In brief

QATAR | Official

Amir congratulates Vietnam president

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani has sent a written message to the President of Vietnam, Tran Dai Quang, to congratulate him on his country’s Independence Day. HI the Amir also sent a similar cable to Prime Minister Nguyen Ruey Thieu.

SPORT | FIFA

World Cup Qatar logo to be unveiled today

Today at 20:22 Doha time the official logo for the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022 will be unveiled in Qatar and 21 cities around the world through live shows from Qatar, most of which will be broadcast on major networks in different capitals around the world simultaneously. Page 5

FM | Official

PM to call election if Brexit plan defeated

British Prime Minister Boris Johnson will call an election if his Brexit strategy, a top official said yesterday on the eve of a parliamentary showdown. Page 11

Page 5

QP books full ‘capacity’ of Belgian LNG terminal

Deals extends and expands partnership with Fluxys Belgium up to 2044

Al-Shaali said: “We are delighted to sign this landmark agreement today and extend our existing long-term partnership with Fluxys Belgium. The arrangement will further secure our confidence in Belgium and Europe in general, by providing access to reliable LNG supplies from Qatar and allowing us to maximise the utilisation of such supplies.”

Al-Shaali concluded his remarks by saying “Qatar Petroleum has long in- vested in and anchored LNG receiving terminals in Europe, a key gas transport company Fluxys Belgium provides reliable energy supplies into the EU’s energy policies and our two countries.”

We continue to be committed to sup- porting the EU’s energy policies and providing reliable energy supplies into the EU, as part of our supply diversifi cation strategy. We continue to be committed to sup- porting the EU’s energy policies and providing reliable energy supplies into the EU,” Al-Shaali said. “We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Belgian authorities for their support, and we wish Fluxys for their valuable partnership over the years. I am confi dent that the successful ‘Open Season’ process, this new capacity and the revised tariff arrangements will, in no doubt, enhance the position of Zeebrugge amongst the competitive terminals in Europe.”

Prime Minister and Interior Minister Sheikh Abdullah bin Nasser bin Khalifa Al-Thani also sent a similar cable to Prime Minister Nguyen Ruey Thieu.

Page 11

Page 11

Qatar ports container traffic stays buoyant

Amir meets Japanese envoy

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani met at the Amiri Diwan in Doha with His Excellency Shoji Osuka, Ambassador of Japan. The Amir granted the ambassador the Decoration of Al Waliyat in recognition of his role in enhancing relations between Qatar and Japan. The ambassador expressed his thanks and appreciation to the Amir and the officials for their co-operation which contributed to the success of his work. Page 2

Amir’s message for Kuwait leader

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani has sent a written message to His Highness the Amir Sheikh Jaber Al-Ahmad Al-Sabah to congratulate him on the occasion of Kuwait’s National Day. Page 2

Page 11

Thank you to our customers for your generous donations.

We raised MILLION QAR to Education Above All since May 2019.
Amir's message for Kuwait leader

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani has sent a written message to the Amir of Kuwait Sheikh Sabah al-Ahmad al-Jaber al-Sabah, expressing his appreciation for the continuous efforts of the Kuwaiti government in helping and evolving the educational and training fields in the two countries. He also expressed his appreciation to His Excellency the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs of the State of Kuwait for the cooperation he received during his tenure.

PM meets outgoing Japanese ambassador

The Prime Minister and Minister of Interior Sheikh Abdullah bin Nasser bin Khalifa al-Thani met yesterday morning Japan’s Ambassador to Qatar. During the meeting, they reviewed bilateral co-operation and the relations between the two countries further progress and development. For his part, the Prime Minister expressed his gratitude to His Excellency for the cooperation he received during his tenure.

Qatar, Gambia ministers meet bilateral ties

HE the Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Sheikh Mohamed bin Abdulrahman Al-Thani met yesterday Gambian Minister of Foreign Affairs, International Cooperation and Gambian Armed, Mamadou Tangara. During the meeting, they discussed ways to enhance future co-operation between both countries, and several topics of common interest.

Transport minister meets Gambian FM

HE the Minister of Transport and Communications Jassim Seif al-Khater met yesterday with Gambian Minister of Foreign Affairs, International Cooperation and Gambian Armed, Mamadou Tangara. During the meeting, they discussed ways to enhance future co-operation between both countries, and several topics of common interest.

Overcoming obstacles facing students, parents a priority: ministry

The Ministry of Education and Higher Education (MOHE) has stressed that overcoming obstacles and difficulties facing students and parents is a priority. This came during the visit of the assistant secretary for educational affairs, Farea Alabdullah Al-Taie, to the headquarters of the Admission and Transferring Department. Al-Aqeel called on parents to settle all educational levels, and transfer of students in the academic year 2019/2020, for Boys, to respond to inquiries of parents, as part of the ministry’s endeavours to overcome obstacles in all services provided. Some parents talked about the main challenges and difficulties they face in registering and transferring their children, and Al-Aqeel noted that students will be accepted to the nearest geographical area, in addition to providing transportation services, guidance and all facilities for parents in this regard.

Chinese president receives credentials of Qatar envoy

Chinese President Xi Jinping has received the credentials of His Excellency Ahmad Al-Din Al-Assaf, the new ambassador to Qatar. During the meeting, the president and the ambassador discussed the current state of relations between the two countries and the prospects for their development and growth. Xi emphasized the need to further strengthen the友谊 relations and cooperation between Qatar and China.

