From cow-suit to All Blacks jersey: Frizzell off to Japan

Lowe confirmed Shannon Frizzell was expected and delighted to be named in the All Blacks squad on Friday, having been wearing a cow-suit at a local farm in his home region of West Coast in his costume to promote Tasman’s rugby in his All Blacks kit, pressing for a place in the squad against Japan.

After the World Cup, the team would not be paraded by law, meaning that it is widely expected that the team would have to fly under the radar for the sake of its Japanese opponents.

"I always hoped for a call like this," Frizzell said, who missed the All Blacks squad on Friday, having been wearing a cow-suit at a local farm in his home region of West Coast in his All Blacks kit, pressing for a place in the squad against Japan.

"I just want to do my job and be the best player I can be," he said.

Calls for Bogut ban after Australia’s crushing loss

Beijing: Australian center Andrew Bogut’s possible punishment from basketball’s governing body FIBA after Australia’s crushing quarter-final loss to Serbia at the World Cup semi-finals from Japan.

Video footage showed Bogut — who was booted by Chinese fans throughout the game, allegedly swearing and threatening several times as he shouldered off former Sydney Kings star at the front of his face.

After the match, Bogut, 39, who created the hubbub in Tokyo last year when he reportedly spat his mouthpiece to the front row of fans, said he had no other choice but to sell the mouthpiece to the front row.

"I'm going to give my best to win a World Cup for Spain," Gasol said.

Gasol admitted that playing match-winning day in China, even after a long NBA season was tough.

"I know that coming to the national team is going to be physically because we were so hard to win any power games and yet have a championship," he said. "But it’s completely worth it.

Al Gharafa, Wakrah post wins

Duhail face Rayyan in ‘difficult’ match

Both teams are conditioner, so the encounter promises to be a thriller.

Al Rayyan coach Diego Aguirre said Al Rayyan counterpart Rui Faria spoke to the media ahead of the QNB Stars League match between their teams.

One Win in the last four games does not any impact on the performances of players, although we deserve to win that game. Now, our desire is to achieve victory," said Faria.

Aguirre also said the match would be tough.

"We've analysed the opponent and in the same sentiments. We've prepared for this match."

Both have the advantage of having many international players, but theirs national team on FIFA dates is normal.

"If we put pressure on the players, it will help us to score a goal. The key is to work in a defensive game, and we will create many opportunities to make the next steps.

"We play all games with full seriousness, this match will be no exception."

Both sides, especially Al Rayyan, were seen fighting their game against Al Gharafa a couple of weeks ago, having bagged following and that spurs to the outcome.

Al Rayyan coach Faria admitted that the match will be tough.

"We know the strength of the players, Al Gharafa will be very difficult. There was some special moments in this season. We think we're facing an organised team. We've also the right system and the two teams can play well.

"What we've done some points, but we're a chance to make it for us even though we're struggling to find our way."

Both teams have performed well in the last matches and can perform well and qualify in the next phases.

"We're going to play a very strong game against AlRayyan, but we need another player, he may join us after the match.

"We've focused on the task on hand, what's happening is that we're working hard and the results will come," said Aguirre.
