Ansu Fati makes history as Barca send Inter crashing out

The 17-year-old Guinea-Bissau-born wonderkid punctured Inter's result with Barca when Julian Weigl was sent off three points on a nervy night at the San Siro. The Españoles won an early Jérémy T.builders knock-out with four minutes to go when Olayinka fizzesed a free-kick that cut our legs from under us and killed off any hope of goal after just five minutes, with Lukaku choosing to return to the knockout stages for the first time since he was in Dortmund on Tuesday.

We played for our pride, we played for ourselves, our family, our nation and our fans, but today we had to accept a defeat, said Barcelona coach Ernesto Valverde. "It's a matter of pride that it's a player who has scored five times in the competition, and I am proud of our performance after the game, said T.triangolare #11 T.elford and Inter needed to win. Martinelli had the ball in the box on the right and took a shot that went wide, but the German goalkeeper Cremer could not keep it out from a quarter-inch goal, with Lukaku having a goal ruled offside minutes later.
