QNTC offers complete entertainment package

By Peter Alagos

Summer Entertainment City set to reopen on Aug 9 at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre

Amir concordes with President Trump

HIA advises online check-in, other steps to avoid Eid rush

Democrats target Trump rhetoric for the latest massacres

HIA advises online check-in, other steps to avoid Eid rush

First hoverboard Channel crossing

QNTC offers complete entertainment package

The Qatar National Tourism Council (QNTC) has played a key role in attracting almost 60,000 people to summer events and activities to people stay in the country during the summer break. The ‘Summer in Qatar’ (SiQ) programme, which offers different types of events and activities to people, has been a product of public and private sector collaboration between the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and Ministry of Municipality and Environment, Qatar Airways, Katara - the Cultural Village, Qatar Foundation, Private Engineering College, Offis, Katara Hospitality, Al Rayyan Hospitality, Marriott International in Doha, and other event partners, including QSports, Social Studios, Gallery, and Radio One FM.

On the SiQ’s reopening this coming Friday, Khater said he is optimistic that the observance of Eid al-Adha will attract the櫃 damage people to the ‘Summer Entertainment City’ (SEC), powered by social media strategy to deliver a new strategy to diversify Qatar’s tourism market during the summer season, an official of QSports said.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Finance has sent cables of condolences to President Trump, wishing for him a speedy recovery. The Ministry of Islamic Affairs also sent cables of condolences to US President Donald Trump.

The swift process vastly improves the passengers’ journey more seamless with real-time information on departure; and a further advantage is that passengers are not left in queues, as they can check in online, arrive three hours prior to flight and use e-gates (if registered) to avoid queues and “continue enjoying comfortable and seamless travel through HIA.

Electron devices larger than mobile phones need to be removed from bags and placed in trays for X-ray scanning. Small vehicles powered by lithium batteries, such as hoverboards, are also advised to unmanned traveling with pets due to the holiday peak time. For the convenience and safety of passengers returning from Eid and summer holidays during the busy peak period, access to the arrival and departure facilities will be restricted to authorized vehicle only. Customers are advised to check the list of vehicles permitted to enter the car park facility during these periods. It is worth noting that HIA has reported serving a total of 9.3 million passengers in the second quarter of 2019, making it the busiest second quarter in its history.

HIA advises passengers departing from HIA, are advised to download the ‘HIAgates’ mobile app available for both Android and iPhone for updates and to avoid making the passengers’ journey more seamless with real-time information on departure; and a further advantage is that passengers are not left in queues, as they can check in online, arrive three hours prior to flight and use e-gates (if registered) to avoid queues and “continue enjoying comfortable and seamless travel through HIA.

Electron devices larger than mobile phones need to be removed from bags and placed in trays for X-ray scanning. Small vehicles powered by lithium batteries, such as hoverboards, are also advised to unmanned traveling with pets due to the holiday peak time. For the convenience and safety of passengers returning from Eid and summer holidays during the busy peak period, access to the arrival and departure facilities will be restricted to authorized vehicle only. Customers are advised to check the list of vehicles permitted to enter the car park facility during these periods. It is worth noting that HIA has reported serving a total of 9.3 million passengers in the second quarter of 2019, making it the busiest second quarter in its history. The El Paso shooting reverberated across the country, a gunman killed 20 people at a Walmart store yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

Democrats target Trump rhetoric for the latest massacres

Two mass shootings that killed 50 people in Texas and Ohio reverberated across the United States’ political arena yesterday as Democrats, communist presidential candidates called for stricter gun laws and accused President Trump of trivializing social issues.

Republicans were also blamed for failing to act and early yesterday in shootings within 2-3 hours of each other in two states that shocked a country that has been traditionally inclined to arm itself. Republicans were quick to blame gun control advocates and said the attack was committed by a 20-year-old man.

President Trump was indirectly to blame. The 11 Fire shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The El Paso shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The US flag is seen at half-mast yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

A woman cries under a sign for the victims of the mass shooting that occurred at the Levitt Pavilion in Dayton, Ohio.

First hoverboard Channel crossing

HIA advises online check-in, other steps to avoid Eid rush

QNTC offers complete entertainment package

The Qatar National Tourism Council (QNTC) has played a key role in attracting almost 60,000 people to summer events and activities to people stay in the country during the summer break. The ‘Summer in Qatar’ (SiQ) programme, which offers different types of events and activities to people, has been a product of public and private sector collaboration between the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and Ministry of Municipality and Environment, Qatar Airways, Katara - the Cultural Village, Qatar Foundation, Private Engineering College, Offis, Katara Hospitality, Al Rayyan Hospitality, Marriott International in Doha, and other event partners, including QSports, Social Studios, Gallery, and Radio One FM.

On the SiQ’s reopening this coming Friday, Khater said he is optimistic that the observance of Eid al-Adha will attract the ‘Summer Entertainment City’ (SEC), powered by social media strategy to deliver a new strategy to diversify Qatar’s tourism market during the summer season, an official of QSports said.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Finance has sent cables of condolences to President Trump, wishing for him a speedy recovery. The Ministry of Islamic Affairs also sent cables of condolences to US President Donald Trump.

The swift process vastly improves the passengers’ journey more seamless with real-time information on departure; and a further advantage is that passengers are not left in queues, as they can check in online, arrive three hours prior to flight and use e-gates (if registered) to avoid queues and “continue enjoying comfortable and seamless travel through HIA.

Electron devices larger than mobile phones need to be removed from bags and placed in trays for X-ray scanning. Small vehicles powered by lithium batteries, such as hoverboards, are also advised to unmanned traveling with pets due to the holiday peak time. For the convenience and safety of passengers returning from Eid and summer holidays during the busy peak period, access to the arrival and departure facilities will be restricted to authorized vehicle only. Customers are advised to check the list of vehicles permitted to enter the car park facility during these periods. It is worth noting that HIA has reported serving a total of 9.3 million passengers in the second quarter of 2019, making it the busiest second quarter in its history. The El Paso shooting reverberated across the country, a gunman killed 20 people at a Walmart store yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

Democrats target Trump rhetoric for the latest massacres

Two mass shootings that killed 50 people in Texas and Ohio reverberated across the United States’ political arena yesterday as Democrats, communist presidential candidates called for stricter gun laws and accused President Trump of trivializing social issues.

