Cabinet approves draft law on travel, air freight offices

BUSINESS

Page 1

Ooredoo Group earns half-year revenue of QR4.5bn

SPORT

Page 4

Football: High-scoring Qatar face US for Gold Cup final spot

DATA

Page 5

Qatar to hold national dialogues to develop food systems

Amir calls for dialogue to resolve Tunisian crisis

Page 6

- Amir concedes with King of Belgium
- Pfizer vaccine 2021 sales to top $33.5bn; recommends 3rd dose
- Qatar Racing and Equestrian Club Board Member Ali Al-Shaibani
- Lady Princess wins at Qatar Goodwood Festival
- Qatar Airways' Cargo to increase capacity to Boston
- Alicia Silverstone calls for an end to ute racing in Australia
- St Johnstone in Scottish Cup final
- Ooredoo to launch new device
- Amir, Belgium's King Philip to discuss security, strategic cooperation
- Amir meets Moroccan opposition leader
- Cabinet approves draft law on travel, air freight offices

BUSINESS

Ooredoo Group earns half-year revenue of QR4.5bn

SPORT

Football: High-scoring Qatar face US for Gold Cup final spot

DATA

Qatar to hold national dialogues to develop food systems

Amir calls for dialogue to resolve Tunisian crisis

Amir concedes with King of Belgium

Pfizer vaccine 2021 sales to top $33.5bn; recommends 3rd dose

Qatar Racing and Equestrian Club Board Member Ali Al-Shaibani

Lady Princess wins at Qatar Goodwood Festival

St Johnstone in Scottish Cup final

Ooredoo to launch new device

Amir meets Moroccan opposition leader

Cabinet approves draft law on travel, air freight offices

GULF TIMES

Page 1

Ooredoo Group earns half-year revenue of QR4.5bn

SPORT

Football: High-scoring Qatar face US for Gold Cup final spot

DATA

Qatar to hold national dialogues to develop food systems

Amir calls for dialogue to resolve Tunisian crisis

Amir concedes with King of Belgium

Pfizer vaccine 2021 sales to top $33.5bn; recommends 3rd dose

Qatar Racing and Equestrian Club Board Member Ali Al-Shaibani

Lady Princess wins at Qatar Goodwood Festival

St Johnstone in Scottish Cup final

Ooredoo to launch new device

Amir meets Moroccan opposition leader

Cabinet approves draft law on travel, air freight offices

Qatar to hold national dialogues to develop food systems

Amir calls for dialogue to resolve Tunisian crisis

Page 6

- Amir concedes with King of Belgium
- Pfizer vaccine 2021 sales to top $33.5bn; recommends 3rd dose
- Qatar Racing and Equestrian Club Board Member Ali Al-Shaibani
- Lady Princess wins at Qatar Goodwood Festival
- Qatar Airways' Cargo to increase capacity to Boston
- Alicia Silverstone calls for an end to ute racing in Australia
- St Johnstone in Scottish Cup final
- Ooredoo to launch new device
- Amir meets Moroccan opposition leader
- Cabinet approves draft law on travel, air freight offices
Nigeria president meets Qatar's envoy

The Romanian president of the Chamber of Deputies thanked the ambassador for his efforts in developing ties between the two countries and the two peoples.

The Romanian president of the Chamber of Deputies meets Qatar's ambassador

The Ministry of Municipality and Environment's (MME) Radiation and Information, and Compliance Department accomplished 420 related transactions during the recent Eid al-Adha holidays, as part of its efforts to facilitate these services regarding the related laws and regulations.

MME streamlines clearance services of hazardous goods

The Ministry of Municipality and Environment's (MME) Radiation and Information, and Compliance Department accomplished 420 related transactions during the recent Eid al-Adha holidays, as part of its efforts to facilitate these services regarding the related laws and regulations.

Total Covid recoveries rise to 223,376; MoPH

The Ministry of Public Health (MoPH) on Thursday reported 172 new confirmed cases of Covid-19 among the community and 19 among tourists. The MoPH noted that 12 patients were discharged from hospital, bringing the total number of patients discharged in Qatar to 123,371.

Wearing a face mask

The third phase of the gradual lifting of precautionary restrictions will depend on the degree of compliance by the community towards the restrictions and guidance by the government. It is important during the current period that all members of society, including those who have received the vaccine, continue to follow medical advise. Even if Qatar is important for overcoming the second wave of the virus that are actively circulating the community, it is important for those who have received the vaccinations to continue to wear masks as recommended, and continue to follow social distancing and other precautionary measures.

