Amir to meet DRC president tomorrow

His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad al-Thani will meet President of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) Felix Tshisekedi, who arrives today on an official visit, at the Al-Bidda Palace. Ahead of Amir’s meeting with the DRC president, Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al-Thani, Minister of Foreign Affairs, held a meeting yesterday in Istanbul with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan, and yesterday at the Amiri Diwan with Prime Minister of the Doha Declaration, is–

Turkish president meets Qatar’s FM

President Recep Tayyip Erdogan met yesterday with the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, Sheikh Mohamed bin Abdulrahman Al-Thani at Farmhouse in Istanbul. At the beginning of the meeting, the Foreign Minister conveyed the greetings of His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani to the Turkish president, wishing the Turkish people further progress and prosperity. Erdogan expressed his appreciation to His Highness the Amir for the warm hospitality and happiness and the Qatar president conveyed the greetings of His Highness the Amir to his sister. The meeting reviewed bilateral and regional issues of joint interest. (See Page 7)

Qatar initiative wins UN award

The Qatar National Authority for Tourism and Antiquities (QNAT) and the National Museum of Qatar (NMQ) have won an important award in the construction sector at the Eighth International Environmental Exhibition (AgriteQ) and second Qatar International Agricultural Convention Centre. The ministry announced a few days before its conclusion yesterday, the activities of the eighth edition in Mar 2022, AgriteQ, EnviroteQ, and International Environmental Exhibition (AgriteQ) and second Qatar International Environmental Exhibition and Convention Centre. The ministry announced a few days before its conclusion yesterday, the activities of the eighth edition in Mar 2022, AgriteQ, EnviroteQ, and International Environmental Exhibition (AgriteQ) and second Qatar International Environmental Exhibition and Convention Centre.

2nd drive-through vaccination centre to be opened at Al Wakra today

Qatar now administering more than 130,000 vaccine doses a week

PMH will notify people where their second dose will be given

PMH will notify people where their second dose will be given

Major boost in circular economy by Al Haya

Al Haya Waste Treatment Facility has effectively commissioned the last state of the art technology based oil sludge treatment plant at Mesaieed. The treatment and disposal of oily sludge generated from tank bottom cleaning, ship cleaning activities and the sludge generated from oil & gas companies were a big challenge for waste generators.

Major boost in circular economy by Al Haya

Oil sludge and waste from the gas industry, is being turned into a valuable commodity that can now be exported to the international market, allowing for a large increase in revenue for the companies involved. This is a significant step forward for the Circular Economy in Qatar, and a testament to the work being done by the Qatar Environment and Natural History Fund (QENH).

2nd drive-through vaccination centre to be opened at Al Wakra today

Qatar now administering more than 130,000 vaccine doses a week

PMH will notify people where their second dose will be given

Major boost in circular economy by Al Haya

Al Haya Waste Treatment Facility has effectively commissioned the last state of the art technology based oil sludge treatment plant at Mesaieed. The treatment and disposal of oily sludge generated from tank bottom cleaning, ship cleaning activities and the sludge generated from oil & gas companies were a big challenge for waste generators.

Major boost in circular economy by Al Haya

Oil sludge and waste from the gas industry, is being turned into a valuable commodity that can now be exported to the international market, allowing for a large increase in revenue for the companies involved. This is a significant step forward for the Circular Economy in Qatar, and a testament to the work being done by the Qatar Environment and Natural History Fund (QENH).
QRDI Council signs MoU with Hassad Food

Qatar Research, Development, Evaluation and Innovation (QRDI Council) has signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with Hassad Food Company, one of the region’s largest agriculture companies. The MoU aims to identify opportunities for collaboration in the fields of research, development, and innovation in the local agriculture sector in Qatar.

The MoU was signed by QRDI Council secretary-general Omar Ali al-Shaibani and Hassad CEO Mohamed al-Ansari. The MoU with Hassad Food is one of several initiatives planned by QRDI Council in 2021, as driven by the mission of the National Research, Development, and Innovation Strategy.

The strategy supports the country’s broader goal of building knowledge-based economy, as stipulated by Qatar Vision 2030. The QRDI Council continues to identify opportunities for innovation that supports the food and agriculture sector in Qatar and the models appropriate to leverage that innovation, according to a press statement.

al-Ansari said, “This MoU benefits both parties to support Qatar’s transition to a knowledge-based economy, in line with Qatar’s vision of creating a sustainable, modern, and technologically advanced economy that addresses the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century.

QRDI council, can play a key role” Al-Ansari also noted that QRDI Council will work closely with large local enterprises such as food processing plants to incentivize new and entrepreneurial sector settings, and local and international startups, skills and multinational companies to develop innovative solutions, with QRDI council, to identify challenges, opportunities for research and development, and creating mechanisms for co-development of technologies. These private-sector entities will be supported by QRDI Council’s knowledge institutions with talent, technical knowledge, and specialized equipment.

As newly appointed chief human resources officer, al-Ansari said QRDI Council will work with QRDI Council’s partners and the local agriculture sector, government, and international organizations to develop unique Smart Farms and Mechanized Farming technologies. The MoU with Hassad Food is one of several initiatives planned by QRDI Council in 2021, as driven by the mission of the National Research, Development, and Innovation Strategy.

The MoU with Hassad Food is one of several initiatives planned by QRDI Council in 2021, as driven by the mission of the National Research, Development, and Innovation Strategy.
Al Meera opens latest branch at Al Asmakh Mall in Al Sadd

Al Meera Consumer Goods Company has announced the opening of its latest branch at Al Asmakh Mall in Al Sadd. The new store marks a key milestone in its national retail expansion plan, bringing its total number of branches to 58 in localities across the country, Al Meera has said in a statement.

