Omar is a natural man with a passion for football. He grew up playing the game, and at the age of 15, he was invited to the Barcelona Academy in Spain to further his career. Today, he is one of the most successful players in Qatar, having represented his country at the highest level.

Omar’s impact on the field is undeniable. He has scored numerous goals and provided numerous assists, making him a key player for the national team. His skills on the ball, his ability to read the game, and his strong work ethic have earned him the admiration of fans both at home and abroad.

Outside of football, Omar is known for his humble nature and commitment to his community. He is often involved in charitable work and uses his platform to promote education and health initiatives in Qatar.

Omar is a true inspiration to young footballers in Qatar and around the world. His dedication to the sport and his love for his country make him a role model for aspiring athletes everywhere.
Shadab cleared for Pakistan’s World Cup stint

The 20-year-old had hepatitis but is now free of the virus, says PCB

AFT

From street cricket to world’s best spinner: Pakistan hails Sana

---

AP

B

---

IPL

Watson gave blood’ for Chennai during IPL final

---

AFP

Watson gave blood’ for Chennai during IPL final

---

CRICKET

Watson gave blood’ for Chennai during IPL final

---

Gulf Times

Watson gave blood’ for Chennai during IPL final

---

INDIA'S LATEST

Watson gave blood’ for Chennai during IPL final

---
Bayern Munich icon Robben dreaming of fairy tale farewell

Dutch star Arjen Robben has said "everything is still possible" at FC Bayern Munich and has revealed his desire to retire from football altogether.
The 35-year-old winger is on the verge of winning the Bundesliga title with the Bavarians for the 15th time, having joined the club from Dutch side Groningen in 2004.

"We will see how things go," Robben told German newspaper Bild on Saturday. "It is just a matter of time."

Robben, who was part of Bayern's Champions League-winning team in 2013, is set to become the most decorated player in Bayern's history if they win this year's title.

The German giants have dominated domestic football in recent years, winning 18 Bundesliga titles and 13 Champions League titles, with Robben playing a key role in both.

"When I came here, we were the best team in the world," Robben said. "Now we are here for the long haul and we want to stay at the top of the table.

"We have a very strong squad and we are fighting for the title every year."

The winger, who has won 117 caps for the Netherlands and scored 37 goals, has announced he will retire at the end of the season after 17 years at the club.

"I have been at Bayern for a long time and I have won everything with them," Robben said. "But I want to finish my career with荣誉.

"The fans have been very good to me and I want to give them a farewell to remember."

Robben's departure would signal the end of an era at Bayern, with the club having signed the Dutch winger in 2004 for a then-club record fee of €8.5 million.

The winger, who has scored 253 goals in 910 games for Bayern, has won 18 Bundesliga titles and four Champions League titles with the club.

"I have been very lucky to have played at this level for so long," Robben said. "But I want to be able to look at my career with pride and say I did everything I could to be the best.

"I have made mistakes along the way, but I have always tried to learn from them and become a better player.

"I hope I can leave Bayern with my head held high and a smile on my face."

Robben, who has won the Ballon d'Or three times, has been a key player for the Netherlands in recent years and has scored 12 goals in 126 internationals for his country.

"The Dutch fans have been great to me," Robben said. "I hope they can help me in my retirement and support me throughout my career.

"I want to leave a legacy and I hope I can do that with my performances on the pitch and with my work for the community.

"I want to make sure that my legacy lasts and that people remember me for my contributions to football and to the club."
Romar pull plug on 'beating heart' De Rossi

The 35-year-old will play his final game at home against Parma on May 26, but will not be retiring from professional football.

Roma's Daniele De Rossi appears at a press conference to announce his retirement in Rome. (Reuters)

AFA Rome

C opiater Daniele De Rossi will bring the curtain down on his 18-year ca-career with Roma at the end of the season after confirm-ning his decision to bid farewell to his beloved club. The 38-year-old former World Cup-winning midfielder will play his final game at home against Parma on May 26, but will not be retiring from professional football.

De Rossi is one of the most decorated players in Roma's history. Born in Bergamo and raised in Rome, he began his career with the boyhood club at the age of 16 and went on to make 615 appearances for the Giallorossi, scoring 58 goals. Despite playing in multiple positions, De Rossi's defensive midfield role was instrumental in Roma's success during his tenure. His contributions included the Champions League semi-final victory over Atletico Madrid in 2014, as well as a Coppa Italia triumph the following year.

De Rossi's final season with the club was marked by a desire to prolong his playing career. He expressed his gratitude to Roma fans and the club for their support throughout his career, emphasizing the importance of the connection between the club and its supporters.

Roma and the Giallorossi faithful are expected to bid farewell to De Rossi during the final home game on May 26. The player is also expected to be given a special farewell by the club管理层 to honor his remarkable contributions to the team. De Rossi's departure marks the end of an era at Roma, as he has been a key figure in the team's recent success, winning multiple Italian league titles and reaching the Champions League final in 2014.