Prevention of Covid-19 vaccine

The Public Relations Department of the Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the Criminal Investigation Directorate (CID) and the Criminal Investigation Directorate of Criminal Investigation (CID) in Qatar, are today launching an awareness campaign aimed at combating the use of fake Covid-19 vaccines.

Webinar on crime prevention

The lecture will shed light on the importance of promoting the implementation of the law, the role of companies and schools and the heads and representatives of educational institutions in combating financial crimes at work, the importance of taking precautionary measures to detect and prevent frauds at the company accounts and while going out.

Webinar on crime prevention

The webinar will also discuss how to fight corruption and impede government buildings and authorities in addition to the fraudulent and unethical behavior of companies and employees.

Qatar Mackif Foundation sign agreement for scholarships

Qatar University (QU) has signed a co-operation protocol with Turkish Mackif Foundation according to which scholarships will be granted to Turkish students at the university. The protocol was signed by Qatar University President Dr Hassan bin Rashid Al-Duaish and President of Turkish Mackif Foundation Prof Ayse Guler. Qatar University explained in a statement that, under the protocol, 18 students will be sent to the Turkish Mackif Foundation scholarship program for four years. The students will be able to study subjects relating to the education sector in Arabic, English, and Turkish. The students will be chosen from among Turkish students graduating from various schools in Turkey, while the Mackif Foundation identifies students who are awarded the scholarship to complete their education at Qatar University after meeting the conditions for registration there.
DFI launches Ajyal Film Club to drive youth dialogue on vital issues

The Doha Film Institute (DFI) has launched the Ajyal Film Club, a platform for the young audience of Ajyal Film Festival, to put the spotlight on pressing global concerns and daily youth dialogues around them through the medium of film.

"Ajyal Film Festival (DFI)’s annual signature event, is a unique initiative that unites creative minds, in-depth and interactive discussion and education among youth. Over the past eight years, Ajyal has built a nurturing space where youth are empowered to reach beyond their circles, and find a voice. Two sessions of the Ajyal jury programme have been held to date. The programme will be returning in its third edition this year," said Taraa Almeheiri, Marketing and Communications Manager, DFI.

The Ajyal Film Club is an excellent opportunity for the young generation to express their thoughts, ideas, and creative visions through film. The club aims to enhance the creative and critical thinking skills of young people and promote positive actions. The club will be launching two seasons, each lasting seven months, and will cover various topics, such as student rights, mental health awareness, and environmental sustainability.

The first session of the Ajyal Film Club will start on August 14, and the second session will begin on October 18. The club will feature film screenings, discussions, and interactive sessions with filmmakers, which will provide young people with a unique opportunity to learn from the experiences of others and contribute to shaping their future.

"At DFI, we believe in the power of cinema to inspire and educate young people. The Ajyal Film Club is a platform that enables young filmmakers and film enthusiasts to come together and share their ideas and experiences. We are excited to see how this initiative will engage and inspire the next generation of film lovers and creators," said Hamed Al Qahtani, Deputy Director General, DFI.

The Ajyal Film Club will be held at various locations across Qatar, including schools, universities, and cultural centres. The club is open to all young people aged 18-25, and the first season will run until November 24, 2023.

Youth interested in cinema and keen to learn about global cinema will find the Ajyal Film Club an excellent platform to explore their interests. The sessions will be led by experienced film culture experts and young filmmakers, who will guide participants through the process of making and producing short films.

The Ajyal Film Club will be an opportunity for young filmmakers to receive critical feedback and constructive criticism from their peers. The club will also provide young people with a chance to network and collaborate with other filmmakers, thus creating a strong community of young filmmakers.

Al Meera hosts ‘6th annual Local Date Festival’

Al Meera has recently announced the dates for its ‘6th annual Local Date Festival’. The festival will be celebrated at many of Al Meera’s stores across Qatar, and will feature a variety of local dates and date products. In addition, the festival will include a range of activities and competitions for customers.

"We are excited to bring back the Local Date Festival for the sixth time. This festival is an excellent opportunity for us to celebrate Qatar’s local produce and support local farmers. We encourage our customers to participate in the festival and enjoy the variety of local dates and date products available," said Al Meera’s CEO, Dr. Nasser Al-Naimi.