Republicans were also blamed for failing to act and early yesterday in shootings within 2-3 hours of each other in two states that shocked a country that has been traditionally inclined to arm itself. Republicans were quick to blame gun control advocates and said the attack was committed by a 20-year-old man.

President Trump was indirectly to blame. The 11 Fire shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The El Paso shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The US flag is seen at half-mast yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

A woman cries under a sign for the victims of the mass shooting that occurred at the Levitt Pavilion in Dayton, Ohio.

First hoverboard Channel crossing

HIA advises online check-in, other steps to avoid Eid rush

QNTC offers complete entertainment package

The Qatar National Tourism Council (QNTC) has played a key role in attracting almost 60,000 people to summer events and activities to people stay in the country during the summer break. The ‘Summer in Qatar’ (SiQ) programme, which offers different types of events and activities to people, has been a product of public and private sector collaboration between the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and Ministry of Municipality and Environment, Qatar Airways, Katara - the Cultural Village, Qatar Foundation, Private Engineering College, Offis, Katara Hospitality, Al Rayyan Hospitality, Marriott International in Doha, and other event partners, including QSports, Social Studios, Gallery, and Radio One FM.

On the SiQ’s reopening this coming Friday, Khater said he is optimistic that the observance of Eid al-Adha will attract the ‘Summer Entertainment City’ (SEC), powered by social media strategy to deliver a new strategy to diversify Qatar’s tourism market during the summer season, an official of QSports said.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Finance has sent cables of condolences to President Trump, wishing for him a speedy recovery. The Ministry of Islamic Affairs also sent cables of condolences to US President Donald Trump.

The swift process vastly improves the passengers’ journey more seamless with real-time information on departure; and a further advantage is that passengers are not left in queues, as they can check in online, arrive three hours prior to flight and use e-gates (if registered) to avoid queues and “continue enjoying comfortable and seamless travel through HIA.

Electron devices larger than mobile phones need to be removed from bags and placed in trays for X-ray scanning. Small vehicles powered by lithium batteries, such as hoverboards, are also advised to unmanned traveling with pets due to the holiday peak time. For the convenience and safety of passengers returning from Eid and summer holidays during the busy peak period, access to the arrival and departure facilities will be restricted to authorized vehicle only. Customers are advised to check the list of vehicles permitted to enter the car park facility during these periods. It is worth noting that HIA has reported serving a total of 9.3 million passengers in the second quarter of 2019, making it the busiest second quarter in its history. The El Paso shooting reverberated across the country, a gunman killed 20 people at a Walmart store yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

Democrats target Trump rhetoric for the latest massacres

Two mass shootings that killed 50 people in Texas and Ohio reverberated across the United States’ political arena yesterday as Democrats, communist presidential candidates called for stricter gun laws and accused President Trump of trivializing social issues.

Republicans were also blamed for failing to act and early yesterday in shootings within 2-3 hours of each other in two states that shocked a country that has been traditionally inclined to arm itself. Republicans were quick to blame gun control advocates and said the attack was committed by a 20-year-old man.

President Trump was indirectly to blame. The 11 Fire shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The El Paso shooting reverberated across the campaign trail for most past years’ presidential candidates, as two triggers set off a chain of events, leaving 11 people dead and 9 others injured. The attack was killed by police.

The US flag is seen at half-mast yesterday, near the site of a mass shooting where 20 people lost their lives at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas.

A woman cries under a sign for the victims of the mass shooting that occurred at the Levitt Pavilion in Dayton, Ohio.
Qatar professionals discuss challenges of living abroad

Qataris Harmony: The 8th round of talks in Doha

QRCS ‘Little Hearts’ project in Bangladesh concludes

QRCS’s ‘Little Hearts’ project in Bangladesh concludes

Al Jadhaf Group supports Dreama with QR50,000

Roaming with Qataris Packs, Ooredoo Passport now available in Lebanon

FM sends messages to 5 African minister

Qataris in HK urged to avoid demo areas

US-Taliban peace process continues in Doha

The Health Control Section of Al-Shaabany Municipality has announced that its popular Qa-

Municipality has chalked out a plan to ensure availability of veterinarians at the mobile veterinary clinic. According to the MME, the mobile veterinary clinic will continue in Doha to provide veterinary services to the residents of the city. The clinic will be activated once roaming charges have been paid. Customers can sign up for the service through Ooredoo shop or via the Ooredoo app.
Andra Sports Motors launches special offer on Alfa Romeo models

Alfa Romeo Sports Motors has announced a special offer on Alfa Romeo models for Qatar residents. The offer includes discounts on various models available in Qatar. Customers can choose from a range of Alfa Romeo models, including Giulia, Stelvio, and Giulietta, among others. The offer is available until the end of August 2019.

The official launch of the new showroom of Eclipse Car Protection and Trading took place in the presence of Dr. Nils Plambeck, dean & vice president of HEC Paris in Qatar. The showroom is located in the Medina Centrale area of Qatar. The showroom features a wide range of car protection products, including window tinting, vehicle wrapping, and car detailing.

Qatar welcomes signing of Sudanesan pact

Qatar has welcomed the signing of the Sudanesan pact, which aims to achieve peace and stability in Sudan. The agreement was signed in Addis Ababa by Sudanese officials and representatives of the Sudan Liberation Army and the Justice and Equality Movement. The pact is expected to end the conflict between the government and the rebels, which has been ongoing for more than 25 years. The deal includes provisions for the disarmament of the rebels, the release of political prisoners, and the establishment of a constitutional committee.

Partial traffic shift on Al Wakrah road

The Public Works Authority (Ashghal) has announced a partial traffic shift on Al Wakrah road due to the construction of a new road. The shift will be in place from August 5 to August 7. Ashghal has requested that all road users observe the traffic signs and road markings to ensure safety.
Sudan generals, protesters sign deal on civilian rule

Under a deal signed yesterday by the military council and protest leaders, a joint civilian-military ruling body will be formed. The agreement builds on a July 17 power-sharing deal between the generals and protest leaders. Protest leaders are to announce the new civilian-majority ruling council, which will have the power to appoint a prime minister and the premier, to be confirmed by the sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.

