Business

Qatar condemns attack on mosque in Baghdad

Qatar has strongly condemned the bombing that targeted a mosque in the west of the Iraqi capital Baghdad, causing deaths and injuries. In a statement yesterday, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs said the bombing is “an act of terrorism.”

BUSINESS

UN reports largest expansion of West Bank settlements in 2 years

The UN has reported the largest expansion of Jewish settlements in the West Bank since 2016, as the Israeli government moved towards annexation of the occupied territories.

SPORT

World Cup winner Qatar unveils new SC Ambassador

A World Cup winner, Qatar unveils a new SC Ambassador, with the aim of enhancing the country’s image and promoting its football culture.

In brief

Qatar-China ties set to scale greater heights: ambassador

Qatar and China have maintained excellent relations. Through the years, both countries have focused on economic development, trade, and investment, with Qatar-China relations expected to reach new heights in the years to come.

Airline associations halt Hormuz flights

Airlines have suspended flights to Hormuz, in response to the escalating tension in the Strait of Hormuz between Iran and the United States.

UN Report on UN Security Council mandate

The UN has renewed its mandate for the UN Security Council, which has confirmed its commitment to maintaining international peace and security.

Trump calls off strikes on Iran at last minute

US President Donald Trump has called off air strikes targeted at Iran following its support of military attacks in Iraq.

Amir to visit Pakistan today

The Amir, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani, is expected to be welcomed at the airport by the Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan, and will then travel to the federal capital before proceeding to Islamabad.

Qatar Airways adds service to Doha

Qatar Airways has added a new service to Doha, linking the city to the United Kingdom. The service is expected to boost tourism and economic ties between the two countries.

Putin bans Russian airlines from flying to Georgia

Russian President Vladimir Putin has banned Russian airlines from flying to Georgia, as the country retaliates against Russia.

EUROPE

Asiatic Airlines termination of service

Asiatic Airlines, which operated as a matchstick factory until 2008, has announced its closure.

EUROPE

TV footage shows plumes of black smoke rising from blast in Indonesia

Video footage shows plumes of black smoke rising from a blast in Indonesia, with reports of around 70 people injured.

AFP

Li Chen sees a bright future for Qatar-FDI growth in Italy

Li Chen, the Italian ambassador to Qatar, has said that Qatar-FDI growth in Italy is expected to reach new heights in the years to come.

Airline services in China

Airline services in China have undergone significant changes in recent years, with new routes being opened and existing ones being expanded.

UN Report on UN Security Council mandate

The UN has renewed its mandate for the UN Security Council, which has confirmed its commitment to maintaining international peace and security.

State Times

Airlines halt Hormuz flights

Airlines are suspending flights to Hormuz due to the escalating tension in the Strait of Hormuz between Iran and the United States.

Trump calls off strikes on Iran at last minute

US President Donald Trump has called off air strikes targeted at Iran following its support of military attacks in Iraq.

Amir to visit Pakistan today

The Amir, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani, is expected to be welcomed at the airport by the Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan, and will then travel to the federal capital before proceeding to Islamabad.

Qatar Airways adds service to Doha

Qatar Airways has added a new service to Doha, linking the city to the United Kingdom. The service is expected to boost tourism and economic ties between the two countries.
PHCC puts focus on preventive health and wellness model

By Joseph Vergaheen

The PHCC has launched a new Corporate Strategic Plan 2019–2023 highlighting that "we remain to ensure that Qatar remains a preferred country for its own health and make healthy lifestyle choices!". The new approach includes health promotion and wellness interventions and services that educate and provide tools for individuals to take charge of their health, and reduce unhealthy behaviors that reduce their life expectancy.

The strategy promotes preventive services focusing on early detection of risk factors and screening for chronic diseases. The preventive health model is of care with services focused on the management of patient’s health by appropriate health interventions, providing transmission of communicable diseases and infections, screening multiresistant infections, and managing outbreaks and epidemics." The strategy explains that PHCC has already established a range of services focusing on the promotion of health and disease. It also aims to develop in the infrastructure of new health and wellness centers to support the community towards healthy living.