The festival will be celebrated from August 2 to 12 at Al Meera stores across Qatar, and will feature a range of activities and competitions for customers. The festival will also include a variety of dates and date products, which will be available at special prices.

QFQD sends urgent medical aid to Iran

Qatar Charity (QC) has recently sent urgent medical aid to Iran to support health facilities and aid victims affected by recent tragedies. The aid will be used to purchase medical equipment and medication to support the victims.

In accordance with the food security and self-sufficiency pillars of Qatar National Vision 2030, QC continues to play its role in supporting the affected people in Iran. QC’s assistance comes in the framework of the efforts of the friendly countries to overcome the current situations and prevent the spread of diseases.

"At Qatar Charity, we are committed to supporting the affected people and providing them with the necessary aid to overcome their difficulties at all levels," said QC’s CEO, Dr. Hamed Bin Khalid Al-Thani.

QFQD recently built a dormitory for female orphans in the framework of the efforts of the friendly countries to provide comprehensive care to the orphans in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The dormitory will secure and protect the orphans and lobbies. It provides a fully equipped and comfortable environment for the orphans to live in.

QC has been organizing weekly rehabilitation programmes for the orphans, which include various activities such as maintaining gardens, reading books, attending theatre and cinema, and participating in various sports activities.

Al Meera also continues to provide comprehensive care to the sponsored orphans. QC has recently built a dormitory for female orphans in Sarajevo, which represents a common responsibility facing the whole world.
China embassies mark 94th PLA anniversary

The Chinese embassy in Qatar held a virtual reception to celebrate the 94th anniversary of the founding of the People’s Liberation Army (PLA) of China. Senior officials of Qatar Armed Forces including Brigadier General (Ret.) Abdelrazaq and Col. Abdulrahman Al-Matari and Col. Abdulrahman Al-Attiyah addressed the event. The event marked the establishment of diplomatic ties between Qatar and China in 1971.

Speaking at the event, ambassador of China in Qatar said that 94 years ago, the Chinese People’s Liberation Army undertook the historic task of reversing the decline suffered by the Chinese people due to imperialism and feudalism, and the Chinese people’s struggle for national independence and freedom.

“The PLA is an army with a profound history and a unique spirit. Over the past 94 years, under the strong leadership of the Chinese Communist Party, the PLA has achieved remarkable success and played an important role in safeguarding regional and world peace. The PLA now envisions a growing friendlier, and safer world, and continues to develop a strong military that is able to respond to security threats and safeguard international rules, “ he remarked.

He added: “China is ready to work with Qatar to uphold multilateralism, and to promote development, but also major risks and threats and safeguard international rules. In the era of globalisation, countries are increasingly interdependent and interacting with each other. Seeking development and openness is the key to achieving peace and security.”

“China and Qatar are located at the east and west of the Asian continent, but the friendship between two countries has been developing in an advanced and multi-dimensional manner. In the development of diplomatic ties in 1971, ‘bilateralism, fairness and justice, deepening mutual understanding and cooperation, the PLA has been promoting the world towards the second century of building a well-off society in all aspects,” he noted.”

“Today, China and Qatar have accomplished fruitful results and military co-operation has also served as a powerful force for safeguarding regional and world peace,” he said.

The envoy highlighted that the PLA has become a pillar in defending China’s sovereignty, security and development interests. China and Qatar have been working closely in safeguarding regional and world peace.

The PLA now envisions a growing friendlier, and safer world, and continues to develop a strong military that is able to respond to security threats and safeguard international rules, “ he highlighted.

“Since the establishment of diplomatic ties between two countries, and major changes unseen in a century, the world is entering a period of upheaval, “ the Chinese ambassador said.

China and Qatar are located at the east and west of the Asian continent, but the friendship between two countries has been developing in an advanced and multi-dimensional manner. In the development of diplomatic ties in 1971, bilateralism, fairness and justice, deepening mutual understanding and cooperation, the PLA has been promoting the world towards the second century of building a well-off society in all aspects,” he noted.”

China’s sovereignty, security and development interests are safeguarded by the PLA, which is a powerful force in safeguarding regional and world peace.”

More than 45,000 people have benefited from QRCS’s various medical services during the Eid Al-Adha holiday. According to a report issued by QRCS’s medical department, from July 28 to July 27, QRCS provided medical care and treatment services to 37,575 patients, comprising 21,263 males, 16,312 females, and 152 visitors, and conducted 2,263 medical examinations, 1,067 dental consultations, and 543 visual care examinations. QRCS provided 247 medical care and treatment services at the four Workers’ Health Centres, managed and operated by QRCS in co-operation with the Ministry of Public Health (MoPH), and attended to 353 medical emergencies.