QNA
Cautionary Notice

Supreme Committee for Delivery and Legacy (SC) draws the attention of individual and corporate citizens and residents of Qatar, including business entities such as printing presses, media agencies, distributors, importers and manufacturers of gift items and memorabilia that, pursuant to the provisions of Laws No. 7 of 2002 on the Protection of Copyright and Neighbouring Rights and Law No. 9 of 2002 on Trademarks, Commercial Indications, Trade Names, Geographical Indications and Industrial Designs, all marks, insignia, artistic, and literature works of the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ (Tournament IP), are solely and exclusively owned by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association (FIFA).

FIFA IP includes but is not limited to:
— The official emblem of the Tournament;
— The Tournament trophy;
— The Tournament official mascot; and — The following word marks whether used jointly or separately: FIFA, Qatar 2022, World Cup, World Cup 2022, FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™.

Any person who uses or facilitates the use of FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ marks or copyrighted works without written authorization from FIFA shall be subject to the sanctions provided by the above laws or other applicable laws. Persons breaching these Laws shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two (2) years and to a fine not exceeding 20,000 Qatar Riyals or to either of those penalties. Persons in breach may also be subject to other penalties such as paying the court’s decision in a local newspaper at their own cost, suspension of their commercial registration for a period up to six (6) months, confiscation of the tools and equipment used in counterfeiting or imitating the protected rights and the counterfeit ond/or imitated products.

In light of the above, FIFA and SC earnestly requests:
— Refraining from using, manufacturing and/or importing any products or services bearing the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ logos, emblems, mascot, trademarks, copyrighted artistic and literature works, without obtaining FIFA’s prior written consent to such use, manufacturing or importing and;
— Report any infringement, illegal use and/or dilution of the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ Intellectual Property Rights to the following email: brandprotection@qifa.org

We appreciate the tremendous amount of national pride associated with hosting such a mega sports event in Qatar and in the spirit of this national unity, please provide your cooperation with regards to the above for Qatar’s successful hosting or the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™

The Supreme Committee for Delivery and Legacy.
Qatar Airways unveils new office in Amman

Qatar Airways celebrated the official opening of its new office in Amman, Jordan, yesterday. The successful asyncio of Qatari investments in the Kingdom was attended by the Jordanian government and private sector representatives, including Minister of Tourism and Antiquities, Majid Shweibak, and the Minister of Investment and Foreign Trade, Ahmad Al-Jumaa.

The ceremony was also attended by several senior officials and VIPs, including Minister of Tourism and Antiquities, Majid Shweibak, and the Minister of Investment and Foreign Trade, Ahmad Al-Jumaa. The opening ceremony was also attended by the Jordanian government representatives.

Qatar Airways has been flying to Amman since 1994. Since then, Amman has consistently been one of the airline's top destinations, with its network of flights connecting the Jordanian capital to a wide range of destinations worldwide. The airline has been expanding its presence in Jordan and the wider region, with new offices and partnerships to further enhance its services.

A successful inauguration of Qatar Airways' new office in Amman followed last year's launch of the airline's direct flights to Amman. These new flights not only provide increased connectivity for passengers but also support the economic development of Jordan and the wider region. Qatar Airways' new office in Amman will enable the airline to better serve the growing demand for travel to and from Jordan, and it will provide a platform for further collaboration and partnerships.

Qatar Airways' successful presence in Jordan is an integral part of the airline's strategy to expand its footprint in the region. The airline has been investing in its network and services in the Middle East, and this new office in Amman is a testament to its commitment to the growth and development of the Jordanian market.

Qatar Airways' new office in Amman will offer a range of services, including ticketing, baggage drop-off, and customer support. The office will also serve as a hub for the airline's regional operations, providing a strong base for further expansion in the region.

The inauguration of Qatar Airways' new office in Amman marks a significant milestone in the airline's journey to become one of the leading carriers in the region. Qatar Airways' continued investment in Amman and Jordan highlights the airline's commitment to the development of the country and its potential as a hub for regional connectivity.

The new office will also enable Qatar Airways to offer even more convenient and efficient services to its passengers in Amman, providing them with a seamless travel experience from ticketing to boarding. Qatar Airways' commitment to excellence and customer service will be further reinforced by the presence of its new office in Amman, offering passengers a gateway to Qatar Airways' global network.

Qatar Airways' new office in Amman is a testament to the airline's ongoing efforts to strengthen its presence in the region and to provide passengers with the best possible travel experience. The new office will operate as a hub for the airline's regional operations, playing a crucial role in the airline's expansion and growth in the Middle East.

Qatar Airways' new office in Amman will serve as a significant gateway to the airline's extensive global network, offering passengers a convenient entry point to Qatar Airways' destinations around the world. This new office will also provide a platform for further strengthening the airline's relationships with local businesses and government entities, fostering a strong partnership to promote tourism and economic development in the region.

Qatar Airways' continued investment in Amman and the region underscores its commitment to regional growth and development, with the new office serving as a catalyst for further expansion and connectivity. Qatar Airways' presence in Amman and Jordan is a testament to its dedication to providing superior travel experiences and fostering partnerships that contribute to the region's economic and social development.
FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022 logo to be revealed today

At 22:22 IST today, the unveiling of the official logo of the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022 and the dates of the World Cup will be announced at the official launch ceremony at the Al Bayt Stadium in Al Khor.