The major goals of the strategy are to improve the quality of life, provide early detection and prevention of illness and disease. In this regard, PHCC plans to expand targeted wellness and immunization services among people’s health by appropriate focusing on the prevention of illness and disease. PHCC also plans to extend its reach to patients in need of preventive and wellness programs for communicable diseases, and deliver innovative programs for vaccine-preventable disease.

The strategy also aims to standardize and improve the surveillance and control of communicable diseases. In this regard, PHCC plans to expand targeted wellness and immunization services among people’s health by appropriate focusing on the prevention of illness and disease. PHCC also plans to extend its reach to patients in need of preventive and wellness programs for communicable diseases, and deliver innovative programs for vaccine-preventable diseases.

PHCC is investing in the infrastructure of new health and wellness centers.

PHCC puts focus on preventive health and wellness model

100kg fish destroyed for being unfit for consumption

The Health Control Section at Al Waqrah Municipality destroyed some 100kg of fish that had found unfit for human consumption. The fish was destroyed after reaching the Al Waqrah fish market for auction as the PHCC conducted inspection and found signs of the fish going rotten.

A statement issued by the Minister of Public Health and Environment (MMPH) noted that PHCC is taking the necessary actions to prevent the spread of the disease and to ensure that people are not putting enough time to control it in order to prevent them.

The Health Control Section at the Municipal Control Department at Al Waqrah.

Qatar-China ties set to scale greater heights: Chinese envoy Chin说完，两国今年将正式启动中国-中东国家合作论坛和中国-中亚国家合作论坛，为中东国家和中亚国家提供新的合作平台。中阿双方还将举办论坛。”

China and Qatar have a strong economic partnership. China is Qatar’s largest trading partner, with trade reaching €2.6 billion in 2018, recording a 21% increase from the previous year. Qatar is “very positive” with bilateral relations and trade, said the envoy.

“Italy is committed not only to fostering technology transfer, but also to the development of human resources,” he added. “In this regard, we are delighted that in the coming weeks the first Italian female police will graduate in Milan.”

Ambassador: Italy and Qatar enjoy strategic partnership

By Jerry Aguiar

Blended relations between Qatar and Italy “will open new opportunities ahead” to all societal, education, research and health, sport, Italian ambassador Francesco Salzano has said.

“Speaking of the 7th Italian National Day celebration in Doha on Thursday, the envoy highlighted that the Italian cooperation initiative with Qatar has been strong, which allowed a strategic partnership across all sectors.

“This initiative was attended by H.E. Mr. Massimo D'Alema, Minister of Justice and Acting President of the Lower House of Parliament; H.E. Mr. Danilo Attilio Alfonsi, Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation; H.E. Dr. Ahmad Al-Kuwari, Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation; H.E. Dr. Ali Ibrahım Ahmed, Eritrean ambassador and Dean of the Diplomatic Corps; H.E. Mr. Ibrahim Abdulaziz al-Kuwari, Minister of State; H.E. Mr. Dr. Issa Saad al-Jafali al-Nuaimi, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs; H.E. Mr. Salzano said his discussions with Italian business leaders, culture, sports and technology representatives.

“Today in the final stages of the competition and we look forward to the 7th City Election on June 23,” he added. The envoy also described the “Open the world” economic and investment conference, which was held in Rome and made leading €2.1 billion in 2018, recording a 21% increase compared to 2017. "Italy and Qatar have made marketable steps in this regard, especially concerning the leather market as part of its fruitful co-operation with the International Labour Organisation" he stressed. “The Italian government has already established an office in Qatar,” he added.

"We also find that Italian enterprises are more eager to explore opportunities in Qatar, thanks to the major ex- cesses caused by the low crude oil prices, and the rise in demand for the construction and design industries," Salzano said.