At the same time, the four Workers’ Health Centres also held live health awareness videos in three languages to increase awareness among workers, with all preventive measures in place. In cooperation with Qatar Cancer Society, QRCS marked World Hepatitis Day by featuring awareness videos in three languages on the informational monitors at the centres’ patient waiting areas. A total of 2,000 visitors were able to watch these videos.

According to a report issued by QRCS’s medical department, during the Eid Al-Adha holiday, from July 28 to July 27, QRCS provided medical care and treatment services to 37,575 patients, comprising 21,263 males, 16,312 females, and 152 visitors, and conducted 2,263 medical examinations, 1,067 dental consultations, and 543 visual care examinations. QRCS provided 247 medical care and treatment services at the four Workers’ Health Centres, managed and operated by QRCS in co-operation with the Ministry of Public Health (MoPH), and attended to 353 medical emergencies.

Any party who has any claims from this Company should send a registered letter including all supporting documents to P.O. Box 431, Doha – Qatar, within the remaining legal period.
REGION/ARAB WORLD/AFRICA

AP NEWS

Tunisia faces political turmoil as president dismisses more officials

Tunisia braced further but its political crisis deepened yesterday, as President Mohamed Ennaceur fired several top officials and charged the military with handling the growing unrest.

Ennaceur, who took office last month after his predecessor died in an accident, has faced mounting pressure to address the country's economic and social problems. But his efforts to form a government have been met with widespread protests.

The president said the government's restructuring was necessary to address the country's economic challenges and to stabilize the political situation.

Ennaceur's move comes after weeks of protests calling for the resignation of the government and demanding economic improvements. The protests have resulted in at least one death and hundreds of injuries.

The president's announcement was made shortly after he met with military leaders to discuss the current situation.

Ennaceur's announcement follows a wave of dismissals since he took office, including the firing of the prime minister and several other cabinet members.

The president's actions are likely to add to the political uncertainty in the country, which has been wracked by political instability and economic problems for years.

Ennaceur's decision to dismiss more officials comes amid growing unrest in the country, where protesters have been calling for the government to resign and for economic reforms.

The president's announcement is likely to be met withmixed reactions, with some calling for more decisive action to address the country's problems and others warning of the risks of further political instability.

Ennaceur's move is the latest in a series of steps taken by the president to address the country's challenges, including a decision to dissolve the parliament and call for early elections.

The president's actions are likely to be closely watched by international stakeholders, who have expressed concern about the country's political situation.

Ennaceur's announcement comes amid growing pressure on the government to address the country's economic and social problems, including high unemployment and rising prices.

The president's move is likely to be met with mixed reactions, with some calling for more decisive action to address the country's challenges and others warning of the risks of further political instability.

Ennaceur's decision to dismiss more officials comes amid growing unrest in the country, where protesters have been calling for the government to resign and for economic reforms.

The president's announcement is likely to be met with mixed reactions, with some calling for more decisive action to address the country's challenges and others warning of the risks of further political instability.
Ways to avoid social burnout this summer

By Emily Syphas

As we emerge from the shadow of the pandemic, it’s time to consider some important lessons we’ve learned on our two-year odyssey. Whether it’s the joy of reuniting with loved ones, the thrill of travel, or the sense of normalcy that has returned, it’s important to remember that we’re all still in transition. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.

By Hala Bader al-Humaidhi

As we emerge from the pandemic, it’s important to reflect on what we’ve learned. Whether it’s the importance of social connections, the value of self-care, or the need for resilience, there are many lessons to be learned. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.

By Shefi Al-Kahtani

As we emerge from the pandemic, it’s important to reflect on what we’ve learned. Whether it’s the importance of social connections, the value of self-care, or the need for resilience, there are many lessons to be learned. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.

By Yan Zimovina

As we emerge from the pandemic, it’s important to reflect on what we’ve learned. Whether it’s the importance of social connections, the value of self-care, or the need for resilience, there are many lessons to be learned. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.

Wellness Meal Plan

Ingredients

Energy balls

- 1/2 tbsp cocoa powder
- 1 tbsp cocoa nibs

Method

1. Mix all the ingredients together in a bowl.
2. Roll the mixture into small balls with your hands.
3. Place the balls onto a plate and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes.

Enjoy!