Centrally located in Al Sadd, the new branch at Al Asmakh Mall spans over 1,000sqm, delivering Al Meera’s “seamlessly integrated shopping experience” to the neighborhood, the statement notes. The new store will serve the highly-populated area of Al Sadd and the mall’s shoppers with a wide range of products at competitive prices for an exceptional shopping experience.

Commenting on the opening of the new branch, the company said: “We are proud to inaugurate our latest branch in Al Sadd’s vibrant neighborhood, a step closer in making Al Meera accessible to every neighborhood in the country. The opening of the Al Asmakh Mall branch follows our ambitious expansion strategy, which aims to deliver world-class customer service, high-quality, locally sourced and imported goods to vital and underserved areas across Qatar. In keeping with our updated store layout designs, we look forward to our customers enjoying their day-to-day shopping with utmost convenience and ease, with unmatched value.

True to Al Meera’s promise to remain present in every neighborhood, the company continues to drive expansion to economically viable locations in addition to areas where the community deserves a neighborhood retail service, the statement adds. This year will see the establishment of four Al Meera branches that remain in the pipeline. The company said that the retail chain is working in close coordination with the Ministry of Municipality and Environment to further contribute to the development and urbanisation of more districts and territories in Qatar as the country’s national retailer.
Minister issues training regulations of Center for Legal and Judicial Studies

The Minister of Justice and Acting Minister of Justice and Labour Affairs paid a visit to the centre on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the Bangladesh National Day and the 50th golden jubilee of Bangladesh’s independence and liberation war. The visit was part of the celebrations of the 50th Golden Jubilee of Bangladesh’s Independence and Liberation War which began on March 26 with various daylong events. The event began by playing the national anthem and the national flag by Bangladeshi diplomatic missions and the embassy in Qatar. The occasion included a discussion meeting on the occasion which was attended by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and members of the judiciary and the public prosecution. The training programmes in accordance with the regulations will also train legal professionals in government or other agencies, lawyers, attorneys under training, expert translators, expert interpreters, judicial officials, and any other category approved by the Minister. Under the provisions of the regulations, the Director of the Center for Legal and Judicial Studies will approve the annual training plan according to the training programmes not included in the curriculum. The director can accept the implementation of programmes not included in the annual training plan according to the training requirements and needs of the centre. Additional materials, accompanying educational resources, and rules for evaluation according to the training programmes.

Bangladesh embassy marks 50 years of country’s independence

The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) reported yesterday in the weekly bulletin of the National Vaccination Programme that 721,236 Covid-19 vaccine doses have been administered since the start of the programme.

Covid-19 will continue to be a threat to our health for many years. But this will not happen in the next few weeks or months. The good news is that the new variants are effective against the existing strain and the vaccines that we have been using in our vaccination programme are effective against the new variants. Sheikh Hasina, Prime Minister, in her recent video message delivered by the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and State Minister for Foreign Affairs of Bangladesh were read out and a discussion meeting was held on the occasion.

The event began by playing the national anthem and the national flag by Bangladeshi diplomatic missions and the embassy in Qatar. The occasion included a discussion meeting on the occasion which was attended by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and members of the judiciary and the public prosecution. The training programmes in accordance with the regulations will also train legal professionals in government or other agencies, lawyers, attorneys under training, expert translators, expert interpreters, judicial officials, and any other category approved by the Minister. Under the provisions of the regulations, the Director of the Center for Legal and Judicial Studies will approve the annual training plan according to the training programmes not included in the curriculum. The director can accept the implementation of programmes not included in the annual training plan according to the training requirements and needs of the centre. Additional materials, accompanying educational resources, and rules for evaluation according to the training programmes.

MoPH reports 614 new Covid cases, 382 recoveries

The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) reported yesterday in the weekly bulletin of the National Vaccination Programme that 721,236 Covid-19 vaccine doses have been administered since the start of the programme.

Covid-19 will continue to be a threat to our health for many years. But this will not happen in the next few weeks or months. The good news is that the new variants are effective against the existing strain and the vaccines that we have been using in our vaccination programme are effective against the new variants. Sheikh Hasina, Prime Minister, in her recent video message delivered by the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and State Minister for Foreign Affairs of Bangladesh were read out and a discussion meeting was held on the occasion. The event began by playing the national anthem and the national flag by Bangladeshi diplomatic missions and the embassy in Qatar. The occasion included a discussion meeting on the occasion which was attended by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and members of the judiciary and the public prosecution. The training programmes in accordance with the regulations will also train legal professionals in government or other agencies, lawyers, attorneys under training, expert translators, expert interpreters, judicial officials, and any other category approved by the Minister. Under the provisions of the regulations, the Director of the Center for Legal and Judicial Studies will approve the annual training plan according to the training programmes not included in the curriculum. The director can accept the implementation of programmes not included in the annual training plan according to the training requirements and needs of the centre. Additional materials, accompanying educational resources, and rules for evaluation according to the training programmes.

MoPH reports 614 new Covid cases, 382 recoveries

The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) reported yesterday in the weekly bulletin of the National Vaccination Programme that 721,236 Covid-19 vaccine doses have been administered since the start of the programme.

