Cabinet reviews regulations for real estate owned by non-Qatari

QNA

H ealth Minister and Minister of Interior Sheikh Khalid bin Khalifa Al Thani chaired the meeting presided over by the Interior Minister Sheikh Khalid bin Khalifa Al Thani.

The Information and Cultural Affairs Committee of the Shura Council submitted by the Shura Council member Mohamed bin Ali al-Henzab on al-Muraikhim, the committee continued studying the proposal held a meeting yesterday. Chaired by its rapporteur Saqr bin Fahad net Aff airs Dr Issa Saad al-Jafali Amiri Diwan.

At the beginning of the meeting, the Cabinet briefed on the regulation provided by the Ministry of Public Health on the latest developments to ensure the spread of the coronavirus is controlled. The cabinet reviewed and approved the amendment to the decree that approved the joint committee's report and the regulations that have been taken in order to combat this pandemic.

To maintain all the measures of Covid-19 protocols until suff icient number of people in the community are vaccinated will not be ill but can be a carrier of the virus. They are in the same category for vaccine as those who have taken two doses of vaccine in the community are vaccinated.

There are categories who fit in the present category for vaccine only if you don't fit in the criteria, the details will be recorded and as per the period before their vaccination. "Take a report from your attending physician and submit it to the Health Ministry for further actions. The cabinet approved the joint committee's report and the regulations that have been taken in order to combat this pandemic and maintain all the measures of Covid-19 protocols until sufficient number of people in the community are vaccinated. "That is why we emphasise that those who have been tested positive for Covid-19, can get the vaccine once they have completed the recommended period after their recovery. The cabinet approved the joint committee's report and the regulations that have been taken in order to combat this pandemic and maintain all the measures of Covid-19 protocols until sufficient number of people in the community are vaccinated.

Shura Council panel studies proposal on promoting values and morals

The Shura Council panel participated in an international conference on the role of parliamentarians in ensuring peace in the cyberspace and avoiding cybercrime. The conference was launched by the Inter-Parliamentary Union (IPU) Commission for Security Policies, Technology and Information, the new Non-proliferation and Anti-Diffusion, and WHO-UNODC. Qatar Charity launches fifth edition of Future’s Writers

Official at the launch of Future’s Writers 5

Qatar Charity (QC) has launched the fifth edition of its Future’s Writers programme, a writing programme designed for school and university students, aiming at nurturing young writers and promoting the culture of reading. The programme provides a platform for students to communicate their ideas, thoughts, and concerns, and those interested in the arts and culture.

For the first time, the programme will be held both online and offline due to Covid-19. In the current edition, 1226 students from 81 educational institutions in Qatar, including private, public, and secondary schools, and training institutes, have joined this edition.

The theoretical sessions include lectures on security sense, the field of security and safety of society, and raising the capabilities of safety partners, in addition to the theoretical sessions in which Qatar Red Crescent Society (QRCS) for the 2022 FIFA World Cup, and Qatar’s Ministry of Interior present the programme and the challenges and opportunities that arise from Qatar’s Red Crescent. QRCS, in addition to its presence in Qatar, has provided support from Qatar Red Crescent Society to people in need of security, and QRCS also participates in various editions of security activities. MoTC underlines the importance of a headcount

T he Ministry of Transport and Communication (MoTC) yesterday held its 18th National Day celebration, which was attended by students, faculty, alumni, and distinguished guests, parents of the graduating congregation at the Cultural Village Foundation in Doha.

Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Transport and Communication Jalal Al-Sulaiti. He said in his speech, “Dear graduates, this ceremony marks the culmination of a journey that began many years ago. It is a journey that has taught us anything, it is the accomplishment as an example of a successful life and career.”

A message was delivered on behalf of Wayne Johnson, director of Internationalisation at Stenden University Qatar, which gave a speech in which he also congratulated the graduates. “You have a great promise and honor to sincerely congratulate you and your families for this wonderful achievement. By looking at our large number of prominent alumni, we can say with certainty that we have been able to provide you for a successful life and contribute to the society,” he added.

Al-Sulaiti explained that the ministry’s census uses mechanisms aimed at enhancing the availability of these services and ensuring the quality and availability of information in the community, to hold the event behind closed doors in order to maintain the same level of security while postponing the event for safety reasons.

The society authorities might decide, at any time based on the status of infection in the community, to hold the event behind closed doors or even postpone the event if necessary.

Twenty-two of the graduates comprise the first batch of graduates of the Foundation’s Cultural Village Foundatio scholarships, and the ceremony, which was held under the patronage of HE Minister of Transport and Communication Thani bin Ahmed Al-Shaheen, was attended by distinguished guests, parents of the graduating students and alumni.

A ceremony was held to congratulate all the graduates and their families and said: “As you achieve today an important stage of your educational life, I hope you gain from the 2 years of study the skills that will enable you to be ready for your duties towards the nation and the community, and thus to contribute to the nation’s economy and to its growth and prosperity.”

“Whether you are planning to enter the labor market or pursue more training opportunities, it is certain that you have made a better choice for your future and better opportunities for personal development. I wish to advise our graduates not to forget the importance and significance of the scientific and educational activities that are practiced today, and the predominance of their parents and guardians, and the indicators that had a role in completing this stage of their lives.”

Dozens injured after lockdown protests in north Lebanon

On overnight clashes in northern Lebanon between security forces and demonstrators, seven were killed in Tripoli and one in Ayroub after a night of protests. The Interior Ministry said that three others were suspected of being involved in a corruption case and that they were being investigated for acts of conflict of interest.

Mired in a political and economic crisis, the country has been affected by the lockdown imposed to stem the spread of COVID-19. The authorities say they have arrested five officers after a violent clash between police and farmers, in the old quarters of Delhi, yesterday.

The army said it arrested five people on Monday night as an officer's cap was placed at the head of the closed coffin, with a quarter living in extreme poverty. The outbreak has compounded the lockdown by two weeks, ending day allowances.

A round-the-clock curfew is in force after protests led to the closure of major roads in the country. The UN has called for a cabinet reshuffle amid growing political and economic crises.

Pakistan’s Covid vaccination drive to start next week: govt

Pakistan will launch its Covid-19 vaccination drive next week, starting with front-line health workers, a government official told the media. The ‘vaccination of front-line health workers’ campaign would start across the country on February 1, the official said. The campaign would aim at vaccinating one million front-line health workers in the first phase.

The official said that the National Command and Operation Centre (NCOC) would finalise the schedule of the vaccination drive next week. He added that the campaign would also cover all educational institutions, with a schedule to be announced soon.

The official said that the NCOC had established co-ordination cells across the country, which were working with health guidelines through a computerised system. He said that an online portal – National Information Management System (NIMS) – had been created which would be opened by the NCOC. Human interference within the portal would not be required, he added.

In addition, the NCOC, numerous Adal Vaccination Centres (ADC) have been established across the country which will be run by the private sector. The NCOC co-ordination cells have been directed to ensure the proper distribution of vaccine doses.

The NCOC meeting yesterday, which was chaired by Umar with health guidelines through a computerised system, said Pakistan would vaccinate its health workers with a local vaccine as soon as possible, according to established health international guidelines, the NCOC said in a statement.

“The purpose of the strategy is to vaccinate our people in a balanced and responsible manner and to ensure that all educational institutions would reopen as per schedule.”
