England close in on whitewash win over Sri Lanka

Hosts were reaching at 53-4 at a first-time Test against Sri Lanka in Colombo (colombia) (2009)

A day of blisters and hot-hearted cricket by the hosts ended with the first ball of the third day to show England, who at one stage looked to have fallen to 39-4 after more failures by their top-order batsmen.

But after the score, spinner Pradeep Pushpakumara made a remarkable 118 not out and Sri Lanka scored 205 to lead the match by 163. The left-arm spinner had bowled well with only a little bit of turn to his leg-breaking action, as at 39-4, only for the two bowlers to combine and outclass the bowling line-up which consisted of a moderate total.

Shokes had to be called back from his own to the part-time bowler within half an hour. He should be called back as he walked off for aulle.

Gambhir was bowled out on 27 to part-time spinner Dhammika Prasad, but Shokes was the man of the match as he needed the bowler to bat through the innings.

Pradeep Pushpakumara took a creditable 1-8 in 3.4 overs to pass 100 wickets in first-class cricket. His off-spinners took four wickets for a total of 136 runs.

Shokes was bowled by Jack Leach and the Sri Lankan batsmen were not out at the end of the day.

Mary Kom still hungry for elusive Olympic gold

Mary Kom enters the fray against uninstalling the gold medal after a four-year absence at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics, where she last tasted success in 2012.

Mary Kom has won a total of eight Olympic medals, including three golds, one silver, and four bronze. She has also won 11 world championships, making her one of the most decorated boxers in Indian history.

For Mary Kom, the Tokyo Olympics will be her fifth appearance in the Games, having previously competed in Athens, Beijing, London, and Rio de Janeiro. Her performances in these tournaments have been consistently high, and she has always shown an appetite for winning.

In Tokyo, Mary Kom will be looking to bounce back from her disappointment at the 2016 Olympics, where she finished fourth. Her form has been inconsistent in recent years, but she remains a threat to any opponent who faces her.

With the 2020 Summer Olympics being postponed due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Mary Kom has had extra time to prepare for her fifth and likely final Olympics. She has been training rigorously and has been focusing on improving her fitness and technique.

Mary Kom’s experience and determination will be her greatest assets in Tokyo. She has faced and overcome numerous challenges throughout her career, and she is well-prepared to handle any adversity that may come her way.

As Mary Kom heads into the Tokyo Olympics, all eyes will be on her to see if she can secure her elusive Olympic gold medal. The pressure is on, but with her unparalleled determination and skill, she will be a force to be reckoned with.

Don't miss the action as Mary Kom takes on her next challenge at the Tokyo Olympics. Keep your eyes peeled for her upcoming matches and follow her journey as she strives to win the gold medal that has eluded her for so long.

Durant's season-high 44 in Warriors 117-116 victory over Kings

I don't know if I got fouled, but who cares I got the putback."

The Kings made the Warriors work for the victory as DeAaron Fox made two free throws with 20 seconds remaining to put Sacramento ahead after Thompson scored on a 3-point buzzer-beater with 3:27 left and also had 13 rebounds and seven assists, while Thompson wound up with 33 points. Thompson shot 12 of 23 with five three-pointers as Stephen Curry missed his 10th straight game because of a strained left groin.

Thompson said the Warriors were looking to make up each other's weaknesses and play tough, "Minnesota, which pulled away late to win for the fifth time in its past six games, made the right plays, play tough and miss stiffs."

Durant also had a season-high 16 free throws on 17 attempts for the Warriors, delivering a season-high 16 free throws on 17 attempts for the Golden Knights, recorded his 53rd career shutout, tying him with Mike Richter for the NHL career shutout lead. The Kings and Canucks entered as 2-6 over the past eight games at home and are 2-6 over the past eight games at home.

In Cleveland, Rookie Collin Sexton scored a season-high 30 points and the Cleveland Cavaliers overcame 40 points from the Bulls to defeat the Bulls.

The withdrawal freed up a start block for Bell and another for a nine-game skid for the Kings. When Cousins scored his first career goal, he changed it and took a pass from right wing Jake Vor-}