Covid-19 will continue to be a threat to our health for many years. But this will not happen in the next few weeks or months. The good news is that the new variants are effective against the existing strain and the vaccines that we have been using in our vaccination programme are effective against the new variants. Sheikh Hasina, Prime Minister, in her recent video message delivered by the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and State Minister for Foreign Affairs of Bangladesh were read out and a discussion meeting was held on the occasion. The event began by playing the national anthem and the national flag by Bangladeshi diplomatic missions and the embassy in Qatar. The occasion included a discussion meeting on the occasion which was attended by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and members of the judiciary and the public prosecution. The training programmes in accordance with the regulations will also train legal professionals in government or other agencies, lawyers, attorneys under training, expert translators, expert interpreters, judicial officials, and any other category approved by the Minister. Under the provisions of the regulations, the Director of the Center for Legal and Judicial Studies will approve the annual training plan according to the training programmes not included in the curriculum. The director can accept the implementation of programmes not included in the annual training plan according to the training requirements and needs of the centre. Additional materials, accompanying educational resources, and rules for evaluation according to the training programmes.
LuLu Hypermarket reinstates strict Covid health and hygiene protocols

LuLu Hypermarket has reinstated strict distancing guidelines by deploying employees and the general public, following recent reports on the challenges posed by the pandemic.

Enhanced cleaning and hygiene protocols have been put in place to ensure a safe and healthy shopping environment for customers and employees, the statement added.

Well-trained safety marshals stationed at the entrance of the stores are imparted to shoppers and its staff, “the responsibility of safeguarding both the customers and staff,” said the company.

A campaign titled ‘Shop Safe and Stay healthy’ was organised in the interim whereby LuLu educated its customers and employees on the importance of the measures as they entered the stores.

The safety marshals stationed at the entrance of the stores are imparted to provide workers and make sure that health and safety standards are observed strictly in the stores. The safety marshals stationed at the entrance of the stores are imparted to provide workers and make sure that health and safety standards are observed strictly in the stores. The safety marshals stationed at the entrance of the stores are imparted to provide workers and make sure that health and safety standards are observed strictly in the stores.

Moreover, the company has deployed the practice of continuous and thorough mechanical cleaning of all shared surfaces and touch points at Hypermarkets, such as shopping trolley handles, basins, faucets, handrails, doors, coolers, shelves, etc, to ensure safety.

A campaign titled ‘Keep Safe and stay healthy’ was also launched by deploying employees not to lower their guard.

LuLu Group has organised a massive campaign named ‘Every life is in your hands, aim to promote awareness of hand hygiene among customers, employees and the general public.

The campaign was launched on Monday by deploying employees at the various stores.

The hygiene protocols include social distancing, personal and public hygiene, sanitiser availability, the use of masks and temperature measurement.

To ensure the safety and health of the staff, LuLu Group has deployed a team of safety marshals in each store to ensure a safe and healthy shopping environment for customers and employees.

A Covid health and hygiene protocol was organised in the interim whereby LuLu urged its customers and staff to maintain a safe distance from each other and to use sanitiser and hand sanitiser stations.

The protocol was introduced in all stores across the country to ensure a safe and healthy shopping environment for customers and employees.

LuLu contributions QR2mn to Education Above All project

LuLu Group has formally donated the QR2mn cheque to Education Above All (EAA) Foundation, said: “We are pleased for our ongoing partnership, which has helped the barriers children around the world face in accessing quality education.

The donation is a long-term support in improving children’s lives through education and will ensure millions of children attend school, and have the opportunity to learn to live a better future.

As part of this, the funds allocated to the EAA/Unicef Qatar project targeted at developing learning participation and improving educational opportunities for some of the most vulnerable children in Qatar, the funds will be used to educate children in conflict-affected country through an extension of LuLu Hypermarket’s commitment to develop a strong partnership in enhancing learning materials, teacher training, and classroom rehabilitation/ construction.

LuLu Group has previously donated QR3.65mn per year from 2017 until 2020 to EAA’s Educate A Child Together Project. This year’s donation is the first of three donations that LuLu Hypermarket has committed to make, the statement added.

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum, to open at Khalifa International Stadium, will be the first museum in the Middle East dedicated to the Olympic and sports values, QM has said in an anticipation, providing an exhibition on Olympic values. Through this forum, Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum, in conjunction with partners such as Qatar University, Aspire Academy and 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic Committee (3-2-1 QOC), and the Ministry of Culture and Sports and the Olympic Academy.

Chairman of Qatar Olympic Committee, H.E. Sheikh Ahmad Al Thani, thanked LuLu Hypermarket for its continued support, saying: “The donation is a long-term support in improving children’s lives through education and will ensure millions of children attend school, and have the opportunity to learn to live a better future.”

LuLu Hypermarket has formalised the QR2mn cheque to EAA Foundation in an official ceremony.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.

The forum will be held in cooperation with Qatar University, Aspire Academy and 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic Committee (3-2-1 QOC), and the Ministry of Culture and Sports and the Olympic Academy.

Chairman of Qatar Olympic Committee, H.E. Sheikh Ahmad Al Thani, thanked LuLu Hypermarket for its continued support, saying: “The donation is a long-term support in improving children’s lives through education and will ensure millions of children attend school, and have the opportunity to learn to live a better future.”

LuLu Hypermarket has formalised the QR2mn cheque to EAA Foundation in an official ceremony.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.

Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum organises Sports Values First Forum

The 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum will host the inaugural Sports Values First Forum on March 29 under the theme ‘Between the Past and the Future.’ The forum will focus on the ‘Olympic and Sports Values’ and bring together stakeholders from various sectors.

The forum will be held annually, bringing together athletes, coaches, teachers, students, parents, and the local communities.
Qatar Charity signs deal with Al Ahli Sports Club

Qatar Charity (QC) has signed a co-operation agreement with Al Ahli Sports Club to support charitable initiatives and promote humanitarian projects.

This comes as part of the common keenness to utilise the depth of co-operation and potentials to support charitable initiatives and utilising sports activities for social purposes.

The agreement was signed by Qatar Charity’s general manager, Abdullah Yousuf Al-Mulla, and Al Ahli Sports Club’s general manager, Abdullah al-Malki.

