then Allah, the Exalted, Sublime, will say to the angel: “Record this deed.” If a tree is the one who repents: “O Allah, I ask Your forgiveness and I turn to You.” Then Allah, the Exalted, Sublime, will say to the angel: “Record this deed.” If a rock is the one who repents: “O Allah, I ask Your forgiveness and I turn to You.” Then Allah, the Exalted, Sublime, will say to the angel: “Record this deed.”

The gates of repentance are of two types: the gate of repentance of the one who repents in the state of repentance and the gate of repentance of the one who repents in the state of not repenting. It is said, “Righteousness is repentance.”

The repentance of the state of repentance is when a person repents in the state of repentance. The repentance of the state of not repenting is when a person repents in the state of not repenting. It is said, “Repentance is the gate of Allah.”

The gate of repentance is one of the gates of Allah. Allah opens it for those who repent. It is said, “The gate of repentance is open for those who repent.”

Sudan army rulers, protesters resume talks over govt body

The Sudanese government and protesters resumed talks yesterday over the formation of a new governing body. The talks are part of a broader push for a political transition in the country.

The government and protesters have been at loggerheads over the issue of a new governing body since the fall of President Omar al-Bashir in April. The talks are aimed at reaching a consensus on the makeup of the new body, which will oversee the transition to a civilian government.

The government has proposed a 36-member council with a five-member executive council, while the protesters want a broader body with more representatives.

The UN has called for an end to the violence and for both sides to engage in good-faith negotiations.

US to hold economic conference in June

The US is planning to host an economic conference in June to discuss ways to support the Palestinian economy. The conference will bring together government officials and business leaders from around the world to discuss ways to support the Palestinian economy.

The US has been a key donor to the Palestinian territories, providing billions of dollars in aid over the years. However, the Trump administration has cut off financial support to the Palestinians, citing their refusal to engage in peace talks with Israel.

The conference is expected to bring together leaders from across the world, including members of the Palestinian Authority, to discuss ways to support the Palestinian economy.

TRADE

Mine collapse kills dozens in DR Congo

A coltan mine in the Democratic Republic of Congo collapsed yesterday, killing dozens of workers. The mine is one of the largest producers of coltan, a mineral used in the production of electronic devices.

The collapse is the latest in a series of accidents at coltan mines in the region, raising concerns about the safety of workers in the industry.

The US and Europe have suspended the import of coltan from DR Congo in recent years, in response to reports of human rights abuses at coltan mines.

Blast injures SA tourists near Giza pyramids

A blast near the pyramids of Giza yesterday injured a group of South African tourists. The group was travelling in a tour bus when the explosion occurred.

The South African government has expressed concern about the incident and has called for an investigation into the cause of the explosion.

Security and judicial sources said a mine explosion caused the blast, which injured 16 tourists and 4 police officers. The tourists were near the pyramids when the explosion occurred.

The US Embassy in Egypt has advised its citizens to avoid visiting the area near the pyramids due to the risk of terrorism.

Security and judicial sources said a mine explosion caused the blast, which injured 16 tourists and 4 police officers. The tourists were near the pyramids when the explosion occurred.

The US Embassy in Egypt has advised its citizens to avoid visiting the area near the pyramids due to the risk of terrorism.

TENSION

Katyusha rocket fired in Baghdad Green Zone

A Katyusha rocket was launched yesterday into the Green Zone in central Baghdad, near the US embassy.

The rocket caused damage to a building but caused no injuries.

The rocket was launched from the nearby West Baghdad residential district, which is home to many pro-Iranian groups.

The US Embassy has called on all citizens to avoid the Green Zone and other high-profile areas.

CONFLICT

Gunmen kidnap 19 at fish market in Kenya

Gunmen kidnapped 19 people at a fish market in Mombasa yesterday, demanding ransom.

The victims were carrying goods for a local fish market when the kidnappers approached them.

The local police are investigating the incident and have launched a manhunt for the kidnappers.

Mine collapse kills dozens in DR Congo

A coltan mine in the Democratic Republic of Congo collapsed yesterday, killing dozens of workers. The mine is one of the largest producers of coltan, a mineral used in the production of electronic devices.

The collapse is the latest in a series of accidents at coltan mines in the region, raising concerns about the safety of workers in the industry.

The US and Europe have suspended the import of coltan from DR Congo in recent years, in response to reports of human rights abuses at coltan mines.

Blast injures SA tourists near Giza pyramids

A blast near the pyramids of Giza yesterday injured a group of South African tourists. The group was travelling in a tour bus when the explosion occurred.

The South African government has expressed concern about the incident and has called for an investigation into the cause of the explosion.

Security and judicial sources said a mine explosion caused the blast, which injured 16 tourists and 4 police officers. The tourists were near the pyramids when the explosion occurred.

