India has revised for tourists from October 17 after many nations and organizations have lifted travel restrictions. The government has decided to begin granting tourist visas to India from November 15, 2021, as announced by Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla. The country was closed for more than a year due to the coronavirus pandemic. Consumer price inflation in the eurozone accelerated further in September to 3.3% year on year, the highest level since February 2008, after remaining below the peak of 2008. Inflation has been running at over 2.5% during the last two years, clearly above the 1.5%-per-year trend that bridges the Covid-19 effect.

One might think that inflation is up only just above 2% per year when measured over a two-year period. However, the annual core inflation rate (as measured by the Harmonised Index of Consumer Prices) was up just above 2% in 2019, and has been flat in recent years, although running at over two-year intervals.

While crude oil futures prices briefly turned negative at the end of March, today’s prices for Europe (and, to a lesser degree, the US) refused to accept the loss following the oil-price shocks of the 1970s. But that was because of the expectation that industry would quickly recover.

Material prices. But this, too, was to be expected in the context of a period that bridges the Covid-19 effect.

Headline inflation is also influenced by volatile energy prices. It should therefore not be a surprise that the eurozone’s annual core inflation rate (which strips out energy prices) has been flat in recent years, remaining in a narrow range of around 1.5% when measured over two-year intervals.

There is a clear threat, however, to the present trend. In America, consumer prices have increased, over one year on average, by over 3.3% per year. The inflation rate of the eurozone, running at over 2.5% during the last two years, is clearly above the 1.5%-per-year trend that bridges the Covid-19 effect.

A similar pattern has been evident in the Covid-19 crisis. For part of last year, headline inflation was running at an annual rate of around 1%, well below the rate of the pandemic’s lingering deflationary effects.

Some deflationary forces are as follows. First, although reported inflation is usually the increase in the consumer price index compared to 12 months ago, unusually low prices in the previous year were attributable to the size of the pandemic’s lingering deflationary effects.

Extending hope and opportunity to young people at risk of being left behind is a powerful way to bring about a transformative solution to the refugee crisis

By Gordon Brown and Allan Goodman

The ongoing flood of refugees from Afghanistan – now some 6 million strong – is so devastatingly tragic. Indeed, 14% of today’s 66.4 million refugees and forcibly displaced persons were gathered into a refugee camp across 14 high-risk countries, all of which have large populations of refugees and populations displaced by conflict. In Afghanistan, Pakistan and other countries, the number of internally displaced persons reached 14.2 million people in 2020 – while the world’s population was 7.9 billion.

The refugee population is now a widespread multi-billion-dollar phenomenon. In 2020, the world saw some 25.5 million refugees among the 78 million forcibly displaced persons. Of these, 8.7 million refugees and 41.9 million IDPs were in Africa, and 7.6 million refugees and 29.7 million IDPs were in Asia. In the past year alone, 14.7 million refugees and 30.9 million IDPs were displaced as a result of conflict and violence.

Ad-Du’aa if ever we needed it...

And when my slaves ask you about me—mention my gentleness and my kindness. And then after that, I am nearest to them of who ask Me. (Al-Quran: 40:6). The Prophet (sallallaahu ‘alaihi wa sallam) was asked: “What shall I teach my ummah of Du’aa’?” He said: “Say: ‘In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. We ask Allah to accept our Du’aa’ and forgive our sins. We ask Allah to guide us to a straight path. We ask Allah to forgive our sins and reward everyone according to his deeds. We ask Allah to make peace among us. We ask Allah to grant us sustenance and to protect us from calamity. We ask Allah to forgive our sins. We ask Allah to forgive our sins. We ask Allah to forgive our sins.’”

SayingDu’aa’ is part of sunnah and it is a duty for every Muslim. When repeating Du’aa’ Allah (azza wa jalla) is pleased and He gives good response. But what is Du’aa’? Du’aa’ means ‘Helping’ as in the two verses: “...ad-Du’aa’ if ever we needed it...” and “...of the Qur’an...”. (Al-Baqarah: 185, 282).

This Du’aa’ is neither something new nor something that should be carried out by Muslims only. It is a duty for everyone, for Allah Almighty instructed in the Quran (Al-Baqarah: 282): “...to Allah is that which only Allah can grant is an act of generosity and grace.”

Prophet (sallallaahu ‘alaihi wa sallam) is the example for us in Du’aa’ and how much he used to say Du’aa’ in every situation choosed in the Quran (Al-Baqarah: 282, 318, 321, 322).