Al-Mulla said, “We at Al Ahli Sports Club are happy that there is a partnership and co-operation agreement signed between Qatar Charity and Al Ahli Sports Club.

Abdullah Al-Malki, general manager of Al Ahli Sports Club, praised the agreement signed with Qatar Charity to implement humanitarian programmes. He said that Qatar Charity’s operations are instrumental in supporting social causes and organisations. He added that the partnership affirms that the club is keen to support social causes and projects and its potential to support humanitarian programmes.

This agreement is an extension of the continuous active role of Al Ahli Sports Club in supporting Qatar Charity’s humanitarian projects and campaigns in Qatar over the past years, as well as in the assertion of the depth of co-operation between the two sides.

The agreement was signed by Yassine bin Ahmed al-Malek, CEO of Al Ahli Sports Club, and Abdullah Yousuf al-Mulla, chairman of Al Ahli Sports Club.

Al-Mulla expressed happiness at signing the agreement with Al Ahli Sports Club concerning the importance of this partnership and its role in contributing to social causes.

The agreement will be part of Al Ahli Sports Club’s strategy to support Qatar Charity’s co-operation agreements and continue to support Qatar Charity in implementing its humanitarian programmes.

Abdullah Al-Malki, general manager of Al Ahli Sports Club, praised the agreement signed with Qatar Charity as it is an extension of the club’s presence in social causes, as part of its social responsibility.

Al-Mulla added that Qatar Charity has a significant coordination role in the region and continental levels to support social causes.

Abdullah Al-Malki added that Qatar Charity’s strategy is to continue expanding its programmes, and its strong association with the society in a way that serves all its sections, noting the importance of this partnership and the principle of social responsibility, developing a culture of voluntary work and taking advantage of all capabilities and potentials to support humanitarian programmes.

Qatar Charity has also agreed to continue the partnership and co-operation agreement to contribute to charitable works and social responsibility at the same time.

Al-Mulla said, “We at Al Ahli Sports Club are happy that there is a partnership and co-operation agreement signed between Qatar Charity and Al Ahli Sports Club.

Abdullah Al-Malki, general manager of Al Ahli Sports Club, praised the agreement signed with Qatar Charity as it is an extension of the club’s presence in social causes, as part of its social responsibility.

Al-Mulla added that Qatar Charity has a significant coordination role in the region and continental levels to support social causes.

Abdullah Al-Malki added that Qatar Charity’s strategy is to continue expanding its programmes, and its strong association with the society in a way that serves all its sections, noting the importance of this partnership and the principle of social responsibility, developing a culture of voluntary work and taking advantage of all capabilities and potentials to support humanitarian programmes.
AgriteQ and EnviroteQ conclude, next edition from March 22-26, 2022

The Ministry of Municipality and Environment and AgriteQ’s and EnviroteQ’s next edition concluded yesterday evening as the activities of the 8th Qatar International Agricultural and Environmental Exposition (AgriteQ and EnviroteQ), which were held at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC) and lasted for five days, came to an end. It is worth noting that the two exhibitions’ next edition will be organised from March 22-26, 2022.

HE the Minister of Municipality and Environment Abdulaziz bin Tariq al-Suhaimi, who is also the Director of the Municipality and Environment (MME) – represented by the Ministry of Municipality and Environment Abdulaziz bin Tariq al-Suhaimi – on the last day of AgriteQ and EnviroteQ at DECC.

Visitors on the last day of AgriteQ and EnviroteQ at DECC.

The two exhibitions saw the signing of 150 contracts and memorandums of understanding between the Ministry of Municipality and Environment and participants, as well as between the ministry and companies, and were in line with the aim of increasing production, moving closer to self-sufficiency, achieving food security, and conducting joint research in various fields, particularly those related to modern technologies and Artifi cial Intelligence.

Mohamed Said al-Kuwari, the Ministry of Municipality and Environment’s Minister, expressed his delight on the sidelines of the exhibitions. He noted that the two exhibitions demonstrated once again the huge potential available in the Qatari agricultural, fi sh, animal and related sectors. By providing access to the best international companies and advanced equipment in the fi elds of agriculture, fi sh, animal and poultry production, with the aim of advancing agricultural development in the country. He added that the large participation in this year’s event, particularly from foreign companies, demonstrated the strong national conditions in the promoting opportunities and the huge potential of the market.

For his part, Head of the scientifi c and educational forum for organisations operating in agriculture, Dr. Youssef Alhorr, found- ing chairman of the forum, said: “For Qatar, it is a national imperative to enhance self-reliance in food security. To this end, AgriteQ continues to play a pivotal role through its all-inclusive platform for scientifi c research and experiments to reach a level of documentation that ensures its success.”

Speaking on the sidelines of the event, HE Yousuf al-Khorra, Chairman of the Organising Committee of the Exhibitions, said: “The activities of the 8th Qatar International Agricultural and Environmental Exposition (AgriteQ and EnviroteQ), which were held at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC) and lasted for five days, came to an end.”

The exhibitions, which were held under the auspices of HE the Minister of Municipality and Environment, comprised six volumes covering a number of topics such as architecture, health, medicine and landscape engineering.

HE the Minister of Municipality and Environment and AgriteQ’s and EnviroteQ’s next edition concluded yesterday evening as the activities of the 8th Qatar International Agricultural and Environmental Exposition (AgriteQ and EnviroteQ), which were held at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC) and lasted for five days, came to an end. It is worth noting that the two exhibitions’ next edition will be organised from March 22-26, 2022.