The US Embassy in Egypt has advised its citizens to avoid visiting the area near the pyramids due to the risk of terrorism.

Security and judicial sources said a mine explosion caused the blast, which injured 16 tourists and 4 police officers. The tourists were near the pyramids when the explosion occurred.

The US Embassy in Egypt has advised its citizens to avoid visiting the area near the pyramids due to the risk of terrorism.
Trump blasts Amash call for impeachment

By David Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Javier Tovar, AFP

Biden offers anti-Trump theme: stop fighting and 'start fixing'

By Michael Waldman, AFP

Trump may pardon troops accused or convicted of war crimes: NYT

By Julian metric, AFP

Canada aims to ratify trade deal quickly

By Janice Crouse, AFP

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Jo-Ann Birrell, AFP

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By David Mack, AFP

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Jonathan生活水平

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?

By Daniel Morgan, Reuters

Is California's high-speed rail plan a pipe dream?
Lanka president vows to crush extremist threat

Sri Lanka’s president says his government has ended extremism after walking through the capital yesterday, vowing to stamp out terrorism following a string of deadly attacks.

President Maithripala Sirisena said the Easter Sunday bomb attacks were an act of terrorism and a tragedy for the country.

He promised to crush the extremist threat and said the government would not tolerate any terrorism in the country.

Sirisena said the government was committed to stamping out terrorism and would not tolerate any political violence.

He said the government would take all necessary steps to prevent any future terrorist attacks.

Sirisena said the government was determined to ensure that the people of Sri Lanka never again had to suffer such acts of terrorism.

He said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermined by any form of extremism.

He said the government was determined to ensure that the country’s democracy was not threatened by any form of extremism.

Sirisena said the government was committed to ensuring that the country’s democratic institutions were not undermine
We didn't get anything, " he said.

The news comes after Kyle's ITV chat show was axed in response to the suicide of a contestant who appeared on the show. It was all happening because I'm very full-on and doesn't know. He shouldn't be very aggressive to people he doesn't know. He was very aggressive to people he doesn't know. He shouldn't be very aggressive to people he doesn't know.

The father of 31-year-old McPherson, who appeared to show the rapper the door, said: "It's a very stark contrast to the other people who have been involved in this disaster."

The bill is needed to ratify the withdrawal agreement and trigger a contest for the leadership of the Conservative Party. May said that in six weeks of negotiations, "I will not be simply asking MPs to have faith again. Instead I will ask them to look at a new and improved plan that Backstop addresses the concerns of MPs on both sides of the House."
Austrian president calls for September election

The Austrian government has called for new elections for September after a corruption scandal involving the far-right Freedom Party (FPÖ) allowed its leader to stand down. The move follows months of campaigning.

President Alexander Van der Bellen told journalists yesterday that he had decided to call elections after a scandal involving the far-right Freedom Party (FPÖ) saw its leader resign. The government had been called in to lead a new round of talks with other party leaders, but Van der Bellen told reporters he would not participate in those talks.

"For months of campaigning, the pair discuss how she was promised top jobs and money. But this was all a lie," said Van der Bellen, who has been watched by more than 2 million people, according to reports.
BJP-led coalition projected to win between 287 and 360 seats and Congress-led Progressive Alliance between 128 and 132

All surveys can't be wrong, time to switch off: TV-Omar

Vijay Vadthya

T he ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is likely to win a clear majority in the Lok Sabha elections, according to the exit poll conducted by Axis. The BJP-led alliance will win 287 to 360 seats, while the Congress-led United Progressive Alliance (UPA) will win 111 to 132 seats, according to the exit poll conducted by Axis.

The exit poll predicted that the BJP will win between 287 and 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats. The poll also predicted that the BJP will win 287 to 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats.

The exit poll predicted that the BJP will win between 287 and 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats. The poll also predicted that the BJP will win 287 to 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats.

The exit poll predicted that the BJP will win between 287 and 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats. The poll also predicted that the BJP will win 287 to 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats.

The exit poll predicted that the BJP will win between 287 and 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats. The poll also predicted that the BJP will win 287 to 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats.

The exit poll predicted that the BJP will win between 287 and 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats. The poll also predicted that the BJP will win 287 to 360 seats, while the UPA will win 111 to 132 seats.

The exit poll predicted that the BJ...
Sidhu damaging Congress with ill-timed comments: Punjab CM

PM Fight

Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh today hinted that the party would sweep not only the Patiala but the entire state and the Union Territory in upcoming elections. The chief minister said he per- sonally had the opportunity to vote, "like an old man," and was not with them now. "We are not with them now. We will not back them now," he said.