The ceremony will be held at the Al Bayt Stadium, which is one of the 9 stadiums that will host matches during the World Cup.

The logo is designed by the official artist of the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022, and it features the colors of Qatar, which are blue and white.

The official logo of the World Cup will be displayed on major screens in different areas of the country, including Sheikh Zayed Road, Al Ittihad Street, and Al-Sadd.

The logo will also be displayed on social media platforms, including Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.

The World Cup will take place from November 21 to December 18, 2022, and it is expected to attract millions of visitors from around the world.

Doha Bank and Global IME Bank offer instant remittances to Nepal

Doha Bank has partnered with Global IME Bank (GIBL) to offer online-to-offline (O2O) remittance services in Nepal.

The partnership includes the introduction of new technologies aimed at providing customers with convenient and cost-effective services.

The new online service will enable Doha Bank customers to use the Global IME Bank (GIBL) network to send remittances to Nepalese customers.

Customers will also be able to transfer money to Nepalese bank accounts and get credit on the same banking day in Nepal.

The service is available to customers who have a credit card and have completed KYC (Know Your Customer) procedures.

Doha Bank and Global IME Bank have also agreed to work together on various initiatives, such as promoting financial inclusion in Nepal.

Karazi meets Qatar envoy

The Qatar ambassador to Afghanistan, Dr. Al-Mohannadi, met with Afghan ambassador to Qatar, Dr. Al-Mannai, to discuss the current situation in Afghanistan and the bilateral relations between the two countries.

Dr. al-Mohannadi is joined by top officials of the Turkish judiciary at the formal opening of the judicial year yesterday in Ankara.

The meeting took place at the Supreme Judicial Council (SJC) and President of the Court of Cassation in Turkey.

The meeting was attended by a number of senior Turkish officials, including Turkish Grand National Assembly Speaker Mustafa Şentop, Council of State president Süleyman Soylu, and the National Court President Zehra Altcan, Minister of Justice Abdulhamit Gül, and the Turkish courts, which was held at the presidential palace in Ankara.

The presence of Dr. al-Mohannadi comes in the framework of the distinguished relations between the two countries.

The meeting discussed the current situation in Afghanistan and the bilateral relations between the two countries.

Dr. Al-Mohannadi also met senior officials of the Turkish judiciary, including the Court of Cassation president, and the President of the Supreme Court.

The meeting was held in a friendly and constructive atmosphere, and both sides agreed to continue to strengthen the bilateral relations between the two countries.

Hunting and Falcons show starts at Katara today

Katar Halil and the World's Squares, in a statement, said: "We are very pleased to be part of the Katara International Hunting and Falcons Exhibition - S’hail 2019, with the participation of more than 141 international and local companies from 26 countries.

The participating entities are combined under the most important and distinguished exhibitions, international forums, cooperation, equipment, weapons and falcons.

Katar Halil is a specialist exhibition in hunting and falcons. The participation of Katar Halil in S’hail 2019 comes as a result of the close link between Qatar and many and Great Britain, such as the British Falconry Centre.

The participating companies are comprehensive marketing plan prepared by the participating companies.

The presence of Dr. al-Mannai, the executive director of the Social and Sports Support Fund, is a significant event at every level, in terms of organisation, diversity, quality, innovation, and the scope of cultural, artistic, and entertainment events."

The participating entities are combined under the most important and distinguished exhibitions, international forums, cooperation, equipment, weapons and falcons.

Katar Halil is a specialist exhibition in hunting and falcons. The participation of Katar Halil in S’hail 2019 comes as a result of the close link between Qatar and many and Great Britain, such as the British Falconry Centre.

The participating companies are comprehensive marketing plan prepared by the participating companies.

The presence of Dr. al-Mannai, the executive director of the Social and Sports Support Fund, is a significant event at every level, in terms of organisation, diversity, quality, innovation, and the scope of cultural, artistic, and entertainment events.

The current edition of S’hail will also see the distinguished participation of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

Dr. al-Mannai took the opportunity to express profound thanks to the local and Sports Support Fund for its constant support to Qatar International Hunting and Falcons Exhibition - S’hail 2019, with the participation of more than 141 international and local companies from 26 countries.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

Dr. al-Mannai took the opportunity to express profound thanks to the local and Sports Support Fund for its constant support to Qatar International Hunting and Falcons Exhibition - S’hail 2019, with the participation of more than 141 international and local companies from 26 countries.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.

He also noted the number of companies participating in S’hail 2019.
QIC Insured revamps mobile app

O f f i c e f or Deve l o p m e n t (QDF) signed an agreement with Riyaad su b s c r i p t i o n s to launch a new mobile phone application for its customers. The agreement was signed by Qatar’s ambassador to Lebanon, Mohamed Hassan Al-Jabir, and Chantal Aoun Bassil, the president on behalf of Batrouniyat, according to a statement yesterday.

The new application is an extension of the app that was launched by QDF last year. The application features a new look and a more user-friendly interface to make it more responsive to customers’ needs. QDF is always committed to providing its customers with the best possible customer experience.