The Ministry of Municipality and Environment (MME) – represented by the Ministry of Municipality and Environment Abdulaziz bin Tariq al-Suhaimi – on the last day of AgriteQ and EnviroteQ at DECC.

Visitors on the last day of AgriteQ and EnviroteQ at DECC.

The two exhibitions saw the signing of 150 contracts and memorandums of understanding between the Ministry of Municipality and Environment and participants, as well as between the ministry and companies, and were in line with the aim of increasing production, moving closer to self-sufficiency, achieving food security, and conducting joint research in various fields, particularly those related to modern technologies and Artifi cial Intelligence.

Mohamed Said al-Kuwari, the Ministry of Municipality and Environment’s Minister, expressed his delight on the sidelines of the exhibitions. He noted that the two exhibitions demonstrated once again the huge potential available in the Qatari agricultural, fi sh, animal and related sectors. By providing access to the best international companies and advanced equipment in the fi elds of agriculture, fi sh, animal and poultry production, with the aim of advancing agricultural development in the country. He added that the large participation in this year’s event, particularly from foreign companies, demonstrated the strong national conditions in the promoting opportunities and the huge potential of the market.

For his part, Head of the scientifi c and educational forum for organisations operating in agriculture, Dr. Youssef Alhorr, found- ing chairman of the forum, said: “For Qatar, it is a national imperative to enhance self-reliance in food security. To this end, AgriteQ continues to play a pivotal role through its all-inclusive platform for scientifi c research and experiments to reach a level of documentation that ensures its success.”

Speaking on the sidelines of the event, HE Yousuf al-Khorra, Chairman of the Organising Committee of the Exhibitions, said: “The activities of the 8th Qatar International Agricultural and Environmental Exposition (AgriteQ and EnviroteQ), which were held at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC) and lasted for five days, came to an end.”

The exhibitions, which were held under the auspices of HE the Minister of Municipality and Environment, comprised six volumes covering a number of topics such as architecture, health, medicine and landscape engineering.

HE the Minister of Municipality and Environment and AgriteQ’s and EnviroteQ’s next edition concluded yesterday evening as the activities of the 8th Qatar International Agricultural and Environmental Exposition (AgriteQ and EnviroteQ), which were held at the Doha Exhibition and Convention Centre (DECC) and lasted for five days, came to an end. It is worth noting that the two exhibitions’ next edition will be organised from March 22-26, 2022.
Qatar initiative clinches UN award, recognition

From page 1

In a video message sent to the United Nations Office in Vienna, UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres congratulated his country on achieving the generosity contributions made by Qatar to implement what was reflected in the global programme of the Doha Declaration.

Guterres said that he and United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) director General Ghada Waly are looking forward to meeting together towards a new generation of initiatives based on the successful experiences.

He also appreciated His Highness the Amir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani, for the efforts in this regard, Qatar’s Ministry of Interior added in a statement.

He pointed out that 1.2 million people from 194 countries have benefited from the activities of the programme, while more than 10,500 young people were trained on crime prevention through sport.

Also, more than 5,500 judges and public prosecutors were trained on the international experience, and the Global Programme was launched.

A total of 53 training sites were set up to teach judicial integrity ethics.

His Highness the Amir urged the Global Programme for the Implementation of the Doha Declaration on Crime Prevention and Public Awareness to continue its activities with excellence, and stressed the importance of forming a major component of the programme, receiving the award that is granted each year for outstanding work.

He added that the Global Programme has contributed to strengthening Qatar’s political leadership under His Highness the Amir, adding that it has achieved its goals in international work as well as its output, and that its role in developing the programme is in line with the potential to contribute to the potential to contribute to the goals of the Doha Declaration.

He noted that this international programme is the largest such initiative funded by one state in the history of the United Nations Office in Vienna, with the distinction of being multidisciplinary, and its four components are clearly related to each other.

The programme is being adopted and granted by the UN Secretary-General by the four projects, one of the components of the Global Programme for the Implementation of the Doha Declaration, in a program that is recognized as a model that contributes to the continuum of promoting organizational capacity that has a great impact that enables potential for continuity.

It is an important milestone achieved, said the General, that Qatar has continued to play a key role in implementing the Doha Declaration.

The new Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) in Umm Slal.

John Brameld, general manager of the Automotive Group, said:

Among 194 projects submitted by 32 states of the United Nations for the award, the programme was distinguished due to its comprehensive work in protecting human rights, in addressing organized crime, corruption, drugs, terrorism, and building and an important part of the criminal justice system, he added.

Waly added that this program was built on the experience of the UNODC around the world, and its wide tools to provide assistance at the time and place required, with a sustainable vision, in order to ensure access to justice with integrity and accountability.

John Brameld, a member of the Division for Treaty Affairs at the UN Office in Vienna, informed them of the Doha Declaration, which was implemented during 2016-2020, and the main objectives of the programme.

He stressed that despite the difficulties caused by the coronavirus pandemic, the 14th Conference was able to combine realistic and virtual participation in events, and adopted the Kyoto Declaration, which laid the foundation for strengthening partnerships between the various components of the international community to advance implementation of the UNODC’s work and the implementation of the Doha Declaration.

In a related context, he drew attention to the wide international attention accorded to the Global Programme during the 14th United Nations Conference on Crime Prevention and Public Awareness, held in Kyoto, Japan, earlier this month.

He said the Kyoto conference showed a wave of interest that was built on previous waves, and confirmed the continuous effort of the Global Programme to strengthen the efforts of the international community in combating organized crime and building fair justice systems.

His Highness the Amir added that the Doha Declaration programme has become a promising model to be replicated in providing support to the UNODC in order to achieve its goals, especially in developing regions.

He added that the Doha Declaration programme is a model that focuses on people in general, whatever their status, race, gender, religion, or belief, and points to the practical aspects of the programme to ensure its success.