Former Punjab chief minister Parkash Singh Badal's daughter- in-law Harnoor Kaur, who was denied a ticket from alpha- party, does not tolerate indisci- plined conduct free and fair elections and the lack of unanimity the rule of ma-

Singh Sidhu of damaging the state's ruling Congress with his "tactless" comments, said the cricketer-turned politician. Singh Sidhu should have chosen a bet- ter time to air his grievances in- stead of the elections. "It was not Sidhu's election but the Congress'," he said.

"The main issue with Sidhu is that he has forgotten the thing he used to say: 'It is not the contest, it is the country,"" Thakur said.

"He has been using every negative possible approach to discrediting the BJP," Thakur said. "Sidhu is a person who always does any wrong just to seek the limelight." He said this was a new "character of Sidhu" which the party would never tolerate.

"Sidhu is not a young boy and he should have behaved accordingly," Thakur said.

"It is not the contest, it is the country," Thakur said. "Sidhu is a person who always does any wrong just to seek the limelight." He said this was a new "character of Sidhu" which the party would never tolerate.

"Sidhu is not a young boy and he should have behaved accordingly," Thakur said. "It is not the contest, it is the country," Thakur said. "Sidhu is a person who always does any wrong just to seek the limelight." He said this was a new "character of Sidhu" which the party would never tolerate.
Deported Honduran migrant gives up on American dream

Hercules

President Donald Trump sending troops to guard the US border has pushed the deposed Honduran migrant, a woman, to give up on her American dream. Trump's decision to send troops to the border has created a sense of uncertainty and fear among migrants who are looking for a better life in the US.

The woman, a member of the migrant caravan that reached the US border last year, has decided to return to Honduras. She said she had grown tired of waiting for her chance to work in the US and that the US border has become a symbol of adversity.

She said: "I have been waiting for years. I have seen people die at the border. I have seen children lose their parents. I have seen families separated. I have seen people who have been deported. I have seen people who have been killed.

I have seen the US border become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.

I have seen the US government become a symbol of despair. I have seen the US government become a symbol of injustice. I have seen the US government become a symbol of terror.
PM terms IMF deal the ‘best’

Government to launch beneficiaries scheme for youth PM

Anti-graft chief vows no let-up in mission for national interest

Minister calls former top judge ‘incompetent’

Tribesman released after detention for 10 years without trial

German teen found

Sindhi revives Musharraf-era Police Order

Recovery efforts under way after at least 12 drowned in boat capsize in Indus River

Minister calls former top judge ‘incompetent’

Tribesman released after detention for 10 years without trial

German teen found

Sindhi revives Musharraf-era Police Order

Recovery efforts under way after at least 12 drowned in boat capsize in Indus River

Minister calls former top judge ‘incompetent’

Tribesman released after detention for 10 years without trial

German teen found

Sindhi revives Musharraf-era Police Order

Recovery efforts under way after at least 12 drowned in boat capsize in Indus River
Positive ratings for president has impacted Senate candidates

By Ralph Villanueva
Manila Times

The high satisfaction rating of President Rodrigo Duterte “rubbed off” on his candidates for senator in the midterm elections (Comelec) proclaims the presidency in assuming office on July 22.

Andanar said voters might assume office on July 22.

The 17th Congress will bow out next month and the 18th Congress — to be established on August 2 — will take over on September 16, pending term limits for legislators under an administration-dominated charter change or Cha-cha is expected to be pursued by incoming senators urged to reject charter change

Incoming senators urged to reject charter change

By Norberto Treadvos
Manila Times

T hink-tank Rom Fedran’s “Political Watchdog” (PPCRV) will continue to validate election returns, even after the Commission on Elections (Comelec) declared the winners in the midterm elections last Tuesday, marking 183.

The lead counsel for PPCRV Manolin Villanueva said that 14% of Election Commission (Comelec) transparency server. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said.

The job of the PPCRV is not to validate election returns, even after the Commission on Elections (Comelec) declared the winners in the midterm elections last Tuesday, marking 183.

The lead counsel for PPCRV Manolin Villanueva said that 14% of Election Commission Transparency Server (EVS) will continue to validate our election returns that are sent to us, she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said.

The job of the PPCRV is not to validate election returns, even after the Commission on Elections (Comelec) declared the winners in the midterm elections last Tuesday, marking 183.

The lead counsel for PPCRV Manolin Villanueva said that 14% of Election Commission Transparency Server (EVS) will continue to validate our election returns that are sent to us, she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said.

The job of the PPCRV is not to validate election returns, even after the Commission on Elections (Comelec) declared the winners in the midterm elections last Tuesday, marking 183.

The lead counsel for PPCRV Manolin Villanueva said that 14% of Election Commission Transparency Server (EVS) will continue to validate our election returns that are sent to us, she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said.

The job of the PPCRV is not to validate election returns, even after the Commission on Elections (Comelec) declared the winners in the midterm elections last Tuesday, marking 183.

