Qatar Airways to resume Atlanta flights on June 5

Qatar Airways has announced it will add its 53rd gateway in the US with the resumption of four additional flights to operate a total of 21 weekly flights across its 12 gateways.

To become the largest international carrier during the early days of the pandemic, Qatar Airways has applied for a “controlled knowledge” of global passenger flow and booking trends to re-establish its global network and reconnect the US with Asia and the Middle East.

For our network, gradually resuming our US network, connecting onwards to the US throughout the pandemic.

In line with the airline’s steady approach of rebuilding its US network, Qatar Airways plans to ramp up services and increase frequencies to at least 12 gateways in the US, connecting smoothly to hundreds of American cities connecting onwards to over 120 destinations worldwide, with Alaska Airlines, American Airlines and Delta.

The airline has been using its unrivalled connectivity to and from the United States via the Best Airport in the World, Hamad International Airport.

Having seen stepping flight to the US throughout the pandemic, we have steadily rebuilt our network in the Middle East and connecting onwards to Washington, D.C. and other US gateways, in line with our strategy to connect Doha with the US.

The US will be added by Qatar Airways once the start of the pandemic. The launch of flights to Seatle will allow passengers to travel via Qatar Airways to the world that airline health and safety standards are subject to the highest possible standards of professional, experienced, trained and assessed. Safety passenger flights can book flights with peace of mind, knowing that Qatar Airways has become the first global airline in the world to achieve the prestigious 5-Star Covid-19 Airline Safety rating by international air transport rating organisation, Skytrax. The expanded commercial cooperation will increase the number of destinations profitable to Qatar Airways passengers from 29 to 59 on Qatar Airways network, including new destinations to Angola, Australia, Mozambique, New Zealand and South Africa. Qatar Airways has also announced that it will also offer additional coded-share flights to destinations including New York, New York (JFK), Boston (BOS), Chicago (ORD), Miami (MIA), Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW), Houston (HOU), Cincinnati (CVG), Charlotte (CLT), Atlanta (ATL), Orlando (MCO), Denver (DEN), Los Angeles (LAX), Seattle (SEA), San Francisco (SFO), and Washington, D.C. (IAD).

The national carrier continues to rebuild its global network, which currently stands at more than 120 destinations with flights in the Middle East, Europe, Asia and Oceania. Qatar Airways is the first and only ultra-long and 14-hour flights to operate a total of 21 weekly flights across its 12 gateways.

The new flights are expected to provide passengers with a smoother, safer and more enjoyable experience and increase frequencies and service reliability.

Hearing and speech impaired teenager speaks through art

By Manoj Kale

Arjun Suvaraj, a 13-year-old hearing and speech impaired boy, has succeeded in his passion for art by painting. He has been recognized for his talent.

Arjun, who has passed his 10th grade examinations, has only just started painting. He has been helped by his parents, particularly his mother.

“Arjun has been taking part in art competitions and has won many inter-school competitions and Indian Cultural Center organized tournaments,” Shobha Suvaraj said.

“We were extremely worried when we learnt of his hearing loss. We then found a school for special kids in Chennai, Irita, where we enrolled him for classes in 2011. It was on early intervention school which helped him a lot. They taught the children with the help of pictures and showing. That also helped me teach my son through drawing,” said Shobha while speaking to Gulf Times.

Arjun’s parents – Rajesh Babu and Shobha Rajesh – were very concerned about his health and future after they discovered his deafness when he was eight months.

However, they are now proud of his talent, which is not being appreciated. Arjun is eager to further enhance his talent.

“Arjun is a fast learner, he will be able to learn new language in a few months. With the passage of months, his talent is being appreciated. Arjun Suvaraj drawing his favorite lion. Gulf Times/PHOTO

“His parents said.

“The young artist is more into photography and wants to have a real face in photography for his work here as there are many galleries and museums,” Rajesh said.

Arjun says that he wants to make art his career. Since he cannot hear and speak, he has a job and earns a living. He has successfully sold his first painting to his own creativity. Currently, he is going for art classes at the MIB, when he got enrolled in them.

“Arjun’s parents are thankful for their son will take art as a career option. “We have seen this trend to get into the 10th grade exams. After a lot of research and thinking, we decided to let him do what he enjoys the most. He is a hard worker, has a good grip on his art, can make art career. Since then, he has been busy with his art work and training. Currently, he is going for art classes at the MIB, where he got enrolled in them. ‘’

Biden unveils sweeping US Covid-19 plan

President Joe Biden moved swiftly on his first full day in the White House to deliver the message that the US is on track to get back to normal. The $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief bill that he signed into law on Thursday was the first of three legislative priorities that he intends to pursue before the end of the month.

The plan, titled "The American Rescue Plan," includes $1,400 direct payments to most Americans, $430 billion for state and local governments, and $300 billion for hospitals and vaccine distribution.

In a speech to the nation, Biden said the bill will help "our children go back to school safely," "our families get back to the activities we love," and "our economy get back on track.

He also announced a new goal of vaccinating 30 million Americans in the first 100 days of his presidency, and said the US will have enough vaccines for every American by the end of May.

Biden also pledged to spend $150 billion on infrastructure, including $75 billion for broadband internet access, $88 billion for clean electric vehicles, and $50 billion for electric grid modernization.

The plan also includes $150 billion for education, $100 billion for job training, and $100 billion forupil health care.

Biden said the bill is "the most comprehensive economic recovery plan in American history.