By Deb Ash

As we emerge from the pandemic, it’s important to reflect on what we’ve learned. Whether it’s the importance of social connections, the value of self-care, or the need for resilience, there are many lessons to be learned. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.

Fancy a game of Ultimate?

We placed four against four, and it didn’t look so simple. In the end, we were all the age of 10 or 11, not much older. But it was a lot of fun. The game was played on a court with four corners, and the ball was thrown from one corner to another. The team that caught the ball in the opposing corner scored a point.

Here’s how to do it.

1. Set up the court: The court is set up with four corners, and the ball is thrown from one corner to another. The team that catches the ball in the opposing corner scores a point.

2. Rules: The rules are simple. The team that scores a point is allowed to take the ball from the opposing team.

3. Points: The team that scores a point is allowed to take the ball from the opposing team. The team that catches the ball in the opposing corner scores a point.

4. Gameplay: The game is played until the team scores a predetermined number of points.

5. Game duration: The game is played for a predetermined number of rounds.

By Deb Ash

As we emerge from the pandemic, it’s important to reflect on what we’ve learned. Whether it’s the importance of social connections, the value of self-care, or the need for resilience, there are many lessons to be learned. Here are some strategies to help us navigate this new phase:

1. Set boundaries: It’s easy to let go of the boundaries we set during the pandemic. But it’s important to remember that boundaries are essential for our mental health. Whether it’s saying no to social gatherings, setting limits on screen time, or taking breaks from work, it’s important to set healthy boundaries.

2. Prioritize self-care: We’ve all been going non-stop for the past two years. It’s important to prioritize self-care to avoid burnout. Whether it’s taking a walk in nature, practicing meditation, or simply taking a nap, it’s important to make time for self-care.

3. Connect with others: While we’ve been isolated for the past two years, it’s important to reconnect with others. Whether it’s attending virtual events, having outings with friends, or simply having conversations, it’s important to stay connected.

4. Practice gratitude: It’s easy to take for granted the things we have. But it’s important to practice gratitude for the things we do have. Whether it’s saying thank you to a friend, expressing gratitude for a meal, or simply being mindful of the present moment, it’s important to practice gratitude.

5. Learn to let go: It’s easy to hold onto the past or worry about the future. But it’s important to learn to let go. Whether it’s letting go of past mistakes, setting aside worries about the future, or simply letting go of control, it’s important to learn to let go.
Bangladesh evacuates 10000 Rohingya from landslide-hit camps

North, South Korea in talks over summit, reveal sources

Indonesia apologises for ‘reprehensible’ action against dele Papuan man

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.

Bangladesh evacuated 10000 Rohingya from around 22 village and Neuhat camps of South Asia. About 29000 Rohingyas were being evacuated until Friday, 9 April when the entire evacuation was completed. Of these, 4000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. About 16000 Rohingyas were sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army. Approximately 9000 Rohingyas have been sent to the Kutupalong camp in Cox's Bazar district through the Bangladesh army.
Ms Castillo sworn in as Peru's president on nation's independence anniversary

WASHINGTON — The Taliban have captured their final destination, concluding a year-round war. The US military has pulled out of Afghanistan after 20 years, marking the end of a long, “difficult” war. The military exit comes amid increasing concerns about the security situation in the region, including the risk of terrorism and armed conflicts.

The war in Afghanistan ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15. The withdrawal of US and NATO troops from the country began in May and was completed by the end of August. The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida.

The fall of Kabul was a significant turning point in the US-led war in Afghanistan, which began after the 9/11 terrorist attacks. The Taliban had taken the city on Aug. 13 and quickly seized control of the country.

The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida. The war ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15.

The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida. The war ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15.

The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida. The war ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15.

The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida. The war ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15.

The US military had been in Afghanistan since 2001, when it invaded the country to oust the Taliban and destroy al-Qaida. The war ended with the fall of Kabul on Aug. 15.
Flash floods kill four in Kashmir, many missing

Down the valley from Srinagar, in the Indian state of Jammu and Kashmir, news agencies on Thursday reported that flash floods had claimed four lives, and several others remained missing.

Director-General of the Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Department in the Jammu and Kashmir administration said the flash floods had been caused by heavy monsoon rains. The director-general added that rescue and relief operations were underway.

direct marketing

Legal wrangles hold up US vaccine donations to India

The new US administration has been in a legal wrangle with Indian authorities over vaccine donations. Two months after India stopped locating sales abroad, a US executive at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases said the US was still waiting for the Indian government to clear the way for the vaccine donations to take place.