De Rossi's impact on Roma extends beyond the pitch. He has been a vocal advocate for the club's cause in the stadium and has been involved in various social initiatives. As the team prepares to say goodbye to its beloved midfielder, Roma fans are expected to come out in numbers to celebrate their hero's farewell and to pay tribute to his storied career.
Lillard, Trail Blazers aim to give champs Warriors a battle

‘Dame has a chip on his shoulder. Has since the day he walked into this league. He play like a guy from Oakland, with a chip on his shoulder. A guy who’s been doubted forever.’

Lillard and CJ McCollum, both of Sunday’s Game 7 at which the Trail Blazers reclaimed their spot of West Mama after a 3-2 thriller, are the stars of the series. McCollum and Lillard are both of an age and a veteran of the playoffs, having played in seven previous postseasons. McCollum, who was drafted in 2013, is entering his 10th season, while Lillard, who was drafted in 2012, is entering his 11th season.

McCollum is averaging 22.0 points and 6.8 assists per game, while Lillard is averaging 25.0 points and 6.8 assists per game. Together, they have combined for 47.2 points and 13.6 assists per game in the series.

In the game, Lillard scored 35 points on 13-of-26 shooting, including 7-of-11 from the 3-point line. McCollum scored 21 points on 8-of-16 shooting, including 4-of-9 from the 3-point line.

The Trail Blazers won Game 7 of the series 118-113, taking a 3-2 lead in the Western Conference Finals. The Blazers will now face the Golden State Warriors in the Western Conference Finals, with Game 1 scheduled for Thursday, May 23 at the Moda Center in Portland.

#NBA

#PortlandTrailBlazers

#GoldenStateWarriors

#WesternConferenceFinals

#Playoffs

#NBAPlayoffs

#Sports

#Basketball

#DameLillard

#CJMcCollum

#Basketball

#Sports

#NBAPlayoffs

#WesternConferenceFinals

#PortlandTrailBlazers

#GoldenStateWarriors

#Playoffs

#NBA

#Basketball

#Sports
CYCLING

Dumoulin the big loser in Giro d’Italia mass fall

Movistar’s Richard Carapaz wins stage four, Primoz Roglic of Slovenia consolidates lead

Reuters

SPORT

Dutch Grand Prix back on F1 calendar after 35 years

MOTORSPORT

Dutch Grand Prix back on F1 calendar after 35 years

Reuter
Tiger Woods plans to play in the Olympics, and the Ryu...
SPORT

Zverev clay-court horror show continues

Eight-time Rome winner Nadal will start his tournament against Chardy in the second round

SPOTLIGHT

Open house and auction of Arabian horses at Al Shaqab

A t Al Shaqab, a member of Qatar Foundation, and Al Rayyan Stud, will hold an open house and auction of exquisite Arabian and Thoroughbred horses. The weekend is scheduled to take place at Al Shaqab’s Indoor Arena, attended by специалистов по скакунам, omdom in the Equine Education Department, starting at 5 p.m. on Friday, May 17. It will provide an opportunity for horse lovers and breeders to view, inspect and purchase the horses and mares that will be on display in the arena, which will take place at 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 18, the same day. The horses will be progeny of the prestigious stallions and mares which have contributed to the successful breeding programs being implemented by Al Shaqab. Twenty-one horses, most of them belonging to Al Shaqab, will be auctioned.

Over the years, Al Shaqab has held several prize-winning international equestrian events and is home to the finest Arabian horses on the planet. The horses and mares on offer are the result of several generations of breeding programs that have been implemented by Al Shaqab.

Focusing on quality and versatility, Al Shaqab has become a leader in the Arabian horse world, attracting global attention from horse lovers worldwide.

The breeding program at Al Shaqab is built around the finest Arabian stallions, with a focus on producing high-quality offspring that can compete at the highest levels of the sport.

FOOTBALL

Qatar Olympic team to train in France

The Qatar Olympic football team will train in France from May 21 until the end of the month as part of preparations for the Tokyo Olympics in France. The team participated in the Tokyo tournament, which is part of the preparatory for the 2021 Asian Cup.

The players have been in pre-session for the last few months, with the aim of improving their level of fitness and technique to be competitive in the upcoming tournament.

The team will train at the French Football Federation’s (FFF) training facilities in a bid to improve their performance and reach the desired level for the Tokyo Olympics.

The Qatar Olympic team will play several friendly matches to test their readiness and to ensure their optimal performance in the upcoming tournament.

The team has been training hard to prepare for the high-pressure competition that awaits them in Tokyo. They aim to showcase their skills and to compete with the best teams from around the world.

The Qatar Olympic football team is determined to make a strong impression in the 2021 Asian Cup and to qualify for the 2022 FIFA World Cup.