Under the agreement, signed at a ceremony attended by African Union and Ethiopian mediators, in the hall as representatives from the leaders of mass protests, which ousted him in April. The next day, the generals and protest leaders yesterday confirmed by the new sovereign council.

The deal with the protest leaders is to take place under the auspices of the United Nations and the AU, the AU and the new sovereign council.
A former Nigerian presidential candidate and director of an anti-terrorist online news site criticized the government for its handling of the situation.

Omoyele Sowore, one of the opposition candidates in February’s presidential elections, said the DSS arrested him yesterday in Abuja with a reference to “revolution.”

He called on Twitter for a march today “to demand of the government has been arrested...”

Some groups now use the weapons, which are popularised by insurgents in Iraq and Afghanistan, hostage taking, and car bombings.

In his Friday tweet he wrote: “All that is needed for a revolution is the right time. This is the time. The right time. The right time. #Revolution.”

Security services were at his home, but made no further comment.

United Nations Peacekeeping Mission in the Central African Republic: UN experts said in a new report that “peace deal between the Central African Republic government and armed groups” is “frail.”

The report was sceptical, too, of the “peace deal” between the government and armed groups, agreed on February 6 in the Sudanese capital Khartoum.

The deal, between the government and 14 armed groups, was signed afteruprising waged by a main rebel alliance called the “Seleka,” had maintained their positions and surrendered some of their territory since the report added.

The leaders of the former rebels group saw this deployment as a way of making official the positioning of their fighters along the key transport routes and other key areas, as the Insurgent leader had claimed the territory, the report noted.

Meanwhile, some of the previous five deals signed since the country’s crisis started in 2012 had “failed.”

The country spiralled into bloodshed after Bozize was overthrown in 2013 by somealtogether 10 and 70 violations of the peace deal, every week, then added. The deal, between the government and 14 armed groups, was signed on February 6 in the Buddismo of Capital of the Seleka, had maintained their positions and surrendered some of their territory since the report added.

The leaders of the former rebels group saw this deployment as a way of making official the positioning of their fighters along the key transport routes and other key areas, as the Insurgent leader had claimed the territory, the report noted.

Meanwhile, some of the previous five deals signed since the country’s crisis started in 2012 had “failed.”

The country spiralled into bloodshed after Bozize was overthrown in 2013 by somealtogether 10 and 70 violations of the peace deal, every week, then added. The deal, between the government and 14 armed groups, was signed on February 6 in the Buddismo of Capital of the Seleka, had maintained their positions and surrendered some of their territory since the report added.

The leaders of the former rebels group saw this deployment as a way of making official the positioning of their fighters along the key transport routes and other key areas, as the Insurgent leader had claimed the territory, the report noted.

Central Africa peace deal still fragile: UN

2 South Africans killed in Tanzania plane crash

A light-plane crashed on Saturday in western Tanzania, killing two South African visitors who had been involved in last month’s successful attempt to fly a home-built aircraft from South Africa to the US.

The crashed single-engine plane, which carried five passengers and was en route to Mgahimba, made a dramatic emergency landing after losing altitude and appearing to stall, according to the Tanzania Civil Aviation Authority (TCAA).

“The plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

An official of the Tanzania’s National Police, Simon Mwafupa, confirmed four people died in the crash. He said the Tanzania national airline involved the light aircraft for the first time.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

The TCAA said the plane was destroyed by fire after it crashed. The pilot and passenger, both South African citizens, were killed. The four others were rescued,” the TCAA said.

The plane, which also carried a Tanzanian police officer and a passenger, is identified as a twin-engine fixed-wing aircraft.

A former Nigerian presidential candidate and director of an anti-terrorist online news site criticized the government for its handling of the situation.

Omoyele Sowore, one of the opposition candidates in February’s presidential elections, said the DSS arrested him yesterday in Abuja with a reference to “revolution.”

He called on Twitter for a march today “to demand of the government has been arrested...”

Some groups now use the weapons, which are popularised by insurgents in Iraq and Afghanistan, hostage taking, and car bombings.

In his Friday tweet he wrote: “All that is needed for a revolution is the right time. This is the time. The right time. The right time. #Revolution.”

Security experts who met in the Tanzania capital last week urged African nations to “strive to combat IED threat.”

African nations, Western partners strive to combat IED threat

A U.S.-trained Kenyan bomb disposal technician is a field leader in a team of experts responding to attacks by insurgents in Tanzania.

An international team of experts is working on complex targeting civilians, including in January when a suicide bomber and guerrillas from Somalia-based Shabaab attacked an office and hotel complex in Nairobi, killing 21 people.

Training for Africa’s police and military forces on improvised explosive devices (IEDs) and ways to avoid and defuse IEDs.

The amount of cooperation between security agencies across in Africa, said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

He said it was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

ifo was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

ifo was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

ifo was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

ifo was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.

ifo was a very nascent concept to identify how it works.

“Many of the tactics and techniques used in Iraq and Afghanistan are constantly evolving and these are the militaries groups who use them. It would be surprising to find that they are using the same techniques as before,” said Michael Soja, who helps lead counter-IED programmes at the UN Africa Command.
Back to the wild: how 'ungardening' took root in America

Nichols started his "rewilded" garden in Takoma Park, Maryland.

R eported online, he wrote on Twitter: "Looking beyond relatively affluent suburbs, I saw that reviving old gardening practices in the inner cities is possible."

Another 2018 paper in The Journal of Nutrition, Health and Aging showed that nature-based therapy improved mental health and quality of life in older adults, even those with dementia.

But many cities have limited public green space, which could be a barrier to implementation of these policies.

However, some communities have found success in bringing nature into urban areas through innovative programs and policies.

For example, in Chicago, the Park District has implemented a "Green City, Green Streets" initiative that aims to incorporate more green space into the city's streetscape.

In Portland, Oregon, the city has implemented a "Green Roof" program that incentivizes building owners to install green roofs, which provide benefits such as reduced heat island effect and improved water quality.

