Hamilton draws level with Schumacher’s 7

‘Thank you so much guys. That’s for all the kids out there who dream the impossible. You can do it too man, I believe in you...’

Mercedes’ Lewis Hamilton celebrates on the podium after winning the Turkish Grand Prix and the world championship yesterday.

HAMILTON FURTHER REMINDS SCHUMACHER OF HIS OPPORTUNITY

The Mercedes ace put on a masterclass in wet and slippery conditions to take a record-equalling seventh crown with a masterful win at a rollercoaster of a Turkish Grand Prix and secures the title with three races to spare.

Only German Michael Schumacher has seven titles to his name, a number once thought unlikely ever to be matched, but most of the German’s records have passed to Hamilton.

Schumacher (53) said in his final season last year that he tipped solo rival and team mate Valtteri Bottas with 12 laps to go on a ‘nightmare afternoon for the aspiring F1 drivers who finished fourth.

Hamilton, already had more race wins, pole positions and podium finishes than anyone in the history of the sport but, despite starting a season-low eighth, the 35-year-old was determined to add to the tally.

“Thank you so much guys. It’s for all the kids out there who dream the impossible. You can do it too man, I believe in you guys,” he whooped over the radio after taking the chequered flag.

When the team suggested he pit for fresh tyres to over-ride them, given the safety of his lead and the sense of uncertainty, but he kept believing.

Hamilton said there was a point where he bought his seventh crown and the fastest lap. Australian Daniel Ricciardo was 10th for Renault. Hamilton said there was a point where he the race run behind closed doors due to the Covid-19 pandemic. “Seven is just unimaginable but when you work with such a great group of people and you really trust with your life, you feel like you’re only getting started,” he said.

Mercedes’ Charles Leclerc took fourth place, after passing Valtteri on the last lap but finishing 12th, with Spanish Carlos Sainz fifth for McLaren and Red Bull’s Alexander Albon seventh with Lando Norris eighth for McLaren and taking a bonus point for Renault.

Hamilton was congratulated after parking up by Sebastian Vettel, who finished third and shed a tear, German Sebastian Vettel said his dreams of a first win disappeared after leading from his first pole position. He finished third, but still the order started.

Sebastian Vettel hailed Lewis as ‘greatest driver ever’.

France, Germany shine as Ramos endures miserable landmark

France goalkeeper Hugo Lloris headed the ball into his own net to gift Belgium a shock 1-0 win, but the French were far from their best in a World Cup qualifier.

Germany and Switzerland both defeated their opponents in the Nations League, setting up a titanic clash for the top spot in Group 3.

Spain and France both registered impressive victories, with the前者 winning 4-0 and the latter 2-0.

In the meantime, Germany have a chance to qualify for Euro 2020 with a win over Iceland.

The Nations League continues to provide entertaining football, with plenty of goals and exciting results.

No. 1 Johnson finally clinches Masters with record low score

Tiger Woods, who closed 71, never coming close to overpowering Augusta National as he struggled with knee, feeling nausea for his second

A 36-year-old American, who grew up as his hero’s drive north of Augusta National, became the first reigning world number one to grab the green jacket. His 20-under-par 280 was six shots clear of the field, finishing 12 strokes ahead of the closest challenger. Johnson, who had nine bogeys and one birdie, was on fire from the start, playing the first 15 holes in an hour and 20 minutes.

After shooting a 64 in the first round, Johnson continued his dominance with a 66 in the second, a 69 in the third and a 67 in the final round. He shot a 71 to finish on 285. His final round was the only one of the four in the 60s. Four-time major champion Jack Nicklaus had never won a 54-hole lead into a title, stumbling at the 18th hole. Johnson, whose other major victory was in 2010, 2015 and 2018 US Opens and in the 2016 US Open, fired a closing 73 to beat out the last-lap 72 of Woods, who finished runner-up after a stunning 7-under 65 in the final round. Johnson smashed the old 72-hole mark of 287 set by Nicklaus in 1960 and matched by Jordan Spieth in 2015.

Johnson, who began with a four-shot lead, was never in doubt. He led by four after the first round, five after the second round and six after the third round.

"I'm just going to try and really savor this," Johnson said. "I've got to fix this dizziness and just the rest of this is going to be overwhelming."

Johnson responded with birdies on five of the first six holes to take command of the tournament and never looked back. He drained a 12-foot birdie putt on the par-5 17th, stretching the lead to 14. He made his putt from 6 feet on the par-4 18th to win by eight.

"I think I'm just happy to be here," Johnson said. "I've sort of been in the final four or five rounds, but sometimes you just got to go out there and make some history."

In the 69th minute, Wakrah’s Sebastien Soria converted from the penalty spot edge with four holes remaining. Wakrah reached the knockout quarter-final by topping Group A with 11 points (three victories, two draws and one defeat). It faces the last-eight, 'The Blues', the only side with an unbeaten record in the group.