His Highness the Amir added in a press statement:

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

Nissan customers located in the north region have access to customer service and parts centres being established to support Nissan customers in the north.

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co opens its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal

John Brameld, general manager of the Automotive Group, said:

Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co opens its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.

This latest centre showcases the opening of its 15th Nissan Quick Service Centre and Genuine Parts outlet in Um Slal.

The Nissan 2S facility (Service & Spare Parts) is open to Qatar customers located in the north region, and further boosts Saleh Al Hamad Al Mana Co’s reputation in the automotive sector.
HBKU webinar on early detection of heart, brain diseases

The College of Health and Life Sciences (CHLS) at Hamad Bin Khalifa University (HBKU) held an online webinar for physicians recently, focusing on early detection of cardiovascular and brain diseases. The webinar was followed by two eminent experts in the field. Dr Christoforos Antoniades, professor of cardiovascular medicine at the University of Oxford, where he also heads the acute vascular imaging lab, and Dr Edward Stuenkel, founder of Harvard Medical School.

Dr Antonoiades spoke about developing a new biomarker that detects inflammation in the human coronary arteries by detecting subclinical changes in the perivascular space. "Our present concept in cardiovascular medicine is built on the basis of subclinical disease, which is a disease that's already present without any symptoms, but which can lead to disease manifestations."

"Early detection of vascular disease is crucial because it allows for quicker action and to prevent complications, in particular, in the cardiovascular field with non-clinical diseases such as atherosclerosis," he added.

Dr Edward Stuenkel, founder of Harvard Medical School (HMS), said he had seen a marked increase in the importance of non-invasive tools such as magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), and in the value of trying to predict disease progression.

"Specific efforts are needed to raise awareness among healthcare professionals that vascular-related diseases can be predicted through the early detection techniques of non-invasive imaging," he added.

Participants also heard from Dr Faruq about the latest advances in early detection technology that can detect inflammation long before it becomes symptomatic.

The webinar was held to coincide with the third edition of the Qatar National Forum for Research, which allows students from Qatar and from many countries such as Algeria, Oman, Libya, and Libya to participate in the forum. "Our forum aims to achieve several goals, such as providing a platform for international exchange between research communities and community networks, to interesting new academic and research collaborations and to consolidate youth awareness of their prominent role in the development and advancement of society through scientific research," Dr Faruq said.

The research submitted was within the area of the Fifth World Cup, and the sustainability of the Qatar research, the role of science in promoting cultural identity, the economy and cultural tourism, the sustainability of health, and Attending the provincial development conference. "We seek to contribute significantly to strengthening the health identity around our region, as a medium of communication and resources to prepare competent Qatari researchers who are able to serve their country and lead in various fields of industry, energy, health, environment, history, and cultures," said young scientists centre director Dr Mutlaq Al-Tamimi.

QatarDebate Centre to host international schools event

The QatarDebate Centre has announced that the 5th International Schools Debating Championship will be organised in English with the most important students from Qatar and from other countries.

The championship takes place in a hybrid interactive setting, the participants and researchers to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world.

"We seek to contribute significantly to strengthening the health identity around our region, as a medium of communication and resources to prepare competent Qatari researchers who are able to serve their country and lead in various fields of industry, energy, health, environment, history, and cultures," said young scientists centre director Dr Mutlaq Al-Tamimi.

"We seek to contribute significantly to strengthening the health identity around our region, as a medium of communication and resources to prepare competent Qatari researchers who are able to serve their country and lead in various fields of industry, energy, health, environment, history, and cultures," said young scientists centre director Dr Mutlaq Al-Tamimi. Afghanistan’s President Mohammad Ashraf Ghani visited Qatar as a part of his official visit to the country. QatarDebate Centre has announced that the 5th International Schools Debating Championship will be organised in English with the most important students from Qatar and from other countries.

The championship takes place in a hybrid interactive setting, the participants and researchers to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world. QatarDebate Centre also provides an opportunity for students from around the world to get to know each other and exchange experiences, building communication bridges that are rarely and for all stages, but it is to distinguish a global event that brings students from all over the world through the digital space to debate in Arabic and English in the most important social issues of the world.

The research submitted was within the area of the Fifth World Cup, and the sustainability of the Qatar research, the role of science in promoting cultural identity, the economy and cultural tourism, the sustainability of health, and Attending the provincial development conference. "We seek to contribute significantly to strengthening the health identity around our region, as a medium of communication and resources to prepare competent Qatari researchers who are able to serve their country and lead in various fields of industry, energy, health, environment, history, and cultures," said young scientists centre director Dr Mutlaq Al-Tamimi.

"We seek to contribute significantly to strengthening the health identity around our region, as a medium of communication and resources to prepare competent Qatari researchers who are able to serve their country and lead in various fields of industry, energy, health, environment, history, and cultures," said young scientists centre director Dr Mutlaq Al-Tamimi.
China outlines initiatives for Mideast security and stability

By Shao Yuan

China's State Councilor and Foreign Minister Wang Yi has recently put forward proposals on achieving security and stability in the region.

What is the construction and purpose of Wang’s proposals?

At present, the world is facing unprecedented challenges. The global health crisis is spreading, pandemic prevention and economic recovery are still the major tasks. New changes have taken place in the Middle East, bringing unprecedented changes to regional circumstances, including pandemic prevention, pertaining turbulence and rising xenophobic issues. China is one of the countries at risk.

We all have an individual responsibility to play our part in getting through this pandemic. Although we are in a better position this year than last year because of the vaccines, at least for now, we must all work together and tighten the measures against Covid-19.