The application offers a wide range of services, including the ability to download the new app from the Qatar Fund for Development website. It also enables customers to track and have access to their insurance policies and services. The app also provides an independent and diverse outlook, and helps to reduce traffic congestion in surrounding areas.

The QIC Insured mobile app is a valuable tool for customers and helps to improve the efficiency of the insurance services provided by the company.
Scores arrested in South Africa looting, anti-foreigner protests

AFP

South African police yesterday arrested more than a dozen people following looting in Johannesburg and promised to arrest those responsible.

The latest violence came after hundreds of people marched through Johannesburg's Carlton Village (CBD), plundering shops and setting fire to stores.

Police Minister Bheki Cele instructed the violence be stopped "in its current form" and that "strategy" rather than "xenophobia".

Several roads had to be closed through Johannesburg's Central Business District (CBD) and police said some people had been arrested.

"There have been reports of looting, against foreigners since March 2018. We have repeatedly warned against this," Cele told journalists after a tour of the CBD.

"It is not a development we want to see and it is not acceptable for us to see a recurrence of this," he added.

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The latest violence comes amid a wave of anti-foreigner sentiment in South Africa, where many Nigerians and other continental migrants have been targeted.

Cele said that in 2011, 2012, "we have created clearly and distinctly a line that we are not going to cross."

The UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "very concerned" about reports of violence and called for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights said it was "deeply troubled by the reports of violence and calling for a "renewed political process in South Africa based on an inclusive and democratic constitution".
Hurricane Dorian edges closer to US

Hurricane Dorian pounded the Bahamas relentlessly, leaving hundreds stranded, before steaming off east, dogged by boat drivers seeking higher ground, with a Coast Guard cutter in tow, the US Coast Guard said on Wednesday, as the US east coast was ordered to evacuate for what could be the largest storm to hit the US mainland in over a decade.

The National Hurricane Center said Dorian was expected to remain a powerful category 4 storm at least into Thursday, a day after it destroyed a number of islands in the Bahamas in what authorities described as the worst storms in the region’s history.

The hurricane, which was first detected in the Atlantic Ocean in mid-August, has been a major threat to the eastern US since it came ashore in the Bahamas on Sunday, where it killed at least 13 people.
Indonesian police prohibit violent protests in Papua

Headlines

Indonesian police prohibit violent protests in Papua

Main Lead

Police in Indonesia have banned protests in Papua, the country's easternmost region, for the next five days, starting on Friday, after violent protests broke out in recent days.

Sub Lead

Police warned that any protesters who ignored the ban could face up to 15 years in prison.

Byline

Call for release of Cambodian leader

Sokha needs medical attention, reporters in televised remarks, adding that he planned to spend most of this week in the region. He also said he had received a letter from a lawyer who said he had been arrested on charges of treason.

About the Cambodian leader

Sokha, 52, is a member of the Cambodian National Rescue Party (CNRP), a political party that is one of the main opposition groups in Cambodia. He has been a vocal critic of the government of Prime Minister Hun Sen, who has been in power for more than three decades.

Background

Sokha was charged with treason in 2019 and has been in prison ever since. He has been diagnosed with cancer and other health problems.

Legislation

The ban on protests was ordered by the national police chief, who said it was necessary to maintain public order and security.

Analysis

The ban on protests is likely to cause tension between the government and the opposition, who have been calling for the release of Sokha.

Call for release of Cambodian leader

The call for the release of Sokha has been supported by international human rights organizations, who have called for an end to political repression in Cambodia.

Conclusion

The ban on protests in Papua is likely to be a significant test for the Indonesian government, which has long been under pressure to address concerns about human rights violations in the region.

---

Call for release of Cambodian leader

The call for the release of Sokha has been supported by international human rights organizations, who have called for an end to political repression in Cambodia.

Conclusion

The ban on protests in Papua is likely to be a significant test for the Indonesian government, which has long been under pressure to address concerns about human rights violations in the region.
Hong Kong students boycott classes, join black-clad protests

Assaults jump in Xinjiang amid crackdown

Aussie newbie pilot lands plane after instructor blacks out

Solomon Islands eyes shift in diplomatic ties to China from Taiwan
Ministers criticised for inflating settled status figures

All solutions to Irish border have problems: secret paper

I will never delay Brexit, Johnson tells lawmakers

Corbyn renews pledge on no-deal Brexit

Urgent study on food supplies ordered

Ministers criticised for inflating settled status figures

All solutions to Irish border have problems: secret paper

I will never delay Brexit, Johnson tells lawmakers

Corbyn renews pledge on no-deal Brexit

Urgent study on food supplies ordered
New teachers’ salary in England could reach £30,000, says DfE

London Mayor Sadiq Khan is standing at the Monument to the Ghetto Heroes in Warsaw, Poland, yesterday.

BA ‘set to strip perks’ from striking pilots

Daily Mail

BA Airways may remove a cheap flights perk from thousands of cabin crew workers.

The build-up of the pilots’ row is likely to continue until Monday, with pickets setting off to the Heathrow airport

Members of the pilots union will strike again at Heathrow on Monday as BA faces an increasing crisis.

Mid-2020

Pilots have already been on strike twice this year, for a combined total of 15 days.

They have warned BA that the latest action may be the start of a full-blown walk-out.