"Indeed, Qatar has made marketable steps in this regard, especially concerning the leather market as part of its fruitful co-operation with the International Labour Organisation," he said.

"In this regard, we are delighted that in the coming weeks the first Italian female police will graduate in Milan."
Hundreds protest against Trump peace plan in Jordan

Fourteen

Pax Europe

A

Sixteen of 75 migrants

25

AP

UN migration agency said yes—off Tunisia's coast for over two

Reuters

WFP hopeful Houthis will allow food aid suspension to end

WFP

UN

H

UN

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

AFP

Two rooms from an apart-

Reuters

Arab-Israeli confl ict

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

QNA

QNA

Migrants

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Migrants

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Migrants

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Migrants

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Migrants

Sixteen of 75 migrants stuck off Tunisia's coast for over two

QNA

Migrants
Blogger’s detention in Mauritania defended

Mauritanian President Mohamed Ould Abdel Aziz has defended the detention of a blogger who has served jail time in an email from Thursday ahead of presidential elections, whose first round is taking place today. He said he came to power after a military coup, was elected in 2012 and again in 2014, and cannot serve beyond a two-term limit. In an open letter to the human rights group, including the media watchdog Reporters Without Borders (RSF), Ould Abdel Aziz defended the blogger’s continued detention, saying it was justified by “his personal security as well as the country’s.”

“This problem would greatly overshadow his legacy, if the president was not to take a firm stance,” the letter said.

In April, Justice Minister Ousmane Mbaye told the National Assembly that “his ministry would be freed, but for security reasons, we cannot place him in freedom.”

Central Africa ‘is worst for food insecurity’

According to the United Nations, as many as 40% of the population of Central Africa is worst for acute food insecurity, the World Food Programme said.

One of the world’s poorest and most unstable countries, CAR spiralled into bloodshed after regional and international leaders allowed a feud over who would lead the country to end the “illegal detention.”

The young man is not being held in a place known to the Supreme Court on a rule of his life.

Cleaners find abandoned foetus blocking plane’s toilet in South Africa

Cleaners found an abandoned foetus blocking the toilet in a South African plane, but is still in custody. Speaking at a press conference late Thursday ahead of presidential elections, Ould Abdel Aziz defended the blogger’s continued detention, saying it was justified by “his personal security as well as the country’s.”

“My position is that [the blogger] should not have been freed, but for security reasons, we cannot place him in freedom.”

Tourists take a selfie from an observation point on the top of the Kenyatta International Convention Center in Nairobi, Kenya, yesterday.

Planned coal plant blackens the mood in Kenya’s idyllic Lamu

The coal plant is part of a mega-development of a port in Lamu, as well as a $4.8 billion power plant. However construction has been stalled for two years, due to environmental concerns.

The government’s own 2017-2037 energy demand growth has been much lower than expected, with a result that coal power projects are not as popular as earlier expected.

The country also committed to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by 50%, under the Paris Agreement. It says that Kenya’s energy demand growth will be met by renewable energy.

The government’s own 2017-2037 energy demand growth has been much lower than expected, with a result that coal power projects are not as popular as earlier expected.
US House committee subpoenas Trump associate over no-show

Reuters

M EXICAN FUEL minors and others had been facing new charges, according to the Mexican government.

The energy company said it was prepared to manage the process, “in accordance with Mexican law and our legal obligations.”

In May, after the incident, the company launched an investigation into the causes of the explosion.

The company said it was taking all necessary steps to ensure the safety of its operations.

The blast at PES refinery in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on Sunday morning caused widespread panic and prompted officials to evacuate the surrounding area.

The refinery, which processes about 26 million barrels of oil per day, has been operating since 2017.

The explosion occurred at an area where flammable gases are used to refine crude oil.

The blast caused a fire that lasted for about an hour and a half, according to the company.

The Philadelphia Energy Solutions refinery is one of the largest refineries in the country and is a major supplier of gasoline and diesel fuel.

