Sprints are gunfight at OK Corral: Gatlin

Autographs, selfies, practice – Gauff gets used to stardom

C ome Gauff has set Wimbledon alight with her talent and aggressive approach to the sport. In just 15 months, she has gone from being a wild card to a two-time Wimbledon finalist. Her journey to the top has been nothing short of inspiring, and her story is one that many hope to follow in the future.

Gauff, who is only 15 years old, has already accomplished more than many people do in a lifetime. She made her Grand Slam debut at the 2019 US Open and reached the fourth round. She then went on to win the French Open junior title and the Wimbledon girls' singles title. Her rise to fame has been nothing short of remarkable, and she continues to amaze and inspire people around the world.

Bottomline

Gauff's success is a testament to the power of hard work and determination. She has proven that with dedication and focus, anything is possible. As she continues to compete at the highest levels of the sport, she will no doubt continue to set new standards and inspire the next generation of tennis players.

Sprints are gunfight at OK Corral: Gatlin

Gatlin will run the 100m in Lausanne, where he will be looking to continue his impressive run of form. The American sprinter has been in top form in recent months, winning a string of major events and setting personal bests. His 100m time in Lausanne will be a key test of his progress and will give fans a glimpse of what to expect in the upcoming Olympic season.

As he prepares for the event, Gatlin has been training hard and focusing on his technique. He knows that he will need to be at his best to compete with the world's top sprinters, and he is ready for the challenge.

Chelsea job my biggest challenge, says Lampard

Former midfielder quits Derby County to return to club where he played for 13 seasons

By Dominicelli

Frank Lampard returned to the club where he started his career yesterday when he was confirmed as Chelsea's new manager following his departure from Derby County.

The club had completed its search for a new boss on Wednesday evening after being impressed when he addressed a meeting of fans and when asked of his unwavering his vision to take the Blues forward in the aftermath of their 2016 Champions League final heartbreak against his former club at Stamford Bridge.

Lampard had been heavily tipped as the top contender to replace Maurizio Sarri as the Blues boss after the Italian was confirmed as Juventus' new coach earlier this month.

Lampard was unveiled at Chelsea after he rejected a move to Manchester United, which is his former club, as he said he preferred to manage the club in London where “my story started”.

Lampard also defended his lack of experience after he was hired to replace the influential Italian, stating: “We have to be realistic about that but we are going to try and make sure we have the right people to help in the squad that looks after the players day to day and part of my job will be to get that right as well.”

The in-form midfielder can reverse the club’s fortunes in the long term if he has the support of the club’s top brass, according to the man who knows him best from his youth days at Chelsea.

Lampard will rely on his squad of players who have already scored big breakthroughs for the club, but he has been given a crucial task in his new role.

Lampard, who started his career at Chelsea, was the club’s youth team player of the year and won the club’s most贤能 player award in 2001.

He was at his London club at the club’s hottest time. Lampard was a part of the team that won the 2010 FA Cup final, and he was the club’s top scorer in the Premier League.

He was named as manager of Chelsea’s youth team in 2015, and he guided the team to the UEFA Youth League title and the Premier League 2 title.

He was also named as the club’s Under-18 player of the year in 2015, and he was named as the club’s Under-23 player of the year in 2016.

Lampard was twice named as the club’s best player of the year, and he was named as the club’s best player of the decade in 2018.

Bellinger’s 29 this season is a Dodgers’ record for most home runs in the first half.

The Los Angeles Dodgers continued their hot hitting Wednesday, winning their fifth consecutive game. The Dodgers are tied for first place in the National League West in the second inning tied the club’s first-half record previously held by Gil Hodges on one team in league history.

Moncada drilled his second home run with two outs in the 12th inning to give him the Dodgers’ record for most home runs in the first half of his career. The Dodgers also scored four runs against right-hander Yoshihisa Hirano in the 10th inning to earn the victory.

Pakistan's street cricketers bring game to life in Greece

Nothing dead about South Africa match: Australia's Langer

Australia may have already locked their place in the semi-finals of the World Cup but a couple of senior figures have warned their knockabout T20 match with Afghanistan tomorrow was far from a dead rubber.

The Caribbean side scored 311 for six in 50 overs in Leeds against Afghanistan yesterday. Just their second win of a challenge tournament, and played using a tennis ball on Sundays, a growing community of street cricketers, engaging in tape-ball tournaments, and crazy nations, it is a way of life.

That is their pitch, and those are the people they represent.

Former captain Waugh to mentor Australia's Langer

Australia's pursuit of winning an Ashes series in England for the first time in 15 years has been boosted by former Test captain Steve Waugh agreeing to mentor the side. Waugh, considered the architect of Australia's era, was due to arrive in England on Thursday, with Steve Smith and David Warner, both suspended for ball-tampering, due to arrive on Sunday.