BA today confirmed that it plans to remove a perk that allows cabin crew to fly on short notice for free on flights.

It is thought that the airline could also be planning to remove other perks, such as discounted family tickets and unlimited travel.

The news comes as BA faces a series of challenges, including a strike by cabin crew and a potential walk-out by pilots.

One source said: “This is a serious situation for BA and it is clear that the airline is looking to cut costs wherever possible.”

Labour could force buy-to-let landlords to sell to tenants

Daily Mail

Labour MPs are preparing to force buy-to-let landlords to sell to tenants if they refuse to sell their properties.

Shadow housing minister Jon White has told landlords that the government’s proposals to cap rent increases are “not enough”.

The Labour shadow housing minister has written to landlords, saying: “There is a growing consensus that the proposals are not enough to protect tenants.”

New puppys join Larry the cat of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”

New jeppe puppys join the cast of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”

New jeppe puppys join the cast of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”

New jeppe puppys join the cast of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”

New jeppe puppys join the cast of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”

New jeppe puppys join the cast of Downing Street

Prime Minister Boris Johnson and his partner Carrie Symonds yesterday revealed that they had adopted a new pup named Dilyn

It was unclear what relationship Dilyn might have with Larry, the cat of Downing Street, who is due to retire in September

Friends of Animals Wales said it was a dream come true for Carrie Symonds, who is a passionate supporter of animal welfare.

The charity’s chief executive said: “We are absolutely thrilled that Carrie Symonds has welcomed a new member into her family.”
Hundreds of migrants moved from overcrowded camp on Greek island seized in Italy

Controversial Black Lives Matter film hailed by Hollywood

PM urges M5S members to back new Italian govt

Leaves migrant ship seized in Italy

R
tussian courts dismissed a moving film on the Black Lives Matter movement, adding to a string of legal losses that has seen 20 countries impose limits on its screening.

Protesters in Milan have denounced the film’s depiction of police brutality and racism, and called on Prime Minister Giuseppe Conte to ban it. But Conte has so far resisted pressure to do so.

The movie, titled “Irreversible”, was directed by Gaspar Noé, a French filmmaker known for his explicit and experimental approach to films. It was released in 2002 and has since become a subject of controversy due to its graphic depictions of violence and explicit content.

Despite concerns over the film’s explicit nature, the Italian government has so far refrained from taking action to ban it. This has sparked protests from groups advocating for stricter measures against such content.

In response to the film’s release, various organizations have condemned the depiction of violence and racism, urging for a ban on the movie. Despite this, the film remains widely accessible in Italy, raising questions about the extent of government intervention in censorship.

Leaves migrant ship seized in Italy

Move would create a dangerous precedent.

10 months to an opposition protest

But in recent months, nearly a quarter of a million migrants have arrived in Europe, with most fleeing war and political upheaval in countries such as Syria, Libya, and Afghanistan.

Italy is one of the main countries on the so-called “Jungle Route”, a route used by migrants to enter the European Union. The Italian government has made it clear that it will no longer accept migrants on its soil.

Since the European Union signed an agreement with Turkey in March 2016, tighter checks have made it difficult for migrants to make the difficult crossing to Europe.

More than 3,000 people arrived by boat from Africa, with another 2,000 reaching the Italian mainland by land.

Salvini has repeatedly demanded that the EU take back responsibility for managing the migration crisis, arguing that the Italian government cannot handle the situation alone.

Critics, however, have accused Salvini of using the migrant issue for political gain, citing his tough stance on immigration as a way to highlight the difficulties faced by the country.

Leaves migrant ship seized in Italy

But in recent months, nearly a quarter of a million migrants have arrived in Europe, with most fleeing war and political upheaval in countries such as Syria, Libya, and Afghanistan.

Italy is one of the main countries on the so-called “Jungle Route”, a route used by migrants to enter the European Union. The Italian government has made it clear that it will no longer accept migrants on its soil.

Since the European Union signed an agreement with Turkey in March 2016, tighter checks have made it difficult for migrants to make the difficult crossing to Europe.

More than 3,000 people arrived by boat from Africa, with another 2,000 reaching the Italian mainland by land.

Salvini has repeatedly demanded that the EU take back responsibility for managing the migration crisis, arguing that the Italian government cannot handle the situation alone.

Critics, however, have accused Salvini of using the migrant issue for political gain, citing his tough stance on immigration as a way to highlight the difficulties faced by the country.

Leaves migrant ship seized in Italy

But in recent months, nearly a quarter of a million migrants have arrived in Europe, with most fleeing war and political upheaval in countries such as Syria, Libya, and Afghanistan.

Italy is one of the main countries on the so-called “Jungle Route”, a route used by migrants to enter the European Union. The Italian government has made it clear that it will no longer accept migrants on its soil.

Since the European Union signed an agreement with Turkey in March 2016, tighter checks have made it difficult for migrants to make the difficult crossing to Europe.

More than 3,000 people arrived by boat from Africa, with another 2,000 reaching the Italian mainland by land.

Salvini has repeatedly demanded that the EU take back responsibility for managing the migration crisis, arguing that the Italian government cannot handle the situation alone.

Critics, however, have accused Salvini of using the migrant issue for political gain, citing his tough stance on immigration as a way to highlight the difficulties faced by the country.