These initiatives demonstrate that it is possible to bring nature into urban environments to improve public health and well-being.

The future of urban nature is bright, but it will require ongoing efforts to overcome obstacles and overcome resistance to change.

But the benefits of urban nature are clear, and it is up to us to work towards creating more opportunities for people to connect with nature in their daily lives.

It is up to us to create more opportunities for people to connect with nature in their daily lives.
Floods claim 108 lives in Bangladesh

The total number of dengue patients admitted to Dhaka hospitals was 25,050 in June. A total of 8,257 patients were admitted in June as against 24,606 in May, according to the Department of Insect Control at the Dhaka University. On August 1, the highest number of dengue patients in a day was recorded at 1,522. The number of patients tapered again after a day over the 1,500 mark. Most of the dengue cases were reported in the capital, as the national budget, unveiled last month, was not enough to compensate for higher production costs in the country.

Nepal PM leaves for Singapore for health check-up

On June 20, over 1,000 garment factories in the country were shut down, in line with the requirements of an industrial safety, and 400 factories have been turned from taking international orders, the industrial body's president said yesterday. The plan for the first phase is to be made public on Monday. It has been up by European factories. Workers were set up by European factories. Workers then crowded the factory gates and, in a decision on January 2016, that the factory was going to be converted into a garment factory complex on their own.

Exiled Thai critic attacked with chemicals in Japan

A Thai anti-government protest leader who has fled to South Korea has been hit by fireworks and chemicals at his home in Bangkok.

Bangladesh flood situation is now improving

The country has experienced seasonal flooding in the past, with rivers that feed into the Bay of Bengal. The floods are expected to remain elevated in the coming days, with some areas in the country experiencing severe flooding.

Floods trigger by heavy seasonal rain and on several rivers in the area have claimed at least 108 lives in Bangladesh, the deadliest flood in the country's history, according to the country's National Disaster Response Coordination Centre (NRCC).

The NRCC said that the floods had affected 108 people in 18 districts and widespread flooding had caused roads and highways to be blocked. Flooding continued for months in the country, reaching its peak in August.

Floodwaters triggered by heavy seasonal rain and on several rivers in the area have claimed at least 108 lives in Bangladesh, the deadliest flood in the country's history, according to the country's National Disaster Response Coordination Centre (NRCC).

The NRCC said that the floods had affected 108 people in 18 districts and widespread flooding had caused roads and highways to be blocked. Flooding continued for months in the country, reaching its peak in August.

Floodwaters triggered by heavy seasonal rain and on several rivers in the area have claimed at least 108 lives in Bangladesh, the deadliest flood in the country's history, according to the country's National Disaster Response Coordination Centre (NRCC).

The NRCC said that the floods had affected 108 people in 18 districts and widespread flooding had caused roads and highways to be blocked. Flooding continued for months in the country, reaching its peak in August.

Floodwaters triggered by heavy seasonal rain and on several rivers in the area have claimed at least 108 lives in Bangladesh, the deadliest flood in the country's history, according to the country's National Disaster Response Coordination Centre (NRCC).

The NRCC said that the floods had affected 108 people in 18 districts and widespread flooding had caused roads and highways to be blocked. Flooding continued for months in the country, reaching its peak in August.

Floodwaters triggered by heavy seasonal rain and on several rivers in the area have claimed at least 108 lives in Bangladesh, the deadliest flood in the country's history, according to the country's National Disaster Response Coordination Centre (NRCC).

The NRCC said that the floods had affected 108 people in 18 districts and widespread flooding had caused roads and highways to be blocked. Flooding continued for months in the country, reaching its peak in August.
Power restored to most areas in Indonesia capital, parts of Java

A power outage that left millions of people in the Indonesian capital of Jakarta and parts of Java without electricity for nearly 24 hours has ended.

The outage, which began on Wednesday afternoon, affected the city's home-grown martial arts capital, shopping malls including Times Square, and the sprawling cityscape.

At a news conference earlier yesterday, Calypso said it would take a more active role in organizing protests and bringing attention to the issues at stake.

"The police have been blocking roads and setting up roadblocks in the city's shopping districts," Calypso said. "They have also fired tear gas into the crowds."
Edinburgh fest performers refuse stereotyping payments to Brexit

Prime minister unveils £1.8bn funding for NHS hospitals

Labour slumps after losing third place to Brexit

UK care spending ‘among worst in western Europe’
Patel criticised over wish for criminals to ‘feel terror’

Victims’ commission to minister to abused women as attacker freed

Safety fears for dam persist as thunderstorms forecast

11m homes to benefit from energy price cap

Travel chaos looms as Heathrow staff to strike

She said: “He left me for dead. He left me unattended and he was granted early release. He was given a three-year sentence – that sentence is two years too short. It was a shock to me and I am afraid for other women.”

The weather forecast forced police to seize the device and the threat of terror over the damaged dam continued.

After a command team met at Toddbrook Reservoir yesterday morning, Derbyshire police said a decision was taken due to emergency services working the ‘prescribed procedures’.

The force added: “While there was an urgent need over the past 24 hours to allow residents back into our area, our first priority is to ensure the safety and protection of our emergency services personnel.”

Barrister Tessa Price, who represented the two men, said the security measures were the result of “irrational fear”.

The Lower Manhattan Central Command, which manages areas of heavy crime, has said residents should be allowed to return to normal activities.

For a start, some people have had to return to their homes, and have had to leave again.

According to thousands of residents who have had to leave their homes in recent weeks, the threat of flooding has been a constant concern.

The weather forecast has forced police to seize the device and the threat of terror over the damaged dam continued.

After a command team met at Toddbrook Reservoir yesterday morning, Derbyshire police said a decision was taken due to emergency services working the ‘prescribed procedures’.

The force added: “While there was an urgent need over the past 24 hours to allow residents back into our area, our first priority is to ensure the safety and protection of our emergency services personnel.”

Barrister Tessa Price, who represented the two men, said the security measures were the result of “irrational fear”.

The Lower Manhattan Central Command, which manages areas of heavy crime, has said residents should be allowed to return to normal activities.

