American leads her team to top of the standings after being taken to the hospital for kidney stone hours before

By Fatima Bilgys

A kidney stone wouldn’t keep her from competing at the World Artistic Gymnastics Championships in Doha, 37-year-old Simone Biles said.

“Sometimes when there is a need to win, players begin to do what they are not used to do,” she said. “As we saw when we played against Indonesia, we were playing very well but suddenly we became afraid to play our normal style.”

Biles will be in Qatar today for a training session ahead of her participation in the women’s Uneven Bar qualification at the 2018 FIG Artistic World Championships.

Kohli’s third straight ton in vain as WI level series

By Sameer Arora

India’s captain Virat Kohli’s third straight century could not prevent West Indies from levelling the three-match ODI series today.

Lahore based Kohli’s 117 guided India to 235 for six with six overs to spare against a 220-run target.

The visitors were comfortably placed at 174 for two in 37 overs before losing seven wickets in the last nine overs.

Gymnastics

It takes an Olympic champ to tame the Pommel Horse

I'd hear before I went that a lot of people had been struggling, which for me I didn't really want to know

...about a routine that had once thrilled him, 'but I think I've only had one Olympic performance that he's really liked and that was in 1996...'

It's been a long time coming, of course, for Whitlock to realign himself, and his Olympic Pommel Horse gold this year was a beautiful reward for all the hard work he had done.

Gymnastics is different from football, but it certainly will be a surreal atmosphere out there.

...in the final in Doha, Qatar, he was the darling of his home crowd, and his performance was almost flawless.

...with a score of 13.700, which would have placed him 35th in qualification for the 2017 World Championships in Montreal.

...of 13.666, which would have placed him 39th in qualification for the 2017 World Championships in Montreal.

...and we see great interest in the sport of gymnastics in Qatar.

...has expressed his delight at the upcoming gymnastics world championships in Doha, Qatar.

...to lie in stadium plans. Barca's priority, nothing is off-limits. Instead, the clincher is likely to lie in financial terms.

...a new ground internationally. Next term to have a superstar, they will have to stretch their shirt sponsor Rakuten for even more money.

...costs. The projects of Barca and Real Madrid appear rather different.

...be the first time he has managed to win a European title.

...of the regional federations. That is why we are so happy in the event, said Said on Qatar and its sporting culture, Grandstand owned, the organisation. "We would like to congratulate the Organizing Committee and especially the volunteers, who are doing great work, especially on the opening day of the tournament, which is usually one of the longest days of any event."

...to get better scores. There is no point me going in thinking this person has an advantage. "I just try to do my own thing."
Emery demands urgency as Arsenal chase 12th straight win

The former Paris Saint-Germain manager has had to rework the season to date in the course of a refurbishing phase to the squad in the defending Premier League champions.

When it is early to uphill Arsenal, that the 12th straight win of an autumn victory today Arsenal was a fifth straight win. The midweek side missed a 3-0 against Fifth Leeds in the Leeds United home game.

Emery’s winning streak is that latest for 11 as they chase the club record of 16 consecutive victories. Since opening the season with a 3-0 win over Manchester United in September, Arsenal has failed to lose in 11 league games. The Gunners are now unbeaten in 15 games in all competitions since losing 2-1 at Liverpool on October 6. The Gunners have scored 26 goals in their last six games and have won five of their last six league games.

Emery has been under pressure since Arsenal’s defeat to Manchester United in the Premier League on October 28, which saw the Gunners drop to third place in the table. However, Emery has been praised for his defensive solidity and his team’s ability to grind out results.

Emery has also been criticized for his team’s lack of creativity and for not being able to beat the top teams. However, the Gunners have won their last four games, scoring 13 goals in the process.

Emery said: “We need to improve in many aspects, but we have to keep the momentum. We have to be focused on the next game and try to improve in all aspects.”

The Gunners are now just four points behind Chelsea, who are top of the Premier League, and five points ahead of Manchester United, who are in second place. Arsenal will face Chelsea at home on Saturday and Manchester United at home on December 1.

Emery said: “We have to keep the momentum and try to improve in all aspects. We have to keep the belief and try to win the next game.”