The vaccine donations were part of the US government’s effort to help India fight the COVID-19 pandemic. The donations were Approval has been pending since June, when the Indian government asked the US to provide more details about the vaccine.

direct marketing

US, India must fight threats to democracy, says Blinken

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said US-India ties remained strong, despite tensions over the global vaccine rollout.

The US secretary of state said the US and India shared similar values and principles, and that the two countries were committed to each other’s success.

Blinken said the US and India were committed to fighting terrorism, countering China’s aggression, and promoting democracy.

direct marketing

Flipkart asks Indian court to stall antitrust queries

Flipkart, the India-based e-commerce firm, has asked an Indian court to stop antitrust queries into the company’s operations.

The request comes after the Competition Commission of India (CCI) launched an antitrust probe into Flipkart’s business practices.

direct marketing

British police launch probe into US gun theft

British police in London have launched an investigation into the theft of an US-made gun.

The police said the gun, which was stolen from a shop in Mayfair, was later found on the Blackpool Ale House in Blackpool.

direct marketing

India’s film star’s husband denied bail

The husband of Indian film star Shilpa Shetty has been denied bail by a Mumbai court.

The court said that the man, accused of producing pornographic content, would remain in custody until the trial.

direct marketing

India’s film star’s husband denied bail

The husband of Indian film star Shilpa Shetty has been denied bail by a Mumbai court.

The court said that the man, accused of producing pornographic content, would remain in custody until the trial.

direct marketing

Britain’s Prince Charles meets police cadets at the dedication ceremony of the new national UK Police Memorial in London.

Prince Charles met with police cadets and officers at the dedication ceremony of the new national UK Police Memorial in London.

The Prince of Wales met with the cadets and officers to mark the opening of the new memorial, which will commemorate the courage and sacrifice of police officers.

direct marketing

Blinken meets Dalai Lama representative

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken met with the representative of the Dalai Lama in New Delhi on Thursday.

The meeting came as Blinken continued his tour of Asia, where he is expected to discuss China’s increasingly aggressive behavior in the region.

direct marketing

Blinken meets Dalai Lama representative

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken met with the representative of the Dalai Lama in New Delhi on Thursday.

The meeting came as Blinken continued his tour of Asia, where he is expected to discuss China’s increasingly aggressive behavior in the region.

direct marketing

India’s film star’s husband denied bail

The husband of Indian film star Shilpa Shetty has been denied bail by a Mumbai court.

The court said that the man, accused of producing pornographic content, would remain in custody until the trial.

direct marketing

Britain’s Prince Charles meets police cadets at the dedication ceremony of the new national UK Police Memorial in London.

Prince Charles met with police cadets and officers at the dedication ceremony of the new national UK Police Memorial in London.

The Prince of Wales met with the cadets and officers to mark the opening of the new memorial, which will commemorate the courage and sacrifice of police officers.

direct marketing

Blinken meets Dalai Lama representative

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken met with the representative of the Dalai Lama in New Delhi on Thursday.

The meeting came as Blinken continued his tour of Asia, where he is expected to discuss China’s increasingly aggressive behavior in the region.

direct marketing

India’s film star’s husband denied bail

The husband of Indian film star Shilpa Shetty has been denied bail by a Mumbai court.

The court said that the man, accused of producing pornographic content, would remain in custody until the trial.
The key to prospering in a sustainable world will be to foster economic growth while managing the natural capital stock. A sustainable economy is one where the natural capital stock does not degrade. Moreover, conventional GDP measures are not adequate in output per capita as living standards. While this is a travesty in a narrower sense, it reflects an overall environmental and energy efficiency. Resource allocation can and should be improved. This is thus to environmental degradation. The bottleneck of this new sustainable growth is to create low costs that are affordable for the environment, and the simplest instrument in a carbon tax. The amount of tax should be defined as cost-sensitive activity, especially the social cost, which includes a sustainable environment. This model market will then help to allocate resources in a more sustainable way.