The lead counsel for PPCRV Manolin Villanueva said that 14% of Election Commission Transparency Server (EVS) will continue to validate our election returns that are sent to us, she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said. “There is no truth to the rumors that President Duterte did not know what the Comelec transparency server do,” she said.
Al Janoub Stadium: a milestone in Qatar’s trip to host World Cup

Qatar’s bid to host the 2022 FIFA World Cup told the world to ‘Expect Amazing.’ A preview of what is in store for the fans around the world through the perspective of the Qatar’s CEO for Design and Delivery, Faisal Abdulhameed al-Mudahka.

A carbon dividend is better than carbon tax

By Mark Paul and Anthony Underwood

Climate change is the world’s most urgent problem, and is described in the United States by both Democrats and Republicans as a threat requiring urgent action. But while a growing number of economists have pointed to carbon pricing as a key tool in fighting climate change, so far the US has not implemented a comprehensive carbon pricing system.

In short, a carbon dividend would
- be more popular than a carbon tax
- be more politically viable
- be more effective at reducing emissions
- be fiscally responsible and financially sustainable
- be more environmentally sound
- be more equitable and progressive in its distribution of benefits

US Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and Senator Edward Markey (D-MA) launching a news conference for their proposed ‘Green New Deal’ to achieve net zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2050, at the US Capitol in Washington, in that picture. © 2019 Gulf Times. All rights reserved
Modern monetary disasters

By Stephanie Kelton

Modern Monetary Theory (MMT), a seemingly new approach to boosting economic activity, has become a hot topic in policy circles. It promises to add up to funding from leading US economists such as University of Chicago’s Richard Thaler has said that MMT could be used to help “solve the national debt problem” by funding and developing public-sector projects.

But MMT advocates have yet to convince many economists and policymakers. In the financial markets, it is still largely unknown. And in some cases, it has even been compared to a cult.

The theory, developed by economists such as Stephanie Kelton, Kenneth Rogoff, and Larry Summers, says that governments can control inflation by increasing money supply and using that money to fund public-sector projects.

In some cases, MMT supporters argue that the theory gets it partly right. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

But because governments required taxes to be paid in local currency, it did not completely disappear. Instead, MMT opponents argued that the theory would lead to a vicious cycle of inflation and debt.

Inflation-adjusted wages in the 2000s, for example, grew by 360% in 1973 alone, causing several countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Venezuela, to impose price and wage controls and even nationalize industries.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

A major increase in public-sector investment inevitably led to hyperinflation. In Argentina, for example, inflation-adjusted wages in the 2000s, for example, grew by 360% in 1973 alone, causing several countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Venezuela, to impose price and wage controls and even nationalize industries.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

A major increase in public-sector investment inevitably led to hyperinflation. In Argentina, for example, inflation-adjusted wages in the 2000s, for example, grew by 360% in 1973 alone, causing several countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Venezuela, to impose price and wage controls and even nationalize industries.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

A major increase in public-sector investment inevitably led to hyperinflation. In Argentina, for example, inflation-adjusted wages in the 2000s, for example, grew by 360% in 1973 alone, causing several countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Venezuela, to impose price and wage controls and even nationalize industries.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

A major increase in public-sector investment inevitably led to hyperinflation. In Argentina, for example, inflation-adjusted wages in the 2000s, for example, grew by 360% in 1973 alone, causing several countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Venezuela, to impose price and wage controls and even nationalize industries.

The theory has also been criticized for its assumptions about how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.

In a similar way, the theory says that governments can increase spending on projects without worrying about the fiscal deficit. But it doesn’t fully understand how a modern monetary system works. According to MMT, governments can print money and spend it on projects without worrying about inflation.
QATAR

Children turned out in their festive best as they celebrated Garangao around the country yesterday. From neighbourhoods around Doha and beyond to popular destinations such as Souq Waqif, Katara – the Cultural Village and others, kids were seen collecting goodies, singing special songs, taking part in various activities and sharing the spirit of Garangao in large numbers.

PICTURES: Jayson Orriss, Noushad Thekkayil and from Katara’s Twitter page

Garangao celebrated with pomp and splendour across Qatar

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani met yesterday at Dasman Palace in Kuwait with the Amir of Kuwait Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah. The two leaders discussed avenues to further strengthen ties and agreed to support and promote these ties. His Highness Sheikh Jassim bin Hamad Al Thani, Personal Representative of the Amir, and members of the delegation accompanying His Highness the Amir attended the meeting. The meeting also dealt with a host of topics of mutual interest in addition to regional and international developments.

Amir, delegation hold talks in Kuwait

Children turned out in their festive best as they celebrated Garangao around the country yesterday. From neighbourhoods around Doha and beyond to popular destinations such as Souq Waqif, Katara – the Cultural Village and others, kids were seen collecting goodies, singing special songs, taking part in various activities and sharing the spirit of Garangao in large numbers.