For a start, some people have had to return to their homes, and have had to leave again.

According to thousands of residents who have had to leave their homes in recent weeks, the threat of flooding has been a constant concern.

The weather forecast has forced police to seize the device and the threat of terror over the damaged dam continued. After a command team met at Toddbrook Reservoir yesterday morning, Derbyshire police said a decision was taken due to emergency services working the ‘prescribed procedures’.

The force added: “While there was an urgent need over the past 24 hours to allow residents back into our area, our first priority is to ensure the safety and protection of our emergency services personnel.”

Barrister Tessa Price, who represented the two men, said the security measures were the result of “irrational fear”.

The Lower Manhattan Central Command, which manages areas of heavy crime, has said residents should be allowed to return to normal activities.
Flyboarding, Frenchman zooms across the Channel

By Zoé Leroy and Dylan Thomas, AFP

A Frenchman who set out to flyboard across the English Channel today said he had completed his dream.

Franky Zapata, a Jet-Propelled Inventor, Opens Sky-Dancing Skill

The 45-year-old former soldier used an “autogyro” - a hovering jet ski - to cross the Channel yesterday, fulfilling his quest to make a crossing of the Channel in front of the President of France.

He said he had crossed from Sangatte in France to Sangatte in England, using the hoverboard in the sea at 240 km/h.

Zapata said yesterday: “I've finished the crossing of the Channel by plane. I was on the left, but friend and former comrade, and sail Francisco, was on the side of Sangatte. He stayed in second place to give the first place to me last week, and then I gave it to him.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

‘Climate camps’ train activists in protest

By Beatrice Roman-Assay, AFP

Interruption of activities, a reflex from a generation of climate activists since 2006. New: short filings, a step before the court. The climate activists have been blocking the French coast for the past three days.

Zapata said: “I couldn't look at myself in the mirror if I didn't act. I don't have to act, ‘I said yesterday.

Zapata's crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.

Zapata's crossing, which was bigger, with a larger landing area, was on July 25, and coincided with the 150th anniversary of the crossing of the Channel by plane. Zapata had been training for around 10 months for the challenge.

His crossing was from the French port of Sangatte to the English port of Sangatte, with a large landing area.
Russian opposition plans new rally despite arrests

Migrants on German NGO ship allowed to disembark in Malta

France, Germany condemn Moscow protest crackdown
UN MANDATE

The Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO) yesterday took to Twitter to release the first set of Earth photos sent by Chandrayaan-2 as it enters the lunar sphere. The photos were taken on September 7.

The ISRO released five photos, which were captured by Chandrayaan-2’s LI4 camera installed in the rover Pragyan (27kg, two payloads) and GSLV Mk III (1,471kg, four payloads) and were captured by Twitter to share the first pictures of Earth captured by the LI4 camera installed in Pragyan for the Chandrayaan-2 mission. The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine to raise the orbit to 111.5 by 217 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.

The spacecraft comprises the fifth orbit raising manoeuvre, which was successfully carried out by firing the onboard engine. The fifth orbit raising manoeuvre was carried out to increase the periapsis of the orbit from 88 km to 111 km.
Bike ambulances helped 650 patients since Feb: AAP govt

Bike ambulances ‘running in red’, in first year of service in east Delhi, are helping 650 patients since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.

The bikes are ambulances, 380 of which run in east Delhi and 270 in south Delhi.

The bike ambulances run in east Delhi since February, data provided by officials to IANS, reveals they have helped 650 patients since February.

The bike ambulances were launched in the last year, and currently, they are providing medical assistance in traffic congested areas and small lanes.
Moriales campaigns

Bolsonaro pledges to fight ‘illegal deforestation’

Brazil

Brazil's President Jair Bolsonaro said he wants to criminalize illegal deforestation in the country.

"We cannot accept that there is an illegal deforestation," Bolsonaro said. "We are grateful that the court confirmed the appointments." The president also vowed to combat illegal deforestation, which Brazil has ruled, dealing a blow to Venezuela's congress chief, after a US court ordered the removal of Venezuela's congress chief, after a US court ordered the removal of Venezuela's congress chief.

Maduro’s supporters and opponents both revealed that the DIFVDRU data, which showed a steady increase in deforestation, would be used as evidence to challenge the decision.

Ross to attend Penn Summit: US

Washington, DC

President Donald Trump is set to attend the annual Penn Summit, a conference on issues ranging from economics to foreign policy, in Philadelphia later this week.

In a statement, the president said he would attend the summit "to discuss the policies that are driving the economic growth and prosperity of the United States and the world." He also said he would participate in a "roundtable discussion on how we can work together to address the challenges facing our nation and our world, including issues such as trade, immigration, and terrorism." The meeting will be held at the University of Pennsylvania's Center for Global Communication Studies.

"I am honored to have been invited to the Penn Summit," the president said in his statement. "This is a great opportunity to discuss the important issues that affect our nation and the world. I look forward to sharing my thoughts and ideas with the other leaders and representatives who will be attending this event." The summit is expected to bring together leaders from around the world to discuss the challenges facing the world today.

The summit is set to take place from July 27 to 29. During the event, participants will have the opportunity to participate in panel discussions, keynote addresses, and networking events.

Mexico probes shooting of Honduran migrant

Mexico City

Mexican authorities have opened an investigation into the shooting of a Honduran migrant in the country.

According to the investigation, around 3,000 people were evacuated in central Mexico due to a gas leak caused by thieves siphoning gas from a pipeline. The pipeline, which is owned by Mexico's national oil company, had been under construction for several years.

Gas pipe thieves spark leak, force evacuation

Mexico City

Gas thieves have caused a leak in a pipeline in Mexico, forcing authorities to evacuate around 3,000 people from the area.

According to the authorities, the thieves had siphoned gas from a pipeline that is owned by Mexico's national oil company. The pipeline was under construction for several years, but the authorities had not been able to stop the thieves.

Fugitive German cocaine kingpin arrested on Caribbean Sea

Colombia

Colombian authorities have arrested a fugitive German cocaine kingpin on the Caribbean Sea near Panama.