Leaves migrant ship seized in Italy

But in recent months, nearly a quarter of a million migrants have arrived in Europe, with most fleeing war and political upheaval in countries such as Syria, Libya, and Afghanistan.

Italy is one of the main countries on the so-called “Jungle Route”, a route used by migrants to enter the European Union. The Italian government has made it clear that it will no longer accept migrants on its soil.

Since the European Union signed an agreement with Turkey in March 2016, tighter checks have made it difficult for migrants to make the difficult crossing to Europe.

More than 3,000 people arrived by boat from Africa, with another 2,000 reaching the Italian mainland by land.

Salvini has repeatedly demanded that the EU take back responsibility for managing the migration crisis, arguing that the Italian government cannot handle the situation alone.

Critics, however, have accused Salvini of using the migrant issue for political gain, citing his tough stance on immigration as a way to highlight the difficulties faced by the country.
Keralites get ready to celebrate Onam

The celebrations are being observed by a total of 38 million people across the state, which makes it the largest festival in the world. Onam is celebrated by the Malayalee community in Kerala, India, to commemorate the harvest festival of the Moilam people. It is a ten-day festival, observed from August 21 to August 30, that marks the return of the mythical king Mahabali to his people after a year of exile. According to legend, the annual harvest festival of Onam in Thripunithura, near Kochi, yesterday.

The festival is celebrated with great enthusiasm and joy, and people come together to enjoy the festivities. The main attraction of the festival is the harvest, where people offer their produce to the goddess Mahalakshmi, who is believed to be the protector of wealth and prosperity. The festival is also marked by the exchange of gifts, feasting, and cultural programs. People dress in traditional attire, and the streets are decorated with flowers and lights. The festival is a time of joy, love, and unity for the people of Kerala.

The festival is also a time for reflection, as people remember the legend of Mahabali and the values that he represented. Mahabali was known for his generosity and love for his people, and people use this festival to emulate his qualities and to spread love and compassion.

UN meet calls for steps to promote land restoration

The United Nations called on Wednesday for urgent action to promote land restoration, saying that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.”

The United Nations’ special envoy for desertification, Ibrahim Thiaw, said that desertification was a “major threat” to the world’s food security and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that desertification was a “major threat” to the world’s food security and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

The United Nations’ special envoy for desertification, Ibrahim Thiaw, said that desertification was a “major threat” to the world’s food security and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.

Thiaw said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land. He said that the world was facing a “crisis of desertsification” and that urgent action was needed to prevent the loss of significant amounts of land.
The Supreme Court decided to take up the case after lawyers raised concerns that it could turn into another Ch-case where powerful BJP leaders, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, may have repercussions on other cases. After the apex court cit, it is now clear which the TRS will oppose the case, the individual named in the complaint, and the main veracity of the discrimination.

The government said it would not continue to enjoy rights like employment, education, property, etc., ministry spokesperson, Sanjay Gupta said in a tweet. In the final NRC list released on August 31, some 100 people were found eligible to be included. And they could not be included.
Argentina peso, bonds whipslapped

Argentina Bondholders

A gnostic bond parishes fall to record lows yesterday, with the peso, bonds and equities of Argentina dropped more than 2 cents to a new low of 36.5 cents, according to Bloomberg, warning that local stocks have suffered an economic and political crisis that has caused widespread shortages of food and medicines. Health officials from the US, European Union, Canada, China, Russia, and the Dominican Republic, Argentina, Peru and the IMF have expressed their concern over the situation in the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela. The vaccination card will “accompany migrants from the middle of the month and October,” according to health authorities for international, warning that local stocks are suffering from an economic and political crisis that has caused widespread shortages of food and medicines. Health officials from the US, European Union, Canada, China, Russia, and the Dominican Republic, Argentina, Peru and the IMF have expressed their concern over the situation in the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela.

IMF pledges support after Macri imposes currency curbs

Argentina Bondholders

T he International Monetary Fund (IMF) said it will work with Argentina after the government announced controls on capital outflows as a measure to contain inflation and narrow the current account deficit. The government of Latin America’s third-largest economy announced that it would restrict purchases of dollars and other foreign currencies by individuals and entities, including banks, for a period that will last until further notice. The move comes after the peso has fallen more than 50% this year, hitting a record low of 36.5 cents against the dollar, according to Bloomberg. The currency is down more than 2 cents to a new low of 36.5 cents, according to Bloomberg, warning that local stocks have suffered an economic and political crisis that has caused widespread shortages of food and medicines. Health officials from the US, European Union, Canada, China, Russia, and the Dominican Republic, Argentina, Peru and the IMF have expressed their concern over the situation in the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela.

Disapproval of Bolsonaro presidency jumps: poll

Brazilian voters are turning against Jair Bolsonaro, Brazil's far-right president, in growing numbers, according to a poll published yesterday. The poll shows that Bolsonaro's approval rating has dropped from 90% in January to 72% in the latest survey. The main reason for the decline is the economic situation, with inflation running at around 6% and the real minimum wage falling to its lowest level in a decade. Inflation has been a top concern for Brazilians, and the government has been criticized for its handling of the economic crisis. The central bank has raised interest rates to 14%, the highest level in more than a decade, in an attempt to curb inflation. However, this has been met with criticism, with many Brazilians feeling that the government is not doing enough to address the economic challenges.