He added: "We are not done yet. We have much more to do. But today, America begins to turn the page.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi also praised the plan, saying: "The American Rescue Plan is a historic milestone in our nation's fight against the virus and our recovery from the pandemic.

But the plan faces opposition from Republicans, who have accused Biden of overreaching.

Biden said he would work with leaders of both parties to address their concerns, but added: "We cannot wait.

He added: "We must act now, and we must act big.

The plan also includes $60 billion for help with housing, $50 billion for help with utilities, and $15 billion for help with child care.

Biden said he would work with Congress to make the plan permanent, and added: "We cannot allow this crisis to become a new normal.

The Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) cannot hold open proceedings as public hearings are political parties, a spokesperson for the ECP said yesterday.

The spokesperson, the ECP Secretary Committee (PSC) is one of a joint investigation team, which is why the hearings cannot be held public.

“A public hearing will also be held on the committee’s two years.”

The spokesperson said that it is an “important and sensitive subject”, which will be done based on “merit” and “reasons”.

“Consequently, under Article 26 of the ECP’s Act, an application for the appointment of the chair shall be submitted to the ECP,” the spokesperson said.

According to the spokesperson, the case is already being heard based on the ECP’s Act with the parties from related agencies taking part in the hearings.

He added that a scrutiny committee hears the points of view of both the parties, the accused and the complainants. However, before permission is retained by the parties, the committee will forward its comprehensive recommendations to the commission.

The ECP will then put forward recommendations to both the parties in an open hearing.

The spokesperson said that the ECP will have the hearings of all sides and discuss the case on merit, but the commission will not discuss any “four or more” cases.

The statement by the ECP comes a day after Prime Minister Imran Khan challenged all the political parties, a spokesperson for the ECP said yesterday.

He said the government had also raised the possibility of jointly discussing the case.

Prime Minister Khan has also confirmed that his government will hold open proceedings in the case.

The ECP is also looking at the possibility of holding closed proceedings in the case.

According to the spokesperson, the case is already being heard based on the ECP’s Act with the parties from related agencies taking part in the hearings.

“Consequently, under Article 26 of the ECP’s Act, an application for the appointment of the chair shall be submitted to the ECP,” the spokesperson said.

According to the spokesperson, the ECP’s Act stipulates for delegation of financial powers to regulatory agencies.

Therefore, the Financial Division further apprised the ECP of the following:

Strong winds, dusty conditions likely to continue today: Met

After yesterday’s sandstorm, Qatar is again expected to see strong winds and dust today, according to the forecast. The Qatar Met department has also warned of strong winds with high seas and poor visibility in offshore areas today.

The wind speed may go up to 60 knots at times offshore and 50 knots in some onshore areas with the sea level rising to 14ft. High seas and poor visibility due to dust are also expected along with blowing dust in some inshore areas today. The sea level is expected to rise to 2km or less in some places. Cold conditions will also prevail by night.

Visibility will be partially to fully reduced in most regions of the country, and currently reaching 2km in the capital. "Weather charts indicate that the country is expected to see strong winds from Wednesday night and a noticeable drop in temperature during the weekend. "Weather charts indicate that the country will be affected by fresh to strong northwesterly winds from Wednesday night to Friday January 20-22," the weather office had said. ‘Apparent temperature’ would be less than that, the weather office had said. ‘Apparent temperature’ is the temperature equivalent perceived by humans, caused by air combined effects of air temperature, relative humidity and wind speed, according to information available online.

Strong winds and dust swept across Doha yesterday, many residents postponed events yesterday, it is learnt. Some businesses and activities at some locations in Doha and the Sealine area were also affected by the dust storm, temporarily halting driving. "Due to low visibility in most areas of the country, the Ministry of Interior (MoI) advised commuters to drive with caution and maintain a reasonable, safe distance," Interior (MoI) advised commuters to drive with caution and urged them to "buckle up, slow down your vehicle and maintain a reasonable, safe distance."

MoI added that "driving in bad weather conditions such as dust storms requires extra care and attention to avoid road accidents. "To enhance your safety on the road during bad weather, we advise you to "buckle up, slow down your vehicle and maintain a reasonable, safe distance".

"In a post on Twitter, the Qatar Met department said: "We are observing a dust storm in the Qatar and currently reaching 2km in the capital. Most areas of the country are affected by wind, blowing dust and dust storms, especially during daytime hours. It is cold at night with low visibility especially in open areas, marine warnings still in effect," it added."

The duststorm also caused many people, especially those with respiratory problems, from going to markets. Instead, they opted for online shopping and home delivery. "Due to low visibility in most areas of the country, the Ministry of Interior (MoI) advised commuters to drive with caution and maintain a reasonable, safe distance," Interior (MoI) advised commuters to drive with caution and urged them to "buckle up, slow down your vehicle and maintain a reasonable, safe distance."

"The much-anticipated opening of Al Khor Carnival, which was originally scheduled for yesterday, will now take place tomorrow. "The opening has been postponed. Due to the unexpected weather conditions and for your safety, the opening will be on Saturday 23rd January," the organisers said in a post on social media.

The inaugural Al Khor Carnival 2021, organised and managed by AID, will be held at Al Khor Beach Park in Al Khor. Also, a member of cycling group Qatar Chain Reaction said the Bike Ibiza Triathlon, which was set to take place today, "will be moved to January 27th in view of the weather conditions."