But the private sector can go beyond being a mere price taker in the given transition and put an active role in revitalizing the sustainable economy. Aligned, sovereign wealth funds, university endowments, and insurance and pension funds are seeking to invest their assets in sustainable investments that allow them to diversify their investment risk. But what does a balanced portfolio look like? Of the gender imbalance in the gender parity, women account for 41% of doctorates in science and engineering. Worse still, black and Hispanic economists accounted for 32% of the gender parity, women economists receive 12% more than men and women economists achieve their peer promotions to tenure and account for only 11% of full professors. The gender disparity appears most pronounced for academic fields, women economists are more likely to face patronizing questions on average than men and women economists are more likely to face patronizing questions 10 times more likely than men. Ultimately, economists have

To address society’s most pressing issues, economics must guarantee that everyone’s voice can be heard. By Alicia Sasser Modestino

A thorough economic analysis must be performed, and its findings must be shared with policymakers. But the private sector can go beyond being a mere price taker in the given transition and put an active role in revitalizing the sustainable economy. Aligned, sovereign wealth funds, university endowments, and insurance and pension funds are seeking to invest their assets in sustainable investments that allow them to diversify their investment risk. But what does a balanced portfolio look like? Of the gender imbalance in the gender parity, women account for 41% of doctorates in science and engineering. Worse still, black and Hispanic economists accounted for 32% of the gender parity, women economists receive 12% more than men and women economists achieve their peer promotions to tenure and account for only 11% of full professors. The gender disparity appears most pronounced for academic fields, women economists are more likely to face patronizing questions on average than men and women economists are more likely to face patronizing questions 10 times more likely than men. Ultimately, economists have Earth’s ‘vital signs’ worsening as humanity’s impact deepens

The global economy’s transformed, but humanity’s efforts to tackle climate change have not, a new study has claimed. The researchers, a group of more than 1,400 scientists who have published an alarmist paper in the journal Nature, claimed that governments had consistently failed to address the root cause of climate change, the “overexploitation of the Earth.” Since a similar assessment in 2019, they noted an “alarming” rate of change in the Earth’s climate, with flooding in South America and southeast Australia, record-setting bushfires and wildfires in Australia and devastating heatwaves in the United States. The researchers said that “mounting evidence that we are near-a climate catastrophe” determined to record levels, an industrial group of scientists said yesterday, warning that several climate tipping points were now imminent.

Residents cross a flooded street on the backdrop of a damaged car submerged in the flood waters after heavy monsoon rains lash Islamabad. (AFP)

Investment company behind scandal-hit NSO to be liquidated

The private equity firm that owns NSO, the Israeli spiesware company at the heart of the Panama scandal, is being forced to liquidate its business in New York after mounting legal and financial problems. Wednesday, Monday, the firm, which was launched by a source close to the company told the Financial Times that the firm had been liquidated, a source close to the company told the Financial Times. "The legal and financial problems have led to a decision to liquidate the business," the source said. "It is not a reflection on the company's underlying technology or business model, but on the challenging market conditions and the ongoing legal disputes." The company had been planning to list its business on the New York Stock Exchange, but had been forced to delay the listing due to financial problems and regulatory issues. The company’s technology is used by governments and businesses around the world to track and target individuals and organizations.

Chinese national stable after gun attack in Karachi

A Chinese national, cheeked in a gun attack in the southern Pakistani city of Karachi yesterday, police said, is the latest in a series of attempts targeting Chinese civilians in the country. Local police and two masked men opened fire in the attack, which appeared to be a targeted attack. The victim was shot in the leg and was taken to a nearby hospital, where he later died. The attack was described as a "terrorist attack" by local media, who claimed that the attackers had fired several shots. A police officer said that the attackers were using AK-47 rifles and had fled the scene.

“Vital signs” are worsening as humanity’s impact deepens

One of the most alarming things about global warming — besides the fact that it will make life harder for everyone — is that it is already changing the Earth in ways that are irreversible. As Earth’s climate continues to warm, it is causing a range of changes to the planet, from rising sea levels to more frequent and intense weather events. The largest of these changes is the global warming crisis, which is causing the Earth’s temperatures to rise faster than ever before.

Solastalgia, doomsim: mind-boggling new climate lingo

The Earth is on the brink of an environmental crisis that could lead to the extinction of all life on Earth, according to a new study by a team of international scientists. The study, published in the journal Nature, found that the Earth is facing an “unprecedented” level of environmental damage, with a “mounting evidence that we are near-a climate catastrophe.”

French Polynesia is owed debt over NTS: Macron

French President Emmanuel Macron said French Polynesia was owed “a debt of transparency” for its part in the testing of nuclear weapons, conducted in the South Pacific between 1966 and 1996. "We accept the same risks... There were no lies, there were risks..." he said. "I want to tell you clearly that the military that fought and fell in this war... They took the same risks. Those who died... who risked all their lives..."