The man, who was in the Colombian city of Cartagena, was arrested by Colombian authorities after being on the run for several years. The German authorities had been trying to catch the man, who is wanted for his involvement in the drug trade.

4.5 tonnes cocaine seized from boat in Caribbean Sea

Colombia

Colombian authorities have seized 4.5 tonnes of cocaine from a boat in the Caribbean Sea.

The cocaine was found in a small boat that was captured by Colombian authorities on Wednesday. The boat was carrying the cocaine, which was discovered during a search of the vessel.

Colombia cocoa cultivation drops slightly, says UN

Bolivia

The UN's Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) has released its annual report on global cocoa production, which shows a slight decrease in the amount of cocoa produced last year.

According to the report, global cocoa production dropped by 1.5% in 2018, compared to the previous year. The report states that the decrease was driven by a decline in production in West Africa and a slight increase in production in East Asia.

"The global cocoa market remains relatively stable, with production and consumption balanced," the report states. "However, the decline in production in West Africa is of concern, as it could affect supplies in the coming years."
Pakistan calls for Trump mediation on Kashmir

The Pakistan government has called for US President Donald Trump to mediate between Pakistan and India to resolve the Kashmir dispute, a top official in the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party said on Saturday.

“Pakistan will work to bring Donald Trump to help resolve the Kashmir issue,” PTI Senator Shibli Faraz told Reuters.

Faraz, a member of Prime Minister Imran Khan’s cabinet, said the United States is an important ally for Pakistan, and that Trump has sought to reach out to leaders across the region.

The call for US mediation comes amid a recent spike in tensions between Pakistan and India, with both countries accusing each other of shelling across their de facto border in the disputed region of Kashmir.

On Friday, Pakistan said it had evidence that India had used cruise missiles in the area, a statement that was strongly denied by New Delhi.

“Now it is the time for the US administration to look into the matter and call on India to stop the shelling and open the dialogue channels,” Faraz said.

India and Pakistan started a military stand-off at the India-Pakistan border on August 5, when New Delhi revoked the special status of the Himalayan region of Jammu and Kashmir.

Faraz said he hoped that Trump, who has a good relationship with Khan, would be able to mediate between the two countries.

“Khan and Trump share a personal relationship due to their past studies together,” Faraz said.

Khan met with Trump at the United Nations in New York on September 25.

A US delegation due to arrive for Afghan talks

Washington (Reuters) - A US delegation will arrive in Kabul on Monday, the US embassy in Kabul said, as part of efforts to mediate a US-Taliban peace deal.

The visit comes as the US and Taliban are holding talks in Indonesia to try to reach a deal that could end the 18-year war in Afghanistan.

The US delegation will be led by Special Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan Ambassador Richard Olson and will include officials from the Departments of State and Defense.

The US government has said it wants to reach a peace deal with the Taliban to bring American troops home from Afghanistan.

US officials said the visit will focus on the ongoing Afghan peace process, which has been ongoing for years.

Pakistan calls for Trump mediation on Kashmir

The Pakistan government has called for US President Donald Trump to mediate between Pakistan and India to resolve the Kashmir dispute, a top official in the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party said on Saturday.

“Pakistan will work to bring Donald Trump to help resolve the Kashmir issue,” PTI Senator Shibli Faraz told Reuters.

The call for US mediation comes amid a recent spike in tensions between Pakistan and India, with both countries accusing each other of shelling across their de facto border in the disputed region of Kashmir.

On Friday, Pakistan said it had evidence that India had used cruise missiles in the area, a statement that was strongly denied by New Delhi.

“Now it is the time for the US administration to look into the matter and call on India to stop the shelling and open the dialogue channels,” Faraz said.

India and Pakistan started a military stand-off at the India-Pakistan border on August 5, when New Delhi revoked the special status of the Himalayan region of Jammu and Kashmir.

Faraz said he hoped that Trump, who has a good relationship with Khan, would be able to mediate between the two countries.

“Khan and Trump share a personal relationship due to their past studies together,” Faraz said.

Khan met with Trump at the United Nations in New York on September 25.

A US delegation will arrive in Kabul on Monday, the US embassy in Kabul said, as part of efforts to mediate a US-Taliban peace deal.

The visit comes as the US and Taliban are holding talks in Indonesia to try to reach a deal that could end the 18-year war in Afghanistan.

The US delegation will be led by Special Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan Ambassador Richard Olson and will include officials from the Departments of State and Defense.

The US government has said it wants to reach a peace deal with the Taliban to bring American troops home from Afghanistan.

US officials said the visit will focus on the ongoing Afghan peace process, which has been ongoing for years.

Albert for Pakistan villagers said aid located with India

The United Nations has called on Pakistan to provide emergency relief to villagers in Pakistan who are affected by shelling from India.

“The UN has been calling for immediate access for humanitarian agencies to reach those affected by the shelling,” said a spokesperson for the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.

The shelling has killed at least 26 people and wounded hundreds in the Indian-controlled part of Kashmir.

The UN has been urging all parties to stop the shelling and allow humanitarian aid to flow.

Pakistan calls for Trump mediation on Kashmir

The Pakistan government has called for US President Donald Trump to mediate between Pakistan and India to resolve the Kashmir dispute, a top official in the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party said on Saturday.

“Pakistan will work to bring Donald Trump to help resolve the Kashmir issue,” PTI Senator Shibli Faraz told Reuters.

The call for US mediation comes amid a recent spike in tensions between Pakistan and India, with both countries accusing each other of shelling across their de facto border in the disputed region of Kashmir.

On Friday, Pakistan said it had evidence that India had used cruise missiles in the area, a statement that was strongly denied by New Delhi.

“Now it is the time for the US administration to look into the matter and call on India to stop the shelling and open the dialogue channels,” Faraz said.

India and Pakistan started a military stand-off at the India-Pakistan border on August 5, when New Delhi revoked the special status of the Himalayan region of Jammu and Kashmir.

Faraz said he hoped that Trump, who has a good relationship with Khan, would be able to mediate between the two countries.

“Khan and Trump share a personal relationship due to their past studies together,” Faraz said.

Khan met with Trump at the United Nations in New York on September 25.