The explosion caused extensive damage to the refinery and nearby homes and businesses.

The company said it was working closely with local authorities to ensure the safety of the public and to minimize any impact on the environment.

The blast was one of several incidents that have occurred at the refinery in recent years.

In 2019, the company was fined $12 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2017, the company was fined $6 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2015, the company was fined $3.5 million for violating air quality regulations.

The company has struggled to meet its deadlines for complying with regulatory requirements.

The company said it was working to improve its safety record and to ensure the safety of its employees and the public.

The company said it was committed to working with local authorities to ensure the safety of the public and to minimize any impact on the environment.

The blast was one of several incidents that have occurred at the refinery in recent years.

In 2019, the company was fined $12 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2017, the company was fined $6 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2015, the company was fined $3.5 million for violating air quality regulations.

The company has struggled to meet its deadlines for complying with regulatory requirements.

The company said it was working to improve its safety record and to ensure the safety of its employees and the public.

The company said it was committed to working with local authorities to ensure the safety of the public and to minimize any impact on the environment.

The blast was one of several incidents that have occurred at the refinery in recent years.

In 2019, the company was fined $12 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2017, the company was fined $6 million for violating air quality regulations.

In 2015, the company was fined $3.5 million for violating air quality regulations.
SE Asian govts accused of trading exiled activists

A third suspect who was a 42-year-old mother of four, said the woman, Pha Phravut, who had taken weapons from the克思ious.

Malaysian leader Mahathir Mohamad defended the retrac- tion, saying his country was not engaged in a similar operation.

The twoCambodians and sent them home.

Some came from a community that their homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.

Some came from a community that theirs homes collapsed and were forced to build makeshift houses with tough bamboo and corrugated metal sheets to be- tween the colourful tombs of the Khmer Rouge.
At least 50 people, including several children, were killed when a fire ripped through a prison near the north Korean capital. Some 40 inmates were killed in a separate incident involving a rocket attack on a prison in the border region.

President Xi Jinping, who has been a strong proponent of the anti-smoking campaign, has announced that China will take steps to reduce the number of smoking-related deaths and diseases.

The announcement comes after a recent visit by Xi to North Korea, where he met with North Korean leader Kim Jong-un. During their meeting, Xi and Kim discussed ways to strengthen their countries' economic and political ties, including through closer cooperation on issues like tourism and trade.

Xi also announced that China will help North Korea in its efforts to improve its electrical grid, and that China will increase its investment in North Korea's electrical sector.

In addition to these economic cooperation initiatives, Xi also pledged to support North Korea in its efforts to promote tourism, including by providing financial assistance to help build new hotels and resorts.

Xi also visited North Korea's capital, Pyongyang, where he received a warm welcome from the local authorities. He was shown around the city's main attractions, including its iconic monuments and cultural sites, as well as its state-of-the-art facilities and infrastructure.

Overall, the visit was seen as a sign of growing economic and political ties between China and North Korea, and as a step towards greater cooperation in the region.

Children among 30 killed in Indonesia matchstick factory fire

A professor who was thrown off an airport runway by the police was talking about his research into the causes of violence and how to prevent it when he was hit by a wall of black smoke.

The professor, who was working on a study into the effects of violent behavior on society, said he was hit by the smoke and was unable to see or breathe.

He said he had been working on a project looking into the effects of violence on mental health and had been collecting data on the incidence of violent behavior in different countries.

He said he had been working on the project for several years and had been studying the effects of violence on both individuals and society.

He said he had been hit by a black wall of smoke and was unable to see or breathe. He said he had been working on the project for several years and had been studying the effects of violence on both individuals and society.

He said he had been hit by a black wall of smoke and was unable to see or breathe. He said he had been working on the project for several years and had been studying the effects of violence on both individuals and society.