As emphasised in these columns earlier, the pandemic has presented a unique set of challenges for all of us. We are still learning more and more about coronavirus every single day, but public health experts continue to warn that we don’t know the social distance or the limitations of spreading the new coronavirus.

A person infected with the virus can be contagious as early as three days before he or she begins showing symptoms. In addition, some people never develop symptoms, but are still able to spread the virus. The Covid-19 pandemic has placed a heavy burden on health care providers and vitality of our people, we must remain committed to the extra precautions our public health officials are recommending.

At the core of these preventive measures is the need for continued cooperation among countries to take the precautions seriously — even if one is healthy.

China is willing to strengthen the synergy between “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030

For achieving non-proliferation.

Third, we should uphold the spirit of unity and shared benefits. China always maintains that regional issues should be resolved through dialogue and consultation, and only if and only when we resolve all disputes can we achieve regional stability and development.

China is always ready to strengthen the synergy between its “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030, and work together with Qatar to implement the new therapies to achieve first-line drug development and propitious production in the Middle East. The main content of Qatar’s proposals are as follows:

First, affording non-proliferation.

China’s State Councilor and Foreign Minister Wang Yi has recently put forward proposals on achieving security and stability in the region.

What is the construction and purpose of Wang’s proposals?

At present, the world is facing unprecedented challenges. The global health crisis is spreading, pandemic prevention and economic recovery are still the major tasks. New changes have taken place in the Middle East, bringing unprecedented changes to regional circumstances, including pandemic prevention, pertaining turbulence and rising xenophobic issues. China is one of the countries at risk.

We all have an individual responsibility to play our part in getting through this pandemic. Although we are in a better position this year than last year because of the vaccines, at least for now, we must all work together and tighten the measures against Covid-19.

As emphasised in these columns earlier, the pandemic has presented a unique set of challenges for all of us. We are still learning more and more about coronavirus every single day, but public health experts continue to warn that we don’t know the social distance or the limitations of spreading the new coronavirus.

A person infected with the virus can be contagious as early as three days before he or she begins showing symptoms. In addition, some people never develop symptoms, but are still able to spread the virus. The Covid-19 pandemic has placed a heavy burden on health care providers and vitality of our people, we must remain committed to the extra precautions our public health officials are recommending.

At the core of these preventive measures is the need for continued cooperation among countries to take the precautions seriously — even if one is healthy.

China is willing to strengthen the synergy between “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030

For achieving non-proliferation.

Third, we should uphold the spirit of unity and shared benefits. China always maintains that regional issues should be resolved through dialogue and consultation, and only if and only when we resolve all disputes can we achieve regional stability and development.

China is always ready to strengthen the synergy between its “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030, and work together with Qatar to implement the new therapies to achieve first-line drug development and propitious production in the Middle East. The main content of Qatar’s proposals are as follows:

First, affording non-proliferation.

China’s State Councilor and Foreign Minister Wang Yi has recently put forward proposals on achieving security and stability in the region.

What is the construction and purpose of Wang’s proposals?

At present, the world is facing unprecedented challenges. The global health crisis is spreading, pandemic prevention and economic recovery are still the major tasks. New changes have taken place in the Middle East, bringing unprecedented changes to regional circumstances, including pandemic prevention, pertaining turbulence and rising xenophobic issues. China is one of the countries at risk.

We all have an individual responsibility to play our part in getting through this pandemic. Although we are in a better position this year than last year because of the vaccines, at least for now, we must all work together and tighten the measures against Covid-19.

As emphasised in these columns earlier, the pandemic has presented a unique set of challenges for all of us. We are still learning more and more about coronavirus every single day, but public health experts continue to warn that we don’t know the social distance or the limitations of spreading the new coronavirus.

A person infected with the virus can be contagious as early as three days before he or she begins showing symptoms. In addition, some people never develop symptoms, but are still able to spread the virus. The Covid-19 pandemic has placed a heavy burden on health care providers and vitality of our people, we must remain committed to the extra precautions our public health officials are recommending.

At the core of these preventive measures is the need for continued cooperation among countries to take the precautions seriously — even if one is healthy.

China is willing to strengthen the synergy between “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030

For achieving non-proliferation.

Third, we should uphold the spirit of unity and shared benefits. China always maintains that regional issues should be resolved through dialogue and consultation, and only if and only when we resolve all disputes can we achieve regional stability and development.

China is always ready to strengthen the synergy between its “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030, and work together with Qatar to implement the new therapies to achieve first-line drug development and propitious production in the Middle East. The main content of Qatar’s proposals are as follows:

First, affording non-proliferation.

China’s State Councilor and Foreign Minister Wang Yi has recently put forward proposals on achieving security and stability in the region.

What is the construction and purpose of Wang’s proposals?

At present, the world is facing unprecedented challenges. The global health crisis is spreading, pandemic prevention and economic recovery are still the major tasks. New changes have taken place in the Middle East, bringing unprecedented changes to regional circumstances, including pandemic prevention, pertaining turbulence and rising xenophobic issues. China is one of the countries at risk.

We all have an individual responsibility to play our part in getting through this pandemic. Although we are in a better position this year than last year because of the vaccines, at least for now, we must all work together and tighten the measures against Covid-19.

As emphasised in these columns earlier, the pandemic has presented a unique set of challenges for all of us. We are still learning more and more about coronavirus every single day, but public health experts continue to warn that we don’t know the social distance or the limitations of spreading the new coronavirus.

A person infected with the virus can be contagious as early as three days before he or she begins showing symptoms. In addition, some people never develop symptoms, but are still able to spread the virus. The Covid-19 pandemic has placed a heavy burden on health care providers and vitality of our people, we must remain committed to the extra precautions our public health officials are recommending.

