Exemption for Green List countries to continue

THERE will be no exemption from hotel quarantine for people returning to Qatar from February 14, except for those coming from the Green List countries. The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) announced this on social media on Monday.

“Building on the previously announced return from travel policy to the State of Qatar and in the light of the new public data on Covid-19 in the country, the MoPH has decided that any previous exemptions from hotel quarantine no longer apply for people returning back to Qatar from countries not on the Green List,” the MoPH said.

“The new policy shall apply to all entries upon return to Qatar, including those who have been quarantined in other countries and transferred to the State of Qatar, and in the light of the outcomes of the 6th session of Qatar-Turkey Supreme Strategic Committee held on November 26 last year and yielded 10 agreements in different fields.”

The decision also impacts those who have been exempted from hotel quarantine before travelling.

The Green List, which is published on the MoPH website, currently includes the following countries: Oman, Jordan, Sri Lanka, the United Arab Emirates, and others.

MoPH said, “The Ministry of Public Health also confirms that the existing quarantine policy for travel and returns to Qatar for people coming from countries on the Green List will remain applicable. The ministry shall keep the list as a priority by monitoring the epidemiological situation and preventive measures put in place to confront the Covid-19. Hotel quarantine must for arriving passengers from Feb: MoPH

Qatar will no longer exempt travellers returning to Qatar from the Green List countries after February 14, according to a new policy announced by the Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) on Monday.

The MoPH took the decision to revoke the exemptions granted to travellers coming from countries not on the Green List, including the German Federal Republic, the United Kingdom, Malaysia, Singapore, India, and others.

The decision was announced following a meeting between Qatari and German officials to discuss the epidemiological situation and preventive measures put in place to confront the Covid-19 pandemic and ensure the safety of passengers arriving in Qatar.

The MoPH said that the decision was taken in line with the outcomes of the 6th session of Qatar-Turkey Supreme Strategic Committee, held in November last year, which resulted in the signing of 10 agreements in different fields, including the enhancement of bilateral co-operation and work together more in different fields.

The new policy, which will be effective from February 14, aims to ensure the safety and security of passengers arriving in Qatar and prevent the spread of Covid-19, the MoPH added.

The ministry stressed that the decision was taken in line with the outcomes of the 6th session of Qatar-Turkey Supreme Strategic Committee, held in November last year, which resulted in the signing of 10 agreements in different fields, including the enhancement of bilateral co-operation and work together more in different fields.

Bayern win Club World Cup

Bayern Munich won the FIFA Club World Cup final yesterday as Benjamin Pavard’s second-half winner sealed a 4-2 victory over Mexico’s Tigres UANL, AFP reported.

The French full-back tapped in enough to give the defending champions their fourth title within last 12 months.

It is the seventh time in a row that the Champions League winners have gone on to win the Club World Cup, as Bayern followed in the footsteps of last year’s champions Liverpool.

Sepp Van den Bergh scored the second to add all six available titles within a year after Rekinka and Kimmich scored the first from a free-kick.

Hansi Flick’s men had already won the Champions League, Bundesliga, German Cup, UEFA Super Cup and German Super Cup last season.

It meant heartbreak for Tigres, the first Mexican side to reach the Club World Cup final as CONCACAF champions.

Bayern are the seventh winner when Joshua Kimmich’s cross – intended for Robert Lewandowski – bounced off of the hand of Tigres defender Abderrahmane Daoudi before squirming over the line. After a goalless 90 minutes, the game went straight to penalties and it was Bayern’s Maikel Maris di’s 12th penalty to seal the final sprint-kick 5-4 defeat, The Times of Qatar

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. President Joe Biden and Chinese President Xi Jinping held their first phone call on Wednesday as both sides seek to ease tensions that have escalated to a simmering conflict in the disputed lake area high in the Himalayan mountains.

The call, which took place shortly before Biden was due to address the U.S. Congress, was described as “constructive” and “constructive,” according to the Chinese foreign ministry.

In a statement, the U.S. White House said the leaders discussed the need to “prevent further escalations and promote stability” in the region.

The call came at a time when the two sides have been engaged in a weeks-long stand-off along the Line of Actual Control (LAC), the de facto border between the two countries.

The two leaders agreed to hold an early summit as a way to resolve the crisis, the White House said.

The call was the first between the two leaders since the Chinese side confirmed that Trump had called Xi during his presidency.

Despite the recent calls, the relationship between the U.S. and China has been on a downward trajectory, with the two sides clashing over trade, technology, military, and security issues.