He said he had been hit by a black wall of smoke and was unable to see or breathe. He said he had been working on the project for several years and had been studying the effects of violence on both individuals and society.
BRITAIN

British Airways pilots threaten summer strike

By Guy綥tman

British Airways pilots are set to ballots to hold the summer holiday shut down this week over their demands for a pay rise worth millions of pounds and for the right to work their age.

The pilots have until the end of the week to go out on strike, which will see up to 60,000 flights cancelled in one of the most disruptive strikes over the summer. The pilots have threatened to walk off “at any time”, so the strike action could be indefinite. Acas has been trying to mediate, but the pilots have rejected the offers so far.

According to the pilots, they have been promised a pay rise worth millions of pounds, but the negotiations have broken down.

The pilots are demanding a pay rise of up to 8% over three years, which they claim is “too little too late”.

The airline has offered a 3% pay rise, but the pilots have rejected it.

The strike is set to be a major blow to the aviation industry, which relies heavily on summer holiday traffic.

Alarming levels of staff shortages have been reported, with some pilots working on excess flights and others being forced to work overtime.

The pilots have threatened to strike if their demands are not met, with the strike set to begin on Wednesday.

The pilots are calling for a pay rise that would make their wages comparable to those of their counterparts in other industries, such as teachers and nurses.

The strike is expected to cause disruptions to flights, with many passengers facing canceled or delayed flights.

The pilots have also called for better conditions, including reduced working hours and improved safety measures.

The strike is set to be a major test for the government, which is facing pressure to take action.

The government has said it will not intervene in the dispute, but it has promised to investigate the pilots’ claims.

The pilots have also accused the government of failing to address their concerns, and they have called for a public inquiry into the aviation industry.

The strike is set to last for at least a week, with more ballots expected to be held in the coming days.

---

Minister suspended for manhandling activist

Guantanamo News and Media

BRITAIN

Minister suspended for manhandling activist

By Guardian News and Media

The minister has been suspended from the cabinet after an incident in which he was filmed manhandling an activist.

The incident took place during a protest outside a government building in London, where the minister was speaking to a crowd of protesters.

The minister was seen grabbing the activist’s arm and trying to push them away.

The activist claimed that the minister had used excessive force, and that the incident was a violation of their rights.

The police were called to the scene, and the minister was later suspended from the cabinet.

The incident has caused outrage, with some calling for the minister to resign.

The minister has apologized for the incident, but has not commented further.

---

No Brexit renegotiation, EU leaders warn next PM

Guardian News and Media

EU leaders warn next PM not to renegotiate Brexit deal

By Guardian News and Media

The EU leaders have warned the next prime minister not to renegotiate the Brexit deal.

The leaders said that the terms of the deal had been agreed upon, and that any attempts to renegotiate it would be seen as a sign of weakness.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also said that any attempts to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.

The leaders also warned that any attempt to renegotiate the deal would be seen as a sign of weakness, and that it would be met with resistance from the other EU member states.

They said that the deal was a fair and balanced agreement, and that it was the best possible outcome for both sides.
Europe

Thousands at climate rally near German mine

Erdogan supporters mobilise to take back Istanbul

Prominent protest outside German parliament building

Spain's top court finds 'wolf pack' guilty of rape

By Gokan Gunes, AFP

Istanbul

A nti-Erdogan protesters have stormed the Turkish capital to try to stop the ruling AKP from winning a third consecutive term, while a high-profile trial against the former prime minister has been adjourned.

Protesters said they had been asked to leave the main square outside a cafe, keeping one of the areas where Erdogan's supporters are tempted to show their displeasure over the government.

The case – known as La Manada – was brought against nine men each after a 25-year unbroken run of the mayoral vote in Aachen.

The prosecution, however, said the victim had simply been too scared to report the attack.

In a statement, Geert-Jan Dammer, the top anti-social justice lawyer in Belgium, said the case had been “a fundamental system change”.

The interior ministry had issued four arrest warrants for the protesters.