At the core of these preventive measures is the need for continued cooperation among countries to take the precautions seriously — even if one is healthy.

China is willing to strengthen the synergy between “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030

For achieving non-proliferation.

Third, we should uphold the spirit of unity and shared benefits. China always maintains that regional issues should be resolved through dialogue and consultation, and only if and only when we resolve all disputes can we achieve regional stability and development.

China is always ready to strengthen the synergy between its “Belt and Road” initiative and the Qatar’s Vision 2030, and work together with Qatar to implement the new therapies to achieve first-line drug development and propitious production in the Middle East. The main content of Qatar’s proposals are as follows:

First, affording non-proliferation.

China’s State Councilor and Foreign Minister Wang Yi has recently put forward proposals on achieving security and stability in the region.

What is the construction and purpose of Wang’s proposals?

At present, the world is facing unprecedented challenges. The global health crisis is spreading, pandemic prevention and economic recovery are still the major tasks. New changes have taken place in the Middle East, bringing unprecedented changes to regional circumstances, including pandemic prevention, pertaining turbulence and rising xenophobic issues. China is one of the countries at risk.

We all have an individual responsibility to play our part in getting through this pandemic. Although we are in a better position this year than last year because of the vaccines, at least for now, we must all work together and tighten the measures against Covid-19.

As emphasised in these columns earlier, the pandemic has presented a unique set of challenges for all of us. We are still learning more and more about coronavirus every single day, but public health experts continue to warn that we don’t know the social distance or the limitations of spreading the new coronavirus.

A person infected with the virus can be contagious as early as three days before he or she begins showing symptoms. In addition, some people never develop symptoms, but are still able to spread the virus. The Covid-19 pandemic has placed a heavy burden on health care providers and vitality of our people, we must remain committed to the extra precautions our public health officials are recommending.

At the core of these preventive measures is the need for continued cooperation among countries to take the precautions seriously — even if one is healthy.
Myanmar forces unleash ‘day of horror’

Children among 114 killed; state warned protesters of ‘get in the head and back’

By Sam Derasari in Yangon

Myanmar forces unleashed a wave of deadly violence that killed 114 people across the country, including young children, in a single day, officials said, as security forces tried to suppress mass protests demanding the release of elected leader Aung San Suu Kyi.

Local media reported at least 114 people were killed on Tuesday, bringing the death toll from more than two months of unrest to 500, with hundreds more injured. The military said the violence was in response to “coup supporters” setting fire to a police station and a hospital.

“Today is a day of shame to the Myanmar armed forces for committing this crime against its people,” said a government spokesman.

The UN rights chief said the “bloody scenes” were a “day of horror” for Myanmar and called for an immediate halt to violence.

The office of UN Special Rapporteur on human rights in Myanmar (Myanmar’s Nationalist Press Hall) told AFP the violence was the bloodiest day of violence since February 1, the day the military ousted elected leader Aung San Suu Kyi in a coup.

“We expect that at any time we will lose more lives, they are killing us like animals,” Suu Kyi’s NLD party told AFP.

The military said it had opened fire at the first shot, killing 10 people — including a 12-year-old child — and one of its own fighters as ten snipers opened fire, killing 10 people, including a 12-year-old child, and one of its own fighters as ten snipers opened fire, killing 10 people, including a 12-year-old child. A 12-year-old child.

“No one got killed by our side,” the military said, adding that the “people are not willing to allow the elections to take place.”

Critics say the military is using violence to subdue protesters demanding the release of Suu Kyi and others detained during the coup.

Ship blocking Suez Canal moves suddenly, unclear when it will refloat

By David Brunnstrom in Washington

A massive ship that had been blocking the Suez Canal for nearly a week moved yesterday, but it remained unclear when the canal would be fully open.

The Ever Given, a 400-meter long container ship, had been wedged across the canal’s Great Bitter Lake, blocking all but a few vessels in both directions.

About 8% of global shipping traffic passes through the canal, and billions of dollars in goods are trans- ...
The Maserati MC20, the brand’s new super sports car, made its debut in Qatar.

The Maserati MC20 private preview in Qatar was held at Al-Rashid Al-Ameen Al-Qamari Art Gallery, where VIPs, guests and media enjoyed exclusive private viewing sessions.

Chairman, general manager of Maserati Qatar at Alfanar Sports Motors, said: “We are proud to launch the Maserati MC20 and Fuoriserie programme in Qatar, as part of the roadmap in the Middle East and Africa region in the fourth quarter (Q4) of 2021, the extended able.

The brand’s new era also brings the personalisation of its cars.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

Maserati MC20 debuts in Qatar

The new Maserati MC20 debuts in Qatar as a part of a range of enhancements to its cars.

The new 525PS Defender V8 and the special editions join range (Q4) of 2021, the statement adds.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme often offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme often offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

New Defender V8 and special editions join range

Land Rover launched the Defender V8 debut in Qatar as a part of a range of enhancements to its cars.

The new 525PS Defender V8 and the special editions join range (Q4) of 2021, the statement adds.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.

The new Maserati Fuoriserie programme offers clients the opportunity of a unique experience in the new “car tailoring” shop, which will be at the Al-Fardan Premier Motors Co, the statement notes.

To help customers find their way among the thousands of possible configurations, these collections are available as a starting point: Cima, Unica, and Futura.

Each collection “expresses the brand’s power and represents its unique tailoring handwriting with elegance and innovation”.

A one-off Fuoriserie, designed thanks to a creative collaboration between the Maserati Centro Stile and the Orange (UK) 4G, will be part of the Fuoriserie programme roadmap.

It is designed by combining pure elements with materials that reflect the automotive’s characteristics.