A US delegation will arrive in Kabul on Monday, the US embassy in Kabul said, as part of efforts to mediate a US-Taliban peace deal.

The visit comes as the US and Taliban are holding talks in Indonesia to try to reach a deal that could end the 18-year war in Afghanistan.

The US delegation will be led by Special Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan Ambassador Richard Olson and will include officials from the Departments of State and Defense.

The US government has said it wants to reach a peace deal with the Taliban to bring American troops home from Afghanistan.

US officials said the visit will focus on the ongoing Afghan peace process, which has been ongoing for years.
Toll from Philippines boat tragedy rises to 25

By Catherine S Valente

President Rodrigo Duterte yesterday praised a government soldier who swam for 1.5 hours to save 13 passengers as he confirmed the death toll from the ferry tragedy in Iloilo had risen to 25.

The president called for the filing of cases against the crew, describing the deaths as an example of “mindless violence, especially against innocent people.”

He added, “I will give you tit for tat. I’ve been telling you, I will give you tit for tat. I won’t take it sitting down. I will give you tit for tat.”

Speaking at a press conference at Malacañang Palace, the president said the lives of the victims were “worth more than a million pesos.”

Duterte, however, said martial law might be considered if the killings continued.

He also called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms,” Duterte said. “You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

Duterte said the Department of Interior and Local Government will work with Cortes to assess the situation.

The Department of Agriculture and Development and the Department of Health are also involved in the investigation, he added.

He also asked Cortes to probe the case of a fired police officer who was found with a firearm in his possession.

“Let’s be true to our people,” Duterte said. “Let’s not cheat them.”

The president also called for an immediate deployment of a task force to the affected provinces.

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpower the local government. You cannot obey the Geneva Convention, you cannot stop torture or to hurt people who deserve,” he said.

“In the Philippines, we have a lot of friendly government and there are people we are targeting. You be damned, you can’t put me in the same room with him,” Duterte added.

Duterte called for a review of the regulations on firearms.

“In the Philippines, you cannot enter a fire scene without a license to carry firearms. You know, you have to help the policeman and the firefighters, saying the job of a fireman is to put out fire. They are not fighting a conflict or a war.”

“Why would I kill? What for? They are not fighting a conflict or a war,” Duterte added.

“Let’s be true to our people. Let’s not cheat them.”

In his speech at the distribution of land certificates to agrarian reform beneficiaries in Mindanao on Monday, Duterte blasted the New People’s Army (NPA) for “going down.”

“Overpowe...
Major surgeries show level of expertise at Sidra Medicine

Sidra Medicine, a Qatar Foundation entity, continues to achieve and exceed expectations in the domain of neonatal care. The latest achievement is a successful minimally invasive keyhole brain surgery on a newborn suffering from hydrocephalus, a condition in which fluids collect in the brain. The procedure was performed at Sidra Medicine, which leads the GCC region, according to Dr Iain Pople, division chief of neurosurgery at Sidra Medicine.

The state-of-the-art healthcare establishment is one of the few hospitals in the region to have invested in world-leading teams, cutting-edge surgical equipment and technologies in such a short span of time. This has helped address the challenge for many young patients who along with their families, previously had to travel abroad to seek specialised treatment and care, as pointed out by neurologist and surgery was performed on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine, paediatric patients in Qatar and the region now have access to state-of-the-art equipment and an international team of experts able to perform the most complex surgery and treatment procedures, eliminating the need to travel farther abroad for care and treatment. A team consisting of 21 medical and surgical professionals, led by division chief of Paediatric Neurosurgery, Dr Ian Pople and neurosurgeon Dr Khalid al-Kharafi, conducted the surgery for several hours on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine's new neurosurgery intra-operative MRI suites (IMRIS), Sidra Medicine, Doha, Qatar.

With the launch of epilepsy neurosurgery at Sidra Medicine, paediatric patients in Qatar and the region now have access to state-of-the-art equipment and an international team of experts able to perform the most complex surgery and treatment procedures, eliminating the need to travel farther abroad for care and treatment. A team consisting of 21 medical and surgical professionals, led by division chief of Paediatric Neurosurgery, Dr Ian Pople and neurosurgeon Dr Khalid al-Kharafi, conducted the surgery for several hours on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine’s new neurosurgery intra-operative MRI suites (IMRIS), Sidra Medicine, Doha, Qatar.

The state-of-the-art healthcare establishment is one of the few hospitals in the region to have invested in world-leading teams, cutting-edge surgical equipment and technologies in such a short span of time. This has helped address the challenge for many young patients who along with their families, previously had to travel abroad to seek specialised treatment and care, as pointed out by neurologist and surgery was performed on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine, paediatric patients in Qatar and the region now have access to state-of-the-art equipment and an international team of experts able to perform the most complex surgery and treatment procedures, eliminating the need to travel farther abroad for care and treatment. A team consisting of 21 medical and surgical professionals, led by division chief of Paediatric Neurosurgery, Dr Ian Pople and neurosurgeon Dr Khalid al-Kharafi, conducted the surgery for several hours on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine’s new neurosurgery intra-operative MRI suites (IMRIS), Sidra Medicine, Doha, Qatar.

The state-of-the-art healthcare establishment is one of the few hospitals in the region to have invested in world-leading teams, cutting-edge surgical equipment and technologies in such a short span of time. This has helped address the challenge for many young patients who along with their families, previously had to travel abroad to seek specialised treatment and care, as pointed out by neurologist and surgery was performed on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine, paediatric patients in Qatar and the region now have access to state-of-the-art equipment and an international team of experts able to perform the most complex surgery and treatment procedures, eliminating the need to travel farther abroad for care and treatment. A team consisting of 21 medical and surgical professionals, led by division chief of Paediatric Neurosurgery, Dr Ian Pople and neurosurgeon Dr Khalid al-Kharafi, conducted the surgery for several hours on a two-year-old girl at Sidra Medicine’s new neurosurgery intra-operative MRI suites (IMRIS), Sidra Medicine, Doha, Qatar.
The inequality of nations

By Michael Spence

The little 19th-century British economist, Adam Smith, knew how difficult it is to determine the "proper" amount of inequality in any society. A lot has changed since then, but the problem has remained. Inequality is on the rise, both within countries and between them. When governments intervene to try to address it, they often fail, sometimes with catastrophic consequences.