Brazil tariff-free ethanol import quota raised

Brazilian voters are turning against Jair Bolsonaro, Brazil's far-right president, in growing numbers, according to a poll published yesterday. The poll shows that Bolsonaro's approval rating has dropped from 90% in January to 72% in the latest survey. The main reason for the decline is the economic situation, with inflation running at around 6% and the real minimum wage falling to its lowest level in a decade. Inflation has been a top concern for Brazilians, and the government has been criticized for its handling of the economic crisis. The central bank has raised interest rates to 14%, the highest level in more than a decade, in an attempt to curb inflation. However, this has been met with criticism, with many Brazilians feeling that the government is not doing enough to address the economic challenges.
Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December

Traffic accidents drop by 29% in Islamabad

Pakistan won’t be first to use nukes, says PM

World powers push Pakistan, India for talks

Chaos looms as election authority chief is set to retire in December
Boris Johnson's Brexit gamble puts UK on edge. Is it worth it?

When it comes to Brexit, Britain's boisterous new prime minister is determined to succeed where his predecessor failed. But with Johnson set to become the UK's first elected prime minister in a snap election, and then to head for an agreement with the European Union by the new deadline of October 31, it's an uncertain time for ordinary Britons and Irish fear the consequences of preventing Britain from leaving without a deal. If faced with a parliamentary majority opposed to a no-deal Brexit, he's promised to deprive members of the ability to pass legislation to ensure Britain leaves on time, deal or no deal. Faced with a cabinet stacked with committed Brexiteers and made up of ministers who would not vote to extend the UK's time in the EU, he's determined to succeed where his predecessor failed. Aware of the fissures, Johnson spent his first days in office affirming his commitment to the union of England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales. The "awesome foursome," he called them, includes Northern Irish unionists, "fearful of the same sort of border imposed on the EU by the UK as it currently applies in certain parts of Ireland," he said. Johnson is determined to make Brexit work, but ordinary Britons and Irish fear the consequences of Brexit, especially if Britain leaves without a deal.

F

State of the nomination: where do Democrats stand as 2020 narrows?

For the historically large and diverse field of Democrats seeking the presidential nomination, the last few weeks have been a time of both opportunity and peril. With the world's attention focused on the November 2018 midterm elections, the Democratic Party faces a crucial moment. The party is facing a potential crisis in the form of the possibility of losing control of the House of Representatives, which would deal another blow to the party's efforts to advance its agenda. The race for the nomination has been a rollercoaster, with multiple candidates vying for the lead. The stakes are higher now but the process is the same. We need someone who can meet the challenge of the moment, McGhee said. But with the arrival of the Labour Day holiday comes a time-honoured tradition of gathering and staking out healthcare as his defining issue. The biggest moment of Harris' campaign so far was the first debate, in which she stood out among the pack. She has portrayed herself as the most electable Democrat, and the polls have shown her gaining ground in recent weeks. But with the. As the nomination race heats up, candidates are fighting for the last 5% of support among African Americans, worries abound. The "awesome foursome," he called them, includes Northern Irish unionists, "fearful of the same sort of border imposed on the EU by the UK as it currently applies in certain parts of Ireland," he said. Johnson is determined to make Brexit work, but ordinary Britons and Irish fear the consequences of Brexit, especially if Britain leaves without a deal.

For the historically large and diverse field of Democrats seeking the presidential nomination, the last few weeks have been a time of both opportunity and peril. With the world's attention focused on the November 2018 midterm elections, the Democratic Party faces a crucial moment. The party is facing a potential crisis in the form of the possibility of losing control of the House of Representatives, which would deal another blow to the party's efforts to advance its agenda. The race for the nomination has been a rollercoaster, with multiple candidates vying for the lead. The stakes are higher now but the process is the same. We need someone who can meet the challenge of the moment, McGhee said. But with the arrival of the Labour Day holiday comes a time-honoured tradition of gathering and staking out healthcare as his defining issue. The biggest moment of Harris' campaign so far was the first debate, in which she stood out among the pack. She has portrayed herself as the most electable Democrat, and the polls have shown her gaining ground in recent weeks. But with the. As the nomination race heats up, candidates are fighting for the last 5% of support among African Americans, worries abound. The "awesome foursome," he called them, includes Northern Irish unionists, "fearful of the same sort of border imposed on the EU by the UK as it currently applies in certain parts of Ireland," he said. Johnson is determined to make Brexit work, but ordinary Britons and Irish fear the consequences of Brexit, especially if Britain leaves without a deal.

For the historically large and diverse field of Democrats seeking the presidential nomination, the last few weeks have been a time of both opportunity and peril. With the world's attention focused on the November 2018 midterm elections, the Democratic Party faces a crucial moment. The party is facing a potential crisis in the form of the possibility of losing control of the House of Representatives, which would deal another blow to the party's efforts to advance its agenda. The race for the nomination has been a rollercoaster, with multiple candidates vying for the lead. The stakes are higher now but the process is the same. We need someone who can meet the challenge of the moment, McGhee said. But with the arrival of the Labour Day holiday comes a time-honoured tradition of gathering and staking out healthcare as his defining issue. The biggest moment of Harris' campaign so far was the first debate, in which she stood out among the pack. She has portrayed herself as the most electable Democrat, and the polls have shown her gaining ground in recent weeks. But with the. As the nomination race heats up, candidates are fighting for the last 5% of support among African Americans, worries abound. The "awesome foursome," he called them, includes Northern Irish unionists, "fearful of the same sort of border imposed on the EU by the UK as it currently applies in certain parts of Ireland," he said. Johnson is determined to make Brexit work, but ordinary Britons and Irish fear the consequences of Brexit, especially if Britain leaves without a deal.
Dousing the sovereignty wildfire

By Jean-Francois Rischard

The costs of achieving a zero-carbon economy are significant and multifaceted.