Last year, the two countries were at loggerheads over the coronavirus pandemic, with China blaming the U.S. for spreading the virus and the U.S. accusing China of covering up the extent of the outbreak.

Biden, who took office in January, has said he will not prioritize trade negotiations with China, but will focus on other issues such as human rights, technology, and climate change.

On the economic front, the U.S. has imposed sanctions on Chinese companies and individuals, while China has retaliated with its own measures.

The call comes as the world is facing a new wave of the coronavirus pandemic, with the number of cases and deaths continuing to rise.

The two leaders are expected to discuss ways to cooperate on the pandemic, as well as on other issues such as climate change and human rights.

Despite the tensions, both leaders have emphasized the importance of maintaining a stable relationship between the two countries.

The call was described as “constructive” and “constructive” by the Chinese foreign ministry.

Pakistan to allow private companies to import Covid-19 vaccines: documents

By Anil Sinha, Reuters

Pakistan is to allow private companies to import coronavirus vaccines and has agreed to exempt them from tariffs, according to documents reviewed by Reuters, as the country seeks to secure shots to assuage a surge in coronavirus cases.

The move is part of what the National Health Services, Regulations and Coordination division of the health ministry had sought to secure vaccines from multiple sources, including the imported, while excluding the imported vaccines, the government's narcotic price cap (which is typically applied to vaccines) has yet to be applied.

The documents show the cabinet of Prime Minister Imran Khan has approved the import of Covid-19 vaccines through other sources.

Vaccines are defined as any product registered or regulated for the treatment or prevention of specific disease by the government's regulatory authority.

In July, the government had announced it would seek the help of private companies to import vaccines, in the event that it could not obtain them through its own procurement.
While further progress in the development of artificial intelligence is inevitable, it will not necessarily be linear. Nonetheless, those hyping these technologies have seized on a number of compelling myths, starting with the notion that AI can solve any problem.

By Stan Matwin

In recent years, artificial intelligence has been attracting more attention, money, and talent than ever in its short history. But much of the sudden hype is the result of myths and misconceptions being peddled by investors, entrepreneurs, and policymakers.

For many years, the field was growing incrementally, with progress appearing sporadically. It was not until 2017 when computer scientist Geoffrey Hinton, a key figure in the development of artificial intelligence, suggested that a real breakthrough in 2012, when his team at Google was able to apply machine-learning algorithms to a problem in computer vision that was previously unsolvable. This was a real breakthrough because it showed that “deep learning” algorithms could be used to solve the act of computer vision algorithms, which is the act of imaging the scene and identifying objects in the scene.

What these myths entice us to believe is that if we don’t apply enough images or language to the brain, the algorithm will figure it out. This is not true. Although AI researchers are working on new models of artificial intelligence, we still do not understand how these models work. We do not understand what the inside of an AI system looks like. What is the cost of a particular algorithm? How long does it take to learn the task? How many parameters does the algorithm have?

There are of course more myths: that AI will soon surpass human intelligence. In 2005, the best-selling book of the year, “I Am a Machine: Human Nature and the Future of Artificial Intelligence,” was a real breakthrough in 2012, when his team at Google was able to apply machine-learning algorithms to a problem in computer vision that was previously unsolvable. The creation is in need for Allah

Pondering on Allah's signs

The Quran's purpose is to make people see the signs of Allah. People must believe in Allah, and he who believes in Allah will be saved, that is to say, he will be saved from the Fire. Allah says (what means): “And whoever fears Allah—He will make for him a way out. And will provide a way out of the Fire for him. And whoever fears Allah—He will make for him a way out. And will provide a way out of the Fire for him.”

The signs of Allah's existence are evident in the universe. Allah says (what means): “Indeed, Allah is the cleaver of grain and date seed. And whatever He may ordain for the earth, [saying], ‘Our Lord, Y ou did not create this without knowledge. Be exalted above those who have no knowledge.’”

The signs of Allah's existence are also evident in the human mind. Allah says (what means): “And whoever fears Allah—He will make for him a way out. And will provide a way out of the Fire for him.”

The signs of Allah's existence are also evident in the physical world. Allah says (what means): “And whoever fears Allah—He will make for him a way out. And will provide a way out of the Fire for him.”

The Ministry of Interior (MoI) has introduced a new feature with Metrash 2 that helps users submit the application for holding events (party-condolence). The new feature, according to a tweet by MoI, enables users to submit the application without visiting security departments. The service can be completed through simple steps. Users have to be open ‘Communicate with us’ interface after entering the event, area, street and building, send for the approval, and then confirm that a message has been received in the registered e-mail.