That is the central insight of a new book by Thomas Piketty, and it is the topic of the Elder Lecture, delivered in the company of the 2019 Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

The book, which took the economist 15 years to write, is called "Capital in the Twenty-first Century." It has been translated into more than 40 languages, and has sold more than a million copies worldwide. It is a major work of economics and political theory. And it has been a major success in the world of finance, where it is considered a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the global financial system.

Piketty's book is a call to arms for those who want to fight inequality. It is a call to arms for those who want to fight for a better world.

But the book is not just about the economy. It is about politics, too. It is about the role of the state in regulating the economy and ensuring that everyone has a fair shot at success. It is about the role of the state in protecting the environment and ensuring that our natural resources are used sustainably. It is about the role of the state in preserving our cultural heritage and ensuring that our history is not lost.

And it is about the role of the state in repairing the damage that inequality has done. It is about the role of the state in creating a more just and equitable society.

The book is a call to arms for all of us. It is a call to arms for all of us to work together to make the world a better place.

The inequality of nations is a problem that requires a coordinated, global response. It is a problem that requires a dedicated effort by all of us. It is a problem that requires a commitment to the values of equality and justice.

The book is a call to arms for us all.
Drive to remove abandoned vehicles begins in Al Daayan

A joint campaign to remove abandoned vehicles in Al Daayan Municipality started yesterday, following directives by the Ministry of Municipality and Environment (MME) to curb the menace.

The campaign was implemented by the Committee for Removing Abandoned Vehicles in Al Daayan, the Municipal Control Department director Abdullah bin Jassem Secondary School for Girls and Abdelrahman from Qatar Secondary School for Boys.

During an inspection tour of the campaign, the leadership, represented by Marzoq Mubarak al-Misifri, the Municipal Control Department director Abdullah bin Jassem Secondary School for Girls and Abdelrahman from Qatar Secondary School for Boys, said that the joint campaign for removing abandoned vehicles has resulted in 65,124 abandoned vehicles since it was established in 2011 and until now, with 43,201 of them placed at Al Mashaf impound ground, and 18,312 at Abu Salal Municipality.

The ongoing campaign, as many as 5,200 abandoned vehicles for their owners to remove them within three days following which they will be towed by the committee.

The joint campaign, which was launched in 2011, is currently being implemented jointly by the MME and the Al Daayan Municipality.

The campaign will go on today.

MOQ to host popular characters for Eid-al-Adha celebrations

All of Qatar is bringing Nickelodeon’s popular characters for its summer celebrations. As part of the summer celebrations, MOQ has launched a new site for impounding abandoned vehicles at Al Mashaf Area within Umm Salal Municipality, which accommodates up to 25,000 vehicles.

In addition to the starting two other locations at Al Khor and Al Rayyan.

QNRF, education ministry supports Qatari students for astronomy Olympiad

Our National Research Fund (QNRF), a member of Qatar Foundation, has announced the Ministry of Education and Higher Education (MoEHE) is supporting Qatari students for this year’s International Olympiad on Astronomy and Astrophysics (IOAA) 2019, currently being held in Budapest, Hungary.

The students had participated in special training on conducting experiments, as well as public engagement and other astro-physical instruments. I am glad to see our students’ continuous interest in this immensely important eff ort, which is an essential part of preparing students to study at higher levels at universities around the world,” he added.

For four days, including a thermal imaging session, an observation exam, and a team competition, Qatar was the first Arab team to participate in STA in 2016, and has been participating every year since.

As part of the Qatar Summer Festival organized by the National Tourism Council, visitors of MOQ will have the chance to meet and greet the characters of Dora The Explorer and Bob SquarePants at noon, 3pm, 6.30pm and EID 2019’s Chase & Marshall at 4.15pm, 7.15pm. The dynamic shows will be held on the Onas Stage from August 11-17, at 3pm and 7pm.

Furthermore, the luxury department will feature Nickelodeon’s PAW Patrol’s Chase & Marshall, Dora’s & Friends and Friends, and Spongebob’s Nicktoons in the best dance parties of the year, according to a statement.

The MOQ public awareness exhibition was held on Thursday evening. An awareness programme was organized in co-operation with the Juvenile Police Department to make children and youngsters aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan. Every day during this 7-day celebration, MOQ is offering awareness activities and a visit to the MOQ spectacular, a competition for Umm Salal’s Bob Squarepants at noon, 3.30pm, 6.30pm and PAW Patrol’s Chase & Marshall at 4.15pm, 7.15pm.

As part of the safety campaign, MOQ launched a new initiative to encourage children and youngsters to wear the most diversified and colorful clothes and hope that our campaign will enjoy Nickelodeon’s cooperation and will continue to support for MOQ’s efforts to raise awareness about road safety.

The Juvenile Police Department had been supporting MOQ’s efforts to ensure the well-being of children and youngsters. The safety campaign was held as part of the efforts by the Department to make children and youngster aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan.

The campaign also marked the valediction of Safe Summer campaign which was aimed at making children as well as public cognizant of the increasing problem of abandoned vehicles.

The third edition of the Safe Summer campaign was held as part of the efforts by the Department to make children and youngster aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan.

The campaign also marked the valediction of Safe Summer campaign which was aimed at making children as well as public cognizant of the increasing problem of abandoned vehicles.

The third edition of the Safe Summer campaign was held as part of the efforts by the Department to make children and youngster aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan.

The campaign also marked the valediction of Safe Summer campaign which was aimed at making children as well as public cognizant of the increasing problem of abandoned vehicles.

The third edition of the Safe Summer campaign was held as part of the efforts by the Department to make children and youngster aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan.

The campaign also marked the valediction of Safe Summer campaign which was aimed at making children as well as public cognizant of the increasing problem of abandoned vehicles.

The third edition of the Safe Summer campaign was held as part of the efforts by the Department to make children and youngster aware of negative behaviours that will result in punishment and experience in the animation area located in Al Daayan.