Shapovalov and Zverev were downed by lower-ranked players in back-to-back matches on Friday.

Canadian teenager Felix Auger-Aliassime beat Alexander Zverev in straight sets to reach his first Grand Slam semi-final and put Nadal on the brink of a 16th men’s title at the All England Club.

Osaka defeated in Birmingham

Novak Djokovic has been ruled out of the Wimbledon quarter-finals after sustaining a knee injury against Nick Kyrgios in the semi-finals of the Fever-Tree Championships at Queen’s Club.

The Serbian, who is eyeing a record 20th Grand Slam title, had been forced to retire from his match against Kyrgios on Saturday night.

He reached the semi-finals last week, came from behind to beat compatriot Andreas Seppi 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, and set up a quarter-final clash with third-seeded Russian Andrey Rublev.

Nadal to prepare for Wimbledon

Spanish star Rafael Nadal has been confirmed for the Wembley Classic in Birmingham to get some grass court practice under his belt ahead of next month’s tournament.

Top seed Novak Djokovic announced earlier this week that he had tested positive for COVID-19 and would be unable to compete in the tournament.

Osaka dropped some of the aggression from the start of the second set, but a dominant display of play in the final set finally saw the American claim the title.

The tournament organisers confirmed a foreign, who has signed up to play in the tournament.

The tournament will also feature two matches involving Great Britain’s Andy Murray and Marcus Ellis.

Murray, a three-time Grand Slam winner, will be bidding for his third title at Wimbledon, which he won in 2016, 2017, and 2018.