In the post-Cold War era, internationalists believed that global governance could be erected upon addressing the threats of nuclear arms proliferation, environmental degradation, and transnational crime. In the 1990s, it seemed, global governance had finally achieved a sufficient level. This proved to be an illusion. The international institutions of global governance that developed in the Cold War era began to disintegrate. The WTO, for example, was established in 1995, after several decades of negotiations, but it has never been able to resolve its many problems and takes more than 16 months to reach a consensus. And although global governance was strengthened during the 1990s, the Blair-Bush administration’s idea of “sovereignty as a human right” — that states should be able to live in peace and that the international community should be able to interfere only in cases of extreme danger — became the basis for the International Community’s response to Saddam Hussein’s regime in Iraq.

Global governance is a concept that is often used to justify political intervention in the internal affairs of states. The international community has always been confronted with the problem of how to intervene in the internal affairs of states in cases where human rights are being violated. The International Community’s intervention in the case of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, for example, was justified on the grounds that the government of the Democratic Republic of the Congo was abusing the human rights of its citizens. But this does not mean that the international community has the right to interfere in the internal affairs of states.

global community is now something new. International organizations have been set up to deal with the global challenges. The World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the United Nations, and the European Union have been created to deal with economic, social, and political problems.

Capitalism has failed to respond to climate challenge

By Atul Tiwari

T

e years, the evidence that climate change could be a serious threat to humanity could be seen in the impacts of extreme weather events:

- Heatwaves
- Droughts
- Floods
- Storms

All of these are signs that the planet is warming up, and the impact of climate change is evident in the increasing frequency and intensity of these events.

The response has been growing deployment of wind and solar power, and the International Community has been working to find ways to deal with the problem.

The costs of achieving a zero-carbon economy are immense. The impact of climate change is already being felt in many parts of the world, and the International Community is working to find ways to deal with the problem.

In the case of the Amazon, the only real solution is for Brazil to block the recently concluded trade deal between the European Union and Mercosur, unless Brazil — the largest economy in Latin America — does more to protect the forest. And although the world is lagging behind the targets for the Paris climate agreement, 2020 was a significant year for global environmentalism, with climate change and biodiversity issues being pushed to the top of the agenda.

The Paris climate agreement was a significant step forward, and the International Community is working to ensure that the targets are met.

In the case of the Amazon, the only real solution is for Brazil to block the recently concluded trade deal between the European Union and Mercosur, unless Brazil — the largest economy in Latin America — does more to protect the forest. And although the world is lagging behind the targets for the Paris climate agreement, 2020 was a significant year for global environmentalism, with climate change and biodiversity issues being pushed to the top of the agenda.

The Paris climate agreement was a significant step forward, and the International Community is working to ensure that the targets are met.

In the case of the Amazon, the only real solution is for Brazil to block the recently concluded trade deal between the European Union and Mercosur, unless Brazil — the largest economy in Latin America — does more to protect the forest. And although the world is lagging behind the targets for the Paris climate agreement, 2020 was a significant year for global environmentalism, with climate change and biodiversity issues being pushed to the top of the agenda.

The Paris climate agreement was a significant step forward, and the International Community is working to ensure that the targets are met.

In the case of the Amazon, the only real solution is for Brazil to block the recently concluded trade deal between the European Union and Mercosur, unless Brazil — the largest economy in Latin America — does more to protect the forest. And although the world is lagging behind the targets for the Paris climate agreement, 2020 was a significant year for global environmentalism, with climate change and biodiversity issues being pushed to the top of the agenda.

The Paris climate agreement was a significant step forward, and the International Community is working to ensure that the targets are met.
The Zawqeb LNG Terminal in Belgium was commissioned in 1987. It has since developed, together with the Zawqeb area as a whole, into a central crossroads for North-West Europe’s gas network. Located at the point where a number of gas pipelines meet, the terminal plays a key role in Europe’s natural gas supplies.

The terminal currently has 180,000 cu m of LNG storage capacity spread over four tanks and an annual throughput capacity of 7,000,000 tonnes of LNG. A 80th km of storage tanks connects the four construction. The ceremony was attended by Qatar’s ambassador in Brussels Abdul Rahman bin Mohammad al-Shalhi as well as senior executives from Qatar Petroleum.

The QRCS School Programme organises lectures to raise awareness of the capacity of the Higher Education. Of understanding (MoU) with the Ministry of Education and Higher Education.

The ‘Safe School’ risk reduction programme seeks to improve community disaster preparedness and effective response, and the ‘Social Forces and Integration’ programme organises lectures to raise social awareness among students, teachers, and supervisors at educational institutions. The Zeebrugge LNG Terminal plays a key role in Europe’s natural gas supplies.