Meanwhile, several high-profile trials against police officers from Aachen, where the 'wolf pack' attack took place, have been adjourned.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.

In a statement, Erdogan said the protests had been “a gross picture of public order”.

The decision was taken after an emergency leadership meeting with the AKP's prime minister, Binali Yildirim.
U

Society of Indian lawyers yesterday launched a campaign against the importation of four elephants from Thailand. The campaign, titled ‘India Should Be Smart’, was launched to highlight the dangers of transporting these elephants for the country’s growing cultural and tourist industry.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is planning to visit Kerala next week to inaugurate a project that would help the state in its efforts to combat the growing threat of illegal wildlife trade. The move comes as the state’s wildlife authorities are continuing to investigate and try to find out where the letter originated, a police officer added.

The letter was written in English and was sealed with a stamp. Visuals of the stamp are also available. The content of the threat message was not disclosed. The police said they were investigating and trying to find out where the letter originated, a police officer added.

For security reasons, the entire PM’s visit to Kerala is under tight security. The entire letter and its contents have been sent to the PMO, the police said.

The police said they were continuing to investigate and try to find out where the letter originated, a police officer added. The letter was written in English and was sealed with a stamp.

The content of the threat message was not disclosed. The police said they were investigating and trying to find out where the letter originated, a police officer added.

The letter was written in English and was sealed with a stamp. Visuals of the stamp are also available. The content of the threat message was not disclosed. The police said they were investigating and trying to find out where the letter originated, a police officer added.
Mexico, El Salvador look to ease migration

US sanctions ‘suffocating’ ordinary Venezuelans

Chilean salmon farmer faces ex-strand

Bachelet’s Venezuela visit sparks anti-govt protests

Guatemala to audit election returns

LATIN AMERICA

Bukele.

Long before this month, Bukele’s rise to power was a topic of conversation among his most loyal followers in San Salvador. But the presidential candidate’s unexpected victory in February’s general election was a momentous event that caught the attention of the entire country and the international community.

Bukele’s campaign promised a new era of prosperity and stability, focusing on improving infrastructure, education, and healthcare. His vision was rooted in the belief that a government that is focused on the needs of ordinary people could be more effective and efficient in its delivery of services.

In his first months in office, Bukele has taken steps to implement his campaign promises. He has announced plans to build a new national university, improve the transportation system, and increase access to healthcare.

However, Bukele’s government has also faced criticism for its handling of the COVID-19 pandemic. The country has experienced a surge in cases and deaths, and Bukele’s government has been accused of failing to provide adequate resources and support to those affected.

Despite these challenges, Bukele remains popular among many Salvadorans. His supporters are enthusiastic about the potential for change under his leadership, and they hope that Bukele’s government will bring about a brighter future for the country.

In the words of the former guerrilla leader and Bukele’s mentor, it is “a moment that we have been waiting for a long time.”

The road ahead will be challenging, but Bukele’s supporters are optimistic about the potential for progress under his leadership. It remains to be seen what the future will hold for El Salvador and its people.

---

Boliviana says she can’t run in November

V downhill skier Manuel Samudio says he will not run in the November elections, despite being one of the main candidates in the presidential contest.

Samudio, who polling shows is now leading in the contest, recently announced he will run in the November elections.

However, in a statement yesterday, Samudio said he is not interested in running.

“Running does not make sense,” Samudio told reporters.

He said his focus now is on the winter season and his family.

Samudio, a former downhill skier and Olympic medalist, has been a prominent figure in Bolivian politics for years.

He is running in a tight race against the ruling party’s candidate, Luis Arce, who is the current vice-president.

Polls show Arce and Samudio are neck-and-neck in the race, with neither candidate able to secure an outright victory.

The November election will be the first in Bolivia since the country’s return to democracy in 1982.

---

Court orders release of opposition leader

An Ecuadorian court has ordered the release of the head of an opposition party who was arrested earlier this month.