President Emmanuel Macron has changed his name for the first time in his presidency, in a move to distance himself from the French government’s controversial policies. Macron, who is known as “Emmanuel” in the French capital, has decided to adopt the name of his political party, LREM (Les Republicains). The move comes after a series of scandals and controversies, including the nation-wide fuel tax protests, that have damaged Macron’s reputation and popularity.

Monsoon rains lash Islamabad

Residents cross a flooded street on the backdrop of a damaged car submerged in the flood waters after heavy monsoon rains in Islamabad. (AFP)

Solastalgia is a word that describes the psychological distress caused by changes to one’s environment, often felt when one’s home or workplace is being threatened with destruction or relocation. The term was coined by German sociologist Ulrich Beck in the 1990s. Solastalgia can be caused by a variety of factors, such as the loss of a home, work, or community, or by changes to the natural environment, such as deforestation or pollution. The term is related to the concept of “ecological change,” which describes the shift of ecosystems and the impact of human activities on the environment.

Solastalgia is a word that describes the psychological distress caused by changes to one’s environment, often felt when one’s home or workplace is being threatened with destruction or relocation. The term was coined by German sociologist Ulrich Beck in the 1990s. Solastalgia can be caused by a variety of factors, such as the loss of a home, work, or community, or by changes to the natural environment, such as deforestation or pollution. The term is related to the concept of “ecological change,” which describes the shift of ecosystems and the impact of human activities on the environment.

Solastalgia is a word that describes the psychological distress caused by changes to one’s environment, often felt when one’s home or workplace is being threatened with destruction or relocation. The term was coined by German sociologist Ulrich Beck in the 1990s. Solastalgia can be caused by a variety of factors, such as the loss of a home, work, or community, or by changes to the natural environment, such as deforestation or pollution. The term is related to the concept of “ecological change,” which describes the shift of ecosystems and the impact of human activities on the environment.
Qatari climber summits ‘Broad Peak’ in Pakistan’s Karakoram range

Fahad Abdulrahman Badar, a Qatari climber and a pioneering bank executive, accomplished yet another daunting achievement in summits Broad Peak, which is 8,035 meters above sea level in Pakistan’s Karakoram mountain range. Broad Peak is one of the most difficult peaks of the Pakistani Karakoram mountain range (whose name refers to the width of the summit). The Doha’s highest in the world, which is located on the border between China and Pakistan.

Badar began preparing for the difficult expedition immediately after the winter stop in January 2021, during which he was able to successfully climb the summit of Ama Dablam. This mountaineer stresses the importance of determination, perseverance, and to keep his hopes and enthusiasm alive to chart such tougher trajectories every time he selects his next goal. Moreover, hosting the Qatar flag at all such summits has become his ambition, and with every successful summit, he has become more ready, mentally and physically.

The mountaineer was injured during the descent, experiencing frostbite, when he was delayed due to the rescue efforts of another climber ahead of him. Due to the rescue efforts of an avalanche, when he was delayed during the descent, experiencing an altitude of 7,800m, before he was transferred to a military hospital in Skardu.

T
The Museum of Islamic Art (MIA) has opened applications for artists to 100 words and explain their role in the practice of their art. Applications for the Qatar National Library’s annual festival.”

MIA opens applications for ‘mission to Istanbul’

The Museum of Islamic Art (MIA) has opened applications for artists to attend MIA opens applications for Ektashif 2 – an initiative, the MIA provides an opportunity for established Qatari artists to engage with like-minded creatives and learn about the unique contribution of Islamic art to contemporary life. Applications are open to Qatar nationals aged 18 and above, who are practicing artists. To apply, artists should submit five examples of their portfolios, CV, passport copy, and a copy of their coronavirus (Covid-19) vaccination certificate. Applications should be sent to mis@qm.org.qa before September 2.

The Qatar National Library (QNL) will host a variety of educational activities planned for August, including a performance by members of the US Air Forces Central Band.

QNL hosting entertaining and educational activities in August

The Qatar National Library (QNL) will host a variety of entertaining and educational activities this August to cater to children, young adults, and music enthusiasts. The QNL will also host a

312x1096 to 695x1391

313x1033 to 687x315

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628

QNL will also be host-

318x885 to 695x1391

QNL will also be host-

318x830 to 665x619

QNL will also be host-

318x858 to 674x628