Talking to Qatar Charity's 'Ghiras' magazine,
Mr. Khalifa bin Jassem Al-Kuwari, Director General of QFFD: We work on enabling UN and international organizations to achieve sustainable and comprehensive development

The assistance, which is provided by the Qatar Fund for Development (QFFD) in the period 2018-2020, is provided in the form of a financial contribution, with an economic value of around $38 million, and is designed to improve the social and infrastructural aspects of 13 projects in 13 countries in the region.

The cooperation is designed to strengthen the role of UN agencies and non-governmental organizations (NGOs) in the field of development and to contribute to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The projects focus on improving the living conditions of people living in vulnerable situations, such as refugees, internally displaced persons, and people affected by natural disasters.

The projects aim to provide basic services such as shelter, water, sanitation, and health care, as well as educational and vocational training opportunities.

The cooperation is an important step in achieving the goals of the QFFD and Qatar Charity, and it reflects the commitment of both organizations to contribute to the achievement of the SDGs.

We look forward to working with Qatar Charity to achieve a better future for people in need.
Qatar celebrates 75th United Nations Day

By Hamza Aljazi

Qatari leadership has reaffirmed its commitment to the goals of the United Nations (UN) and its dedication to promoting the principles of international cooperation and development.

\[ \text{Qatar has been a strong advocate for peace, stability, and development in the Middle East and around the world.} \]

Qatar is proud to be a member of the United Nations and is committed to working with other nations to achieve the goals of peace, prosperity, and sustainable development.

\[ \text{The UN plays a vital role in addressing global challenges and promoting the well-being of all peoples.} \]

As the 75th anniversary of the United Nations Day arrives, Qatar continues to support the organization and its objectives, contributing to the world’s efforts to build a better future for all.

\[ \text{Qatar’s commitment to the UN is evident in its active participation in various initiatives and its support to international causes.} \]

In addition to its formal memberships in the UN, Qatar has also taken on informal roles and responsibilities to contribute to global efforts.

\[ \text{Qatar’s engagement with the UN reflects its dedication to international cooperation and its commitment to peace and development.} \]

The country has actively participated in UN-led initiatives and has hosted significant UN conferences and summits.

\[ \text{Qatar’s involvement with the UN demonstrates its commitment to upholding the principles and values enshrined in the UN Charter.} \]

In conclusion, Qatar’s participation in the United Nations Day serves as a reminder of its dedication to the principles of international cooperation and its commitment to building a more just, peaceful, and sustainable world.

\[ \text{Qatar’s leadership continues to work with the UN to ensure that the goals of the organization are realized, both nationally and internationally.} \]

Britain rebels against Brexit bill

The UK's exit from the European Union is set to be delayed until June 2019, it has been reported.

The European Union (Withdrawal) Bill, which was passed by Parliament last week, is due to be debated in the House of Lords today.

The bill, which would allow the UK to withdraw from the EU, is expected to be approved by the Lords and referred to the Commons for a second reading.

The bill, which has been described as a "substantial and far-reaching" measure, would give the Government the power to negotiate the terms of the UK's exit from the EU.

Britain has previously said it wants to ensure that the UK has the right to negotiate the terms of its exit from the EU, and that it is not subject to the European Court of Justice.

The bill would also allow the Government to extend the period of time it has to negotiate the terms of the UK's exit from the EU.

The bill is due to be debated in the House of Commons on Thursday, with a vote expected to take place on Friday.

The bill is expected to be passed within the next few weeks, with the UK set to leave the EU at the end of March 2019.

Great divide: Hunger spike amid massive food surpluses

The world, for now, is facing an unprecedented hunger crisis. The United Nations has warned the global food problem is worsening and some nations in Africa and the Middle East are being hit by extreme heatwaves, floods, economic hardships, weather extremes and now the Covid-19 crisis — adding fuel to the fire.

As many as 13m more people than previously projected could go hungry in 2020, and 150m more in 2021 than in 2019, the UN’s World Food Programme said. The global food security index is expected to drop 2.7% in 2020 from 2019.

Some 14% of all food produced globally is lost every year, says the FAO.

In the Gulf, a third and half of the food produced is eaten by animals, according to the Food Agriculture Organization report last year.

In Qatar, the Gulf’s richest oil-producing country, food waste is a serious problem, with a third of all produce thrown away. A report by the Food and Agriculture Organization in 2016 estimated that 17% of all food produced globally is wasted.