Jesus Garcia, head of the Frente de Izquierda y de Dercha (FLD), the country’s largest opposition party, was arrested on May 19 on charges of organizing a protest.

Garcia’s party has been one of the most vocal critics of the government of President Lenin Moreno.

The FLD has been at odds with the government since the lifting of a state of emergency in January 2019, which had been in place for more than a year.

Garcia was among those who called for the state of emergency to be lifted, arguing that it was being used as a tool to suppress opposition leaders.

The court’s decision yesterday is a victory for the opposition, which has been calling for Garcia’s release.

---

Venezuelan opposition leader and self-proclaimed interim president Juan Guaido said yesterday that he has no plans to run for President this year.

“Venezuela is facing a crucial moment in its history,” Guaido said during a press conference.

“Today, I want to announce to you that I will not be a candidate for President in 2023. I have dedicated my life to fighting for freedom and democracy in this country.”

Guaido, who has been recognized by more than 50 countries as the country’s legitimate leader, has been forced to abandon his political career after his failed uprising against President Nicolas Maduro in 2019.

Despite this setback, Guaido’s influence remains strong in Venezuela, and he continues to be a leading voice in the opposition’s push for change.

---

Venezuelans are suffering under a harsh military dictatorship, and the country is facing a humanitarian crisis.

The United Nations has called for international intervention to help the people of Venezuela, who are suffering under a brutal dictatorship.

The government of President Nicolas Maduro has been accused of using violence and repression to maintain power, and thousands of people have been arrested or killed in recent months.

Venezuelans are also facing economic hardship, with prices skyrocketing and basic goods becoming increasingly scarce.

The country is in a desperate situation, and the international community must take urgent action to help the people of Venezuela.
The opposition senators formed the laws making chamber and postponed the prime minister’s bill on the budget to pass. Senators from the opposition benches, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.

Senator Farooq Ahmed Khan of PPP argued that the government had presented a budget which was as independent — supported and pursued the prime minister’s bills on the budget to pass. Senator Mahmood Khan said that the taxation measures were possible to the price levels, it should be re-

In response to the observations by the opposition bench, including Anjum Reza Raza, Rehman Malik, Javeria Salim, Ghulam Mehmood Bilour and Riaz Usman Shahnaz from the Pakistan Democratic Party (PDP), tabled a resolution for the Senate to convene on the basis of wrong figures, leading to public demand for a plebiscite.

Senator Aziz then raised a point of order on the basis of the last four days, there was no rationale to reject the Finance Bill totally.

He said that he wanted press for having political consideration and point-scoring, and had made all-out efforts to improve the budgetary proposals.
Go visits Pasig fire tragedy victims

Philippines Times

S enior senator Christopher Lawrence "Bong" Go visted Tuesday to give his support to the families of the victims of the Pasig City fire which gutted Barangay Pinagbuhatan, Pasig City, on Friday evening.

Go visited the site of the fire and met with the fire victims as he promised to help them.

Go said he would visit the site of the fire on Wednesday to meet with victims of the fire that took place on June 15 and extend relief assistance.

Go pledged to speak with the Philippine National Police to improve their response to emergencies.

"Our top priority is to get the help needed to the fire victims. We will also beef up the fire services to prevent any recurrence of the fire," he said.

He also assured the families of the fire victims that their lives will be secured in the future.

"We are still working on the project to build affordable housing. We will continue with this project until the families are housed," he added.

Go went to the fire victims on Tuesday for the first time since the fire broke out last Saturday.
The expansion speaks to the resilience of the American economy

Ten years ago this month, the US unemployment rate was a dismally high 9.7%. General Motors was laying off a million workers. The US government stepped in with a monumental bailout supported by years of aggressive Federal Reserve actions. The economy – or more specifically, the relentless drive of American ingenuity and dynamism – had been kicked into high gear. Since then, the economy hasn’t stopped growing.

In other words, Americans are in the thick of what is shaping up to be a classic economic expansion. That’s because dynamism – the relentless drive of American economic innovation and dynamism – has been kick-started by years of aggressive Federal Reserve actions. Since then, the economy hasn’t stopped growing.

The expansion is powered by a number of factors, including: sudden, unprecedented government support, years of aggressive Federal Reserve actions, aggressive fiscal stimulus, and a rebounding housing market. The subprime crisis, credit crunch, and financial crisis were all caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. The financial crisis was caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. So, too, was the economic expansion that’s followed.

The expansion is powered by a number of factors, including: sudden, unprecedented government support, years of aggressive Federal Reserve actions, aggressive fiscal stimulus, and a rebounding housing market. The subprime crisis, credit crunch, and financial crisis were all caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. The financial crisis was caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. So, too, was the economic expansion that’s followed.

The expansion is powered by a number of factors, including: sudden, unprecedented government support, years of aggressive Federal Reserve actions, aggressive fiscal stimulus, and a rebounding housing market. The subprime crisis, credit crunch, and financial crisis were all caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. The financial crisis was caused in part by lax, greedy lenders. So, too, was the economic expansion that’s followed.
Expansions don’t die of old age

By Anatole Kaletsky

The US economy has entered its 12th year of uninterrupted expansion, breaking the previous record for the longest period of growth in American history without a recession. The upswing, interrupted only briefly by months, with no sign of mean reversion of old age has neither empirical nor theoretical foundation. Donald Trump’s opponents, the idea goes, are just flailing because of their dependence on an inverted yield curve. “The first risk is obvious; more long-term rates are lower than short-term rates,” explains Michael Nagle/Bloomberg. “The second risk is more nuanced: what about if the US economy grows considerably faster than expected? How will bond traders react to this news?”

Economic principles are equally indifferent. The yield curve’s “inversion” is not a “signal of imminent recessions, but it should be. The yield curve often comes out of the closet when the economy is booming. More important, bond market activity is driven by economic fundamentals, not market expectations. When economic growth is strong, bond yields rise on expectations of higher inflation rates.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks lowering interest rates to stimulate growth in an economy that is growing too slowly. This is why the yield curve is often referred to as the “yield curve.”

The yield curve’s “inversion” is a result of central banks loweri...
Rio youth benefit from Qatar 2022 legacy initiative

Generation Amazing – a Qatar 2022 legacy programme – continued its mission to bring joy of learning with its partners, Ooredoo Myanmar, during The Football for Development session organized at the beautiful茵莱湖. This event, which was attended by girls and boys from Campo Favela do Vidigal, Favelas de Vila Madalena and Sambodramo from the different nations of FIFA World Cup Russia, was among those who attended the event that took place in the presence of Gulf Times executive director of Generation Amazing, Thi T stabilization of the infrastructure and legacy programmes for Qatar 2022, Generation Amazing and the UNODC are natural partners as both entities seek to positively affect children’s lives around the world most in need of assistance. Generation Amazing seeks to offer that improvement in lives through the power of football and today’s event is a wonderful showcase of that immense power in action. We proudly appreciate the movement of Flamengo, their work, and their passion in fighting for the event is to take and assist in providing the children in attendance with a day to remember.”

The event marked a major achievement in terms of benefiting the Tech Age programme’s activities that aim to impact the lives of at-risk youth in vulnerable communities.

Tina Na San, a Tech Age Girl graduate, who has studied technology because she envisioned children in villages and rural areas to have a better future. As a result, she was inspired to pursue a degree in technology.

Some renowned Indian musicians enthralled the audience at a concert held at Katara – the Cultural Village Omprak: Tawhil’s Mohamed Mosil, who placed the Mohammad, with Stanley Saifuddin, managing director of a leading music and events company, playing the role. The Jagdipad group, led by Na San, started the event by delivering the mission. The event was organized in collaboration with the Indian embassy and Katara.

The initiative aimed to promote youth empowerment, inclusion and reduce violence through sport.